THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Perry Adams intends opening a cigar factory in Millheim soon.

—Centre county litigants are carrying ten cases to the supreme court for argument on April 22nd.

—The "Trolley System" comes to Garman's Tuesday night loaded with new jokes and clever specialties.

—Sam Fisher and Josh Fouk are going to run rival drum corps here this summer and the Lord help the people.

—Mr. W. R. Jenkins and Dr. J. E. Ward are both rejoicing over the arrival of a young daughter at their respective homes.

—Easter novelties are an attractive feature at Achenbach's confectionery. If you want to see something nice just stop there and take a look at the display.

—The stories of Bellefonte correspondents to city papers to the effect that the Bellefonte Furnace Co.'s plant is preparing to go in blast soon, is like most of their news. A lie.

—Harry Taylor has resigned his position with McCalmont & Co., implement dealers, to accept the position as driver for the Adams Express Co. vice Herbert Shaffer resigned.

—The McCoy & Linn iron works, near Milesburg, have started up with six months work ahead. They had been idle nearly all winter, but are now running full handed in all departments.

—Think of it. A one legged man dropped into this office Monday morning and asked: "Where's the bar?" Such an insult we would never have been able to stand it had he not been a cripple.

—C. C. Shuey intends making great improvements on his new High street home, the former Sussman property. A quaint roof with a new stone porch along the entire front of the building are some of the external changes planned.

—Nigh ore bank near this place, an operation of the Valentine Iron Co. was shut down last week owing to the exhaustion of the ore. It is probable that these old mines, that had been worked for over forty years, are idle now for eternity.

—We are extremely sorry to learn that Aaron Williams Esq., who had gone to the home of his sister, Mrs. Eberts, near Port Matilda, some time ago with the hope of recovering his health, is no better and is really reported seriously ill.

—Benner Armor, eldest son of Monroe Armor, of east Linn street, has finished his course at a Catholic college in Baltimore and will soon be ordained in the priesthood of that church. It is thought he will say mass here on Sunday, April 21st.

—There was a flag raising at the upper school house on Wallace run on Monday. The orators were Clement Dale Esq. and W. H. Musser of this place and John A. Daley, of Curtin township. The Milesburg band was there and a big time was had.

—Last Saturday was the first day on which Bellefonte banks took a half holiday. The closing at noon was a great disappointment to many who had not heard of the contemplated change and it will be some time before everyone gets accustomed to it.

—The new firm of Daniel Irvin's sons hardware dealers of this place have inaugurated the cash plan in their store in all departments except the tin shop. Their former manager, B. H. Shaffer, has bought it from them and will continue the business at the same place. We bespeak for Mr. Shaffer a liberal patronage as he is one of the best mechanics in town.

—Plans are being made for the holding of the district firemen's convention in this place on June 5th and 6th. The committee of arrangements is composed of A. S. Garman, chairman; Harry Jackson, secretary and Geo. W. Jackson, treasurer. Ed. Brown Jr., John Q. Miles, Thos. Shaughtensy and Walter Garrity have been appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions.

—Rev. J. W. Rue, the new minister of the Methodist church in this place, arrived with his family Tuesday afternoon from Altoona. Quite a delegation met them at the station and escorted them to the parsonage where dinner awaited them. In the evening the Epworth League gave a very pleasant reception in the lecture room in their honor. It was attended by nearly every member of the congregation and was an auspicious event for the church. Addresses of welcome were made by H. H. Harshberger, superintendent of the Sunday school; Miss Elizabeth Smith, treasurer of the Epworth League and Josie Willard, president of the Junior League.

JACOB V. THOMAS DIED SUDDENLY.—The town was startled at noon Wednesday when the sudden death of Jacob V. Thomas was announced at his handsome home, corner of Curtin and Allegheny streets. It was known that he had been in poor health, but his death was unexpected and occurred from heart disease. He was 76 years old and had spent the later years of life in quiet home life, given to reading and study.

Jacob V. Thomas was the eldest son of William Thomas, whose wonderful business shrewdness amassed the large fortune now centered in what is known as the "Thomas Estate" and includes much property in and about Bellefonte. He was an iron manufacturer at Howard during his early days and later formed a partnership with the late David Wagner to conduct a large mercantile and grain business in the old ware house that stood at the foot of Lamb street, until destroyed by fire several years ago. It was at the head of the old canal. His latest business venture was in the Bellefonte glass works and was a failure.

