THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—The Bellefonte Catholic church will picnic at Hecla park on Wednesday, August 7th.

—One week from to-morrow the Hubbersburg lodge of I. O. O. F. will hold a picnic at Hecla.

—The corn that has not been washed out by the heavy rains is said to be in a very promising condition.

—Electric light will be substituted for gas in the Episcopal church in this place, so as to lessen the heat.

—A falling sky-rocket stick went through the brim of Judge Chester Munson's hat, on July 4th, at Philipsburg.

—Lester Schaeffer, Bellefonte's speedy wheelman, got fourth place in the five mile race at Du Boise on the 4th and received a $12 prize.

—Mr. John T. Fowler, whose home near Fowler station was destroyed by fire on Wednesday of last week, contemplates moving to Tyrone.

—There was a large attendance at market Tuesday morning. Farmer J. Kyle McFarlane was the last to arrive with his wagon load of produce.

—William Doak has just returned from a visit to his sweet heart in Nittany valley. He announces that he is going to be married on Christmas.

—A team of Howard ball players went down to Lock Haven, on Saturday afternoon, and was defeated by the Epworth Guards of that place by the score of 38 to 14.

—Milesburg had an elopement a few days ago, that is, a kind of one. It took Lew Bullock and the groom talking a "straight string" for quite a while to soothe the ire of the bride's papa.

—The Undine picnic at Hecla park, on July 4th, attracted a large crowd of people. Those who were fortunate enough to escape a fight or a ducking in the dam had a good time.

—The same horse dumped William Shawsley and his son in Milesburg last week. The boy was considerably hurt by his fall; then the father got on to teach the animal to behave itself, but he did not stay long.

—The new bridge over Spring creek, at the foot of Lamb street, has been swung and is now in use. It is not a very ornamental but a very durable iron structure, high enough to be free of the flood's destructiveness.

—Six carpenters employed on the Pruner building, on Allegheny street, laid down their tools on Tuesday and quit work. They claimed that Mr. Pruner unjustly charged them with killing time. Other men have their pieces now.

—Will Toner, of this place, was an alternate to the West Point appointment and failed in his preliminary examinations. He had only a short time for preparation and thinks he can get through if he is re-appointed. We hope he has the good fortune to obtain his wish.

—Christ Decker, of Zion, having grown tired running all over the surrounding country to find his roving turkey flock, tied a small bell onto each one's neck and now has little trouble locating them in the evening. Like "the old woman from Banbury Cross," who had bells on her toes, they will have music wherever they go.

—A new "dinky" engine has been added to the Valentine Iron Co's mining equipment at Nigh bank. Heretofore the ore was pulled in to the washer by horse power, but hereafter the little engine will do the work. The ore from the Ann Patton bank will be taken to Nigh for washing also. The engine was built at the Baldwin works in Philadelphia.

—The overseers of the poor found Miss Jane Garrett and her mother in destitute circumstances in a house near the glass works, Wednesday morning, and took them both to the poor house. Neither one wanted to go, but the officers were determined. It was reported that the girl had taken carbolic acid with suicidal intent, but more direct information is to the effect that her reason has become unbalanced.

—The Bellefonte tennis association is meeting with far more success than its promoters anticipated. Already there are between sixty and seventy members to use the four courts that have been graded on the north ward school grounds and every day there is a crowd of young people down there enjoying the sport. The officers are: James R. Hughes, president; Maurice Jackson, secretary and treasurer; Fred Jackson, Harry Keller, Scott Harris, Will Kelly and James Harris executive committee. The school grounds have become a regular athletic park and it is a very pleasant place to spend part of the day.

