Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 15, 1895.

To Correspondents.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Read every page of the WATCHMAN, there is news all through it.

—A delightful entertainment awaits those who go to the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium to-night.

—James Gardner, of Howard, was brought to jail here, on Tuesday, charged with wife beating.

—Our readers will find a full account of the recent blizzard on one of the inside pages of this paper.

—The Pennsylvania State College glee, banjo, and mandolin clubs will give a concert at Butler on the evening of March 9th.

—The stereopticon exhibition in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium to-night will be fine. The views cover a year's travel and are truly worth seeing.

—Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schod, of this place, are pardonably proud just now because a little daughter arrived on Tuesday to grace their home.

—The musical convention at Pleasant Gap, this week, is a howling success. There are more than a hundred singers and everyone is having a fine time.

—Mail carrier John Wagner was sick, on Monday, and assistant postmaster Howley had to go over his route, there being no substitutes available.

—The organ motor in the Presbyterian church froze and burst last week. The congregation will be without the use of the organ until the motor is fixed.

—Ed Rankin, the Western Union telegraph agent at this place will resign his position here soon to accept a place in the Insurance department at Harrisburg.

—Last Friday evening the public school building at Hecla, was destroyed by fire. The teacher discovered the fire and tried to save what he could. Its origin is unknown.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Mock, of Philipsburg, are proud over the arrival of a young son in their household. Mrs. Mock was Miss Grace Moore, of State College, before her marriage.

—The blizzard, on Friday, was about the worst day this town has witnessed for many years. Business was practically at a stand-still and trains were so blocked, on all roads, that no one gave any thought to mails or travel.

—The Board of Health had a big "scarlet fever" placard on Baker B. C. Achenbach's door, on Bishop street, all last week because some one said the little son Earle had scarlet fever. The fact of the matter is he didn't have it at all, but was troubled with worms.

—Daniel Garman Esq., of this place, reached the 70th year of his life on Sunday and all of his children but two took dinner with him at the Garman house that day. He is a very hale man at such an age and we trust his life may be continued much longer.

—The friends of Mr. Frank Hess, of Philipsburg, and he has many of them throughout the county, will be pleased to know that he has been married. The nuptials that made him the husband of Miss Annie Sweigart, of Baulah City, were celebrated Wednesday evening of last week.

—The fires in the Valentine furnace at this place were banked Monday morning on account of the scarcity of ore. Bad weather has made it next to impossible to get ore out and the furnace was banked to make some needed repairs during the period. The mines are running full time.

—A young son of Mr. H. D. Shively, who lives on the Buffalo Run road two and a half miles west of Bellefonte, died Saturday night, after a short illness. He had had measles and had about recovered when a relapse resulted in his contracting pneumonia which ended in his death. The child was about four years old.

—The teacher's local institute for the 5th district, that was to have been held at Port Matilda last Saturday, was postponed until February 22nd and 23rd. The severe storm necessitated the postponement and the institute will be held next Friday and Saturday, when it is to be hoped there will be a large attendance. The first session will be held Friday evening.

—The combined store and dwelling of Shadrach Williams, at Martha Furnace, took fire about 9 o'clock last Friday morning, and was totally destroyed. Mr. Williams' wife was sick in bed at the time and she was gotten out of the burning house with the greatest difficulty. The storm was severe and hardly anything was saved, the house and store being totally destroyed. It is feared Mrs. Williams' will not survive the shock.

BE PREPARED FOR A GREAT FLOOD—

It has more than likely dawned upon the minds of our readers, who live near streams sensitive to floods, that when the unusual blanket of snow, that covers the ground in this section, begins to melt there will be such a body of water seeking some natural outlet that all the streams will be swollen to unprecedented volume. We advise all to be prepared for the floods when they do come, but hope, meanwhile, that the melting of the snow will be so gradual as to make them not near so disastrous as first thought pictures them. To give you an idea of what volume of water there is in the snow that covers the ground we can illustrate best by telling a little incident that occurred on Halfmoon hill, in this place, Monday morning.

