THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

Nearly all the hay in the county has been cut by this time.

A bear was shot in the vicinity of Potter's bank on Monday.

Monday's rain caught many farmers with hay down, but it was very much needed.

Robert Irvin Jr. has been elected president of the Bellefonte society of C. E. for the ensuing year.

The Sunday school of St. John's Reformed church, of this place, will picnic at Hunters park on July 17th.

To keep loafers off the steps, the First national bank has posted up cards that all persons found sitting there will be arrested.

The Episcopal Sunday school picnic started large and happy at Hunters park, on Wednesday, but it got wet before the day was done.

An enjoyable time was had by the members of the Lutheran church at the sociable held at the home of Mr. Lunger Wisan, near town, last night.

During the past year there have been 767 students in the Bellefonte public schools. The average daily attendance was 556 and the percentage was 90.

The free text book plan has caused some very unpleasant situations in the Bellefonte public schools during the year, so Sup't. Etters says in his report.

Next week the WATCHMAN force will take a rest. You need not look for a paper as the printers will be taking their mid-summer holiday and will have no time for work.

The rain of Wednesday night washed this locality badly. Gardens were furrowed everywhere and corn fields danced merrily on the waters of Spring creek all day yesterday.

During the storm on Monday the barn on Judge Furst's farm, in Marion township, was struck by lightning. Though there were several people in it at the time, no one was hurt.

Sup't. D. O. Etters complains that during the past year "trashy novels, dancing, too much gymnastics and too many parties" have detracted from the good work of the Bellefonte public schools.

Paul Gearhart, a son of Rev. Dr. Gearhart, of this place, was graduated from Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, a short time ago, and has now registered as a law student in the office of Orvis, Bower & Orvis.

At the election for teachers in the Bellefonte public schools, last Tuesday night, all of the old ones were re-elected except Mr. Ammerman, whose application for his old position was laid on the table for future consideration.

Fred, a son of Mr. James Poorman, of Coleville, died rather suddenly on last Thursday. He had been ill with typhoid fever but his condition was not considered alarming. Rev. B. C. Shaw of the U. B. church conducted funeral services on Sunday.

The design submitted to Robert Cole & Co. architects of this place, was accepted at a congregational meeting, Monday night, as the one upon which the new Reformed church at Centre Hall will be built. The building is to be of mountain sand stone.

A most enjoyable sociable was given Monday evening in the Methodist lecture rooms by the Epworth League. Although ice cream lemonade and cake were served not one word was said about the price, for the object of the evening was pleasure and sociability and it was obtained.

Residents of Coleville are moving to discover the cause of the Typhoid fever epidemic that has been scourging that village for months. Most of the families that have suffered with the malady have been using water out of the old spring near the Buffalo Run rail-road tracks.

A most pleasant occasion was the re-union of the family of our townsman, Mr. Stine, of Thomas street, which took place at the residence of Mr. Martin Hogan, in Union township, on Saturday and Sunday last. Blair, Huntingdon and Centre counties were represented at the reunion and a most enjoyable time was experienced by all present.

William Jones, the runner in the First national bank of this place, was seventy-five years old on Monday. Notwithstanding his advanced years Mr. Jones has enjoyed remarkable health and never, even in the roughest seasons, has he laid off unless entirely prostrated. He is one of the most familiar figures on the streets of Bellefonte and is known by nearly every resident in town. His birthday was celebrated by a dinner party.

FIVE WOMEN BEAT MRS. MICHAEL DOUGHERTY INTO INSENSIBILITY.—There was a regular young riot out near Axe Mann, one day last week. Five women of that vicinity proved themselves pretty characters, indeed, by turning out and flogging one of their sex most unmercifully. Tales of such actions are often read about in the papers coming from the rough foreign quarters of large cities and mining districts, but we must confess we didn't have an idea that there was a set of women in Centre county who could so far forget their sex as to do such things as are reported in this case of last week.

It happened that for some reason or other Mrs. Aaron Mallory and her daughter and Mrs. Dennis Kane and her two daughters had a spite at old Michael Dougherty, who lives along the old Lewistown road. They laid their plans to catch him and beat him one day and thought to inveigle him down the road by driving his cow back one evening when it had started towards home. Instead of bringing Michael after the cow their action called out his wife Sophia. She went down the road to know the meaning of her neighbor's actions and when she had reached the little bridge, about two hundred yards below her house, the five women fell upon her and beat her most unmercifully. She tumbled off the bridge into a ditch, a distance of eight feet, and cut her head badly. She became unconscious after this, but later recovered enough to get to the house where she laid in a dangerous condition for a week. Her body was a mass of bruises and bleeding wounds and Dr. E. S. Dorworth, of this place, who was called to attend her, found her in a very precarious condition. The assailants were arrested on Wednesday morning and will be given a hearing before Squire Keichline this afternoon.

