

—Ex-Catholic priest Ruthven, who is now making money out of lectures in which his chief aim is to abuse the Catholic faith, was here last week, but being unable to secure a hall in which to lecture had to leave the town. Before going he took time to say that Bellefonte is dead and her people are old fogies. Of course Mr. Ruthven is free to say whatever he pleases about Bellefonte, but we deem it to her credit that she possesses none of the kind of religious bigotries which are the kind of religious bigotries which are delivered for the sole purpose of making money out of the bigotry of audiences.

A SUCCESS.—The experiments that have been in process at the Bellefonte mill works here for some time, by which it is hoped to revolutionize the tin manufacturing industry, are at an end and the inventor is now waiting until his patents are granted before going further with the work. It has not been generally known that any work of this sort had been prosecuted here, but William Rogers, a Welsh inventor who thinks he has a good thing in his machine, has been here nearly all winter working at it. The experiments have been made in the old packing room of the mill works plant where the greatest secrecy has been maintained, as some Pittsburgers have been trying to get an insight into the process.

Just what will come of it is not known. General Beaver, who is interested somewhat in the work, will not talk and nothing more can be learned than that the machine is a success and that possibly it will mean a tin mill for Bellefonte.

A SHORT TERM OF COURT.—The regular April term of quarter sessions court convened here with a full bench sitting, on Monday morning, and had finished up the cases in which a jury was needed, by Wednesday evening. Two sessions were held yesterday, though adjournment for the week was made early in the afternoon.

Monday morning was taken up with the ordinary routine, John Miller, of this place, having been chosen foreman of the grand jury.

Cases were then taken up and disposed of in the following order:

Wm. H. Stover, of Centre Hall, charged with desertion by his wife, Mary J. Stover. The court suggested that the husband and wife drop their differences and live together. The defendant, Wm. Stover to pay costs.

Frank Walk plead guilty to f. and b. Prox., Rose Price, of Taylor Twp. Usual sentence imposed.

In the case of Harvey Thomas, of Centre Hall, arrested for assault and battery upon his wife, Ella Thomas, a verdict of guilty was returned, he having been proven guilty of pulling her hair, knocking her across the stove and other brutal treatment. Sentenced to 30 days in jail, $1 fine and costs.

William Witmer vs D. I. Johnson, case to recover the value of 123 bushels of wheat and 50 bushels of corn, the rental of the H. M. Meek farm in Ferguson township, which prosecutor refused to accept after having purchased the same. Witmer denied ownership of the farm at the time Johnson was a tenant and the jury returned a verdict for defendant.

Supervisors of Benner township vs William and James Witmer. Case to recover for damages to public road caused by defendants' setting line fence out too far. Witmer was charged with setting his fence out 7 feet, obstructing the road and causing an accident in which Mr. Fannigan's wagon was broken up. Verdict of guilty as indicted.

G. W. Curtin vs Geo. Spangler, of Eagleville, charged with stealing coal from P. R. R. cars. Defendant proved an alibi and got a verdict of not guilty and prosecutor for costs.

Com. vs Jacob Aikey charged with stealing crocks, lard, jelly, wine etc., from the cellar of David Winslow, at Eagleville. Not guilty.

Arthur Eby charged with f. and b. by Mary Walizer. Defendant plead guilty and entered into recognizance to appear next week for sentence.

Com. vs James Cornelly charged with resisting an officer and carrying concealed deadly weapons. Plead guilty to first count, not pros. entered on second. Sentence, fine $1 and costs.

Com. vs William H. Williams charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods from Buddinger's store at Snow Shoe. Plead guilty to first indictment. Sentence costs, $1 fine and 15 months in western penitentiary.

Com. vs John Lucas and Frank Haines, charge same as above. Not pros. entered for Haines and Lucas plead guilty, being sentenced to three months in jail and costs.

W. A. Hartstock vs Curtis McDonald charged with forcible entry in Huston township. Not guilty and prosecutor for costs.

Com. vs Preston Watson, of Snow Shoe, charged with placing obstructions on the B. C. R. R. Released on account of extreme youth.

Yesterday a number of road orders, petitions and sheriff's deeds acknowledged occupied the attention of the court until its adjournment.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Issued during the past week taken from the docket. R. J. Mann, of Curtin Twp., and Lissie Nyman, of Boggs twp.

