THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Phillipsburg is to have a steam laundry.

—The holiday season is on. Read Lyon & Co's. ads for bargains.

—The Gilhooleys Abroad at the opera house to-morrow evening.

—A. G. Morris began building two new line kilns at Salona on Monday.

—The anniversary of the Belleville R. M. C. A. will be held Sunday, Dec. 16th.

—The county commissioners have sent out the books for the December registration.

—Aaron Long, of Penn's Cave made a sausage sixteen feet long, the other day.

—Yesterday a Farmers Institute met at Millheim to continue in session through to-day.

—Millheim has a new jewelry store with E. A. Bartges, of Haines township as proprietor.

—C. C. Looser's saw mill will soon be moved from Penn's valley to Fiedler's woods near Madisonburg.

—The mother of the proprietor of the Penn's Cave hotel is 97 years old and still does some household work.

—Aged Mrs. Limbert, mother of Frederick Limbert who lives near Aaronsburg, died suddenly last Friday.

—Lieut. Geo. L. Jackson, who had been confined to the house with catarrhal fever for the past week, is able to be about again.

—Mrs. George Shafer died last Thursday at her home in Madisonburg at the age of 79 years. She was a life long member of the Reformed church.

—The fall session of The Pennsylvania State College ends on Wednesday, December 19th and the boys will be given a vacation until Jan. 2nd, 1895.

—The Senior Assembly at The Pennsylvania State College last Friday night was a delightful affair, but the attendance was the smallest ever reported.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, of North Spring street, are receiving the congratulations of their friends over the advent of a new daughter to their home. She arrived Monday.

—Deputy Sheriff Weaver took Newt Pennington and the two Milton boys, who stole Michael Strohm's horse and buggy, to the reformatory at Huntington, on Tuesday morning.

—Thanksgiving day at the home of Register G. W. Rumberger, on east Bishop street, was made unusually enjoyable by a family reunion. All of the children were at home for the event.

—Jury Commissioners Bower and Aley are drawing their last list of jurors this week. Joseph Hoy, of Marion township, and John Decker, of Potters Mills, will do the work after the first of January.

—It has required the work of two courts in town all this week to finish up the work before Judge Love succeeds Judge Furst. Besides the regular sessions Judge Archibald, of Scranton, has been holding a special court here.

—Curt McClain, who is serving a life sentence in the western penitentiary for killing a man at Newton Hamilton twelve years ago, fell from a scaffold on which he was painting and was seriously injured.

—It has been decided to postpone the entertainment in the Methodist church until Monday evening, the 10th. The entertainment will consist of music, recitations, drills and tableaux, and is for the benefit of the Sunday school library.

—To-morrow night the Gormans come to Garman's with a laughable farce comedy written expressly for them. It is entitled the "Gilhooleys Abroad" and is said to be furiously funny, full of clever specialties and a novelty in its line.

—Fred Burd, the young Aaronsburg man who was so nearly killed by being run over by the wagon he was driving near Coburn, on Nov. 20th, is recovering and will probably survive his injuries, which were at first thought to be fatal.

—The grand jury approved the application for a new iron bridge across the Moshannon creek, on Presque Isle street, in Phillipsburg. In the event of a Clearfield county jury doing the same Centre will divide the costs with her and erect a good bridge over the stream that divides the counties.

—Dr. W. T. Musser, who died of pneumonia in Tyrone last Friday morning, was born at Marengo, this county, in 1860. He was a son of Samuel and Nancy Musser and was a physician of much repute. Members of the Belleville Masonic fraternity attended his funeral on Monday.

THE SECOND WEEK OF COURT.—Justice is being meted out at the Court House and for fear all the cases would not be finished up Judge Furst has had Judge R. W. Archibald, of Lackawanna county, here during the week assisting in the work. While the latter hears cases in the court room with the regular officials, the former holds a little court in the arbitration room, where ex-sheriff D. W. Woodring acts as clerk and Mr. Condon does the reporting. Thos. Lucas is employed as reporter for Judge Archibald's court. This is Judge Furst's last term on the bench and it is necessarily a serious one to him. He quits an office the tenure of which he has held ten years to go back to the practice of his profession. Though fraught with the usual annoyances consequent upon any public office his term has been on the whole a very pleasant one, and though he will take up a practice that will be far more lucrative than the office he vacates he cannot leave the bench without considerable regret.

