Bellefonte, Pa., May 17, 1895.

Farm Notes

-The whole host of leaf-eating insects which feed on the apple tree, such as the tent caterpillar, red-humped apple tree caterpillar, yellow-necked apple tree caterpillar, fall webb worm, tussock moth, canker worms, etc., must be fought with Paris green used at the rate of one pound to 250 gallons of water. Other insects which suck the juices from the leaves and young wood, such as the aphis, tree cricket and bark louse, must be destroyed by the kerosene emulsion. This is made according to the following formula: Hard soap, one-half pound (or soap about one-half gallon); hot water, one gallon; coal oil, two gallons.

-Prevention is better than cure when dealing with the blight that affects apple leaves. The germs of the fungus will usually be found on the buds whence are to come the leaves and blossoms. If the grower waits until these leaves have put forth many of them will be injured as soon as the buds are broken. In the tender leaf the scab spreads very rapidly. The first application of Bordeaux mixture should be before the buds have opened. That will do more good than two applications later. The mixture can also be put on stronger than will be advisable on the leaves, as the buds are not liable to injury.

—Get the start on the weeds or they will get ahead of you. The first cultivation given a crop is the most important, for if it is not done thoroughly, and any weeds remain, the hoe may be required to clean them out. A little extra care at first, and doing the work at the right time, will save labor. Weeds can be destroyed when they are young and the field easily cleaned. One or two thorough workings will leave but few, if any, to annoy you as the season advances

-Do not make the mistake of allowing the pasture to be occupied too soon, nor permit it to be trampled before the grass gets an opportunity to grow. Pastures are usually very clean looking, showing but little grass, the cows being compelled to pick over the field. A scarcity of pasture forces the cows to walk over a large area, and a long time is required before they find a full meal. This lack of food will be noticed in the reduced quantity of the

-Peanuts can be raised in the North as well as in the South. They thrive best on light, sandy soil. Northern growers claim that they do not fill out well, but this difficulty may be lessened by applying lime to the soil in the autumn before planting. Even an application of lime at this season, before planting the seed, will be found of ad-

-When honey can be obtained from the flowers it is useless to try to "feed" the bees in any other way. They prefer the fresh nectar from the flora, and kind words for Dr. David Kennedy's will gather it and store it in the combs, entirely ignoring all the food placed before them. The effort of some to forward this storing is time and effort thrown away.

-Watermelons and cantaloupes may now be planted, as they should go in early if all danger of frost is over. Make the hills rich, using plenty of manure, and also broadcast manure over the ground that is to be used. Melons produce large vines, and require an enormous amount of food if fine, and corrects constipation. It is a ceran enormous amount of food if fine, large fruit is expected.

-It is difficult to distribute a pound of turnip seed evenly over an acre of ground, and small roots will result if more is used. If the pound is mixed thoroughly with a peck of sand, a quantity is obtained which can be handled and distributed with a considerable degree of exactness.

-Keep cream at about 60 degrees. Do not allow it to become to warm. It is not advisable to mix cream of difterent ages. Much poor butter is made because cream is kept too long while waiting to accumulate enough for a churning, which often happens where but one or two cows are kept.

-Lima beans should be planted and not only should manure be applied in the hills, but fertilizers also, as the vines grow rapidly and require soluble food from the start. The bush beans are the earliest, but the pole beans are the best in quality.

-An experienced swine grower says in an exchange that soaked corn will give as good or better results than corn meal, but wheat should be ground fine always, the finer the better, and when thus prepared is one of the best hog feeds in the world.

-The great secret in fancy butter making, says a dairy writer, is a studied purpose to keep all foreign sub stances and flavors out of the milk, cream and butter, and have only original material from start to finish, and fancy butter results.

-Whitewashing can be done easily and rapidly with the sprayer. Use a thin whitewash and force it from the nozzle on to the walls. When dry repeat the application. It is excellent for purifying the stables and poultry

-The Pennsylvania station flnds that currants do well on their heavy clay soil and were very little troubled with mildew. A single application of white hellebore afforded complete protection from the imported currant

-When suckers appear at the base of an apple tree let them grow until a few leaves appear before pulling them off, and there will be less liability of more appearing than if they are broken off when they first start.

Pennsylvania Railroad Blocked by a Mighty

Huntingdon, Pa., May 11 .- A mighty landslide occurred this after-noon at Mount Union, which buried 17 Pennsylvania Railroad cars and blocked all travel for many hours. As an east-bound freight train was passing through the narrow defile west of Mount Union, this county, shortly before 4 o'clock, the side of Terrace Mountain, lying parallel with the Pennsylvania road, slid down upon the tracks for a distance of nearly one mile, covering the roadbed with thousands of tons of rocks and earth. The landslide

HOW TRAINS GET THROUGH.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 11 .- Pennsylvania Railroad officials say that they are running all trains to-night (owing to the wreck in Huntingdon county) by way of the Philadelphia & Erie road to Lock Haven, thence over the Bald Eagle Valley road to Tyrone. They expect to have the track open by 4 o'clock to-morrow morning, but that is uncertain, as the rain is still pouring in torrents, and the land of either side of the track is still sliding. The fast line West went to Lewiston, and then to Lock Haven, going over the Bald Eagle Valley to Tyrone. St. Louis ex-press went from here to Lock Haven direct, thence to Tyrone.

WHAT LOCAL OFFICIALS SAY. While the landslide seven miles this side of Huntingdon interrupts travel, through passengers will be sent via of Sunbury, Williamsport and Lock Haven to Altoona, causing a delay of about seven hours. Passengers for points as far west as Mount Union will experience no delay. Travelers from the West will come through without change of cars via Williamsport, making a detour north from Tyrone.

A Syracuse Lady Suffered From Heart Trouble, Liver Complaint and Rheumatism, and Was Cured.

The efficacy of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was substantially provent in the case of Mrs. C. S. Abell, of this avenue, where she was seen by a report-She talked freely of her case and said: "For a number of years I have been troubled with liver complaint and rheumatism that made me almost helpless. I became so ill I could scarcely walk across the floor. One of our home physicians informed me that I had heart trouble and began treating me for that. His treatment did no good. One day I read of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite nurchesed and taking, and improved greatly. I have well in my life. I can say nothing but Favorite Remedy, to which I owe so much. This laboratory work in tuberculosis that has unfortunately proved so tragic was not Dr. Byron's chief claim to distinction, as he was the hero of the cholora scare in New York in 1892, as he fearlessly went to work among the cholera cases and by his attention to duty in the midst of danger won the admiration of his brethren the country over. The work of the bacteriologist among the virulent germs of loathsome diseases, it is shown by Dr. Byron's death, is attended by grave risks, and his heroic self-sacrifice cannot fail to lift him and his professional comrades on to a higher plane in the estimation of the world at