B. K. Henderson, of Benner Twp., and Jennie Taylor, Bellefonte. Joseph S. Parsons and Joanna Callathan, both of Bellefonte.

James McPhilyon, of Brisbin, and Lida Garman, of Snow Shoe. Edward Crain and Rhoda Gansallus, both of Bellefonte.

Wm. H. Knarr and Minnie B. Tyson, both of Ferguson twp.

Wm. H. Myers, of Boalsburg, and Elizabeth Weaver, of Oak Hall.

Jasper N. Gill, of Pleasant Gap, and Ida Miller, of Bellefonte.

Mark Pedrick, of Wilmington, Del., and Mary E. Beates, of Burnside township.

A PUGILISTIC BENEDICT.—On Saturday afternoon Will Miller, an Altoona man who had done Bellefonte the honor of spending his honeymoon here, got too full of "O, be joyful" and stirred up a young riot on High street. He had arrived in town with his bride of a day and was visiting at the home of William Irvin, near Valentine's iron works. During the afternoon the host, with the groom and Jos. Ayres, came into town and Miller thought to properly celebrate such an important step in his life nothing short of a right comfortable jag would do. It is needless to say that he got it and then the fun began.

The trio wandered about the town hunting trouble until they accosted Will Hunter, in front of Williams' wall paper store on High street. That young man very properly resented an insult they offered him, but they returned the compliment in such a forcible way that a badly cut mouth full of broken teeth was all the satisfaction he got. This disturbance attracted the attention of Harry Williams, who essayed to invite the trio away from his father's place of business. Well here was where Harry showed how little he knows of man. It was foolish for him to think that such heroes, (?) who had smashed Will Hunter's ivories and who were properly celebrating the marriage of one of their number, would be scared away by a man in a white cap and overalls. Thus Miller must have thought, for no sooner had Harry opened his mouth than the pugnacious benedict tapped him somewhere on the head. Alas, for the poor groom, he never dreamed of the results and in less than it takes to tell it he had an eye on him that looked like the number on the eight ball at pool. This settled the matter and the drunks decided to withdraw, but Hunter, angered at the disaster that had overtaken his teeth, hunted up the police and the last we saw of Mr. Miller and his friend Joe Ayres they were on their way to the cooler, under the escort of the mighty minions of the law.

Pine Grove Mention

John Anspach, of McElvey's Fort, spent Sunday with his cousin P. F. Bottorf. The Pine Grove water company last week elected their new officers for the ensuing year beside declaring a 20 per cent. dividend.

We are glad to note the improvement of Miss Alice Royer, who is in the Pennsylvania hospital in Phila. where she is convalescing from a surgical operation. Last week John H. Miller lost two valuable cows, John Ripka of this town buried his only cow from malignant catarrh and a number of others in the valley are sick.

Grandmother Kaede, of Alexandria, accompanied by her daughter Maggie, and this week, welcome visitors at her son-in-law's, W. J. Myer's, on Main street.

For the last ten days superior J. C. Gates has been about as low as a man could be and live. We are glad to note his improvement and certainly hope for his complete recovery.

Mr. Chas. T. Alkens, who has been under surveillance many long months, is this week to be set free while his frau visits her mother. During Mrs. Alkens absence she need have no fear of his falling from grace.

During the temporary absence of his mother little Jacob, nine-month old boy of J. D. Wagner, fell from a chair and broke his arm. On Mrs. Wagner's return she discovered the break at once and sent for Dr. Woods, under whose care the baby is doing well.

H. M. Stover, Esq., one of Bellwoods stand-by's accompanied by his handsome six foot son Miles, are this week interviewing old time associates hereabouts. During Henry's absence father time has touched his locks heavily and his once jet black mustache is almost white.

In a few weeks that prince of good fellows M. J. Watt will offer at public sale his blooded stock. He will then take up his abode on Juniata street, Tyrone, where the WATCHMAN wishes Jim and his excellent wife every cause to be happy and gay. Let contentment and kindness furnish the wings on which all care shall fly away.