He leaves a widow and six children who are: Mrs. Isaac Mitchell, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Dr. Schaffner, of Philadelphia; Mrs. James N. Lane, of Philadelphia; Clifford S., Supt. of motive power of the Penna. R. R. at Lewistown, and Misses Eliza and Mary, both at home, Joseph and Richard, other sons, being dead.

Funeral services will be held at his late residence to-morrow afternoon at 2:30.

DEATH OF MRS. MEEK.—On Wednesday, the 8th, Mrs. Maria Chambers Meek, widow of George W. Meek, died at her home in Stormstown after a long illness. More or less of an invalid all her life she had been in failing health for months and although only confined to bed for a few weeks had been seriously ill since last September. She knew and was able to converse with her friends however 'til the day of her death.

Her father, Elijah Chambers, who was a soldier in the Revolution, came from New Jersey and with his family located in Patton township in 1834. Always prepossessing in person and refined in manner she married George Y. Meek, of Fairbrook, Ferguson township, and three years after his death, in '57, his cousin George W. Meek, who died in 1877. The following year she returned to her old home in Halfmoon to be with her brother James, and since his death in '79 had made her home in Stormstown. Almost eighty-six years old she joined the Methodist church in early girlhood and was always beloved for her gentleness and kindness.

Never having had any children of her own, her husband's children, W. E. and D. G. Meek, of Fairbrook, and Mrs. P. Gray Meek, her aged sister Mrs. Nancy Hartsock and her nieces and nephews are her nearest relatives living. On Wednesday after the funeral services in the Methodist church at Stormstown she was laid to rest in the Half Moon burial ground.

DEATH OF ELIZA LUCAS.—Eliza B. Lucas, wife of Chas. Lucas, died at her residence in Boggs township, on Tuesday, April 2nd, aged 55 years, 1 month and 28 days. She had been a sufferer for nearly two years, but bore up with patience 'till God, in his infinite wisdom, saw fit to remove her from a world of sorrow to a world of joy. She had been a consistent member of the United Brethren church for thirty-five years and her pathway through life has been one that will call to mind fond remembrances by all those that knew her. She had been a faithful wife and loving mother and leave a husband and five sons and four daughters to mourn the loss. They are Edward, married living at Boiling Spring; Elizabeth, married residing in Snow Shoe; Hannah, married residing at Tyrone; William, Mary, Sheridan, James, Franklin, and Maggie, single residing at home.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dillen at the U. B. church at Wallace Run, the remains were then followed by a large concourse of relatives and friends to the Messiah grave yard, where interment took place.

Miss Laura Bierly, daughter of Robert Bierly, died in her thirty-first year at the home of her parents, in Milesburg, yesterday morning, after a long illness with consumption. Deceased was a young woman whose gentle disposition made all know her but to love her. Funeral services will be held in the Milesburg Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock and thence the remains will be brought to this place for burial.

Gertrude Gramley, the fourteen year old daughter of county superintendent C. L. Granley, died at her home in Rebersburg, on Sunday evening. She was a promising young girl whose sad death will be a grievous blow to fond parents. She had been ill with pneumonia several weeks ago and was thought to be recovering until she caught a fresh cold and suffered the relapse that ended in death. She was buried at Rebersburg on Wednesday.

William Tate died at his home, near Hunter's Park, on Tuesday night, after a long illness with diseases consequent upon old age. He was 67 years old and was one of Buffalo Run's best known old farmers. His passing away leaves four orphan children who are: Potter, Wesley, a miller in Clearfield Co.; Andrew and Mrs. Benjamin Bodle, of Buffalo Run. Deceased will be buried at Meyer's cemetery this morning at 10 o'clock. He was universally respected and died in the Methodist faith.

John Carper, aged 90 years, died at his home at Linden Hall, last Sunday, after an illness of several months. He was one of Harris township's most highly respected residents.

John A. Whitehill, an insane patient in the Warren asylum whose home is at Milesburg, this county, died in that institution on Wednesday. A widow and daughter survive him.

The nine month's old babe of Mrs. Alice Conway, of Bradford township, died in its mother's arms in the Beech Creek R. R. station at Clearfield, on Friday.

Ella McCarthy, of Beech Creek, scarcely nineteen years old, died at her home in that place on Friday of dropsy of the heart.

Mrs. Margaret Brown, 94 years old, is in feeble health at Salona.

The river at Lock Haven marked a six foot flood on Wednesday at noon.

There were 539 inmates in the Huntingdon reformatory on Saturday morning.

The new Disciple church at Mill Hall will be dedicated Sunday afternoon, April 21st.

