

Farm Notes.

No system of feeding will put cows on an equality. The only way to secure uniformity in a herd is to use the pure breeds and select the best every year.

Those who profess to know predict that pork will be high this year. Whether it will or not, the pigs can be made to utilize many waste substances that are of no value except as food for them.

Difficulties teach much that was not known before. Farmers have now discovered that wheat was just what they should have fed years ago, and that wheat can be profitably grown as food for stock only.

The sheep is not as hardy as may be supposed. Its wool is given as a protection, but wool will not keep the rain from chilling the sheep. They should be sheltered and given straw for bedding, which will also keep them clean.

When the snow melts the farm is in a sloppy, and disagreeable condition. Drains or openings should be shoveled out, if possible, and the water carried away from the barn and the water carried away from the barn and stables as it will flow.

Hundreds of barrels of apples and potatoes are buried under the snow in towns around Nashua, N. H. The snow came so early, and having remained, will cause considerable loss to many related farmers. One farmer in Hudson has 150 bushels of potatoes yet in the ground.

Some dairymen affirm that there is more money in selling cream to the creamery and feeding the skim milk to pigs than by any other plan of making a profit from cows. The manure is also a large item, and the best portions of the milk are not taken from the farm, as cream does not deprive the soil of its fertility.

Farmers who have been selling off their sheep have done a good thing in one respect, and that is to thin out the scrub. Hereafter the sheep in this country will be of better grade, and many farmers who never before made sheep pay will learn that for years they have been losing valuable time in not keeping better stock.

It is better to start with a few animals and gradually increase, using pure bred sires for improvement, than to invest a larger sum in a herd or flock by purchase of unknown stock. No farmer can afford to wait a year or two to find out that his stock is not of the kind to give a profit. Begin right, and the work will be easier.

Many farmers take extra pains to provide something choice for their customers, and deprive themselves of the very luxuries which they sell. This is not right. The family table should be supplied, with the best that the farm can afford, and the younger members of the family will not then seek in the cities the luxuries which could as easily be obtained at home.

A writer in Indiana Farmer recommends a novel plan of making a ewe own her lamb. Put a dog in the stable with her. If the ewe is not entirely devoid of maternal instincts, she will defend her lamb. If she is, she will so intently watch the dog that she will unconsciously let the lamb suck. A neighbor of the writer says that of several trials it proved a success every time.

When the stalls are given clean, fresh bedding for the animals they not only rest comfortably, but are protected from colds. It is along the floor that the cold draughts come, and a liberal supply of straw serves as a check to the current. This is quickly noticeable, when comparing a stable, which is well littered on the floor. It is several degrees warmer in the stable which has straw.

A dozen hens, well cared for, at this season will produce twice as many eggs as a flock of similar number which is neglected. In fact, on hundreds of farms where large flocks may be seen no eggs are secured in winter, simply because the hens are neglected. An egg is composed of several important constituent materials, a lack of any one of them rendering it impossible for the hens to produce eggs.

Early tomatoes bring high prices. One way to get them to begin now, and sow the seed in a box, keeping the box in a suitable place in the house. When the plants are large enough transplant them to a cold frame outside, which is carefully protected and well covered, to keep out the frost. In the proper season put the plants in the open ground. Care will have to be used, as the plants are quickly injured by cold.

It should not require much observation to convince farmers that the sheep business is bound to improve. Farmers are selling off their sheep rapidly, and really without cause. The result will soon be that sheep will be scarce. The wise farmer will buy them, as there is a time sure to arrive when he will have what others will want. Wool may be low, now, but mutton is becoming higher. Sheep are valuable for something more than wool, and they will pay well if farmers will hold on to them.

Give the boy or girl something in which to take an interest on the farm. Remove the young stock off the farm, and much of the pleasure of stock-raising will be gone. A few bantam chicks will create an interest on the part of a child that owns them, and the stepping-stone to a more active interest in all classes of animals in the future will be laid. Boys and girls will stay on the farm without invitation if their early days are made pleasant and farm attractive.

Cleveland on Hawaii.

