THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

The instruments of the defunct Centre Hall band have been sold at constable sale.

The brick work of the new armory will be done by F. T. Wallace, to whom the contract has been awarded.

Hail an inch and a half in circumference was picked up in Woodward township, Clinton county, after the storm last Monday afternoon.

A commandery of 32 men, in full uniform, will go from this place to Altoona, on the 6th of September, to attend a State Convention of the K. G. E.

The excursionists from Bellefonte to Niagara Falls, on Tuesday morning, via C. B. R. of Pa., numbered thirteen, that number of tickets having been sold.

The residence of Edwin F. Garman, on East Linn street, was struck by lightning during the storm of last Monday. The damage did not extend farther than cracking one of the chimneys.

Last Sunday a horse belonging to Charles Levy, while grazing too near the edge of the Morris stone quarry, fell over the precipice, a height of about seventy feet, and was killed, its neck having been broken.

Messrs. John P. Harris and W. T. Speer having retired from the ownership of the Phoenix planing mill, the entire interest in that establishment has been purchased by John R. Ardell, Jr., the former proprietor.

Postmaster Fortney has appointed Will Garman mailing clerk in place of Mr. John Miller, and the new appointee commenced his duties on Wednesday. Mr. Miller may remain until the first of September.

Last Sunday night burglars effected an entrance into Foreman & Kelsey's mill at Flemington, and blew open the safe, but they only got a few postage stamps and small change, amounting to less than a dollar, for their trouble.

The next social of the Lutheran church will be held at the home of Mr. Solomon Poorman, at the Gatesburg mine bank, on next Thursday evening, August 16th. A hack will leave town for the bank at 8 o'clock sharp, starting from the diamond.

The ladies of the U. B. church will hold ice-cream socials in the McLain block, next to WATCHMAN office, every Friday evening, for several weeks, the proceeds to help pay missionary assessments. Come next Friday evening and help in the good work.

Five applicants, Carrie Atwood, Mary S. Graham, Morris Kelley, Ferdinand Baum and Charles Garis, have stood a civil service examination for postal service in this place. The first three are applicants for positions in the post office, and the last two want to be letter carriers.

The Odd Fellows will hold a big picnic near Rebersburg, on Saturday, August 18. Lodges from different parts of the county will be present, to participate in the parade. A game of ball is billed for the afternoon between the Centre Hall and Rebersburg teams.

An insufficient quantity of rain during the past few weeks has greatly diminished this year's agricultural products of Centre county. The oats crop will be under the average, and the same may be said of the corn and potato crops, making an aggregate loss of many thousands of dollars.

Notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the weather in the morning, the picnic of the Logan fire company, Thursday of last week, at Hecla, was a great and gratifying success. The day turned out to be a fine one and the attendance was very large, requiring more extra trains than were scheduled to carry the crowd.

Burglars came near raiding Lucas Brothers' Store at Howard early last Friday morning. With tools stolen from the blacksmith shop of William Welsh, they had bored two holes in the window shutters at the rear, and one in the front door, when James, a son of Mr. H. T. Lucas, who had just returned from the picnic at Hecla, made his appearance and scared them off. Two shots were fired after them as they retreated.

A great crowd of friends and admirers were at the station on Friday morning to see the bold soldier boys of Company B off to the Gettysburg encampment. Some of the leave takings were almost as tender as if the boys were about to depart for the scenes of actual warfare. The company had the appearance of veterans as they marched down High street, and there is no doubt they compared well with the best companies in attendance at the encampment.

DEATH OF COL. DANIEL S. KELLER.

—More than two years ago Mr. Keller's friends noticed his failing health; but it was not until after his daughter Martha's sudden death, from diphtheria, that they or he realized that his disease might develop into consumption. Preparation was made at once to spend the winter in the South, and early in November, Mr. and Mrs. Keller started for Aiken, S. C., where they staid until late in the spring. Mr. Keller came home greatly encouraged and seemingly somewhat better; but last fall when he started South again it was evident to everyone that his was a losing battle. This spring he came home so much worse that his death Sunday night was not a surprise—only a sorrow to this community.

