THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Two year old Willie Bowser was killed by an electric car in Lock Haven, on Tuesday evening.

—Fishing Creek is getting so low in water that there is hardly enough power to drive the axe factories at Mill Hill.

—The band tournament and races at Philipsburg on the 20th and 21st will attract a large crowd of people to that place.

—Marie Wise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wise, of Bellefonte, died on Tuesday afternoon. Her age was 2 years and 3 months. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

—There are three cases of scarlet fever in town, two children in Harry Gehret's family, on east High street, and a child in Peter Keichline's family. Both places are under quarantine.

—A. C. Mann's large dwelling house at Mill Hill was recently moved a distance of thirty yards. The work was so skillfully done that the houses that stood on a mantel in the house did not even have to be removed.

—Miss Anna R. Whitney, daughter of Rev. W. R. Whitney, of Philipsburg, was married to Chas. H. Winder, of Onancock, Va., last Thursday. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father who is well known in this county.

—Rev. L. R. Janney, who lectured Tuesday evening in the Methodist church on "Life in India" is a very pleasant and entertaining talker. His lecture was replete with interesting facts and personal observations and it was a great pity that more did not hear him.

—Children's day will be celebrated Sunday in the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The Presbyterians will have their services in the morning and the Methodists will have their exercises in the afternoon when an entertaining programme will be carried out by the children, amid elaborate decorations.

—Captain Stephens, Col. Jimmy Young, Col. J. S. Kent and old Mr. Campbell will be very apt to remember the good time they had at Bellefonte's Centennial—all of them had pockets into which other folks poked their fingers and extracted money, ranging in sums from $10 to $100.

—Mrs. Eliza Pifer, widow of Jacob Pifer, deceased, died on last Sunday evening at the residence of her daughter Mrs. Adam Bucher, 212 Sixth avenue, Altoona, Pa., after a lingering illness from apoplexy. She was formerly a resident of Pine Grove Mills, this county, and died at the advanced age of 81 years. She was buried in the Greenwood cemetery, Altoona.

—In the industrial parade on Friday last Mr. L. C. Bullock of Milesburg, had a most creditable display. Among other things was a gipsy wagon, finished in the most artistic style. Some people we understand have an idea that the wagon was a gotten up affair for show only. When we tell them that it was built for a gipsy down the country at a cost of $650. They can imagine the kind of a "get up" it was.

—On Friday morning a man named J. C. Wilson was brought to jail in this place for having stolen a gold watch that belonged to Mrs. Lukens, of Philipsburg. He stole the watch from the residence of Mrs. Richards, who is Mrs. Lukens' mother. Wilson is an assumed name, but the thief refuses to divulge his identity, as he claims to have sprung from a very respectable Washington family upon whom he doesn't want the disgrace of his plight to fall.

—While yesterday's rain was needed badly it could not help but interfere with the success of the Mattern reunion which was held in Funk's grove, near Warriorsmark. A great family gathering was anticipated. Most of the three thousand invitations issued had been accepted and arrangements had been made for a very pleasant day. Hon. John W. Mattern, of Huntingdon, to have delivered the historical address and other well known members of the family had their part on the program.

—While the fakirs in town last week were many they were jollied so by the firemen that their harvest was not great. The pickpockets, however, got there in great shape. James Young, a traveling man well known in this section, was relieved of twenty-five dollars. Mr. Summers, of Beech Creek, and one of the Holters lost every cent they had with them. Mr. Kent, had his pockets rifled to the tune of seventy-five dollars and his ticket to Colorado. Sam Ewing, of the College, is looking for thirty-eight dollars. Mrs. Beezer, Mrs. Saterfield, Mrs. Hazel, and the many others who are out of pocket will long remember the Centennial.

Another Class of Graduates From The Pennsylvania State College.

The Centre County Institution of Learning—Grading in Everyway.—The Story of an Interesting Commencement Week.

Though the average person would be confounded at hearing the closing of a collegiate course spoken of in any other terms than that of a commencement, yet strange as it may seem, there is no well understood reason why the exercises attending the graduation of a class from any institution of learning are spoken of collectively as commencement. Unless, perchance, it signifies the beginning of the real life for men and women, who have heretofore been more or less dependent on parental care.

The 29th annual commencement at The Pennsylvania State College opened with the baccalaureate sermon, on Sunday, Rev. Dr. D. R. Breed, of Pittsburg, preached from the text "Godliness is profitable unto all things"—I Timothy, 4-8. The minister did well in abstaining from high flown philosophical discussions and did a good work for the students in a simple, practical talk on the profit of Godliness. The sermon was necessarily directed to the members of the graduating class, who occupied the front seats in the pretty little chapel, and the seeds of good sown on Sunday in that talk will never be known until they blossom forth in the lives of those who heard them.

