Burlesque Apportionment.

For more than twenty years the Republicans have prevented a reapportionment of the representative districts of this State, in complete disregard of the requirement of the constitution in that respect. This indifference to constitutional provision has sprung from a desire to maintain a gerrymander that has been to their advantage.

When charged with this wrong doing they reply, as they did during the recent campaign, that they passed apportionment bills, but a Democratic Governor prevented their going into effect. Their insincerity in this matter was shown in their giving such a partisan character to their reapportionment as they knew would necessarily meet with the disapproval of a Democratic Governor. That is what they wanted. They were content to maintain their old gerrymander by offering one that was a good deal worse.

It needs but little examination of the comparative population of the districts to show what a travesty on popular representation the present apportionment of the State presents. Take, for example, the senatorial districts. The population to which a Senator is accorded ranges from 48,051, in the Lebanon district, to 437,211, in the Berks district. In the one three times as many constituents are required for a Senator as in the other. In other words, Democratic Berks, in proportion to its population, has but one third the representation that Republican Lebanon has. The entire list of Senatorial districts is full of such inequalities. Luzerne, which is usually Democratic, with a population of 171,499 is allowed no more representation in the Senate than Republican Crawford with its 65,263 inhabitants. In Republican Erie 84,908 constituents have as much weight in the upper branch of our state Legislature as 141,372 in the Democratic district of Centre, Clinton and Clearfield. In the lapse of time, since the last apportionment was made, inequalities have grown up even in the comparisons between Republican senatorial districts, as in the Delaware district 74,357 constituents furnish a Senator, while in Allegheny county 137,964 are required for that purpose.

This unequal representation in the present apportionment is not confined to senatorial districts, but it is just as bad in regard to the lower house of the state Legislature and representatives in Congress. The evil has come from a gerrymander, resulting even in an inequality between Republican districts, which of course, the Republicans did not originally intend.

Are we likely to have anything better now that the State government is again completely in the hands of the Republicans? Apportionment bills will probably be passed, but it is not unreasonable to expect they will be as much of a burlesque on the principle of popular representation as are those by which the various representative districts of the State have for so many years been apportioned.

He Should Do as Pattison Did.

A deputation representing the State Firemen's Association called on Governor-elect Hastings the other day to receive a message to the way he would receive a measure to pension veteran firemen. The Governor-to-be received his callers cordially, but was disinclined to say much about his probable action, should such a bill pass the Legislature and come before him for approval. General HASTINGS showed excellent judgment in not encouraging any hope for the enactment of such a law and should be called upon, in his capacity as Governor, to pass upon a bill to pension veteran firemen we trust he will follow the example of his distinguished predecessor and veto it. While we have every sympathy for aged and infirm firemen we cannot see what claim they can have to a State's bounty. The idea of pensioning them is equally as foolish as that of pensioning judges—which is being agitated by some people who, unmindful of where the funds are to come from, would establish a pension system that would eventually extend to all classes and conditions of men.

Firemen, who are deserving of help, should be cared for by the cities in whose service they have been and the State would be doing a wrong thing to accept them as wards.

The papers all over the country are roundly abusing the Yale foot-ball association because it has declared its determination not to include the University of Pennsylvania in its championship series for 1895. Yale has a perfect right to act just as she pleases in this matter and as she announces that no claim is to be made to the America foot-ball championship because she intends playing whom she pleases, there is no reasonable ground for complaint from any source. If Yale prefers playing with Princeton and Harvard that is her affair and no one can take exception to it.

Financial Legislation.

It is Expected That a Sound, Flexible Monetary Law Can Be Made.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Notwithstanding the threats of vigorous opposition which the silver senators are making, there is a growing impression that a financial bill acceptable to the administration may be got through that body before the close of the session. There are persistent hints that an understanding on the subject may be arrived at between the sound-money Democrats and Republicans, and that concerted action may be taken by them, against which a silver filibuster would be unavailing.