The grand jury finished up its work last Friday and made the following report.

To the Honorable A. O. Furst, President Judge and Hon. Thomas F. Riley and Hon. C. A. Paulner, Associate Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County: The Grand Inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the county of Centre, in all matters relating to it, very respectfully submit the following report:

We have acted on all bills of indictment offered by the prosecuting attorney—thirty-five in all—returning twenty-five true bills and ignoring four, six being recalled by the District Attorney, no witnesses appearing.

Several of the cases should have been disposed of by the Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction of the cases, and we deem it not out of place here to commend and endorse the very emphatic and vigorous protest recently made by the President Judge of this county against the practice indulged in by so many Justices of the Peace in our county in sending to court cases of the most trivial character.

The Grand Jury labored under considerable difficulty, and their labors were prolonged on account of non attendance of witnesses when called.

We find the jail in proper condition so far as cleanliness is concerned, but improvement in ventilation is needed. We recommend that the cells be provided with new water-closets and wash basins. The floor repaired in several places—the same being rotted. We also recommend that some place be provided for the storage of the scaffold. We further recommend the removal of the shed in the corner of the jail yard as it may facilitate the escape of prisoners. The roof of the jail house needs repairs. The woodwork should be painted inside and out, and several of the rooms should be papered.

We would further recommend a new roof of modern style on the court house. We believe it would furnish three rooms, one for the grand jury, one for the traverse jury and one for witnesses, on the third floor. We recommend the changing of the stairs leading to the court room in such a manner as to increase the capacity of the court room and afford more office room on the first floor. We find that the District Attorney's office needs a new floor, painted and papered. We find the other offices of the court house in fair condition.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. W. McGraw, Foreman.

Right here we want to make the assertion that no grand jury ever visited the county jail and found it in better condition, so far as cleanliness and order is concerned. Sheriff Condo has been zealous in his efforts to make everything as pure and fresh as possible and even while the jail was crowded with so many prisoners he enforced his rule requiring regular baths, washing of clothing and scrubbing of cells, so that cleanliness at least was the order among the imprisoned. There is plenty of work that should be done by the county up there which the sheriff has every right to demand and which the grand jury has just recommended.

In our report of the last week's proceeding we went to press while the jury was out on the case of Mrs. Lydia Gibson vs. William Garis, charged with stealing $47.00 from her. The jury was out a whole day and night and returned a verdict of "not guilty" as the WATCHMAN thought it would last week.

Commonwealth vs. John H. Rishel, charged with surety of the peace and maintenance, continued for the purpose of taking further testimony.

Mrs. Amanda Rote vs. Thomas and Roy Johnson and Lemuel Poorman. She claimed that the defendants, during the May flood, tore down her yard fence at Coleville, and thereby allowed the water to cut a deep channel through her property, destroying her garden and fruit trees. Verdict not guilty and county pay costs.

This ended the criminal list and civil cases were taken up in the following order:

A. Walter, trustee for the Millheim Hosiery and Knitting factory vs. W. K. Alexander. Action to recover the balance due on a $100 subscription to said enterprise. Defendant claimed the subscription was to be paid in lumber for the factory building, which he was willing to supply, but they purchased from other parties instead. Verdict of $65.48 for the plaintiff.

Dr. E. S. Dorworth, of Belleville, vs. James McMullen. An action in non-assumpsit. Verdict for plaintiff of $2.33 dollars.

Bridget A. Smith vs. Jas. Burns, Sr., of Snow Shoe. Action to recover a store debt with an offset for services of Mr. Burns' son who worked in the store. There was a dispute as to the amount of wages to which the son was entitled.

The jury returned a verdict of 168.01 dollars for plaintiff.

Hannah Grove, of Milesburg, Adm'x. of Dr. Wm. Grove, Dec'd. vs. Sarah Yarnell. An action to recover amount due for professional services. Verdict for plaintiff of 56 dollars.

Hannah Grove, etc., same as above, vs. Lewis Miller. Verdict for plaintiff of 5.28 dollars.

Hannah Grove, etc. vs. Daniel Malone. Defendant plead the benefit of the statute of limitation. Plaintiff then plead surprise and the case was continued at the cost of defendant.