The chapel was crowded with people to hear the baccalaureate sermon. The day was perfect and the many students with their visiting friends spent the day that was left to them in roaming idly about the well kept campus. The grounds surrounding the institution were in excellent condition, but the want of rain was made very evident in the brown, dusty look that the grass had and the dulled green of the overhanging maples, the pride of the campus.

Monday proved a twin of Sunday. The weather could not have been finer had it been a special order for the occasion. Visitors continued arriving all day, until by noon there seemed more there than ever before. There being no particular exercises scheduled for the morning most of those already arrived at the College spent it resting for the festivities yet to come.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the 5th annual inter-class athletic contests were held, on Beaver field under the auspices of the athletic association. The officers in charge were:

Referee, J. M. Wolfe; starter, G. W. Hoskins; judge of cycling, Geo. Bush L. A. W.; track judges, Prof. Foss, Prof. Ihleng and H. A. Lardner; timers, M. M. Garver, E. H. Dunkle and J. A. Hunter; clerk of the course, E. J. Haley; assistant clerk, W. J. Moore; judge of walking, Dr. H. F. Fernald; scorer, Nesbit; grand marshal, W. A. Lyon; assistant marshalls, J. S. Harris and P. F. Sellers; announcer, H. M. Beaver.

The events, run as follows, resulted in:

100-Yard Dash—Won by C. M. Thompson, '96; second, Cumins, '95; third, Warn, '98. Time, 11 seconds.
120-Yard Hurdle—Won by Harder, '95; second, Rawn, '98; third, Conrad, '97. Time, 17-4-5 seconds.
3-Mile Bicycle Race—Won by Greenland, '96; second, Sprecher, '95; third, Tyson, '97. Time, 5 minutes 40-1-5 seconds.
140-Yard Dash—Won by McKibben, '96; second, Kaiser, '98; third, Price, '96. Time, 54-4-5 seconds.
Half-Mile Run—Won by Price, '96; second, Espenshade, '98. Time, 2 minutes 17 seconds.
One-Mile Walk—Won by Taylor, '98; second, Painter, '98; Price, '96, ruled out for running. Time, 8 minutes 44 seconds.
One-Mile Run—Won by Price, '96; second, Espenshade, '98; third, Keenan, '98. Time, 5 minutes 53 seconds.
320-Yard Dash—Won by Thompson, '96; second, McKibben, '96; third, Conrad, '97. Time, 25 seconds.
Throwing the Hammer—Won by Fisher, '96; second, McGee, '97; third, Dixon, '96. Distance, 91 feet 6 inches.
Pole Vault—Won by Thompson, '96; second, McKibben, '96; third, Galloway, '98. Distance, 8 feet 10 inches.
Running High Jump—Won by Harder, '95; second, Bowen, '96; third, Cummins, '95. Height, 5 feet 6 inches.
Running Broad Jump—Won by Rawn, '98; second, Harder, '95; third, Cummins, '95. Eighteen feet 6 1/2 inches.
Putting the Shot—Won by Fisher, '96; second, McGee, '97; third, Rawn, '98. Put, 34 feet 7 inches.

The total number of points won by the respective classes was as follows: '95, eighteen and one-half; '96, fifty-five; '97, six and one-half; '98, thirty-one.

The evening found the chapel packed with people to hear the Junior's contest in oratory, and after music by Stopper & Fisk's orchestra Gen. Beaver, President of the Board of Trustees, assumed charge of the exercises in the absence of Dr. Atherton, who was forced to remain at home owing to indisposition. The programme was carried through as follows:

Oration—Education and the Laboring Classes—Raymond Adam Klock, Tridaghton.
Oration—"The Young Man in Politics," Lewis Benscoter Carter, Retta.
Music.
Oration—"The Lack of Reverence in American Youth," Walter Addison Lyon, Harrisburg.
Oration—"Electricity," Frank Woodward Jessop, York.
Music.
Oration—"Hidden Fires," Frederic Alter Hemphill, Allegheny.
Oration—"Lasting Impressions," John Frank McCormick, State College.
Music.