It is felt that, as in the contest for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, there will be a steady increase in the pressure from the business men of the country for a settlement of the financial question, which will be joined in even by the silver senators, and before which the silver senators will have to give way. The argument will be made, too, that the question of silver or gold is not involved in the present scheme for a recasting of the currency laws of the country, and that this reform would be just as necessary were the country on a silver basis as it is under prevailing conditions.

Of course the assertion, now frequently heard, will be repeated incessantly, that the main object of the proposed currency reform is to side track the silver issue. But those who make this assertion have a hard time finding arguments to support it, and will not be able to make much of an impression on thinking men. It is already apparent that the bulk of the southern Democrats in the senate, or in the house, will join in support of a financial bill on the lines of Secretary Carlisle's proposal, while of the northern Democratic senators, only those will oppose it who oppose everything that they believe the administration desires, no matter what its merits or what the public necessity for it may be.

Shouldn't Take Chances.

Editor Arrested for Alleged Violation of the Lottery Law.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 11.—W. R. Thompson, editor and owner of the Ebensburg Mountaineer, was arrested this afternoon on the charge of depositing an issue of the Mountaineer in the mails containing an alleged lottery scheme. Bail was furnished for his appearance at the United States district court in Pitsburg next May. Some time ago Mr. Thompson printed an advertisement for a clothing company, setting forth that to each purchaser of $10 worth of goods a chance for a lady's gold watch would be given. The editors of the Hastings Tribune, the Cambria Freeman, of Ebensburg, and the Carrolltown News will be brought to answer the same charges.

Will Dive for Money.

HARRISBURG, December 10.—George W. Brooke, of 250 Broad street, former man at Brown & Co's, foundry, is the diver who will attempt, for half the value of the cargo, to raise the Tewabic that was sunk in Lake Huron thirty years ago. He has been in negotiation with the persons interested for almost two years. He was formerly attached to the United States navy. Those who know Brooke believe he will make the effort.

Japan Hasn't Gone to Sleep.

LONDON, December 10.—A despatch to the Central News from Che Foo says the Japanese seem to be concentrating for an attack upon Shan-Hai-Kwan, a squadron of sixteen vessels having appeared there. The Chinese expect that the Japanese will try to effect a landing twelve miles southeast of that place and troops from Che Foo and other points have been dispatched to oppose them.

He's Going Out of Office.

WASHINGTON, December 12.—The president-to-day issued an order placing the entire internal revenue service under the provisions of the civil service law.

Death in the Wind.

A Terrible Storm Devastates Portions of Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 12.—An electric storm prevailed over a large section of Georgia early this morning. It broke in Atlanta about 2 o'clock. In the lower part of the state it was at its height between 3 and 4 o'clock. In some sections the storm was accompanied by a destructive cyclone, which moved in a general direction from south to north.

At Reynolds, in Taylor county, the destruction was appalling. A special to the Constitution says that everything in its track was swept away like chaff. Ten houses, with household effects, are total wrecks. Eighteen or twenty houses are partially destroyed. All the large trees in the portion of the town are uprooted. The path of the cyclone was over 100 yards wide. A number of persons were injured, but as reported no one was killed.

FORSYTH, Ga., Dec. 12.—A terrible tornado reached Forsyth about 3 p. m. today. Many persons were injured and a property loss of from $30,000 to $50,000 resulted. The Methodist church, valued at $18,000, was completely destroyed. The people became panic-stricken. Every store on the west side of the public square was unroofed, and many other buildings had roofs torn off and contents deluged with water. The worst losers are C. M. Bloodworth & Co., Proctor & Buddleston, and W. W. Hashworth, whose places were demolished.

Death of De Lesseps.

Count Ferdinand de Lesseps, the projector and constructor of the Suez Canal, and one of the most remarkable men of France, died on Wednesday morning, in his 90th year. His genius and enterprise created a pathway for the commerce of the world from the Mediterranean to the Indian Ocean; but his Panama Canal scheme to unite the Atlantic with the Pacific was as disastrous as that of Suez was successful.