The women claim justification for their attack in the vile names that Mrs. Dougherty has been accustomed to call them at every opportunity. There is no denying the fact that Michael's spouse is not one of the gentlest of the Creator's lambs, for, in truth, she is a most notorious character. But even this doesn't excuse her assailants for doing as they did. They should not have thrown dignity to the winds in such a manner and while it might be possible that the flogging is just about what Sophia needed they would have done better in paying no attention, whatever, to her, for she would soon have ceased her abuse when she found that no one cared a picayune for it.

A GREAT TIME AT STATE COLLEGE ON THE FOURTH.—There will be no necessity for people of this vicinity to go far away to find enjoyment on the nation's great holiday next week. The State College band has arranged to have a great demonstration at the College to which all are invited.

Besides a big parade at 1 o'clock they will have exciting sports on Beaver field. Bicycle races, running races, a fat man's race, catching a greased pig for the pig and climbing a slippery pole for the reward on top of it will be features that will entertain a great crowd.

During the evening there will be a fantastic parade and quite extensive fire works. The latter will be put off in front of the band hall, where a festival will begin with a chicken and waffle supper at 5 o'clock p. m. All kinds of refreshments will be served in addition.

The gentlemen who have charge of the arrangements promise a good time to all who attend and there is every reason to believe that they will do it. There will be a number of bands from nearby towns to give concerts during the day and a general good time is assured.

Go to State College on the Fourth.

WOMAN'S VANITY ON THE STREET.—Did you ever sit on the inside of a plate glass window and watch the girls and women who pass along the street? The average store window is of plate glass and under certain conditions it reflects the image of things within its focus with almost as much nicety as a fine mirror. The women have found this out long ago and you would be surprised to know how many of them resort to these street looking glasses to see if their hat is on straight, or if their gown hangs just right.

It is the most natural thing in the world for a woman to look in a store window and thus it happens that half the people who see her doing it are not aware that it is wholly vanity and not a desire to see the articles displayed there that nearly always draws her eyes toward the glasses.

Just sit down inside a store some day and watch the fair sex smirk and smile, as they view themselves in the windows, and possibly you will see a few fool men, too, whose heads are light enough to be turned clear around to see themselves.

Al Harter, of Coburn, won the first prize in the bicycle race at Woodward last Saturday. Thomas Hosterman, a local acrobat, walked a tight rope over the dam there. The first thing that town knows it will have a regular Blondin

On Sunday, June 30th, the cornerstone for a new A. M. E. church at Curwensville will be laid.

Employees of the Tyrone iron works were given an advance of ten per cent. on Tuesday morning.

The veteran's association of Clinton county will hold a reunion and picnic at Clintondale park August 15th.

E. M. Worth, at present located at Milton, has accepted a call to the secretaryship of the Lock Haven Y. M. C. A.

Robert Matley, aged 71 years, died at his home at Point Lookout, near Phillipsburg, on Sunday. He had been ill a long time with dropsy.

Calvin College at Cleveland, Ohio, recently conferred the degree of doctor of divinity on Rev. R. L. Gearhart, pastor of the Reformed church of this place.

The condition of S. K. Faust of Miles township, is greatly improved. He was stricken with paralysis some time ago and at first it was thought he would not recover.

Theodore Hosterman, of Fiedler, was kicked in the face by a horse he was unhitching the other day. It rendered him unconscious, but he is able to be about again.

Joseph H. Long, of Renovo, is thought to be the oldest employe of the Pennsylvania railroad company still in active service. He began work on the rail-road forty-seven years ago.

The Democrat says that Francis Spear, of the Gazette, had the starch kicked out of his duck trousers the other evening. Reason—he proposed to a Thomas street girl whose father didn't see it that way.

Charles D. Moore's selection as teacher of the school at Linden Hall has pleased the people of that vicinity. Mr. Moore is from Boalsburg and has the reputation of being one of the best public school teachers in the county.

Mrs. Eve Markle, whose home is on what is called the back road to Roopsburg, or at the foot of Half-moon hill, near that place, is dangerously ill with dropsy. She has attained her 96th year and at such an age recovery is hardly probable.