Jacob McClarren vs. Davidson & Son, litigants from Phillipsburg. An action to test title to property of Isaac McClarren, known as a marble yard in Phillipsburg. Verdict establishes the title of the property held by Jacob McClarren, the claimant, except a horse and buggy and some other personal property.

Lucy Auman vs. Jonathan Lingle, an action in ejectment for a tract of land in Gregg township. Verdict for the plaintiff, the land described in the writ.

J. H. McCauley, Adm'r. vs. Henry Brown, Adm'r. of John Diven deceased; verdict for plaintiff $131.

The next case taken up was that of a girl named Chesta Miller vs. Daniel Garman. She sued for damages for a broken fore arm sustained by a fall on the pavement in front of his residence on the corner of High and Spring streets in this place. Plaintiff claimed that the pavement was icy through negligence. The case was given to the jury on Wednesday morning and it stayed out until evening when it returned a sealed verdict of $150 for plaintiff.

Mary Cook, Adm'r. vs. Robert Confer, an action to test title of property held by Robert Confer, formerly owned by Michael Confer, his father. Verdict for the defendant, which sustains title to property.

Martha Hicks vs. Thomas Cowher; action compromised and verdict taken for $126 for plaintiff.

John I. Thompson vs. Graysdale Mining Co. Verdict taken by agreement of counsel for the plaintiff $1,899.62.

Centre county Banking Co. vs. J. P. Geppart to recover $6,200 and interest on a note signed by the defunct Belleville Nail Co. Lim., and endorsed by defendant. The bank claimed that the note had been accepted as collateral for certain drafts they paid. Defendant claimed that the note was not given as collateral for the loan and a verdict in his favor was returned.

Thos. S. Waple vs. borough of Phillipsburg to recover damages for injuries sustained by a fall on a defective sidewalk. Case continued on account of illness of attorney Crossby's children.

B. S. Trauterman and I. B. Trauterman as co-partners vs. Wm. A. Ishler, to recover for sale on bond of indemnity. Jury still out.

Jane A. Shively Adm'x. of A. J. Shively vs. T. G. Purdue and Wm. Resides to recover a balance of eight dollars on a note given by Purdue with Resides as endorser. Agreement made a settlement for thirteen dollars and sixteen cents.

Patrick Ward vs. J. T. Lucas suit in assumpsit and Hugh Ward vs. J. L. Lucas and Jac. A. Folmer Adm'r. Patrick Ward Sr. vs. J. T. Lucas—cases now on trial.

With the exception of the Ward cases the court finished up its work last night and will adjourn to-day.

When the court called Charles Myer and Stanley Ryan, the Milton boys who stole Strohm's horse, for sentence to the reformatory, a dispute arose as to who should receive the thirty dollars reward allowed by law for the apprehension of a horse thief. Milton's chief of police claimed it because he arrested them, but it was given to commissioner James Strohm because he had hunted them down and caused their arrest.

There are now only twelve birds in Sheriff Condo's cage.

Seven hundred invitations have been sent out thus far for the dedication of Co. B's armory on the 14th.

George Molson, who burglarized the Fallon house in Lock Haven and stole a bicycle from Dr. Eadie's house, was arrested in Pittsburg on Saturday.

The Gilhooleys' Abroad is a funny farce comedy in which the Gormans, old time minstrels, will show that they are as good in comedy roles as they were under the burnt cork. At Garman's Saturday night.

Reuben Hevner, of Farandville, tried to jump on a moving freight train on Monday, missed his footing, fell under the wheels and was horribly mangled. He died in a few minutes after being picked up. He had just attained his majority.

Some fished bored holes in the bottom of a ferry boat which sank in the river at Williamsport with five teams on board. Fortunately the boat was near enough to the shore when it went down that none of the horses or drivers were drowned.

COUNCIL MEETS AGAIN.—On Monday night council met in its regular semi-monthly session to transact whatever business might come up for its consideration.

The Street committee reported the continuation of work on Curtin street, the rolling of the water pipe trenches on High street and considerable other repair work. Under the latter head the committee failed to report what we have noticed that Water street, leading from High to the spring, is being filled up with a mixture of red clay with an occasional stone instead of all stone. It is usually muddy enough along there and the street commissioner is doing his best to make it worse by hauling dirt from everywhere and dumping it along that road.