Daniel Schenck Keller was born near Balsburg in 1844. His father, Henry Keller, long since deceased, was in his lifetime a prominent and influential citizen of Harris township, where his oldest son worked on the farm, attended the district school and the Balsburg Academy until 1862, when he enlisted as a private in Capt. McFarlane's company, which afterwards became Co. G. 148th regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers. Unfitted for field duty by a severe wound received at the battle of Chancellorsville, he was detailed as a clerk in the war department at Washington, where he studied law at the Columbia law school and was admitted to the bar. He came to Bellefonte in 1873 and since that time has ranked among our foremost lawyers.

He married in 1866 Miss Heustis, of Washington, who died in 1876, and in 1878 Miss Martha Schroeder, of Reading, who with five children, Harry, Will H., Daniel, Lucy and John, survive him.

Mr. Keller was pre-eminently an honest lawyer. No act of his ever marred the escutcheon of his chosen profession, and in his intercourse and dealings with his professional brethren he despised even the appearance of unfairness. In politics he was an ardent Republican, but a Republican from honest convictions and not for expediency's sake, for he was an active worker in the temperance cause, and fearlessly spoke his mind on the subject. He was one of the leaders in the constitutional amendment campaign in 1889, when Centre county declared so emphatically in favor of temperance. He was connected with the National Guard for some years, and was on Gen. Beaver's staff when the Guard was called out during the railroad riots in 1877. He was a member of the Gregg Post, the Masonic lodge, and an elder in the Reformed church; but it was not one or all these that gave him success. It was his unswerving faithfulness to his convictions, his perfect integrity of character, and his courtesy and genuine kindness. An able and scholarly man, he was always an affable, entertaining companion. The educational and reform movements of the county have lost an aggressive worker, and the community a perfect gentleman and an honest man.

Thursday morning five ministers officiated at the funeral services in the Reformed church in which he was an elder and a steward. Hon. A. O. Furst, A. J. Cook, Jared Harper, C. M. Bower, C. P. Hewes, George M. Boal, Jas. P. Caburn, Col. Geo. A. Bayard, John B. Linn and F. W. Cridler were the pall bearers, and the Gregg Post, Constans Commandery, and the members of the Centre county Bar, attended in a body.

PLAYED WITH MATCHES.—Lulu, the little 3-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Steel, and grand daughter of Mr. Perry Steel of this place, was so horribly burned on Monday afternoon at her parents' home at Fairview, near Altoona, that she died that evening.

The way of it was—her mother had taken her upstairs about 2 o'clock for her customary afternoon nap, and after making the child comfortable, went down stairs to her work. Suddenly a most terrible shriek was heard, and rushing upstairs as fast as she could, she found her child enveloped in flames. She caught her up in her arms and tried to smother out the fire, but she found that was impossible, so taking a bucket of water, that fortunately was near, she dashed it over the child and succeeded in getting the fire out. Medical aid was at once summoned, and upon examination it was found that the child was dangerously burned from head to foot. Great blisters were all over the face, body and limbs, and whenever an effort was made to remove particles of clothing remaining, the something more than half-cooked flesh would come with it. Every possible means was employed to save the little one, who evidently had gotten out of bed and found the matches, for they were out of their accustomed place, and in playing with them had set fire to her clothes, but after hours of suffering she died that night. Wednesday morning she was brought to this place on the 9:32 train and taken to Pleasant Gap for burial.

The situation as between Love, of Centre county, and Lovell, of Huntingdon, is far from being a lovely one.

The Jersey Shore railroad's picnic, which was to have come off at Hecla Park last Friday, was postponed.

The electric railway is a fixed fact in Lock Haven, the contract for building the power house having been awarded to L. R. Paup.

Repairs to the interior of the M. E. church at Philipsburg were commenced this week. The church is also to be supplied with a new carpet.

The Centre delegates to the Republican congressional conference, which met at Dubois yesterday, were there in the interest of Cook, of Elk county.

Mrs. Sarah Boak, aged 75, died on the evening of the 9th inst., at her home at Snow Shoe, this county. She was the mother of James K. and T. A. Boak, of Hughesville.

Pay days in this neighborhood unfortunately are not as numerous as they use to be, but last Saturday the hands on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad had a pay day and were happy.