Since retiring from the superintendency of the Bellefonte gas and steam heat works Mr. Robert McKnight and his family has occupied a house in that quarter. The water mains do not run on the hill, consequently people up there depend on cisterns. Mr. McKnight's cistern having "gone dry," as they say, he set about to melt snow, on Monday morning, and filled a large wash boiler which he packed as hard as he could. When the snow had all been reduced to water his curiosity led him to see what quantity of water the snow had made. Upon measurement it was found that the boiler, which is 12½ inches deep, contained just 3½ inches of water, a little over one-fourth the volume of snow that had been put in. Thus it will be seen that the snow on the ground will eventually be reduced to about one-fourth as much water as its present volume. The question that presents the most alarming phase, however, is: Will it go off with a quick thaw, or gradually? If the former there will undoubtedly be a great flood, but if the thaw is gradual the volume of water that will drain off through natural channels will be greatly reduced, since there being very little frost in the ground a large amount of the water will be taken up by it. It will be best to be prepared for the worst, for should a rain add to the melting snows the floods will be most disastrous.

A NEWSPAPER LIE.—

The report sent to the city papers from this place to the effect that "Davy" Kochler had frozen to death in the storm last Friday contained about as much truth as half the other trash that Bellefonte's catch-penny correspondents work off as telegraphic news on their papers. This is the second case this winter with which State papers have been bamboozled. Only a few weeks ago Mr. Henry Rothrock was reported to have perished while driving to Snow Shoe, when he was at home in his warm house all the time. When last Friday's storm came these avaricious news mongers were at a loss for something to color their stories of the blizzard with, so they straightway thought it would be a brilliant stroke to have "Davy" frozen. Knowing that he is an itinerant peddler, carrying a pack in all sorts of weather, and troubled with a nervous affection that really would have rendered him helpless in such a storm as last Friday's, they sent out the report that he had perished. A credulous public believed the tale and it soon was noised about in all quarters. The appended note from "Davy" shows how much truth there was in it and also that while they had him dead in a snow drift near State College he was miles away from that locality.

PHILIPSBURG, Feb. 11, 1895.
DEAR SIR.—The report that I froze to death near Lemont, is false. I was over here in Clearfield, Co. at the time and in the best of health.
Yours truly
DAVID KOCHLER.

DON'T FORGET WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.—

Don't forget Gregg posts hot turkey dinner Feb. 22, for 35 cents. Dining rooms open from 11:30 a. m., to 2:30 p. m., and continue on the restaurant plan until 11 o'clock p. m. Don't forget that Gregg post has the finest lodge rooms in Central Pennsylvania. The walls are hung with the pictures of the greatest generals and statesmen of the late war, also there are in the post rooms quite a lot of relics of the late war. Tables made of guns; canon and swords that were in the late war. A visit to the rooms is worth all the dinner costs. Don't forget that we are all old soldiers and that there is not a man in the Grand Army of the Republic, under 47 years old, and that the organization will only be in existence a few years more as those are only eligible to membership who have an honorable discharge from the U. S. service between 1861 and 1865.

KILLED NEAR LOCK HAVEN.—

While Oscar Osmon, who lives with his father on a farm along the Bald Eagle railroad near Lock Haven, was helping a buckster to drive a calf over the tracks, a train came along and killed him. The accident occurred last Saturday evening, and the train was going west when it struck the buckster and his assistant. The calf was killed, the buckster was knocked over an adjoining fence and Osmon was knocked a distance of fifteen feet. He was unconscious when picked up and died shortly after being carried home. Deceased was 36 years old and was buried Tuesday at Flemington.

—Caselton B. McIlvain, of Franklinville, Huntingdon county, has been granted a pension.

—The lawyers of Clinton county, have organized a bar association with Judge C. A. Mayer, president.

—All told there have been 1725 inmates in the Huntingdon reformatory. At present 556 names are on the register.

—There seems to be something radically wrong with Lock Haven people. Nearly every day there is some one being operated on for appendicitis down there.

—John R. Paisley, formerly of Osceola Mills, now a watchman in the arsenal at Harrisburg, fell and broke his knee and is in a hospital in the latter city.

—A frame house near McAlevy's Fort, owned by Patrick Troy, and occupied by Benj. Wyland, was burned to the ground last Wednesday morning. The fire caught from a defective flue.

—The term of the present postmaster of Huntingdon expires next month and Democratic patriots are bestirring themselves over there to find out who has the best claim to the plum.

—The old Williamson farm house about a mile and a-half on this side of Philipsburg, on the old turn pike, has been totally destroyed by fire. It was built fifty years ago and was looked upon as a landmark in that vicinity.

—Mr. G. H. Sheckler will give an illustrated entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium here to-night, that Secretary Stewart, of Johnstown, has written in fine. Admission is only 10 cents. You can all go and enjoy it.

—William Stine a resident of 11th street in Philipsburg was suspected of robbing clothes lines in that place. His premises were searched and a trunk full of linen was found, but while the officers were searching the house Stine skipped out.