The Water committee reported the laying of 400 feet of new pipe on Logan street as well as the repairing of a number of leaks. The Finance committee reported a balance of $4,574.43 due the treasurer and ordered the payment of bills aggregating $1,798.66. Among the latter was $255.56 as two week's pay for work on Curtin street.

Chief Burgess W. E. Gray was authorized to purchase winter uniforms for our police. Here is a matter that is of considerable interest to the average citizen. Why is it that some regulation uniform, with a helmet and belt, are not provided, instead of having our officers dressed as any private citizen may. If they are to have uniforms at all let them look like something, then have the police wear them with something like the dignity of an officer.

A propos of the possibility of changing the plan of lighting our streets a representative of the Penna. gas globe company appeared before council with a naphtha burner, guaranteed to give a twenty candle power light. In the event of council going back to that method of lighting the streets they will possibly be furnished by the gas company.

Other matters of minor importance were attended to and the meeting adjourned.

A BRILLIANT SEASON ENDED.—The Pennsylvania State College foot ball eleven closed a remarkably successful season, at Pittsburg, on Thanksgiving day, by defeating the athletic club's eleven in that city. When the season opened it was feared that State's team, being unusually light, would not hold up the brilliant record made in previous years, but notwithstanding a rigid adherence to the undergraduate rule, which excluded such stars as Haley and Wolfe of last year's team, the eleven was victorious in all but one of its games, that one being a tie with Annapolis.

Though this season has been a wonderfully brilliant one for State on the foot ball field, her prospects for '95 are even brighter. Only one man will graduate, Harris the crack end, but his place will find a man in either McKibben or Curtin, both of whom have played the position with a surprising excellence in this their first season. There will be more applicants for places than ever next year and we are confident that just as much of a surprise awaits admirers of the blue and white as delighted them this season.

The games State played with the scores are as follows:

GUARD AGAINST DIPHTHERIA.—At this season of the year when the fitful weather makes the danger of contracting colds, which lead to more serious ailments, so great it behooves every one to look after their health. Diphtheria and other diseases are epidemic in nearby towns, but as yet the health of Belleville is excellent. To promote this condition we must all guard against infection and the board of health, at its meeting, Monday evening, Dec. 3rd, passed the following resolutions:

WHEREAS it has come to the knowledge of the Board of Health of the borough of Belleville that diphtheria is now prevailing in the villages of Pleasant Gap, Laverstown and the same parts of the surrounding community therefore be it.

Resolved that all citizens residing in and about the above named places, together with all persons who may frequent these localities, be urged to make publicly known any such cases and adopt all known measure to prevent a further spread of this highly contagious and largely fatal disease.

The following instructions were given to the Health Officer.

The Health Officer is hereby instructed to inspect all cess-pools and privies in the vicinity of the Spring from which the borough receives its supply of water and report the condition of the same to the Board at its next meeting. By order of the Board.

H. C. QUINLEY, Secy.

A MISSION THANKSGIVING OFFERING.—The State College chapter of the Epworth League held an entertainment in behalf of Thanksgiving Dec. 1st. The decorations were quite fitting for a thanksgiving occasion. Products tastefully arranged so as to be strong reminders of God's providential care with the League's colors were also given place. The offering for missions amounted to $14 00

News Purely Personal.

—R. H. Boas, of Allentown, was a prominent State Republican who was attracted to the home of Hastings on Tuesday.

—Florist George Baldwin spent Saturday and Sunday in Philadelphia, where he purchased a large supply of ornamental holiday decorations.

—Noah Cronmiller, who is head clerk in Jared Harper's Allegheny street grocery ate his Thanksgiving dinner with friends in Aaronsburg.

—Col. Jas. P. Coburn, of Aaronsburg, was called to New York during the fore part of the week to attend the funeral of his Uncle Andrew Coburn.

—Mrs. J. D. Hall has been entertaining Mrs. Aaron Friedel, of Lock Haven, and Miss Hattie Loag, of Phillipsburg, at her home on Curtin street, for a few days during the week.

—D. G. Henning, of Pottsville, was the leader of a party of prominent politicians who hovered around the Bush house on Wednesday and kept their weather eyes on Hastings' home.

—Parker L. Walter, the Pittsburg leader, was in town yesterday and was entertained at dinner at Hastings' home. He seems to have more of a cinch than others of the patriots looking for a job.