When John Frank McCormick had concluded his last sentence, a pretty tribute to maternity, the judges: Congressman "Jack" Robinson, of Media; Prof. C. Alfred Smith, of Chicago, at one time professor of chemistry at the College and J. S. Weller, Esq., '89, district attorney of Bedford county, filed out to come to a conclusion as to which of the six orators had excelled in the various requirements laid down. Of course there were many who thought the judges would decide at once on Mr. McCormick and then others believed that Mr. Carter was best, but when the announcement, that Mr. Hemphill had been deemed the best, was made all revised their opinions and agreed with the judges.

As far as delivery and force were concerned Messrs. Carter and McCormick far surpassed any of the other contestants. They seemed enthused with their themes and entered into the work with a vigor and earnestness far removed from the average student oratorical effort.

After the contest many of the visitors were entertained at the Phi Gamma Delta, Beta Theta Pi and Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity houses, where dances were given. The two former having divided the Stopper & Fisk orchestra to procure music for dancing. The late moon had risen far above Nittany's head ere the last tired couple found their resting places for the night and slept, while bright dreams of the morrow, surging through their tired brains, only ceased when the morning sun peeped in to tell them Tuesday had come.

Tuesday was by long odds the busiest day of the week. Every hour was taken up with something or other and not the least of it all were the meetings relative to the government of the institution. As early as 8:30 the old graduates of the College, who had returned, met as the alumni association and transacted the usual routine business, included in which was the election of officers for the current year. They were all re-elected except Prof. C. A. Smith '61, of Chicago, who will succeed J. Price Jackson '89, of State College, as president of the association.

The artillery salute at 9:45 was expected to waken late sleepers, but when Commandant McCaskey's squad of artillerymen, under Lieut. B. F. Fisher, the stalwart athlete, assembled at the armory to man the guns they found several of them spiked and all the rounds of ammunition, but two, gone. The midnight pranks of happy students had done the work of the artillerymen many hours before they turned out for duty, so two lone shots had to suffice for the usual gubernatorial salute of seventeen guns.

The Board of Trustees met at 10 o'clock in the chapel and had hardly finished their work when the call was made for the alumni dinner at noon. The business transacted at this meeting was not made public, but it is generally understood that it had considerable bearing on the work that has been planned in consequence of the recent legislative appropriation, to the College, of $212,000. The specific purposes for which the money is to be used have not been announced yet, but we were able to learn that first of all, all the indebtedness of the College, except its bonded obligation, is to be wiped out. Then there is a sufficient amount provided for the completion of the Mechanical Engineering building, which is in substance really to pay a debt contracted for its completion. Each of the departments are to have sums ranging from $2,000 up for maintenance; and lastly, the old stone building is to be improved with a new roof that will give it a more modern appearance. We speak of "improvement" with a reservation in this instance, for it is a question in the minds of many whether the massive old building can be improved. It is the only familiar remnant of the College of the sixties and to our mind its more imposing in the solemn severity of its present construction, than if it would be capped with later day minarets, domes and angles.

One of the best things done at this meeting was the raising of the salary of the President. It has long been a cause for wonderment that Dr. Atherton should remain at the College, when it was known that he was continually receiving most flattering offers from all parts of the country. His love for State and his untiring desire to place her on a level with the most advanced universities of the land is the only reason that could be ascribed for his remaining her President in the face of such conditions. The increase was granted without solicitation and was an action in which the Trustees recognized a service that even under the new salary can never be fully compensated.

The alumni dinner was served in the Armory, as usual, and furnished entertainment for several hundred people for nearly three hours. Caterer Achenbach, of this place, had charge of it and of course the substantial part of the dinner was satisfactory. It seemed strange to the old men not to see Hon. Francis Jordan, of Harrisburg, present to preside. The dinner has been under his special care for years, but Gen. Beaver filled his vacant chair, on Tuesday, and did it with his accustomed grace. Among those who responded to the toasts that were proposed were: Hon. "Jack" Robinson, of Media; General Latta; Congressman C. W. Stone; Judge John Greer, of Butler; Prof. C. Alfred Smith, of Chicago; J. S. Weller Esq., '89 of Bedford and Chas. W. Burkett, a member of the graduating class.

At the meeting of the delegates and alumni to elect trustees for the terms of office to be filled the following were chosen: ex-Senator Hood, of Indiana; Andrew Carnegie, Pittsburg; Judge H. B. White, Washington and J. A. Herr, Clinton. Judge Cyrus Gordon, of Clearfield, was elected alumni trustee.

