

The Logans intend holding a fair and festival during the holiday week which is to conclude with their annual New Year's eve dance, everybody should be ready to lend whatever help they can to the women, who are trying to make the last payments on their steam engine.

A PUBLIC SALE.—On next Thursday morning, December 20th, a public sale will be made of the personal property of J. H. Rishel Jr., on the B. F. Thompson farm, on Buffalo Run, near Knox's school house and three miles west of Bellefonte. Some good horses, cattle, implements and household goods will be sold. John Rishel Sr., bought the goods at sheriff's sale and will offer some bargains on the day of sale.

A FEW THINGS THAT WOULD MAKE SENSIBLE CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—Ladies' toilet tables, tea tables, parlor tables, tabarets, foot rests, chiffoniers, ladies' parlor desks, combination book cases, dainty escritoires, fancy rockers, couches, large easy chairs in leather and corduroy, can be seen on the floor at W. R. Brackbill's large and well filled furniture ware rooms, on Spring street. As you can always find on hand everything kept in a first class furniture store

Pine Grove Mention

Mr. Curt Musser is rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter at his home. Rev. Forest is conducting an interesting revival which is quite well attended in the M. E. church.

Now its Sheriff Eckley of Ferguson township, the appointment is a good one as he is sound on the law and order question.

Next Sunday Rev. Ralph Illingworth will preach at Fairbrook in the morning, at this place in the afternoon and at the College in the evening.

The sprightly form of Major W. C. Peterson Supt. of the Experiment farm of the Penna State College was seen on our streets the early part of the week.

As this is the last week of the hunting season for 1894, everybody that is able to beg, borrow or steal a musket in being enrolled in the Nimrod column and a new supply of savory meat is looked for.

The farmers of this state have had possession of the State capital this week. D. G. Meek and wife are in attendance as representatives of the Centre Grange and H. S. Walker is representing the Leonard Grange, which has made a marked progress in the last year.

Mr. G. W. McWilliams whose illness we noted in our last issue, was on Tuesday of this week placed on board a sleeping car at Tyrone and taken to the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia with a view if possible of saving his eye. He has suffered the most excruciating pain with it and is consequently badly broken in health.

Our mutual friend J. D. Wagner the present occupant of the flouring mill known as the Ard mill, in this place by a recent purchase of the same, is sole owner and proprietor. The purchase includes three houses on Water street, the upper mill, the mill meadow, and the open corners from the mountain line north to J. H. Mitchell's farm buildings, this tract will be offered on easy terms for sale for building purposes. Any one desirous of owning a home will do well to call on Mr. Wagner, who in addition to being one of the best millers in central Pennsylvania, is a progressive citizen anxious for the good of the community. He favors well lighted streets, good roadways, substantial buildings and it is a pity that he is a dyed in the wool Republican for taking all in all Jacob is a good fellow.

Books, Magazines Etc.

The Christmas (December) number of Home and Country, Corporal James Tanner, Editor, contains a wealth of illustrations, many of which are full page and all appropriate to the season. And not least attractive to the children—even those of elder growth—among the instructive and educational articles this month, will be found the story of "The Christmas Tree," that delight of the young throughout all Christendom. Full particulars are given in this article, through illustration, of how to dress a Christmas tree, and so cheaply too, that no home, even the poorest in America, need be without one at the coming Yuletide. The poet sang "What is Home Without a Mother," but we ask, What is Christmas without the Christmas Tree? And we know what our children would answer. Home and Country is published by Jos. W. Kay, at 53 East 10th Street, New York. Subscription price is $1.00 a year, or 75 cents for six months.

The Rev. I. R. Hicks' Almanac for 1895 is out. He has kindly sent to this office a copy of the same, and we speak advisedly in saying that it is a rare publication. The history of this man's work—now an open book to all America—and a casual glance at this Almanac for 1895, convinces us that this vitally useful and instructive book ought to find its way in to every shop, store, office and home in the land. It contains 84 pages, printed on fine book paper, with elegant covers in colors. This unique journal is a peerless educator of the masses, and is fast becoming a household guardian and necessity in the homes of America. Those who want to keep up with all the advanced thought of the age in science, religion and all social, commercial, intellectual and domestic subjects, should subscribe for Word and Works. Subscription only $1.00 a year. You can send for both direct to Word and Works Publishing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

One of the characters in Rudyard Kipling's American story, "A Walking Delegation," in the Christmas Century, is "Muldoo," a New York car-horse. "On de Belt," says Muldoo, "we don't reckon no horse worth his keep 'less he kin switch de car off de track, run her round on de cobbles, and dump her in ag'in ahead o' de truck what's blockin' him."

The Pension Appropriation Bill.

The Pension Appropriation bill, as reported to the House Thursday, carries an appropriation of $141,581,570, being $200,000 less than the estimates and $10,200,000 below the appropriation for the current fiscal year. In the report accompanying the bill is a table showing that in 1879 the number of pensioners was 242,755, the annual value of the pensions $25,493,742, and the disbursements on their account reported by the Treasury $35,121,482. In 1894 the number of pensioners increased to 999,544, the annual value of pensions to $130,120,863 and the disbursements by the Treasury to $141,177,284.

Another Big Strike Imminent.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—The coal miners in the Pittsburgh district look upon the dissolving of the interstate agreement as a declaration of war by the operators and they have accepted the challenge. The miners anticipate that immediately following the return of the operators from Columbus, notices of reductions will be posted at nearly every mine in the district to take effect by the 1st of January. The miners' officials anticipating this action have been vigorously perfecting their organization, and the wage reduction will be opposed by an almost solid body of organized diggers.

Tillman Elected Senator.

COLUMBIA, S. C., December 11.—In the election for United States Senator to-day in the South Carolina general assembly, B. R. Tillman received 131 votes; M. C. Butler, the present incumbent, 21 votes.