The President Tells Why the Philadelphia sent to Honolulu.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—In conversation this evening the president seemed entirely willing to discuss the Hawaiian question. He said: "No information has been received which indicates that anything will happen in Hawaii making the presence of one of our naval vessels necessary, unless we are prepared to enter upon a policy and course of conduct violative of every rule of international law and utterly unjustifiable. All who take any interest in the question should keep in view the fact that Hawaii is entirely independent of us, and that in its relations to us it is a foreign country. A ship has been sent to Honolulu, not because there has been any change in the policy of the administration, and not because there seems to be any imminent necessity for its presence there. The vessel has been sent in precise accordance with the policy of the administration in every case of the kind, and from motives of extreme caution, and because there is a possibility that disturbances may be renewed, which might result in danger to the persons or property of American citizens entitled to the protection of the United States. This course was at once determined upon as soon as information reached the government of the recent revolt.

So far from having the slightest objection to making public the instructions that were given to the commander of the Philadelphia, and the dispatch he will carry to Mr. Willis, our minister in Hawaii, I am glad to put them before my fellow-citizens. The instructions which are thus made public, are for Rear Admiral Beardslee, of the Philadelphia, and the dispatch he will carry to Mr. Willis, our minister in Hawaii. I am glad to put them before my fellow-citizens. The instructions which are thus made public, are for Rear Admiral Beardslee, of the Philadelphia, and the dispatch he will carry to Mr. Willis, our minister in Hawaii. I am glad to put them before my fellow-citizens.

Whose Fault It Is.

The Saunterer, in the Altoona Tribune, in the following mildly asks "whose fault is it that the vote on the women question in the Methodist church was not taken last November as directed by the last general conference. A question to our mind altogether unnecessary, for nearly every preacher east of the Mississippi is dead set against the movement, and those who are not—feel obliged to sustain Dr. Buckley the furnisher of most of their ideas in his war on the women."

"Talking about Methodist matters," remarked the Lady, "if I am not mistaken the last general conference of the church directed that the members of the church should again vote upon the women question in November, 1894. Is that correct?" The Saunterer replied that he believed it was.

"Well, there was no vote taken in our church, no announcement made concerning the vote; the whole matter was ignored, either by the preacher in charge or the quarterly conference, or by both. And there is no redress. The time for voting has gone by. When the returns are sent in there will be no vote reported from our church, not because nobody wanted to vote, but because nobody was given a chance. Do you think the failure to take this vote was part of a plot to nullify the action of the general conference on the part of those who are willing that women shall do all the work of the church, but unwilling to permit her to help make the laws by which she is governed?" The Saunterer declined to commit himself to an affirmative answer. He would rather believe that wherever there was a failure to take this important vote, the omission was the result of forgetfulness.

Arms for Hawaii.

The Steamer Australia Will Carry a Big Consignment.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The flagship Philadelphia left here for Honolulu at 11 o'clock this morning, and it is expected she will make the run to the islands in about six days. The oceanic steamer Australia was to have left for Honolulu yesterday, but her sailing was postponed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. She will have a small passenger list, as some of those who intended to make the pleasant ocean voyage have decided that Hawaii is a good place to keep away from at present.

The most conspicuous part of her cargo will be 2,000 stands of arms and about 75,000 rounds of ammunition that is being shipped to representatives of the government. The shipment will be stored in the hold near the hatches, so it can be reached quickly and landed as soon as the steamer arrives at her destination.

When the New York Star holds President Cleveland responsible for the recent outbreak in Hawaii it goes beyond the limits of decency. The truth is that nobody in America has lately had anything to do with Hawaiian affairs, although the adventures which precipitated every expedient to induce the United States to interfere. They do not seem to much better than their opponents, and selfishness is at the bottom of the whole trouble.—Altoona Tribune.