Dr. G. G. Gutelius, of Millheim, is ill and his friends fear that he will never recover his health.

Last Tuesday was the thirtieth anniversary of the surrender of the confederacy at Appomattox.

Mrs. Eliza McKibben, aged 85 years, is seriously ill at her home near Parvin in Nittany valley.

Sinking valley people are excited over the reported finding of lead and zinc on farms near Birmingham and Union Furnace.

A cow belonging to Aaron Walizer, of Mackeyville, recently gave birth to a monster calf. It weighed 136 lbs when only a day old.

John Fralan, a rail-road fireman, who boards with Richard Adams in Philipsburg, had his hand badly smashed while coupling his engine to a coal train last Saturday.

Geo. W. Williams, of Blue Ball, Clearfield county, died in the Cottage hospital at Philipsburg, on Saturday, as the result of the amputation of one of his legs that had been badly crushed by a fall of rock at Wigton's fire clay mines. He leaves a widow and five children.

At the Merriman and Quigley wedding, which is to take place Wednesday evening the 17th, in St. Andrews church, Bradford, N. Y., Edward Quigley, the groom's brother is to be the best man and Lee Woodcock, Tom Morris, Joseph Montgomery and Harry Leyden are to be the ushers.

The Pruner block, on north Allegheny street, when completed, will be among the foremost of Bellefonte's architectural beauties. The new three story building that is soon to evolve from the old stone house in which Parish's drug store is located will be a revelation in what architect Cole can do when he once begins.

At an early hour on Monday morning the large shed on the farm of Hon. J. W. Merry, near Beech Creek, was discovered to be on fire and, together with all of its contents, was destroyed. In it was stored all the farming implements of Mr. Downs, the farmer, and two seasons' crops of tobacco. The loss is partially offset with insurance.

Rev. John W. Rue, the new pastor of the Methodist church here, made his debut before the congregation on Sunday and a consensus of opinion votes him a good man for the place. It is easy for the Methodists to sit up and listen to the best efforts of a minister, but he will find that it is not so easy to please the varied varieties of christian temperament he will have to cater to.

The Coleville band was in town Tuesday evening and gave a delightful concert on the court house porch. The boys from John Garbrick's ballwick deserve a great deal of credit for the success they have made of their musical organization. They have stuck together and persevered until they have brought themselves up to be a good band and the best feature of it all is, they are not waiting to be coaxed to play.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK HAS ELECTED A PRESIDENT.—The vacancy caused by the death of the late E. C. Humes Esq., was filled by the directors of the First National bank here on last Tuesday morning, when they elected Dr. George F. Harris, a son-in-law of the late Andrew G. Curtin, president of that institution. There had been considerable speculation as to who would be made president and indeed the bank's directors came very near having the work all done for them by the chronic gossips of the town.

At the meeting Tuesday morning the eligibility of several gentlemen was discussed and the position was offered to Robert Valentine and William P. Humes, both of whom were disinclined to accept it because of extensive outside interests. Then the directors took the matter under advisement and it was decided to make the office of president one that would require as little attention as possible and under such conditions Dr. Harris was prevailed upon to accept it. He is an individual share-holder, besides representing the extensive Curtin interest in the bank. The position will require very little of his time, as he would not accept any office that would interfere with his extensive practice, in the least.

Col. James P. Coburn, of Aaronsburg, was elected to make up the complement of five directors, who are: Geo. F. Harris, president; Robert Valentine Esq., William P. Humes, John B. Linn Esq., and Jas. P. Coburn. They meet weekly to direct the bank and their instructions will be carried out by cashier John P. Harris and book-keepers W. P. Humes and Moses Montgomery, while Dr. Harris will draw a nominal salary for supervising the work and signing the necessary bank papers. An idea of the financial rating of the First National can be had when we say that its stock, $100 per share at par, is valued at $160, with none of it for sale.

The pleasant features of the new organization are that it will bring Col. Coburn, whom everyone admires so much, up to Bellefonte at least once a week and that it will not rob the medical fraternity of the town of one of its greatest ornaments—as was at first feared.

THE SPRING ASSEMBLY AT THE COLLEGE.—Invitations are out for the spring assembly of the Senior class of The Pennsylvania State College, in the armory of that institution, Friday evening, April 19th.