MANY SERIOUS ACCIDENTS.—Within the past ten days many serious accidents have been reported from various parts of the county. Some of them have been the result of 4th of July celebration while others have occurred through the various channels from which accidents are ordinarily chronicled.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. William Bloom, of Milesburg, was driving home from the funeral of Mrs. Green McGinley, at the Advent grave yard, with his wife and child. The horse he was driving was a vicious animal and began kicking without any apparent cause. It ran away and threw the occupants from the buggy. The child escaped unhurt, but Mrs. Bloom was thrown out with such terrific force that she sustained a fracture of the skull and is still in a critical condition at her home in Milesburg. Mr. Bloom became tangled up in some way or other and one of the shafts, breaking, tore an ugly gash in his side. Both were unconscious for a long time.

The nation's birth-day of '95 was a sorry one for Mrs. S. H. Williams, of this place. A terribly lacerated hand is the mark that will keep the day fresh in her mind as long as she lives.

While putting off fire-works at the University Inn, at State College, on the evening of the 4th, she met with a most serious accident; one that will mark her for life, no doubt. She was lighting one of the large crackers, called "mules," when it exploded before she could throw it away. The concussion tore her left hand in a most frightful manner. The bone of the thumb was laid bare, its entire length, the nails were blown clear off the thumb and first and second fingers, while the flesh on every finger but the small one, was torn to shreds. The whole heart of the hand was furrowed out as if it had been done with a knife, in fact making a far more painful injury than if the hand had been torn clear off. As it was Dr. Glenn was able to sew the wounds up in a way that will leave very little disfigurement and the unfortunate woman is getting along as nicely as could be expected.

Ross Parker, the popular passenger conductor on the Bellefonte Central R. R., is minus part of a little finger and the accident whereby he lost the end of that member might have resulted fatally too. It happened on the day before the Fourth of July while his train was at State College killing the noon hour. Ross was on top of a box car that was attached to the engine. A sudden jerk caused the pin that holds the Janney coupling to break and fly up in the air. It was a heavy piece of iron, weighing nine or ten pounds, and when it fell it struck Mr. Parker's hand knocking the little finger off at the first joint and smashing the third also. Dr. Glenn amputated the finger at the first joint and the injured man is walking around, but it will be some time before he goes on duty again. Had the iron struck him on the head it would have killed him.

While driving a mowing machine near his home at Millheim, on Monday, Hon. Wm. K. Alexander drove against a stump. The jar threw him out of the seat and he fell on a pile of stones severely injuring his side. He was laid up for a day, but is able to be about again.

A similar accident was that that might have snuffed out the light of our townsman M. W. Cowdick. One day last week he was mowing grass on a field near town when the seat on which he was sitting gave way. Mr. Cowdick fell and struck a protruding nut that penetrated his hip near the end of his spinal column. The wound was an excruciatingly painful one and bled profusely. The injured man was able to tie the one horse and rode the other home, where he appeared in an almost fainting condition. A physician dressed the wound and he is able to be around now. Had the team frightened and run away when the seat broke Mr. Cowdick would certainly have been killed.

While riding his bicycle up Brush valley to Millheim, last Saturday, Calvin Moyer, of Penn Hall, struck a rut just near the toll-gate and was thrown head long, over a rocky embankment, into the creek. Fortunately the water was not deep and he had little trouble in getting out.

John Carson, of Millheim, was knocked down by a mine car at Nigh bank below town, on Tuesday of last week, and had his arm broken. A horse ran away with the car causing the accident. The fracture was so bad that the man could not be taken home until Wednesday.

Chas. Dillet, of Spring Mills, had his leg broken at Poe Mills last Saturday. He was dragging out strings when the hind end of one hit his leg between the ankle and knee and broke it right off.

A broken leg is some what worse than a pain in the stomach and while Harry Barnes, a youth of this place, would have been perfectly willing to run the risk of the latter he had little idea he would suffer the former when he climbed an apple tree at the rear of John Bullock's home, on Allegheny street, about noon yesterday. He fell from the tree and broke his right leg at the ankle. Sec. Cota, of the Y. M. C. A. carried him home where the break was set by Dr. Harris.