—Newspaper gossip has it that Rev. M. L. Smyser, manager of the Methodist book rooms at Harrisburg, is about to open the large paper mills at Hoffmansville, York county, which have been idle for some time. He is the present owner of the plant.

—E. P. Harder, the high jumper, of The Pennsylvania State College, has been elected captain of the athletic team for 1895. "Ben" Fisher, of foot ball fame, is the representative to the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of Pennsylvania meeting to be held soon and is instructed to vote to hold the spring meeting at Harrisburg.

—That the Academy, high as it is and exposed to every blast that blows, was comfortably warm last Friday and not obliged to suspend business as the Court House and every other school in the town was, is something of a phenomenon and is much to the credit of the managers of that institution and the Maitland system of heating, which it uses.

—George Thompson and James Meyers, wagered twenty dollars, in a Lock Haven hotel last Friday, that the former could not leave that place in the evening and arrive in Chicago, by noon on Sunday. Thompson started and reached the Windy city at 7:40 Sunday morning. Meyers thought he wouldn't be able to get through on account of the snow, but he did.

—Mrs. Margaret Derr, aged 73 years, formerly a resident of this place, died in the Home for the Friendless, in Williamsport, last Thursday from illness superinduced by grip. At one time Mrs. Derr was a resident of Bellefonte and her remains were brought here for burial. She was the mother of James Derr, of this place, and was provided for by her other son Frank who lives in Williamsport.

—There is a bill before the Legislature to stop the killing of pheasant for market purposes for a period of ten years. It will be unlawful, if the measure passes, to kill pheasant for sale or have them for sale, but they can be hunted for one's own use. Such a law will not do much in the way of protecting the game birds. What we should have is a law prohibiting their being killed at all for a period of about five years.

—A kitchen range in the home of W. K. Calvert, of Altoona, exploded last Friday fatally injuring his aged father-in-law Jacob Daniels, who died at the hospital Saturday evening; and breaking the legs and arms of two children and terribly scalding a domestic. The pipes had been frozen up and when a fire was made in the range the explosion occurred. Mr. Calvert just buried his young wife on the preceding Saturday. Aged Mr. Daniels was a resident of Stormstown, this county, and had been at Altoona at the time of Mrs. Calvert's death. She was his youngest daughter. His remains were brought to Stormstown yesterday morning. Deceased was 78 years old.

HARDSHIPS OF PIONEER LIFE IN CLEARFIELD COUNTY.—

The Philipsburg Ledger tells the following bit of interesting news about some of the privations suffered by the people who settled the little colony that now bears the name of Frenchville, in Clearfield county:

"We had a very pleasant call yesterday from Mr. Charles Viard, of South Philipsburg. Mr. Viard's father was one of the early residents of Frenchville, and his story of the privations the founders of that little bit of transplanted France endured is interesting and pathetic. Mr. Viard's own story is worth telling in brief. His uncle came first to America, and after he had been here a few years wrote for his brother to come. The family landed at New York in the early fall and the uncle sent a friend to bring them to Frenchville with $200 he had saved to pay their expenses. Through some misfortune the friend lost the money, or was robbed. The uncle could not send them more as he had no more, so the family, consisting of the father and mother and four little children, one a babe in arms, bravely set out on foot to walk to Frenchville, 300 miles. Charles was only 5 years old, but he says the memory of that tiresome journey is indelibly stamped on his memory. The poor little stock of money the father had was carefully husbanded to buy eatables, and sometimes kind people took pity on them and gave them food and lodging, but generally they slept in barns and cattle sheds. They followed the Susquehanna river from Harrisburg to Lock Haven and from there went to Bellefonte and Snow Shoe, arriving at their destination in midwinter in freezing weather, shoeless and nearly naked. The last franc the father had was spent at Central Point for food. But at Frenchville they found kind friends, a warm home, food and clothing, and in the joy of meeting the good "oncle" the pain and misery they had endured was forgotten. Not forgotten exactly, but it was like a dreadful dream."