Seely Captured.

The Debiting Cashier Discovered by Chicago Police.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Samuel C. Seely, wanted in New York, for the forgery and the larceny of $354,000, while an assistant bookkeeper in the National Shoe and Leather bank of that city, is under arrest in Chicago.

He is passing under the assumed name of Frank J. Dale, and denied that he is the man wanted, but his appearance coincided so minutely with the description of Seely that there was no doubt of his identity, and in addition to this he carried papers which proved him to be the man almost wanted.

Preparing for a Strike.

REYNOLDSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 11.—The situation among the 10,000 miners in the Dubois, Reynoldsville and Punxsutawney coal fields is such that they may strike against the reduction of five per cent in wages ordered to take effect on December 15. On Saturday a notice signed by the United Mine Workers was posted calling upon the men to resist the reduction and to demand the restoration of the five per cent. on January 1.

If you want printing of any description the WATCHMAN office is the place to have it done.

The association proposes introducing a bill at the next session of the Legislature which, if passed, will create a game commission, consisting of six members to be appointed by the Governor. This commission to have the appointive power to make ten game wardens at a salary of $500 per annum each. The commissioners receiving only necessary traveling expenses, while the secretary receives $900 per annum and has an office at Harrisburg.

If store keepers would put a very thin coating of glycerine on both sides of the glass in their show windows they would never be troubled with the windows getting so thickly coated with frost that it is impossible to see through them. The glycerine will keep the frost off, but if put on too thick it will gather dust. One coating will last a long time.

The lumber that ran away from the Williamsport boom during the spring floods has nearly all been recovered. Of the 170,000,000 feet that escaped 40,000,000 have already been returned to Williamsport, 80,000,000 feet have been delivered to other points and 40,000,000 feet are still in the Chesapeake bay to be sawed at the Sparrows Point Mill. Picked lumbermen were sent to recover this property and this is the result of their work.

The Bellefonte Academy football team turned the tables on the Williamsport High school eleven last Saturday afternoon, by beating them by the score of 6 to 2. The game was played here in a pouring rain and the players slipped around in the mud as if they were on ice. The Academicians were too heavy for the visitors, who could not play their running game on account of the mud. Dorworth made the touch down from which Capt. Hughes of the Academy team kicked the goal. About 200 people saw the game.

Notwithstanding the strike we have received two hundred Misses coats from $2.00 to $5.25. They are really worth from $4.00 to $9.00.

An extra effort is being made this year to have a large turn out of the county school directors on Wednesday, Dec. 19th, which will be director's day of institute week. The effort is being made because A. S. Drape, president of the University of Illinois and late Supt. of public instruction for the state of New York, with Dr. A. E. Winship, of New England, will be here on that day and will address the directors.

Shaeffer the photographer is offering some great inducements until Jan 1st, 1895.

The Bedford Inquirer of recent date devotes a column to what it calls the "Tussey Mountain Mining and Smelting Co." that has been organized to mine gold, silver, copper and lead ore, all of which have been found on the Tussey mountain, in Liberty township, Bedford county. A shaft has been sunk and specimens of the ore analyzed with the result that it showed gold 224 ounces per ton or $4,200, and silver 73 ounces per ton. An expert mining geologist has declared the signs better than any western prospect he ever worked and an expert chemist, of Oray, Col., is responsible for the analysis of the ores which has been verified by several other chemists.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—One of the most singular accidents set a farm barn, near Hollidaysburg, on fire last Saturday. An old fashioned horse power thrasher was being worked when a stone caught in one of the wheels, which were revolving at a high speed. The friction struck sparks of fire from the flinty stone and fine particles of straw that were in the air became ignited, carrying fire to every part of the big barn. It was totally destroyed, the horses being all that could be saved.

Those fine enameled photos of Shaeffer's greatly slaughtered in price until Jan. 1st, 1895.