Herbert Shaeffer, of east Curtin street, is hobbling around on crutches because some funny fellow threw a big cannon cracker at him on the Fourth. Of course it was only meant to scare him, but his foot and leg were badly torn by the concussion and it will be some time before he gets over it.

Harry Hoy returned to his home in this place from Ft. Wayne, Ind., on Tuesday evening, nursing a sore hand; the result of having had it caught in some machinery at which he was working in the railroad shops out there.

The firm of R. B. Wigton and Sons, coal operators in the Philipsburg region, has assigned.

Monday was the fifteenth anniversary of the great fire that nearly consumed our sister town, Tyrone.

Rev. James McLaughlin has been called to Philipsburg to assist Rev. Dr. Clerc, rector of the Episcopal church there.

A tarantula was killed recently on a bunch of bananas that had been consigned to George D. Hess' store at Beech Creek.

The Hope fire company, of Philipsburg, won a hub race from the Houtzdale fire company at the latter place, on July 4th.

Bishop Thomas McGovern will return from Rome in August. Preparations are being made at Harrisburg to welcome him home.

Samuel Motter and Emanuel Herman caught two hundred suckers while fishing near Sanderson's mill, in Nittany valley, one night last week.

Judge Mayer having refused to grant a motion to quash the proceedings that had been begun looking to an investigation of certain Lycoming county officials, it will now go on.

There were 15,630,268 children in the public schools in the United States during the year just closed. This was an increase of 450,000 over the preceding year's attendance.

According to the Reformatory Record the interior of Ward B. at that institution "was recently white-washed by the class in painting." This is certainly making laborers out of artists.

The remains of Pierce Barner, a young man who was killed in a saw mill at Mt. Wolf, York county, on Thursday, were interred in the Zion cemetery, this county, by relatives last Saturday.

H. H. Rosser, of Mill Hall, has in his possession a piece of the original Atlantic telegraph cable laid by Cyrus W. Field, in 1857. The relic has been in Mr. Rosser's possession for nearly thirty years.

Farmers in the vicinity of Philipsburg threaten to boycott that town if hitching posts are not replaced on the paved streets. They were removed in order to save the street, but farmers who do business there demand places to tie their horses.

Thomas English, a 22 year Altoona carpenter, was arrested at Philipsburg, on July 4th, for stealing a ticket punch and a pocket book from conductor Levi Poters desk in a Beech Creek R. R. baggage car. The young man was taken to jail in Clearfield in default of bail. He said stealing was a mania with him.

Mrs. Helen Gilkeson, wife of State bank examiner T. B. Gilkeson, died at her home at Bristol, Pa., on Sunday, after an illness of nearly two months with nervous prostration. The many friends she made while a guest at the home of Mrs. D. H. Hastings, in this place, will be pained to learn of her death. Mrs. Gilkeson was a most charming and lovable woman whose husband and daughters will receive the sincere sympathy of all those who have known her.

The coroner's jury censured the mayor of Williamsport for not enforcing the ordinance that requires the display of danger signals on piles of material on the streets. Last Thursday night a man and two women were upset from a buggy by running into a pile of stone, on Park avenue in that city, and thrown in front of a trolley car. One woman was killed outright, the other was fatally injured and the man was seriously cut and bruised.

A COW BOY AND NO MISTAKE.

Last winter a raw-boned, light haired, one eyed individual of whose history no one ever learned anything, dropped into The Pennsylvania State College and registered as a special three month's student. Aside from his somewhat woolly looks the stranger seemed meek as Moses until some verdant Freshmen conceived the idea that he needed a little hazing. This they planned to do one night. So entering his room they began explaining their mission by telling him to do this, that and the other thing. The new student didn't pay much attention to them at first, but when they became too demonstrative he whipped out a big revolver and those Freshies might have been taken for legless boys in less time than it takes to tell it. In fact they were all so badly scared that they didn't see the owner of the big gun shoot the fuzz off the tail of a moth miller that had been hibernating in the dirty lamp globe and had found its way to the outside.