The patronesses are: Mrs. Daniel H. Hastings, Mrs. Cyrus Gordon, of Clearfield; Mrs. P. E. Womelsdorff, of Philipsburg; Mrs. James A. Beaver, Mrs. J. L. Spangler and Mrs. Wilbur F. Reeder, of Bellefonte; Mrs. G. G. Pond, Miss Harriet A. McElwain, Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. Thos. W. Kincaid and Mrs. H. H. Stoek, of State College; Mrs. D. L. Krebbs, of Clearfield; Mrs. George S. Good, Mrs. William A. Simpson, Mrs. C. G. Furst and Mrs. H. T. Harvey, of Lock Haven; Mrs. J. A. Rohrer and Mrs. J. C. Bucher, of Lewisburg; Mrs. Carrie Sides, of Jersey Shore; Mrs. F. L. Sheppard and Howard E. Butz, of Altoona; Mrs. J. M. Smith, of Tyrone; Mrs. George Horton and Mrs. Thomas B. Cochran.

The committee under J. Eugene Hall, chairman, is: Mr. Dunham Barton, Mr. William Kent Gibbons, Mr. Ralph Fitch Martin, Mr. Thomas Bisdon Cummins, Mr. Byron Barnes Horton and Mr. George Edward Seibert. Stopper & Fisk's orchestra will furnish the music. A special train over the Bellefonte Central will leave the Pennsylvania station here at 7:15 p. m. returning after the dance.

NINETY-ONE YEARS OLD.—On Thursday of last week Mr. James Hamilton, of Willowbank street, celebrated the 91st anniversary of his birth. A large party of his friends and neighbors having dropped in to congratulate him and make the day a memorable one. Mr. Hamilton is Bellefonte's oldest resident and is truly a remarkable man. Though within nine years of being an hundred years old he finds no difficulty in walking about the town and his mental faculties are just as concise and quick as they were forty years ago. Almost every day he is seen driving back and forth on the streets and it is said that he takes genuine delight in driving out to his farm, near Pleasant Gap, and spending half a day roaming over the broad acres there, the supervision of which he has never thought of resigning to younger hands. He starts his new year in best of health and with the earnest wishes of a legion of friends that he may live to round out the century at least.

The notorious "Brack" Powell was arrested in Philadelphia, on Saturday evening, charged with setting fire to the store of Jacob Hirsch, in Osceola Mills, on the night of May 2nd, 1894. "Brack" was released from jail here last fall under the condition that he was never to show up in the town again. If convicted he will go to the penitentiary this time.

The grain is looking very well in all parts of the county.

The Mt. Eagle handle factory is running full time now.

The Sunbury nail mill is to start up soon and turn out 300 kegs per day.

A flood on the river during the fore part of the week renewed the activity in lumber business at Lock Haven.

The lamented Governor Marvil, of Delaware, was an uncle of J. H. Eskridge, manager of the Philipsburg telephone exchange.

A wreck on the Black Forest rail-road in Potter county, on Saturday afternoon, resulted in the death of one Italian and the serious injury of four others.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller, of Rock Spring, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Carrie Mae, and Frank E. Wieland. The wedding is to take place at the home of the bride's parents, at noon on Thursday, April 18th.

Jacob Aikey was arrested in Lock Haven, on Tuesday, charged with having robbed David Winslow's house, at Eagleville, of a lot of lard, canned fruit, jelly, a keg of wine and cant books. The robbery is said to have been committed last fall.

On Sunday the body of an old German named Henry Bonneka, who had led a reclusive life in Altoona for twenty years, was found foully murdered in his hut on 16th street. The crime had evidently been committed the night before, but no clue to the murderers has yet been found. Robbery was undoubtedly the motive.

Under a rule issued for the information of the baggage-masters of the Pennsylvania rail-road under date of April 1, children's carriages will only be carried free when no other checked baggage accompanies them. They then will be charged extra. The same rule applies to bicycles.

A commission was appointed by the court the other day to enquire into the sanity of old Jake Halderman, a queer looking pauper on Benner township, who can't be induced to stay anywhere but right in Bellefonte. He was one of the fellows whom Bellefonte's snatch penny correspondents reported perished in the blizzard last winter. Old Jake is a well known character in many parts of the county, for he is continually on the tramp and has always felt so much at home everywhere that he would walk right into any person's house and stay for a meal. He has a big hump on his back which he said one time was a whiskey jug he swallowed during the war.

News Purely Personal

Mrs. Frank Lukenbach, of Philipsburg, is visiting relatives here.

Robert M. Foster, good-natured and fine looking as ever, was in town yesterday.

John Harris Jr., came down from Tyrone last evening to spend the night with his parents.