A RESUME OF TRADE FOR THE WEEK.—

In Dunn's Review we find the following summary of business for the week ending Feb. 9th, 1895:

"A whole week, the confident expectation of the sale of bonds has kept back exports of gold. Withdrawals from the Treasury amounted to about $2,000,000, but were mainly for domestic purposes. No bond bill has passed or is likely to pass Congress, and in the two months ending with February 1st the Treasury actually lost $67,000,000 in gold, of which $40,400,000 went into circulation, and $26,300,000 besides the product of the mines went abroad. How to arrest this outgo in either direction is a problem which another issue of bonds may possibly solve. It is hoped that the negotiations with foreign bankers may secure some improvement, though it is clear that sales of securities there will have the same effect as if the bonds were placed in this country, and they may not be stopped by the new transactions. In other respects the domestic money market is decidedly encouraging, with a fairly hopeful increase in transactions of commercial paper, though receipts of money from the interior continue surprisingly large for the season. The condition of industries, if not definitely better, at least presents some points of encouragement.

The failures for the month of January show an aggregate of $15,103,292 liabilities against $29,843,028 last year, and in manufacturing only $3,728,587 against $11,589,715 last year, while in trading the liabilities were $11,055,105 against $17,284,587 last year. The remarkably large decrease in manufacturing failures deserves the more attention because prices of manufactured products have so greatly declined during the year, and the output has been greatly reduced. Failures for the past week have been 281 in the United States, against 385 last year, and 58 in Canada against 60 last year.

WILL BELLEFONTE HAVE A SHIRT FACTORY.—

At a special meeting of the Bellefonte Board of Trade, held on Tuesday night, the special committee composed of Messrs. Hammon Sechler and F. W. Orider, that visited Lewistown, with a view to investigating the shirt factory made its report. The gentlemen had visited Lewistown and made a complete investigation of the enterprise that wants to locate here. They were very much pleased with it and seemed to think it a good thing. There had been a factory at Lewistown, operated by a stock company. Of late it has not been in operation and a Mr. Parker, who had been its manager, is desirous of getting in business for himself. Accordingly he visited Bellefonte and sought the assistance of the Board of Trade. His straightforward manner won him consideration and a committee was appointed to investigate. This was done and the report Tuesday night followed.

Mr. Parker's plan is to form a stock company here with a capital of $10,000 of which amount he will subscribe a tenth and go to work at once. Employing at least seventy-five hands.

The Board will appoint a committee to solicit subscriptions and recommends the enterprise to our people. Let us have a shirt factory.

—Fifty-two applications for license in this county have been filed with the Prothonotary.

—John Hile Gladfelter, the six months old babe of Charles Gladfelter, of Eagleville, died last Thursday.

—Executions aggregating $20,000 have been entered against Jones & Caldwell, furniture dealers of Tyrone.

—There is a great opportunity for you to make a nice saving in your purchases. Read Lyon & Co's., advertisements and see the inducements they offer you.

—The fifth annual mid-winter sports of The Pennsylvania State College Athletic Association will be held in the College armory to-night.

—Drifts in the roads between Mill Hall and Lock Haven postponed the regular pay day at the axe factories in the former place which came on last Saturday.

—You are losing money every moment you defer in reading Lyon & Co's., big advertisement.

—It is said that the Lewistown axe works will discontinue the manufacture of double-bit axes and leave the whole trade for the Mill Hall factory. If the report be true the latter will enjoy steady work, for the double bit trade is large.

—Sculptor Henry Manager, of Wissahickon, Philadelphia, has completed a plaster bust of the late Andrew G. Curtin which is said to be a very excellent work. Mr. Manager took a cast of the dead hero's face and worked the rest out from photographs.

—Lyon & Co's., mammoth store in this place is crowded every day with people who are wise enough to take advantage of the great sacrifice sale now advertised by that firm.

—A fine art and dissolving view entertainment, with all its extravagantly beautiful features, representing a trip from "America to Jerusalem" will be given in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium to-night by Mr. G. H. Sheckler, who has had twenty years experience as an exhibitor and lecturer. Admission is only 10 cents. Don't miss this opportunity of seeing over 100 beautiful photographic views.

—Miss Harriet R. Meek, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher E. Meek, of Altoona, was married at her home in that place on Tuesday the 12th, to Mr. William C. Snyder, train master of the Altoona division of the Pennsylvania railroad. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Ellis Bell, assisted by the Rev. William Moses, and was followed by a delightful supper. The bride, who is a very pretty and bright girl, was gowned in white bengaline trimmed with duchesse lace and carried bride roses. The young couple will be at home after February 20th, at Broad avenue and Twenty-fifth street.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR OFFICERS.—

The great storm last week put a damper on the county convention of Christian Endeavor societies that was held at State College, last Thursday and Friday. The roads being blockaded the attendance was small and the advertised program necessarily changed.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. Malcolm Laurie, of Bellefonte; Secretary, Robt. Irvin, of Bellefonte, Vice Presidents, J. L. Holmes, of State College; John Russell, of Philipsburg, and Budd Thompson, of Port Matilda; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Rose B. Levy, of Milesburg. The next county convention will be held in Philipsburg in February, 1896.

