Tribute of Respect.

At the regular session of the Sabbath school of the Milesburg Presbyterian church, Sabbath morning, April 28, 1895, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted: WHEREAS, God, in his all-wise providence, has called away our dear sister, Miss Lanza V. Bierly, a faithful and earnest member of the church and Sabbath school; and although her life for some months prior to her death had much of sickness and suffering in it, yet her radiant spirit rose above these conditions of the flesh and with great meekness and gentleness she cheerfully acquiesced in God's will, showing how beautifully her life was hid with Christ; and so He giveth His beloved sleep; therefore, Resolved, that we recognize God's right to call her from the earthly to the Heavenly sphere, and as a church and Sabbath school we feel deeply and keenly the great loss we have sustained, but we take comfort in the thought that she has left us a bright example of love and zeal for God's house. Resolved, that we extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family and commend them to God's loving care, who alone can comfort them. Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of deceased, that they be inscribed upon the minutes of the Sabbath school and published in the Bellefonte WATCHMAN, Centre Magnet, and Gazette.

In Memoriam.

Samuel Y. Lucas was born Aug. 4, 1825, in Snow Shoe where he spent most of his life except a few years previous to his death, he lived near Bellefonte, Pa.

He was married to Miss Mary Oswald, Oct. 28, 1853, there were born to them two sons and three daughters. He leaves two brothers, Jesse and Isaac, two sisters, Mrs. T. Cameron and Mrs. Joseph Gilliland, two sons, three daughters, and three grand children to mourn his loss. Bro. Lucas was a consistent member of the Methodist church for over twenty years. He was first stricken with paralysis on Apr. 7, 1884 from which he never recovered; but remained an invalid for about one year when he had another stroke, which hastened him to the spiritual world in a few days. Being conscious to the last he recognized all his children and grand-children and was able to talk to them until within 24 hours of his death.

The L. O. F. took charge of the funeral with Mr. Naylor as director, who is an efficient and courteous undertaker escorting the funeral procession to the P. R. R. depot where we took the train for Snow Shoe. On the arrival of our train at Snow Shoe we were met by the L. O. F. and U. A. M. and friends of Snow Shoe who led the way to the M. E. church where brief funeral services were held. Rev. J. G. Young preached a short sermon from Job. 14, 14 "If a man die shall he live again?" Rev. Mr. Jackson, of Snow Shoe, made a brief, but appropriate address. Then we proceeded three miles farther where in the quiet mountain cemetery we laid the body of our dear brother and friend to rest.

Samuel Y. Lucas was a good citizen, a kind neighbor, true husband, loving father, faithful as a brother and friend, best of all he was a Christian. A FRIEND.

At a regular meeting of the Snow Shoe city council No. 274 O. C. A. M., held Apr. 27th, 1895 the following resolutions were adopted: WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God, in his all-wise providence, to remove by death from our Council brother S. Y. Lucas. Resolved, that we submit to the will of Providence hoping that our loss will be his eternal gain and that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days. Resolved, that we tender our heart felt sympathy to the bereaved family of the deceased in the minutes of the Council and published in the Democratic WATCHMAN and the Keystone Gazette and a copy sent to the family of our deceased brother.

Books, Magazines Etc.

Among the contributors to Home and Country, New York, for May, we find Thomas Byrnes, superintendent of the New York police force; Emil Meyne; Henry Mann, late leading editorial writer of the New York Press; Harry Cheney Burdick, late of Outlook; William J. Gorsuch, Secretary National Provident Union; Gen. Geo. B. Loud, late Superintendent of Louisiana; Capt. Jack Crawford, the Post-Scout; William Hemstreet, and many others of greater or less renown in literature. The illustrations in the latest issue of Home and Country are of high order. The magazine is published by Jos. W. Kay, 149-153 Leonard street, New York. Subscription price is $1.50 a year.

The one memorial in equatorial Africa in which the whole civilized world has interest is pictured in The Century for May. This is the tree beneath which is buried the heart of Dr. Livingston, and upon the trunk of which a record was rudely chiseled by one of the great missionary's native followers. The photograph which is reproduced was made by Mr. E. J. Glave, in the course of an exploration undertaken for The Century magazine. The tree was found near a deserted village on the south shore of Lake Bangweolo, and it towers far above all the surrounding foliage. The discovery of the exact location of this shrine is of particular interest in view of the failure of previous efforts to locate it. Mr. Glave writes that Mrs. Bruce—the daughter of Livingston—and her husband sent out a tablet commemorating the explorer's death, which the Belgian officers to whom it was consigned put up about eight miles from the tree. Eighteen months before Mr. Glave's visit, the tablet was carried off by the chief of a slave caravan.

SIMPLIFIED ELOCUTION.—A new book, bearing the above title, by Edwin Gordon Lawrence, teacher of elocution and director of the Lawrence School of Acting, has just been issued. Simplified Elocution is a comprehensive system of vocal and physical gymnastics; it contains explicit instructions for the cultivation of the speaking voice and gesture; directions for the production of breath, sound and a thorough explanation of the muscles and organs employed; rules for articulation, modulation, emphasis and delivery, postures and movements of the feet, body, arms, head, eyes, etc. To the treatise is added a Complete Speaker, consisting of selections in poetry and prose suitable for recitation, which, as the author says in his introduction, "are not chosen on account of their newness, but from their intrinsic merit and their adaptability as exercises." The work is designed for the special use of teachers, actors, students, colleges, schools, and all those who wish to perfect themselves in the noble art of expression. The book, which contains 232 pages, is handsomely bound in cloth and gold, and will be sent postage free on receipt of $1.00 (New York published by the author, 106 West 22d Street).