This little episode revealed the fellow's identity. He said his name was "Winchester Frank," and no one contradicted it. The other day when Pawnee Bills' show was here the first fellow we noticed was "Winchester Frank" astride a buckskin pony and with a brace of big guns in his belt.

He is a cow boy, sure enough, and if he goes back to school next winter he will more than likely be left severely alone.

MR. FOSTER'S WEATHER IDEAS.

"My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from July 6th to July 10th and 12th to 16th. The next weather disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about July 17, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 10th, the great central valleys 19th to 21st and eastern States 22d. General rains will not occur with this disturbance and heavy rains will fall only in a few places of small extent. The rain period of the month will have passed before the dates of this storm wave and it will come in the drought period of the month. I do not mean to say that a general drought will occur, only that the last half of July, for the United States, will produce less rain than the first half of the month. The drought sections for July were noted in my last bulletin, which I regard as the most important weather bulletin I have issued. This storm wave will also bring some of the hottest days of the month, very hot in the Atlantic States. The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 17th, great central valleys 19th and eastern States 21st. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 20th, great central valleys 22d and eastern States 24th."

DIED IN THE WEST.

Many Centre county friends will be sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Benjamin Smetzer, which occurred at her home at Dakota, Ill., on Tuesday morning, after three weeks' suffering from a paralytic stroke. The lady had been in failing health for nearly three years and came east about two years ago to visit friends. While here she was greatly recuperated and enjoyed herself at the home of ex-county Treasurer Gramley and with friends in Pennsylvania.

Deceased leaves a husband to mourn her death. With him she moved from this county about twenty years ago. She was a sister of Joseph and Albert Hoy, of State College; of John Hoy, of Hubbersburg and of Mrs. Louisa Stover, of Madisonburg. She was a zealous member of the Reformed church and her home was always a hospitable stopping place for Centre county folks traveling in the West.

A TRIO OF OLD WOMEN.

The lower end of Nittany valley is the home of three remarkable old ladies. They are all active though past the eightieth mile stone. They are Mrs. Hunt, of the vicinity of Lamar, who has attained her 82nd year; "Grandmother" McKibben, aged 83, of Abdera, who has just recovered from a severe illness; and "Aunt" Margaret Brown, of Salona, whose 93rd birthday will be celebrated some time this month.

Notice.—Bald Eagle Grange No. 151 P of H is closed until Aug 3rd, Saturday, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. All members are requested to be on hand; as there is business demands attention.

HENRY HEATON, secretary.

Last week a very pleasant family reunion took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baum on Bishop street, and for a short time the house resembled a popular summer resort. Mrs. Nathan Reisman, Miss Selina, who has been visiting her sister Hilda for a year, and Jake were all home from Evansville, Ind., and for the first time in four years the family were home together. The other guests of the house are Mrs. Herman Anspach, of Metropolis, Ill., her son Nathan and the Misses Lowenstein, of Evansville, Ind.

The rolling mill of the Valentine Iron Co. was put in operation on Monday morning after a shut down of a number of weeks. Extensive repairs were made to the dam and water-ways.

News Purely Personal.

—Will Matern of Philadelphia is a guest at Mr. Caleb Kephart's beautiful country home at Fillmore.

—Miss Ma Twitmore's home on Millersville, where she has been studying kindergarten for three months.

—County Sup't. of schools, C. L. Gramley, attended the meeting of the state teacher's association at Mt. Gretna last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Lyon and their children were in from Pittsburgh visiting his father, Mr. Stewart Lyon, and other relatives.

—Col. and Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds are entertaining the former's sister, Maud, at their home, corner Allegheny and Lion streets.

—Miss Sara Bayard, daughter of Col. George Bayard, of Spring street, is off on a short visit to her uncle "Bob" Cassidy, ex-Mayor of Canton, Ohio.