The Spring term of the Pine Grove Academy opened on Monday the 15th inst. under the principalship of Prof. Samuel C. Miller. Twenty students were enrolled the first day and from present indications the number will be largely increased, as it should be. There is plenty of material in the immediate neighborhood and there should be pride enough to sustain a first class school for goodness knows! we need learning and culture. Prof. Miller is a first class instructor, and a man whose character is beyond reproach.

Last Saturday evening D. D. G. M. Weber of Boalsburg came up to install Penns Valley 276 I. O. O. F. Lodge officers. They are: Wm. H. Goss, N. G.; A. J. Tate, Vice Grand; David Otto, Asst. Sec.; A. G. Archey, Present Sec. J. G. Heberling takes care of the cash. The deputy's closing remarks called attention to the objects of the order, fraternal spirit in uniting many in the brotherhood for the common purpose of mutual help. The protection and preservation of our homes and those whose near and dear is one of the first laws of an enlightened and progressive people. A number of orders for the sick were drawn after which adjournment was made.

KREBS—MUSSEY.—A quiet wedding was celebrated at five o'clock, Thursday afternoon, April 18th at the home of Mr. John Musser on the Branch. When his only daughter Miss Laura a quite pleasant girl, was united in marriage to Dr. R. M. Krebs of this place. Rev. C. T. Alkens performed the ceremony and after an excellent supper was served, the young couple drove to their new home in this place where they were given a royal reception by the serenaders. The groom, a son of Levi Krebs, has established for himself a good and reliable practice and is one of the leading and reliable young men of the town. We wish them only success and happiness in their new life.

WELAND—MILLER.—On Thursday the 18th at twelve o'clock amid a profusion of flowers and plants Miss Carrie Mae, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller and Frank E. Weland were married at the home of the brides parents at the "Gables." The wedding march played by Miss Weland was the signal for the appearance of the bridal couple, who were preceded down the room by Miss Sadie Miller, sister of the bride and Mr. C. I. Weland, the groom's brother. The bride a petit brunette looked exceedingly well as she repeated the marriage vows solemnized by the Rev. Ernestout, and the groom uttered his responses in a dignified and gladsome manner.

Soon the company present changed from a silent attentive audience to a merry wedding party. Congratulations were showered upon the happy couple and one hundred and twenty guests were seated and served to an excellent and bounteous dinner. The bride, who for several years has been one of our most successful teachers, is a popular and well known girl and we can heartily congratulate F. E. Weland. The young couple will go to house-keeping at Linden Hall where the groom is a clerk in a merchantile store.

Books, Magazines Etc.

Among the contents of The Forum for May that have been announced are "Can We Revive the Olympic Games?" a study of the spirit of ancient and modern athletics, by Prof. Paul Shorey, of the University of Chicago; "The Future of the Great And West" by Mr. E. V. Smalley, of St. Paul; "Our Debt to Inventors: Shall We Discourage Them?" by Prof. R. H. Thurston, of Cornell; "The Coming of Equality of Opportunity," by Col. Carroll D. Wright; and "The Government as a Great Publisher," by Mr. A. R. Spofford, Librarian of Congress.

April the 20th The Pittsburg Times began publishing every Saturday a complete exposition of the International Sunday school lesson for the day following. These papers are the fruits of the best minds in America devoted to Sabbath school work. They are broad and non-sectarian in their treatment, and The Times feels confident that this new feature will command itself strongly to that large and constantly growing class which devotes its energies to good works.

The weekly paper which for fifteen years has been known as HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE will, beginning with its issue of April 30th, bear the title HARPER'S ROUND TABLE—a change in title which has not been made arbitrarily, but which is an expression of the paper's already extended field. The broadening of the periodical has been going on for some time, and corresponds with a real growth and a design to appeal to a larger circle of readers. Departments especially devoted to amateur sport, notably in the leading schools of the country, which will be conducted by an editor well qualified by experience in this field, and whose attention will be wholly given to this work; a department established in recognition of the extraordinary interest at present taken in bicycling, including maps of all parts of the country, supplying a need that has been long felt, but has not yet been met; the remodeling of the page in its proportions, type, etc.; employment of new as well as the maintenance of the old contributors of fiction and special articles—these are some of the particulars in which the change referred to will manifest itself.

Marriage.