LOOK OUT FOR THE HOLY LAND LECTURER.—The Sunbury Daily says that recently a slick individual with a pious expression delivered a lecture on the "Holy Land" in a small village in that vicinity, after which he announced to the farmers that he would form a class for the purpose of graduating veterinary surgeons.

As a natural consequence, the farmers wanted to know how to doctor a sick horse and gladly gave the three dollars, to become members of the class. The first lesson and organization was effected in the blacksmith shop. Another class was organized at Quiggleville and a third at Salladasburg, all having about one hundred scholars with the admission fee paid in. The storm interfered with a second meeting but did not interfere with the departure of the teacher, doctor and lecturer to parts unknown.

Just received 240 pairs of men's strictly all wool, extra heavy pantaloons warranted not to rip at $1.25 a pair. Actual value $3.00. Lyon & Co.

THE WEATHER AN EVER INTERESTING TOPIC.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 10th to 14th, and the next will again reach the Pacific coast about the 15th, after an absence of about twenty-nine days, cross the western mountains by close of 16th, the great central valleys from 17th to 19th, and the eastern states about the 20th.

This disturbance will develop a storm centre or low barometer of more than usual force and dimensions but the amount of snow and rain from it will not be large, except possibly on the south Atlantic coast, where rains will probably be about the average.

The path of this storm will be by way of the lakes, causing warm weather over most parts of the United States, and the cool wave to follow is not expected to reach far into the southern states.

A warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 15th, the great central valleys about the 17th and the eastern states about the 18th. A cool wave will cross the western mountains about the 18th, the great central valleys about the 20th and the eastern states about the 22nd.

Calculations were that the first and last weeks of December would average coolest and the week ending 18th warmest. But little rain or snow is expected during the middle third of the month, while precipitation was expected to be about or above the average during the first and last weeks.

A half hour spent in looking over our assortment will give you a fair idea of the popular styles, and we can only hope that it will be as much pleasure for you to see as for us to show our goods.—Samuel Lewin's.

THE INGENUOUS DEVICE OF A YOUNG INVENTOR.—Walter Wilhelm, a 19 year old Buffalo boy, has caused quite a flurry in the electrical world by a novel invention which he has just completed. By it all telegraph lines can be converted into telephones and the dashes and dots of the ordinary ticker will be replaced by the actual voice at the other end of the line.

To bring about this actual transmission of a human voice by the use of simple telegraph instruments he has brought a microphones into play. With it he greatly increases the disturbance the voice produces on the diaphragm of the transmitter and this increases the sound waves per second which set the ordinary telegraph ticker working so fast that instead of being able to recognize distinct ticks its sound becomes that of the voice disturbing it from the other end of the line. The invention was discovered by accident.

Young Wilhelm being the proprietor of a private telegraph line in Buffalo which was used for telephoning also was talking, with an improved transmitter—that is one in which he had placed a microphone—to a friend, the conversation set every telegraph instrument on the line going and all the people heard the conversation as distinctly as if it had come out of a phonograph.

The inventor is a son of William Wilhelm Esq., of Buffalo, N. Y., and a grandson of the late Bernard Lauth, of Howard, this county. He has been considered an "expert" on the telegraph and telephone for several years, though his invention has jumped him into a wonderful prominence in the scientific world, for one so young in years. It is possible that he will show as much of the inventive genius that so distinguished his late grand-parent.

NEXT WEEK THE TEACHERS WILL COME.—Bellefonte will be thronged with county pedagogues next week, it being the occasion of the 48th annual institute for the public school teachers of this county, and Sup't. Granley has been working hard to make it a success from every stand point. New rules will be enforced to preserve good order, better instructors have been secured than heretofore and the evening entertainments will be of a higher class, thus conducing to make one of the best institutes ever held. A pamphlet program has been sent out giving in detail all the announcements for the week, which have already been made in the WATCHMAN.