The Munson Coal company has its Cold Stream mine near Philipsburg in shape again, and work was resumed Monday morning. The blowing up of the mine during the strike put the firm to considerable expense.

John B. Collins, a well known citizen of Lock Haven, who for a number of years had been extensively engaged in railroad contracting and lumbering, died at that place last Monday, of blood poisoning, at the age of 50.

The Centre County Pomona Grange, No. 13, will meet in the hall of Bald Eagle Grange, at Milesburg, on Friday, August 24th, at 10:30 a. m. Interesting literary exercises and business of general interest will be considered.

The Disciple church at Mt. Eagle was seriously damaged by lightning during the thunder storm last Monday morning. The steeple was demolished by a stroke of lightning, and the building was otherwise damaged to the amount of about a hundred dollars.

At Lemont the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a festival Saturday evening, Aug. 25th, which promises to be a most enjoyable affair for all who attend. Delicious ice cream and cake will be served and every body is cordially invited to be present.

There was a failure in the election of officers by the Bellefonte Board of Trade last Tuesday evening on account of the slim attendance of members, consequently the election has been postponed to the first Thursday evening in September, at which time a full attendance is expected.

We have received invitations and tickets to the Firemen's Convention, which is to be held in DuBois on Tuesday, August 21. There is nothing that is livelier than a brass band, and as there are to be twenty-five, with that many fire companies in attendance, we are awfully sorry we can't go.

Last Tuesday the Democratic convention of Huntingdon county practically declared for C. M. Bower, esq., the Centre county Democratic nominee for President Judge of this judicial district, by electing W. J. Forbes, H. W. Petriken and Geo. W. Cresswell, conferees, who will vote for Mr. Bower in conference. This renders the final nomination of that gentleman a certainty, and assures harmony on the judicial question.

Orders have been issued by the Pennsylvania railroad to its special officers to cause the arrest of all persons who are hereafter found stealing rides. The officials are moved to take this action by the great loss of life from this cause during the past six months, an average of one train-jumper a day having either been killed or injured during that period. Illegal train riding is made punishable by ten days imprisonment or a fine of $10.

As the result of the Altoona bank defalcation, Harry Wayne & Co., of Altoona, the largest house furnishes in Central Pennsylvania, filed a deed of assignment, without preference, in the recorder's office at Hollidaysburg, on Saturday. The failure was precipitated by the disappearance of the junior member of the firm, H. A. Gardner, who was the cashier of the Second National bank. The liabilities are $15,000; assets, $80,000.

The firm of McCalmont & Co., propose to supply water for use at their stone quarries and coal yard by piping it from a reservoir on the Alexander farm where there are a number of never failing springs, with a sufficient head, which may be utilized for this purpose. The entire distance is about three thousand feet, or a little over one half mile. They expect to be able to supply sufficient water for all their uses for mechanical purposes, for their stock at the yards, and for all their houses outside the borough; and at a lower cost than it is supplied by the borough.

SUICIDE OF A FORMER BELLEFONTE.

The Huntingdon News of last Friday says: This community was shocked this morning by the announcement that Harry Kerstetter, the well-known boss blacksmith at the Reformatory, had committed suicide at his residence on Washington street, near 14th. Investigation proved the truth of the report. We paid a visit to the scene of the tragedy, which occurred in a stable at the rear of the premises, and the scene was a sickening one. Mr. Kerstetter was up at an early hour, and was acting so strangely that his wife became alarmed and shortly after 5 o'clock went over to Smithfield to notify some of his fellow officers at the institution, and seek their aid. In the meantime Mr. Kerstetter procured a double-barreled shotgun into which he placed two shells and about half-past-six o'clock repaired to the stable, placed the barrel to the side of his head and pulled the trigger. The shell was heavily loaded, and the discharge literally blew the top of his head off, scattering brains, pieces of skull, flesh, etc., all over the side of the building.

In the absence of Coroner Harmon, Justice of the Peace L. E. Edwards was notified of the occurrence, and after viewing the body and learning the particulars, decided that an inquest was unnecessary, and directed that the body be removed.

As the cause for the deed, we could learn of none, his wife not having yet returned home, and the neighbors having no knowledge of any trouble of any sort.