The appraisal of the personal estate of the late Jay Gould shows the total value of the securities held by him at the time of his death to have been $80,934,589.79. There was $5,497,200 in Missouri Pacific, $12,804,225 in Manhattan Railway, $18,802,380 in Western Union, $7,308,600 in St. Louis and Iron Mountain bonds, $12,972,020 in Missouri Pacific bonds, etc. The appraiser allows $2,000,000 as an indebtedness to George Gould, according to his father's provision, and after deducting legacies and annuities the residuary estate stands at $73,224,547. And yet Jay Gould paid tax on only two or three million dollars, and his heirs are trying to escape paying their taxes. The income tax just fits such cases.

Great Destitution in Nebraska.

GREENE CENTRE, Neb., January 20.—The distress in this part of the state is appalling. No picture of the suffering has been overdrawn and a great many sad cases have been suppressed. Thus far there has been but little cold weather and no snow. Hundreds of families have nothing to eat and no fuel, and children are so nearly naked that they are kept from school. At least one fifth of the people of this county have become county charges, which has depleted the county treasury and depreciated county paper until it is not worth more than half its value and is still going down.

It is impossible for the people to care for the destitute and unless a large amount of outside assistance is received at once some of the worthy farmers and their families will perish. The people are most in need of clothing and anything in that line cannot fail to alleviate the suffering.

It looks as though the girls were even wearing bloomers on their arms.

The next legal holiday will be Washington's birthday, February 22d.

A few New Year's resolutions are still being kept.

"For fully two years, I suffered from rheumatism, and was frequently in such a condition that I could hardly walk. I spent some time in Hot Springs, Ark., and the treatment helped me for the time being; but soon the complaint returned and I was as badly afflicted as ever. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I resolved to try it, and, after using six bottles, I was completely cured."—P. H. Ford, Quachita City, La.

Saddlery.

SCHOFIELD'S NEW HARNES HOUSE

We extend a most cordial invitation to our patrons and the public, in general, to witness one of the ever put on the Bellefonte market, which will be made in the large room, formerly occupied by Harper Bros., on Spring street. It has been added to my factory and will be used exclusively for the sale of harness, being the first exclusive salesroom ever used in this town, as heretofore the custom has been to sell goods in the room in which they were made. This elegant room has been refitted and furnished with glass cases in which the harness can be nicely displayed and still kept away from heat and dust, the enemies of long wear in leather. Our factory now occupies a room 16x74 feet and the store 29x50 added makes it the largest establishment of its kind outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

GRANDEST DISPLAY OF

We are prepared to offer better bargains in the future than we have done in the past and we want everyone to see our goods and get prices for when you do this, out of self defense you will buy. Our profits are not large, but by selling lots of goods we can afford to live in Bellefonte. We are not indulging in idle philanthropy. It is purely business. We are not making much, but trade is growing and that is what we are interested in now. Profits will take care of themselves.

When other harness dealers discharged their worn material during the winter they were all put to work in my factory, nevertheless the big (7) houses of this city and county would smile if we compared ourselves to them, but we do not mean to be so odious, except to venture the assertion that none of them can say as we can say "NO ONE OWES US A CENT THAT WE CAN'T GET." This is the whole story.

The following are kept constantly on hand. 50 SETS OF LIGHT HARNESS, prices from $3.00 to $15.00 and upwards. LARGE STOCK OF HEAVY HARNESS per set $25.00 and upwards. 500 HORSE COLLARS from $1.00 to $3.00 each, over $100.00 worth of HARNESS OILS and AXLE GREASE.

$400 worth of Fly Nets sold cheap $150 worth of whips from 15c to $3.00 each, Horse Brushes, Curry Combs, Sponges, Chamols, RIDING SADDLES, LADY SIDESADDLES

Harness Soap, Knee Dusters, at low prices, Saddlery hardware always on hand for sale, Harness Leather as low as 25c per pound. We keep everything to be found in a FIRST CLASS HARNES STORE—no changing, over 20 years in the same room. No two shops in the same town to catch trade—NO SELLING OUT for the want of trade or prices—Four harness-makers at steady work this winter. This is our idea of protection to labor, when other houses discharged their hands, they soon found work with us. JAS. SCHOFIELD, Spring street, Bellefonte, Pa. 33-37