—W. J. Bost moved his family from Phillipsburg to Milesburg, on Tuesday, and hereafter they will make their home in the latter place, where Mr. Bost and his two sons will operate the Wagner mill.

—Dr. R. G. H. Hayes and family returned from a three weeks trip to Philadelphia, on Tuesday. While away the doctor took a course in hospital work, while Mrs. Hayes spent the time visiting friends.

—Popular Bob Voris, who is now traveling for a Scranton wall paper house, spent Sunday with his friends here, and as is usually the case his voice lent much to the success of a sea musical at the Bush House.

—Lewis E. Beltier, private secretary to Gen. Hastings, returned from a two day's trip to Philadelphia, on Saturday evening. He had gone down to being Mrs. Beltier up to stay with him until they move to Harrisburg.

—J. A. Chambers, the well known Pittsburg glass manufacturer, was an arrival at the Bush House yesterday. He came to see Hastings and probably is going to press Dan for a fulfillment of some of his anti-election promises.

—George Hutchinson Esq., of Warriors-mark, was in town, on Wednesday, to call on Gen. Hastings. Mr. Hutchinson thinks he ought to be made Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth and he is pushing his claims accordingly.

—Miss Mary B. Struble, who at one time lived with her parents near State College, and is a trained nurse with headquarters in Philadelphia, will start on Saturday the 8th, for a six months' European tour. She expects to spend most of her time in Algiers.

—J. W. Danville, J. A. Hatch, W. W. Andrews, S. F. Lytle, G. W. Enigh and L. C. Hermann were a sextet of Phillipsburg physicians who were in Belleville yesterday to serve as witnesses on the case of Waple vs. the borough of Phillipsburg which was continued.

—Among the politicians who registered at the Brookhoff house during the week and who after favors at the hands of Hastings were: Gen. John A. Wiley, of the 2nd Brig. N. G. P. of Franklin; R. H. Koch, G. C. Smink and J. K. Sigfried of Pottsville; Daniel Lysett and J. A. Sloan, of Johnstown.

—James R. Hughes returned Monday morning from a short trip to Philadelphia and New York. He saw the University of Pennsylvania beat Harvard on Thanksgiving day, then journeyed on over to Gotham to witness the awful slaughter of his pet Princeton tiger by the men from Yale.

—A. C. Sisson, of La Plume, the man whose farm stories and wealth of knowledge on agricultural and horticultural subjects always interests Centre countians at Farmer's Institutes, was registered at the Bush House yesterday. He was on his way from Port Matilda to Millheim where he will speak and sing to day.

—Such well known Republicans as Terrence V. Powderly, of Scranton, ex-grandmaster workmen of the K. of L.; Senator Jesse M. Baker, of Media, who is father of the Baker bill; and Col. Frank J. Magee, of Wrightsville, arrived in town on Monday morning to press their claims for certain favors at the hands of Gen. Hastings.

—Dr. Wallace R. Hunter, the personification of healthfulness and jolly as ever, was in town a few minutes yesterday waiting for a train to Stormstown where he will visit his parents. Capt. and Mrs. John A. Hunter. He is practicing in Erie where his services are in such demand that he will have to return to his work to-day. He has lately been appointed assistant surgeon in the 15th Reg. N. G. P.

—R. M. Magee Esq., whose position as general manager for the Brooklyn life insurance company, brings him back to his old home here quite frequently, was in town last week but left for his home in Philadelphia Saturday morning. He rose in righteous indignation because we represented him as looking after the interests of another company than the Brooklyn. According to his idea it is the only company in existence and of course he could scarcely conceive of our erring in the matter.

BURIED ON HER BIRTHDAY.—Four score and almost sixteen years was the length of life allotted to Mrs. Nancy Potter, of Linden Hall, who died on Tuesday. She fell on the ice last winter and injured herself so badly that she never walked afterwards, but notwithstanding this physical infirmity she retained a remarkable mental activity and up to the last moment of her life her mind was as clear as a bell. Ninety six years old she would have been had she lived until yesterday and it was a rare coincidence in a rare life that made the anniversary of her birth her burial day. She was born just one year after John Adams was inaugurated the second president of the United States and certainly was one of the very oldest, if not the oldest resident of the county. Deceased was the mother of our friend Fergus Potter, of Linden Hall, and was an aunt of Mrs. Margaret Alexander of this place.