Sheriff Condo was in Philipsburg on Monday and the Ledger says every one was scared over there.

Miss May Beck, one of the charming Co-eds, at The Pennsylvania State College, was in town last evening.

Col. Jas. P. Coburn, Centre county's Republican convention orator, came up from his home in Aaronsburg on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ardell, of east Linn street, visited at the home of J. H. Munson, in Philipsburg during the fore part of the week.

John Senbeck Jr., is home for a short vacation. He is a student on the Philadelphia school ship "Saratoga" and looks every inch a young tar.

John Rumberger, the genial son of our county Register, was in town Wednesday evening. He is station master on the C. R. R. of Pa. at Salona.

John Shrom, who has been a student on the school ship "Saratoga," is visiting his home after a long practice cruise that took him to many foreign ports.

Miss Grace Mitchell departed Wednesday morning for Philadelphia, where she will visit her sister Eleanor who is attending the Drexel Institute in that city.

James R. Hughes left Wednesday evening for Baltimore where he will spend the Easter vacation with his brother Charles, who is in business in that city.

J. P. Sebring Esq., who enjoys life on a big farm in Patton township, here he has lots of fast horses and a track of his own to speed them on, was in town on Monday.

Miss Kate Gilliland, who is home from Wilson College, Chambersburg, for the Easter vacation, came over from her home at Oak Hall, Wednesday, for a pleasure and shopping visit.

Mrs. J. Fearon Mann and her daughter, Miss Harriet, are in Lewistown. They went to attend the wedding of Miss Bess Mann and Wil Woods, which was celebrated last evening at eight o'clock.

Col. W. Fred Reynolds, of this place, was a passenger on Atlantic express, Monday morning when it ran into a land slide below Harrisburg and was wrecked. He was in the rear car, the only one that did not leave the track.

William H. Fry, our versatile Pine Grove Mills correspondent, was in town on Monday night on his way to Philadelphia where he will attend the veterinary department of the University of Pennsylvania to see "what is what" in that line of business.

Miss Mary Jackson, of Berwick, is visiting her sister Mrs. W. F. Reeder on north, Allegheny street. She is a student at the Baltimore College for Women, and last fall her entry into Washington society, with a daughter of Congressman Stone, was marked by quite a ripple on the social wave of the capital.

ANOTHER HARDWARE CHANGE.—Following closely on the change whereby Daniel Irvin's Sons became owners of Daniel Irvin & Son's hardware business in this place, comes the announcement that the partnership existing between H. A. McKee & Bro., hardware merchants on south Allegheny street has been dissolved. The dissolution was made by mutual consent on Monday when James D. McKee, the junior partner withdrew, leaving H. A. McKee to conduct the business alone in the future.

Mr. James McKee intends going to Indiana where he has extensive land interests.

BACK FROM THE PEN.—On Friday morning Milton Harman and his wife, the wretches who were sent to the penitentiary just a year ago for treating a child so inhumanly, returned to this place, after having served their sentences. Harman made himself conspicuous on the streets on Saturday by abusing the overseers of Spring township—because they didn't have a brass band and a six horse chariot down to meet him and his sweet tempered spouse.

For the fifth year the martens have returned to a particular nesting place in Lock Haven on April 7th. The annual departure and arrival of these birds on particular days is something remarkable.

Fine French millinery opening, Saturday, April 13th. Have secured Miss H. Piere, of New York, as trimmer. All are invited.—Miss M. SNYDER.

Lyon & Co.'s, mammoth store in this place is crowded every day with people who are wise enough to take advantage of the great sacrifice sale now advertised by that firm.

WANTED.—Three apprentice girls to learn the millinery trade. Apply at once to Katz & Co. Limited, Bellefonte, Pa.

WHERE YOU CAN BUY THE CHEAPEST.—It is a question of dollars and cents after all. No matter what people say it is as natural to save a penny in buying as it is to eat dinner at the dinner hour. Opportunities to make great savings are not often to be had, but Lyon & Co.'s, big advertisement in this issue affords just such a chance. Read it out and profit by the bargains it holds out. A dollar saved is a dollar earned.

The ladies will be highly interested in our new department, Ladies' Shirt Waists and Chemisettes. Do not fail to call early as orders given now to the factory cannot be delivered before May 15th to June 1st. We have a good stock on hand now, but it will soon be broken up in size, if the present demand continues. Men's, boys' and children's clothing never so rich in colors and designs and never so low in price. If honest efforts should succeed, we ought to double our business this season. "Mothers' Friend" Shirt Waists.