The exhibition drill of the cadet corps under Commandant Lieut. E. W. McCaskey, U. S. A. was given at 3 o'clock and notwithstanding the threatening weather a large crowd gathered on the parade ground to watch the maneuvers. The new tactics have eradicated many of the pretty evolutions that the cadets used to execute, but they made a fine exhibition in their drill, on Tuesday. The appearance of the entire corps in white duck trousers and blue blouse was decidedly pretty and elicited much admiration.

The closing exercises of Tuesday were the address before the alumni association, by Hon. John B. Robinson, of Media; the faculty reception to the alumni in the ladies' cottage and the Adelphi club dance at the Inn. The address was made in the chapel on the subject "Forces that make for Civilization."

The graduation day, proper, came with Wednesday morning, and the thirty-five men who were to leave college were seated on the rostrum with the faculty and trustees when the exercises began at 10 o'clock. The following program was carried out:

Music.
Invocation.
Oration—The Monroe Doctrine, Budd Gray.
Oration—The Coming of Liberty, David Leslie Patterson, Jr.
Music.
Oration—Utility of the Cretion of Worth, Ralph Lashelle Macdonald.
Oration—The Ideal Voter, Melvin Jesse Kieffer.
Music.
Valedictory Orations—Byron Barnes Horton.
Music.
Commencement Address—The Hon. Robert C. Ogden, of Philadelphia.
Conferring Degrees and awarding prizes.
Music.

The honor men of the class were Lieut. Gray, Green, Harder, Marshall, Wieland; 2nd, Burkett, Horton, Kieffer, McDonald and Smiley.

Prizes were awarded as follows: the English prize, to the student in the English branches, to Henry Passmore Newell, Towanda. The McAllister prize to Edward Bowman Espenshade, Lancaster. The Junior Oratorical prize to 1st, Walter A. Hemphill, Allegheny; 2nd, Lewis Benscoter Carter, Retta.

The members of the graduating class were:

H. McA. Beaver, Bellefonte; C. W. Burkett, Remington; T. R. Cummins, Conestoga; O. H. G. Fleck, Allegheny; H. H. Geary, Catawissa; W. K. Gibbons, Belleville; Budd Gray, Tyrone; G. D. Green, Fillmore; R. B. Greer, Butler; J. E. Hall, Fleming; E. P. Harder, Catawissa; E. H. Harris, Bellefonte; J. L. Harris, Sharon; S. F. Herr, Passanuss; B. B. Horton, Sheffield; M. J. Kieffer, Sunbury; R. L. MacDonald, State College; J. G. Marshall, Bellefonte; R. F. Martin, Skaneateles, N. Y.; Robert Mathias, Chalfont; W. J. Moore, Altoona; D. L. Patterson, Jr., Allegheny; H. C. Peffer, Tarentum; L. A. Reed, Alexandria; J. F. Rodgers, Allegheny; T. W. Rutherford, Harrisburg; G. E. Seibert, Bellefonte; W. P. Smiley, Factoryville; G. E. Snyder, State College; J. E. Snyder, State College; G. K. Spence, McKees Rocks; R. W. Wieland, State College; B. F. Williams, Wilkesbarre; H. L. Wishart, Wells' Tanney; W. A. Harvey, Scranton; Miss M. B. Macdonald, State College.

The commencement address by Hon. Robert C. Ogden, of Philadelphia, a partner of John Wanamaker, was considered the best one ever delivered at the College. Without any preparation, whatever, he gave such a talk before that crowded chapel as thorough. He delighted all who were there and made them lose sight entirely of the uncomferts of the heat.

The exercises were successful and entertaining throughout and marked a new standard for those in years to come.

During the afternoon the College ball team, played the Demorests, of Williamsport, on Beaver field, and easily defeated them, in the best played game of the season, by the score of 7 to 2.

The Junior Assembly in the Armory in the evening made a delightful closing for the week's exercises and the six hundred and more people who were on the floor were convinced that it was one of the nicest affairs they had ever attended.

—About the time of the closing ceremonies of our Centennial on Friday afternoon, the alarm of fire was sounded, which proved to be in J. Malcolm Laurie's steam laundry. This building is known as the old Bayard foundry and had been refitted for laundry purposes by placing a board ceiling above the second story, thus forming a loft next the roof. The fire was started in the second story—the wood work being very dry; it leaped like a flash from the second story into the loft. It appears that Mr. Laurie was out of the building when the fire took place. As soon as the alarm was given, Roy McCalmont and George Harman gathered up four hand grenades, which are quart bottles containing a chemical fire extinguishing liquid and hastened to the building where they succeeded in extinguishing the flames in the second story; but the fire having already gotten into the loft, next the roof, they were not able to inject the chemicals into that locality. In the meantime, John S. Walker and Isaac Underwood attached the small hose to a hydrant in the Hale building, the water from which also assisted in keeping the fire out of the second story until the firemen arrived with their large fire hose; when holes were cut into the loft through which a supply of water was forced and the fire was soon extinguished. Mr. Laurie and Mr. Kearns, one of the employees of the laundry, state that the chemical fire extinguishers furnished by McCalmont & Co. were very effective, wherever the liquid was applied to the burning flames.

