County commissioner T. day. The animal stepped on a nail from which it took lock jaw and died.

-Shem Spigelmyer, of Racket store fame, is said to own the fastest pacing mare in town now. She is six years old and has a record in the twenties.

-Union Thanksgiving services were held in the Reformed church, on Linn street, yesterday morning. Ravs. McGarrah, Shaw, and Zehner spoke.

-The work of rebuilding the Mill Hall, brick works has begun. The contract for the lumber to be used has been awarded to P. B. Crider & Son, of this

-The board walk on north and south Water street, along Spring creek, has been repaired and is now in a very ston, malicious mischief, the indictment much better condition than it has been for some time,

-Two large black bears were seen on the Muncy mountain, near the Nail works, on Wednesday morning and by noon every feliow who had a gun was after them. Up to this time they have to commit rape. The prosecutrix was not been shot.

-The Gentzel bunting party composed of Benj. Gentzel, John Horner, William Rossman and Bert Bilger, returned from a six days camp in the Green woods on Saturday, and five fine deer filled their wagon.

-The Bellefonte band, the new Undine band and the Coleville band, all gave open air concerts in town yester day afternoon. Their music was highly appreciated and lent much toward giving Thanksgiving day a holiday dress.

-Boiler maker Wm B. Maitland is experimenting with his new steam heating process by fitting up the Bellefonte Academy with his apparatus. It is an excellent building to try it on, for It is usually about as as cold up there as it ever gets.

-Both Associate Judges Riley and Faulkner returned to their respective count at the time. Defendants plead homes shortly after their arrival in town | guilty and prayed for mercy at the on Monday to attend the sitting of hands of the court. The boys are both court. The former because of personal from respectable families in Milton, and ill health, the latter because of the sick- a long petition was presented to the ness of his daughter.

linings are being put in Temple Court for clemency for them. It is certainly and it will not be long until the build- a misfortune for two young men of their ing is ready for occupancy. The glass is all in except that in the first floor and all is a fine quality of plate. The glass alone for the building cost $1260. -Bellefonte has another "bucket shop" or place where speculators can gamble on imaginary stocks. They buy and sell stuff that they never expect to see and win or lose according as the fellows at the other end of the wire put prices up or down.

-Mrs. Peter Kane, died at her home along the pike north of Bellefonte, last Thursday afternoon, of consumption. Deceased leaves a husband and two children to mourn her demise. She was 23 years of age and was buried Sunday morning, the Rev. J. C. Young officia-

-The Howard Hornet, on a little Incide information, says that dehorning cattle is cruel and that it neither increases the milk in cows nor the growth in steers. The Hornet thinks that "if some of the college professors were dehorned the thing would cease to be a disturbing element."

-A Bellefonte clothier was recently asked for a business suit, by a man who If drawn on a jury would give his occupation as "gentlemen," and as he did not have exactly what the purchaser wanted he ordered it for him in this way: "Please send me a business suit for a fellow who does nothing."

The Central R. R. of Pa. is making arrangements to put a local pas-Cenger train on its road between this place and Mill Hall, in order that peo- imposed. ple living along the line of the road who bave business in Bellefonte or Lock Haven can attend to it without having to lose an entire day or the most of it. The new train will run both ways very near the noon hour.

THE NOVEMBER COURT IN SESSION-The usual bustle consequent upon the opening of a regular term of court was noticeable about the Court House, on Monday morning, and when the trains arrived later there was a large number of people on hand either to win or lose cases, pass on them as jurors or lend their knowledge as testimony for whatever it would prove worth.

The most of the morning session was taken up with the constable's returns, the reading of various petitions and the organization of the grand jury which got to work early. Judges Furst, Riley and Faulkner were on the bench at the opening, but it was not long until both associates retired. The former being ill and f. and b. Found guilty and senhimself, while the latter was called home on account of the illness of a daughter. The miscellaneous business was just finished by noon, when adjournment was made. After the reconvening of $5 and costs after pleading guilty to court the criminal list was disposed of in the following order:

Commonwealth vs Amon Snyder, for tion held services in memory of the late stealing a box of clothes and dishes from the shanty of W. C. Sheesley, sometime in last July. Sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, restore the stolen property or Adams lost a driving horse the other the value thereof, and to undergo a term of imprisonment in the Western penitentiary for a period of one year and four months.

Commonwealth vs Reuben Pennington, larceny. Young Pennington was charged with stealing a watch from Mr. Tate, Gen. Hastings' man-of all-work. Plead guilty and was sentenced to the

Commonwealth vs Thomas H. Fink, charged with larceny. Verdict not guilty. He was charged with stealing the housings off harness owned by Richard Newman.