News Purely Personal.

—Mrs. Louisa Bush is home from an extended trip to Philadelphia, Port Deposit, and Columbia.

—Ad. Fauble left for New York, on Monday morning, where he will spend a week looking up Spring goods for their big store here.

—Robert Garman is visiting his home here. He arrived in town, on Monday, from Consville, where is employed in his uncle's jewelry store.

—E. H. Richards, the pleasant young jeweler, is home from Philadelphia for a mid-winter visit to his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Richards, of Linn street.

—Mr. Charles Boener, for years employed by Frank Galbraith the Bush House jeweler, is in Lancaster, taking a special course in engraving at the Horological Institute.

—Mrs. Wilbur F. Reeder, while in Harrisburg last week to attend Governor and Mrs. Hastings reception to the Senators and Members of the House, fell on the ice and so severely sprained her ankle that she was not able to be brought home till this week.

—Mrs. Mulholland, widow of the late Rudolph Mulholland, of Moshannon, was in town Thursday on a business trip. She says the recent cold wave was almost unbearable at her mountain home and that the stage from Karkhause to Snow Shoe was not able to get through until Wednesday.

—Balsler Weber Esq., of Howard, was in town on Tuesday. He didn't tell us that he was a candidate for Burgess of his town, but we have since learned that he is and that accounts for the troubled look he wore. Howard would honor itself by electing Mr. Weber its Burgess.

—After four months at his old home here John Powers Jr. returned to Lebanon on Monday where he will begin buying goods to stock a fine shoe store here and Robert Coleman's cashier, Mr. Fuo, intend opening in that city. John is well acquainted with the Lebanon trade, having catered to it for years, and we have no hesitancy in predicting success for him in this new undertaking.

FOREST PRESERVATION.—

The fate of the forestry bill apparently depends on a very simple thing. The bill contains a paragraph, providing that "Every person assisting to suppress a forest fire when called on for such service by a fire warden shall be entitled to payment at a daily rate not greater than one dollar and fifty cents per day, or proportionately for parts of a day. The contention of the critics or opponents of the bill is that persons still unhung might start forest fires for the purpose of putting them out at the rate of $1.50 a day. The friends of the bill argue that the paragraph should remain so that Pennsylvania might find out what forest fires cost the State anyway. The point is a difficult one to settle and the danger that the well-intentioned measure may fall through, is a matter of great regret to all who have knowledge of the importance of the subject of forest preservation.—Lock Haven Democrat.

WHERE YOU CAN BUY THE CHEAPEST.—

It is a question of dollars and cents after all. No matter what people say it is as natural to save a penny in buying as it is to eat dinner at the dinner hour. Opportunities to make great savings are not often to be had, but Lyon & Co's., big advertisement in this issue affords just such a chance. Read it and profit by the bargains it holds out. A dollar saved is a dollar earned.

DON'T USE SALT TO REMOVE ICE FROM YOUR SIDE-WALKS.—

Scientists have decided that the health of a community is endangered by the practice of putting salt on the side-walks and other places for the purpose of melting ice. The Bellefonte Board of Health has taken steps to stop the practice by the adoption of the following:

WHEREAS, that in consideration of the heretofore proven fact that in the use of salt as a means of removing ice and snow, from the side-walks and public highways, is productive of throat and pulmonary diseases;

Be it resolved that the Board of Health of Bellefonte Borough recommend, and it is hereby requested that the practice of using salt for the above purpose be discontinued.

WILLIAM SHORTLIFFE, President.

H. C. QUIGLEY, Secretary.

The claim is made that the action of salt on ice or snow generates an abnormal moisture that affects the throat and lungs and is conducive to pulmonary troubles.

—The Keystone Harness Factory of Bellefonte is the standard of Centre county for the best harness and also for the best prices. Our stock is complete in chain plow harness, in tug and in single and double driving harness. See our stock and get our prices, before you pay the price of new harness for old worn out stuff at the public sales. Farmers allow me to remind you that you have been paying the price of new harness for old stuff worn for years. Come in and get our terms and prices this year as we can offer you better bargains in collars and harness than ever before. We have on hand best harness oil and axle grease. A few blankets and robes left to be closed out at cost. James Schofield.