News Purely Personal.

—William Fisher, of Flemington, was a visitor in town last week.

—A. S. Boalich and wife, of Osceola Mills, spent Centennial week in Bellefonte.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Reeder and their son Wallace will sail for Europe on the 20th.

—Harry U. Tibbens and his wife came over from Altoona last week to join in the celebration.

—Mrs. Neglie, of Beech Creek, visited her daughter Mrs. John Trafford of Lamb street this week.

—Mrs. Jas. Pierpoint of East End, Pittsburg, with her children and nurse are stopping at the Bush House.

—D. Dunkle Esq., was up from Mingoville last week and made the printer's heart glad by paying for his paper in advance.

—Mrs. Barbara Rankin and her daughter Miss Belle left this morning for an extended visit in Philipsburg and Harrisburg.

—G. H. Hile, of Pleasant Gap, who has been working at Du Boise for some time has left the employ of Harry Loeb and is now traveling.

—Miss Carrie E. Gramley, who has been in Dakota Ill. for more than a year, is home at her father's Mr. James Gramley, on Bishop street.

—Andrew Morrison of Williamsport and John Bartruff, of San Jose, Cal., were two Bellefonte boys, older grown, who attended and enjoyed the Centennial.

—Paul J. Myler Esq., of Pittsburg, passed through town on a morning train, on Monday, on his way to Commencement at The Pennsylvania State College. It was his first visit to the College.

—George Poorman Esq., came over from Osceola Mills, to see the Centennial last week and visit some of his relatives who live at Colesville. He was much pleased with the demonstration.

—Mr. P. W. McDowell, one of the WATCHMAN's oldest readers, was in town last Saturday and called to see us. He resides at Mackeyville, one of the prettiest places in the whole Nittany valley.

—James Johnston, who reads the WATCHMAN regularly at his home near Zion was in town last week and made the editor feel more like celebrating the Centennial by leaving some money behind him.

—Among the many Centennial visitors in town were Miss Dumbleton and her brother, daughter and son of James Dumbleton Esq., of near Philipsburg. While here they were guests at the home of Miss Anna Green on Water street.

—Judge J. H. Smith, of Lock Haven, gets up here quite frequently, but it is not so often that he favors this office with a call. He was in last week, however, and says the Mill Hill brick works, in which he is interested, are busier than ever.

—Miss Ella Switzer, of Philipsburg, is off for London, Eng., as a national delegate to the W. C. T. U. convention that will convene here on the 14th inst. She sailed on the City of Berlin and will be gone until September. She will visit the continent while abroad.

—Mrs. and Mrs. George B. Brandon came up from Gettysburg last week presumably to attend the celebration, but from the admiration and attention their little daughter Winifred is receiving at her aunt's Mrs. Rowe's. We imagine that she was the cause of their coming.

—After a ten days visit to their relatives in this place Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Keller and their little son Daniel, left Wednesday for their home in Lancaster. We know Will is getting along splendidly for no one could look as well as he does and be as happy if his cleavage did not pay.

—Harry Green came over from Philipsburg, last Wednesday, to spend the remainder of the week with his parents here. He was tickled almost to death with the Centennial demonstrations and returned to his adopted home, Monday morning, firm in the conviction that Bellefonte is the place after all.

—Lieutenant and Mrs. Samuel S. Page, were in town over Sunday the guests of Mrs. Louisa Bush. They were on their way to the commencement at the State College, where the Lieutenant was Commandant from '86 to '89 and a more popular or capable man was never detailed to take charge of the boys at the College.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rankin left Wednesday morning for Harrisburg where Ed has a position awaiting him in the Insurance department. They expect to go to house keeping in a few weeks. John Wilson formerly with the B. C. R. Co., has been appointed to succeed Ed. as manager of the Western Union office here.

—Philipsburg expects, and we have no doubt will have, a big time at the band tournament which comes off in that place on the 20th and 21st inst. In addition to the music, parades and general festivities that will be enjoyed the following programs of sporting events has been prepared;