A Beech Creek freight train ran into a lot of cows that were sleeping on the track near Clearfield, one morning last week, and the bovine obstruction resulted in throwing the engine and seventeen cars over an embankment. The engineer and firemen were both badly hurt.

Beginning Monday, July 1st our stores will close at 6 o'clock p. m. every day except Saturday.

George McGregor, of Flemington, got drunk on Saturday and offered to shoot both his wife and his mother. After racing them around with a revolver they both fainted and constable Bob Myers appeared on the scene and arrested the husband. He gave $300 bail for a hearing.

Mrs. Sarah Cole, relict of Peter Cole, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Bernard Coyle, at Emporium, on Sunday, at the advanced age of 78 years. Deceased was the mother of Mrs. James Wilson, of Blanchard, and Mrs. Thomas Whitten, of Phillipsburg, this county and was buried at the latter place on Tuesday.

Last week the general merchandise store and the post-office, both run by J. M. Parker, at Roland, were robbed of goods and money amounting to about $53.10. $38.75 of this amount was in stamps. The robbers held Mr. Parker in bed at the muzzle of a revolver until they had him tied there then they did as they pleased.

An attempt was made to blow open the safe in the office of W. H. Mann's axe works, at Mill Hall, last Friday night. With tools they had procured from Garth's wagon making shop, near by, burglars succeeded in blowing off the outer door of the safe, but they couldn't make an impression on the inner door. About $60 would have rewarded the burglars had they opened it.

Jerry O'Leary a young man who lived with his parents on Quaker hill died with consumption on Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock, after a wasting illness. Deceased was 26 years old and a son of Mr. Lawrence O'Leary. His death leaves four brothers and three sisters to mourn the death of one just entering upon manhood. Funeral services were held at the Catholic church on Wednesday.

THE JONES—ARMOR WEDDING.—At six o'clock Wednesday evening the marriage of Mr. Claude Jones, of Tyrone, to Miss Stella Armor, of this place, was solemnized. The bride's brother, Rev. J. Benner Armor, of the Catholic church, performed the ceremony. Following the nuptials was a brilliant reception held at the home of the bride's father, Monroe Armor Esq. at No. 202, east Linn street.

A large party of guests from a distance were present to attend the reception, though the wedding was witnessed by members of the families only.

The bride is an eldest daughter and has long been a recognized beauty in Bellefonte. She is an accomplished musician and, in addition, is fully conversant with all the duties of housewifery. Mr. Jones is a young newspaper man of Tyrone, whose popularity at his home assures a sterling character. He has been associated with the Daily Herald for years and has a home already furnished for his bride, upon their return from the wedding tour that began Wednesday night.

Miss Grace Armor, a younger sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, while Mr. Clem Hiltner, of Tyrone, assisted the groom.

AN EXCELLENT SHOW.—Pawnee Bill's wild west show pitched its tents on the East side flats, Thursday, and all day the grounds were swarmed with eager spectators. Both afternoon and evening performances were largely attended and all were thoroughly pleased with the exhibition. All the different phases of frontier life were portrayed in a realistic and thrilling manner, and an exhibition of its kind it is the best that ever visited Warren. The daring riding and feats of horsemanship exhibited by bands of Indians, cowboys and Mexicans, was of a high order, and filled the hearts of all with admiration. The boomerang throwing, by the Australian bushmen, was a novel feature and deserving of special commendation. In short the entire performance from start to finish was excellent, and held the closest attention of the large audiences.—Warren, Pa., Mirror.

At Bellefonte, on Wednesday, July 10th.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT FILLMORE.—Sunday evening, June 16th, was "children's day" at the Fillmore M. E. church. Long before the appointed time for the exercises to begin, the pretty little church was filled to its utmost capacity with an expectant congregation. The usual program for the services was carried out in a very able manner. The "Golden Gate" was represented by Miss Mabel Norris, as "Guardian," with Samuel Tresler, Bert Miller, Harry Tresler, Mary Bell, Lizzie Hoover and Laura Wise, each of whom ably filled their parts. The floral decorations were beautiful, the music, with Miss Laura Kephart as organist, was excellent, the speeches by the children were nicely recited, and the little white robed girls in the "Lord's Prayer" made one think of angels.