—Mrs. John Lauth, of St. Louis, Mo., who is spending the summer with relatives at Howland, was in town this week the guest of Mrs. W. T. Speer.

—Mr. George Valentine, formerly of this place, but now a resident of Baltimore, has been visiting his brother and sister in this place for a few days.

—Capt. J. A. Hunter, of Stormtown, was an arrival in town yesterday morning. He looked ed and walked as leisurely as if he harvesting up his way all done.

—Miss Jenkins, a charming Camden, N. J. girl who had been Patty Lane's guest for three weeks, at her home on east Lion street, left Bellefonte Monday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Al. S. Garman and son Ira spent Centennial week in Williamsport. They returned Monday evening very enthusiastic over the good time they had had.

—Mr. Zeigler and his daughter Mrs. Smith, of Sunbury, enjoyed the quiet of the Fourth in this place. They were the guests of their relative Mr. S. A. McQuisition and family.

—John Rupp must have gotten tangled up in his calendar for he came down from Linden Hill on Tuesday night and here the circus wasn't until the next day. What a sad mistake.

—Sup't Frank Clemon came down to town from Scotia, yesterday, to let his friends here know that he had no idea of "giving up the ghost." He said he was a pretty sick man last week, but looks well enough now.

—Miss Florence Honck, of Hazleton, a daughter of Rev. Wm. H. Honck, former pastor of the Methodist church at this place, visited at the home of Mrs. F. W. Crider, on Lion street until yesterday. She spent ten days here.

—Dr. Partt and his family are up in Wellsville visiting his friends. The doctor has not taken his practice in good hands and is not taking his vacation before it is earned or needed. He has been far from well for some time.

—John Montgomery Ward Esq., came over from New York to spend the Fourth with his relatives and friends in Bellefonte. He fished for trout while here, but wasn't nearly as successful with the flies as when certain of the New York base ball team.

—Capt. Christ Dale came in from his home in Benner township, on Wednesday morning, and took a train for Philadelphia where he underwent treatment for lung and throat troubles. His condition is really serious and has caused his friends much alarm.

—Mrs. Hannah Van Dyke, of Lock Haven and her son-in-law, Mr. William Esweiler, of Philadelphia, were in town Wednesday for a few hours on their way to Potters Mills, Mrs. Van Dyke's old home, where they spent Thursday visiting friends and looking after business.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Valentine with their baby boy came in from Crafton, a suburb of Pittsburg, to spend their summer vacation with Miss Emily Natt, Arthur's aunt. The young man is a son of A. S. Valentine who moved from this place to Atlantic City, N. J., some years ago.

—John and Ned, Blanchard left for New York, on Monday morning, when they sailed Tuesday for Carlsbad, Germany. They will tarry at that famous resort about a month with the hope of recuperating John's shattered health, then make a short tour of the continent before returning home.

—Thomas Collins has returned from the hospital in Philadelphia where he had been undergoing treatment and a surgical operation. We are pleased to hear that his condition is very much improved and that it is now only a matter of a few days' rest until his friends will see him about again in his former vigor.

—W. Fred Jackson laid down his pen in the Jackson, Crider & Hastings bank, in this place, on Friday night, and started off for Asbury Park next morning to attend the National bicycle meet that is holding there this week. Fred will see all the "cracks" go then spend the rest of the month in resting at the different resorts.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed B. Rankin came up from Harrisburg last week to spend Sunday with Mrs. Stott here. Ed took the opportunity to settle up his business with the Western Union office of which he was manager previous to his accepting a clerkship in the Insurance Commissioner's office at Harrisburg, and now John Wilson is permanently installed in his place.

—Young Mr. Thomas, from Snow Shoe, a son of our old friend and subscriber John Thomas, was in town on Wednesday and when he told us that he "wouldn't walk across the street to see the best show on the road" we thought there was a suspicious twinkle in his eye, but how could we doubt a man who keeps his subscription paid up like Mr. Thomas does.