In the case of Commonwealth vs Lemuel Poorman and Thomas Johnwas quashed because of an error in draw-

Commonwealth vs Christ Rudolph, larceny, found not guilty.

Commonwealth vs John Keysickle indecent assault and assault with intent Jennette Rhoads, a girl 16 years old Defendant was found guilty of indecent assault only. Sentenced to pay a fine of $50, costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in jail for a period of four months. The prosecutrix is a daughter of Thomas Rhoads, who lives just on the out skirts of Bellefonte.

Commonwealth vs E. G. McElarnev. and b, Clara Spicer prosecutrix. Found guilty and sentenced to pay fine of $25, costs of prosecution, $30 to the defendant and $1.50 per week for seven years for the maintenance of the child, and to give bond in the sum of $600 to the overseers of Boggs township for the faithful performance of the same. Commonwealth vs Charles Meyer and Stanley Rhine, charged with stealing a dun horse and buggy from the stable of Michael Strohm, in Potter township, of which the WATCHMAN gave a full accourt by Senator Hackenberg, one of -The steam heat and steel vault their attorneys from that town, asking standing to find themselves in such a plight, but the theft they committed was certainly as culpable a crime as any that has come before the court this week and they should suffer the consequences. Sentence was postponed in their case, but they will more than likely go to the reformatory. Commonwealth vs John Hines, assault and battery. Charles Frantz was the prosecutor. Found guilty of assault and sentenced $5 and costs.

The case of the Commonwealth vs Joshua Foulk, charged with stealing suffer the punishment they so richly money from Wm. Horner, while the latter was asleep in Foulk's house, was settled before it went to the jury.

In the case of Annie Simpson, of Port Matilda, charged with indecency and lewdness was withdrawn and the wretched girl was sent to Altoona, to a home for such characters. She is a young woman who came to this county from the vicinity of Clearfield.

Common wealth vs Levi Hamer, charged with stealing 47 bushels of buck wheat from P. B. Kelly, in a settlement between litigants, both of whom are from the upper end of the Bald Eagle valley. The case was non-suited.

Commonwealth vs Rebecca and Dolly Davis. Bellefonte girls, charged with cruelty to animals by Frank Bosch, a Bellefonte liveryman. Bill ignored and prosecutor pays costs.

Commonwealth vs Lowery Walker, of Bellefonte, charged with f. and b. by Ida Yarnell, of Spring township. Defendant plead guilty and usual sentence

Commonwealth vs Joseph Travis, found guilty of assault and battery and released in recognizance of $500 for appearance for sentence next Wednesday. just twenty years old.

This was a case brought in from the town of Casanova, and was the out come | The much talked of ball of the new Unof a fight over a Singer sewing machine dine Fire Co. was held in Arcade hall which Mrs. Peterson's neighbor had purchased from Travis on the installment plan. The machine had been nearly all paid for when the purchaser moved away from Casanova and he left it with Mrs. Peterson until he could finish payment on it. Notwithstanding his intentions were honest the agent went to the Peterson home to take the machine away, which prosecutrix tried to prevent and a scuffle ensued in which they forget everything else and ask she was hurt.

Commonwealth vs Wm. Frye, of Boggs township, charged with adultery tenced to one year in jail for adultery and the usual sentence for the other

John Bowers, of Julian, was fined assault and battery upon Daniel Adams.

Samuel Meese, of Bellefonte, was sentenced to serve 6 months additional larceny, defendant was found guilty of time for breaking jail. To take effect upon the expiration of his former sen-

Harry Sampsel and James Huey, Benner township road supervisors, were up for misdemeanor in office, but the bill was ignored and the county will have to pay costs.

J. S. Showers, the young sharper who passed bogus checks on many hotelkeepers throughout the State, and who was caught up at Olean, N. Y., after he had stuck J. M. Neubauer, of the Brockerhoff House in this place, plead sides as they swung into High street and guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1, costs and serve two years and eleven months in the penitentiary.

The last case taken up was that of the commonwealth vs Wm. Garis, a Bellefonte policeman, charged by Mrs. Newton Gibson, of Thomas street, with having taken a pocket book containing $47 from a table in her home. Garis had been called there to preserve the family peace and it is said that the pocket book departed when he did. The case was given to the jury yesterday morning with instructions for it to return a sealed verdict whereupon court adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock. The opinion of many who heard the case was about divided as to what the outcome would be, though there is a general belief that the verdict will be for acquittal.