PROGRAM FOR JULY 4TH AT HECLA PARK.—The picnic at Hecla park, on July fourth, under the auspices of the Undine Fire Co., of this place, promises to attract a large crowd. The program has been announced as follows:

ANOTHER CENTENNIAL FLAG.—The top and lower fillers at the Valentine iron works, not to be out-done by the other workmen, who placed a flag on the top of the great stack out there, put one up themselves on Centennial morning. Just at day-break on Centennial morning, Mart Stover and all his fellow workers on the filling crew turned out and hoisted the stars and stripes on the very highest point on the bridge house. There they floated gayly to the breeze and the men worked cheerfully, as if it inspired them.

A BARN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AT SNOWSHOE.—During the thunder storm on Monday morning, lightning struck the large frame barn owned by T. B. Buddinger at Snow Shoe. The electric bolt fell at 9:20 and in less than half an hour the building was in ruins. Fortunately there was no stock in it at the time. All the hay and straw, together with some harness, was consumed by the flames.

The building was partially insured.

Arthur O. Goheen, of Tyrone, and Mary E. Gray, of State College, were married at the bride's home last Thursday morning by Rev. A. W. Guyer. After the ceremony the young couple left on a tour to Niagara Falls and other points of interest.

The lovers of tennis will be delighted to hear that the school board favored the scheme to use the grounds about the North Ward building for tennis courts. The restrictions they made were not many, so all that remains to make a good live club, is for those interested in the game to co-operate in and help along with the work so well started.

News Purely Personal.

Miss Ange Decker, whose dress making establishment at Lemont always enjoys a steady stream of patronage, was in town Wednesday doing a little mid-summer shopping. She returned on the 2:15 train.

Mrs. Maria Bruce and daughter, Miss Alice, left for their home in New Hampshire, on Tuesday morning, after having spent the winter at the home of Editor Edward T. Tuten of the Republican, on East Linn street. Mrs. Bruce is a sister of Mr. Tuten.

Mrs. Jackson and her daughter Miss Mary, of Berwick, who have been visiting Mrs. W. F. Reeder, Mrs. Jackson's daughter, for several months left yesterday morning for New York from whence they will sail for Europe tomorrow. Mr. Reeder is going over with them but he will be home in six weeks as he is going especially for the ocean voyage.

Walter E. Meek, of Houtzdale, the head and front of one of the largest general mercantile firms in that coal region, was in town yesterday practically hood-stayed. He had been up in Ferguson township until Wednesday looking after his fine farm at Fairbrook. He had started to this place and tarrying at the College all night very near not getting here yesterday morning. There were several bad washouts on the B. C. R. R. so that he did not get in here until noon.

Mr. James M. Johnston was up to town bright and early Wednesday morning and when asked the cause of it he said he had been anxious to get an early start at the hay crop on his farm near Zion, but that rain had stopped him soon and as he had a little business in town he thought he would come up and attend to it. Mr. Johnston is in the same plight that a good many other farmers are this spring. He has been greatly set back with his hay making by the wet weather.

Lee E. Woodcock departed Wednesday morning for Cape May, N. J., where he will spend the summer playing ball with the all college team of that summer resort. "Deac" expects to play an outfield position, while Charley Atherton, who will play at the Cape, will hold down first base. The boys expect to have a good time of it. They will be quartered at Congress Hall and are always kinged by the visitors at the shore. Phil. King could not have secured two harder or headier players, nor two nicer men for the Cape team than just Lee Woodcock and Charley Atherton.

J. B. Sowers, of State College, possibly the oldest baseball crank in the State, was in town on Tuesday on his way to Corning, N. Y., to visit his daughter for a couple of months. The old gentleman has been a cobbler at Soverston, a suburb of State College, for years and knows all there is about the national game. He has never been known to miss one that has been played within a radius of ten miles of the College and the collegians always look to see if he is on the bleachers before they are ready to call a game. He expects to stop off in Williamsport for the Centennial and then continue to Corning where he will see "all the good ball games."

THE ARMOR ESTATE AGAIN.—The Armor estate appears to have gotten into court again. For several years the will of Mrs. Armor was in dispute and when that was settled it was supposed the matter was ended. Letters of administration were taken out by two of the heirs, two of the other heirs going their security. Mr. David Butts, who is the guardian for other heirs filed a bill of exceptions against the administrators claiming the bill given by them was inadequate. Upon those exceptions Judge Lore dismissed the administrators and decreed that a large bond should be filed. The same persons again took out administration letters and increased the bond to the sum specified by the court, and the same heirs went on the bond again. This Mr. Butts objects to and has cited the administrators into court again.—Hornet.