Mr. Kerstetter was a large man, was aged about 45 years, and came to this place from Philipsburg, Centre county, some five years ago, to accept the position he has since held at the State Reformatory. He was twice married and is survived by his wife and one son, the latter residing in Centre County.

MONTGOMERY & CO'S STORE DAMAGED BY FIRE.

Last Friday morning between two and three o'clock fire was discovered in the north-east corner of the basement of Montgomery & Co's clothing store, in Cridler's Exchange building, Allegheny street. An alarm was sounded, and the fire companies were promptly on the scene, attended by a large concourse of people that are usually attracted by a fire, however unreasonable the hour may be. The fire, which originated in the basement, burned through the floor into the window above, where almost everything was consumed, and before it was extinguished it had burned a hole in the ceiling. The window having been broken by the heat, the awning on the outside was also burned. By the prompt action of the firemen the flames were stopped at this point, but if the fire had not been discovered as soon as it was, and had been allowed to have gained more headway, both the store and building would probably have been consumed.

As to the origin of the fire opinion is divided as to whether it was the work of an incendiary or was caused by the electric light wires. The loss directly from the fire was not great, but much damage was done to the stock by water and smoke. The firm had their stock fully insured.

A RUNAWAY CAUSED BY LIGHTNING.

Last Monday morning, H. Roth, of Philadelphia, whose business is traveling for a firm in that city engaged in enlarging photographs, was down in Boggs township delivering pictures, having engaged one of Baum's teams for that purpose. He was in the residence of Col. Weaver, near Milesburg, when the storm came on, having left the team near by in charge of Mr. Baum's son, Isadore. Lightning struck a large tree about sixty feet from the house, knocking large pieces from it, one of which flew through a window of the house, striking Mr. Roth on the back and inflicting a painful bruise, and pieces of glass from the window cut holes in his clothing. Mr. Baum's son was alone in the vehicle when the lightning struck, and being unable to hold the frightened horses, jumped out. The team ran through a barb wire fence and into the creek where they became tangled in the harness and were with difficulty gotten out. The harness and vehicle were used up and the horses terribly cut by the barb wire fence. Part of one of the horses lip was cut off.

RUN INTO BY THE CARS.

Mr. Edward Long, of Gum Stump, had been attending market in this place on Saturday morning, and when near the old Snow Shoe station at Centre City, his horse and wagon were run into by part of the Snow Shoe train which had been uncoupled and allowed to run down itself. Horse, wagon and driver were thrown over an embankment into the pond. Some damage was done to the wagon, but neither the horse nor Mr. Long were much injured.

PICNIC AT MARTHA.

The M. E. Sunday school of Martha will hold their annual picnic on the old grounds near the church, Saturday, Aug. 18th. A game of ball will be played on the ball ground between the Port Matilda and Martha amateur ball teams.

The movement to construct an electric road from Jersey Shore to Col-lumsville is being strongly agitated. It is thought that an election for or against the project will be held before long.

Rev. Joseph Nestitt, D. D., for thirty-four years the honored pastor of the Great Island Presbyterian church at Lock Haven, died last Monday morning after a lingering illness.

The Disciples of Christ, at Mill Hall, whose house of worship was destroyed by the fire which nearly wiped out the town, a few weeks ago, expect to have their new church completed within thirty days.

The Democratic convention of Huntingdon met on Tuesday and nominated Hon. Thomas H. Adams, ex-member of the Legislature, for Congress, with power to choose his own conferees. Benjamin F. Africa was nominated for Assembly.

The fire that almost wiped out the town of Pigeon near Ridgway last Friday caused a loss of over $100,000. Many citizens escaped with nothing but the clothes they wore. The neighboring villages of Watson and Byrons are providing for the homeless.

Wm. Neil, an employe of Howard & Perley's saw mill, near North Bend, was struck in the abdomen on Thursday by a board, which flew up from the saw, receiving such injuries as to result in his death on Friday. He was about 24 years old, and was the only support of his widowed mother, who resides at Buffalo Run, this county.—Philipsburg Journal.