TRUE BILLS WERE FOUND. In the following cases the grand jury found true bills : Commonwealth vs Frank Nighthart, Commonwealth vs John Brickley, Commonwealth vs Spanser Commonwealth vs Wm. Kessler

Reuben Billmeyer and J. P. Maner for assault and battery upon Geo. E. Wensler, of Millheim, at Coburn.

Commonwealth vs Richard Fink, assault and battery and maintenance. Prosecutor, O. Weston. Commonwealth vs John H. Rishel.

surety of the peace and maintenance. Prosecutrix, Alice L. Rishel. Common wealth vs Peter Coon, f. and b. Commonwealth vs Fred Walker, larincestuous fornication. The grand jury was under the foremanship of George W. McGaffey E.q., of Philipsburg, and handled its business in a very expeditious manner. There seems to be very little improvement in the morals of the county, for the list of women who appear in court hunting redress for illegitimate children continues as large as ever. It seems to us if the punishment for this offense was made more severe and if the women were made to share it with the men there would be fewer cases to bother and disgrace our courts. It is certain that both parties to such illicit practices should

THE UNDINES AND THEIR BALL .on Wednesday night and fulfilled every expectation. The firemen were in their element and what, with natty new uniforms, pretty girls, their own good music and a great crowd could they have wished for more. The annual Thanksgiving eve ball is just as much a part of the regular order of business with the Undines as their monthly business meetings, with the difference that in this their friends to join them in a night's devotion to Terpsichore.

The last dance was fraught with far more importance to the firemen than any of its predecessors, for it marked the debut of a reorganized company. Promptly at eight o'clock a line of parade was formed in front of the engine house, on Logan street, with the Undine band of fifteen peices heading it. The line moved off Logan to Spring, down Spring to Bishop, up Bishop to Allegheny and thence to High. As the parade passed the Brockerhoff house the fire laddies presented a very natty appearance. Band and firemen were clad alike in navy blue suits. Sack coats with white silk cord binding, trousers with white braid stripes and the regulation blue fatigue cap on the tront of which is worked in white silk cord the insignia "Undine No. 2." The band played with such a dash and the firemen followed with such a jaunty air that they met applause from all moved down to the dance hall.

At 9 o'clock the grand march began. It was led by Mr. Anton Zappard and Miss Celia McMahon. The number of ladies in full evening dress was a pleasing feature of what was one of the most successful dances ever given by Bellefonte firemen. The Undine's own orchestra of eight pieces, un der the leadership of Mr. Frank Deitrich, furnished a grade of music that played no little part in making the dancers have an enjoyable time. Then too such conveniences as a well managed cloak room and refreshment retreat were innovations that did much toward leaving an agreeable impression. The best of order prevailed and the dancers whirled merrily over the waxed floor until three o'clock. Among the ladies who were present were :

Misses Agnes and Mary Hull, in pink with chiffon; Miss Mary Martin in a stunning gown of blue silk with red velvet; Miss Margarette Vallence in white mull; Miss Margie Gill looked pretty in pink and blue china silk, Miss Kittie McMahon in cream tulle over sil; Miss Roebe Derr in pink muslin de soie Miss Annie Foley in pink; Miss Say or wore white mull, the Miss Gessner fetching gowns, Miss Pacina, Maggie Faher, Katharine Ammerman, Miss Whittaker, Miss Lose, Mrs. Harry Williams and Miss Mams Haley and Miss Sadie Mc' Gilley, of Snow Shoe.

The dance was largely attended and proved a financial success to the Undines At mid-night the drawing for the handsome walnut escritoire, valued at $100, was held and Mr. Frank Montgomery's number proved the

AN UNGENTLEMANLY ACT. - Last Saturday a party of Philipsburg boys, representing the High school of that town, came here to play a game of foot ball with the Belletonte High school eleven, and the game was called at 2 o'clock on the glass works meadow. It was not long until the visitors showed that they were too much for the home players and in a very few minutes had scored a touch-, in Philipsburg. down from which a goal was kicked. Then the Bellefonte team tried to ring in "Ginger" Harris, a 180 lb. colored fellow, who is not a student. The visitors rightly objected to this and refused to play with him, whereupon our boys played the baby act and left the field, refusing to pay the $15.00 guaran. tee. Hospitable John Neubauer, of the Brockerhoff house, invited the giving turkey with her mother Mrs. James Philipsburgers to spend the night as his guests which they did, and drove home the next morning.

The Belletonte High school boys should be made pay that guarantee or retund the money to the people from whom it was procured. We are surprised that they should act in such an unmanly wav and are sure it would have been far more honorable for them to have been beaten in a tair and square game, than to have played the baby act as they did. It was the general verdict of the crowd that the visitors were entirely right in their refusal to play with Harris.