—S. S. Pletcher who has a good position in the 4th Auditor's office at Washington, D. C., was home visiting friends during the past days. He spent part of his vacation with his brother A. A. at Nittany, and was in Bellefonte on Wednesday. He said it wasn't the circus that brought him to town, but when we saw post-master Kennedy from the College slipping out to the show, after he had told us he was only in town for a little business, in the morning, we made up our minds that where circuses are concerned the fewer questions asked the less there will be chatted up against some fellows in St. Peter's big book.

—Blacksmith Charles Shearer, whose anvil keeps up an incessant ring, at the rear of the WATCHMAN building, was in Jersey Shore, on Tuesday, and of course our tympans had a rest. Last week while on a trip to Williamsport's Centennial he picked up a pocket book containing over $300 and several large checks. He kept it until he returned here, when he figured out who the owner was from papers it contained. To get full identification, however, he wrote the gentleman and the reply being quite satisfactory he expressed the wallet at once to its proper owner. Soon after he received a present of $15 for his honesty. Charles is none of the kind to keep anything that does not belong to him.

—Jacob Bortoff, of Lemont, is one of those prosperous farmers whose prosperity has been brought about by making hay while the sun shines, but even with the sprinkling of gray that tells the years on Mr. Bortoff's hair and beard he still likes a little amusement now and then. On Wednesday he was in town Pawnee Bill's wild west show was here too. It is needless to say that he saw it.

—Many of the glass workers who claim Bellefonte as their home are back here for the summer vacation. John, Rob, Minnie and Alice White all returned from Anderson, Ind., last week. The Bryans are back and George Snyder and Thomas Jennings are both on hand doubtless waiting for John Anderson's annual fishing expedition to the Bald Eagle. It seems that the fondness these people have for Bellefonte will never die.

—If every town in the East is represented at the Christian Endeavor Convention by as goodly a number as has gone from this place in the last few days, the Bostonians have saved themselves a peck of trouble by the question "answerser," they have stationed in Hittler and while looking on every street corner Miss Caroline Hunter and Elizabeth Stewart of the State College, with Miss Jennie Strickland and Millie Smith started bright and early Tuesday morning, to go by the way of Fall River and as they had Berk Bayard with them they will have no need of the information bureau; but Miss Jane McCampont and Miss Ella Levy, who did not get started until Wednesday afternoon, are no doubt by this time doing their full share to keep the "answerser" busy. Thousands of delegates and visitors are attending the great convention and the staid old city is treating them royally.

—On Tuesday John Montgomery Ward received a letter from New York announcing that, his examination having proven satisfactory, he had been admitted to the practice of law in that city. "Monte" gave up base-ball with the end of last season and has devoted his time since then to a fuller preparation for the bar than he received at Columbia law school. For the past ten days he has been loafing around his boyhood haunts in this place and he finds it pleasant recreation too; this fishing, gunning, pure air and good water that he gets up in Centre county.

The annual camp meeting of the Juniata Valley association, at Newton Hamilton, Mifflin county, is scheduled to take place from August 13th to 23rd inclusive. The grounds will be open for occupants on August 1st, so that all who wish to can occupy their tents at that time. The arrangements are about the same as in previous years. Announcements can be had on application to the secretary.

The Altoona and Philipsburg connecting railroad is advertised for sheriff's sale at Clearfield, on July 19th.

The bond holders are pushing the road and it is understood that after the sale it will go under different management. The road extends from Philipsburg to Houtzdale and is known to the people along the line as the "Alli-popper."

Rev. John Bright, of Topeka, Kansas, at one time pastor of the Lutheran church in Nittany valley, will lecture on Oddfellowship at the I. O. O. F. picnic at Hecla, on the 20th inst. It will take place during the morning.