While Col. W. F. Reynolds' bay team, hitched to his carriage, was being driven through Milesburg by his driver, last Monday evening, a break in the coupling caused the horses to run away. They ran into the side of the iron bridge crossing Bald Eagle creek, and one of the animals was thrown over a twenty foot bank into the stream. This horse, notwithstanding so serious a fall, was hurt but very little, while the one which ran on the bridge was considerably injured. The driver escaped unharmed, but the carriage was pretty badly wrecked.

Prof. George P. Bible, who is making a success of the Stroudsburg Normal School, and who with his wife has spent most of his vacation in town visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, started with the excursionists Tuesday morning. They will not return until however for they expect to stop at Bradford after seeing Niagara and from there go to Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Lyde Osman of Covington, Neb., who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Mary Hastings, and other relatives in the county for more than a year, left last Saturday for Philipsburg where she will visit for a short time before going on to Logansport, Ind., where she will spend the winter with Dr. and Mrs. Wagner. Mrs. Osman is so practically well informed and agreeable that her friends would fain have kept her, but she prefers the West.

Mayor C. G. McMillen of Dayton, O., who came East with the Auditors of Montgomery Co. on their trip as inspectors and guests of the P. R. R., was in town last Friday while the rest of the party tarried at Cresson. Mr. McMillen was one of the executive committee of the much talked of "Charity Circus" which recently showed at Dayton. The organizers, performers and helpers were all from Dayton. Over three hundred horses with sixty some cages and floats were in the parade, and the peanuts, pink lemonade, and candy were looked after and sold by men prominent in society.

RE-UNION OF THE 148TH REGIMENT PENNSYLVANIA VOLUNTEERS.

G. G. Walters, a member of Company K, of the 148th Regiment, Pa. Vols. has, at the request of a number of his Comrades of Companies E, I and K, arranged for a reunion of the 148th Regiment during the coming National Encampment of the G. A. R. at Pittsburg. The reunion will be held at 9:30 a. m., on Wednesday, September 12th, in the Post room of Post No. 117 G. A. R. Malta hall, Sheridan avenue, East end, Pittsburg. This hall is in the vicinity of the 19th Ward school house where the Posts from Bellefonte, Lemont, Fleming, Pine Grove Mills, Centre Hall and Millheim will be quartered. It will be easy for the members of the 148th who belong to these Posts to attend this reunion, and it is hoped that all who can do so will be present. We have no doubt that the fact that this reunion is to be held will stimulate the attendance of former members of the Centre County Regiment at the National Encampment. The western men of the Regiment are extremely anxious to meet their comrades from Centre county.

POINTS TO REMEMBER.—The following points should be remembered by the citizens of every town, and we especially commend them to the people of Bellefonte:

Always encourage home talent when it stands ready to establish an enterprise that will build up the town. Never attempt to raise more money to secure more enterprises than the town can afford to part with. Always look on the bright side of the town's outlook. Never predict anything but prosperity. Well men often die because they believe they are suffering from some wholly imaginary ailment and a good town sometimes retrogrades simply because of the croaking of calamity howlers. Say nothing if you cannot say a good word for the town, but keep on sawing the town's wood.

TIMBER TO BE RECOVERED.—The Williamsport Sun says that the lumbermen during the recent freshet had swept from them not less than 180,000,000 feet of saw logs and about 20,000,000 feet of manufactured lumber, which line the Susquehanna river from Williamsport to the Chesapeake bay. The valuation of this lumber is fully $3,500,000 to the lumber sufferers, and they think it hard that their loss should be increased by parties living along the stream, who, without any claim whatever to the lumber and timber, have taken possession of it. The West Branch Lumbermen's Exchange, of Williamsport, will therefore enter suit in the courts of Dauphin and Cumberland counties for the recovery of this property.

A NEW COAL OPERATOR.—We are glad to know that Mr. Harry T. Cooke, of Woodland, intends coming to Philipsburg to live, having leased the Meadow Brook mines recently opened on the Goss farm, near Blue Ball, by his father, Mr. John Cooke. The coal is of fine quality, and long before the coal industry became so prominent in the Clearfield region the Goss coal was famous for its superiority as a domestic coal. Mr. Cooke is a very agreeable young gentleman, who will be an addition our town socially and as an enterprising business man. We give him a cordial welcome.—Philipsburg Ledger.
