THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Oats harvest is on now.

—One of J. S. Herman's horses choked to death, near Lemont, one day last week.

—An interesting tennis tournament is in progress on the association grounds here.

—50cts. will have the WATCHMAN sent to your address from now until Jan. 1st, 1896.

—The Pennsylvania railroad company advertises a cheap excursion to the sea-shore on an inside page.

—Company B. 5th Reg., N. G. P. will leave for camp at Glen Cairn, above Pittsburg, this morning.

—Tell your neighbors that they can get the best paper in Centre county from now until Jan. 1st, 1896, for 50cts.

—A fine grey horse owned by Perry Gentzel, below town, died with lock jaw on Wednesday. It ran a nail into its foot.

—Curt Thompson has been elected principal of the Snow Shoe schools. He has taught at Cold Stream several years.

—A. F. Harter, of Millheim, fell off his bicycle, the other day, breaking his collar bone. He was on his way to Coburn.

—Craig Hunter, of Lemont, has bought himself a bicycle and is learning to ride it. He is a novice on the saddle's boss too.

—Newly Bailey and his Magnet have asked bad boys not to play ball any more on Sunday. Of course it will stop forthwith.

—A three month's old child of John Wegner died at the home of its parents, on north Spring street, last Thursday night.

—Junior members of the Y. M. C. A. are at Eagle's Nest, Spring creek, camping for a week. Secretary Cota is master of ceremonies for the boys.

—A Bellefonte Central passenger train killed a good sized calf on the farm operated by James Waddle, near Hunter's park, Saturday evening.

—Joseph Righthour has purchased ex-sheriff W. A. Ishler's interest in the livery firm of Ishler & Righthour and will hereafter conduct the business alone.

—Parish's drug store is now temporarily moved into the new room in the Pruner block, where it will be located until the old room is thoroughly remodeled.

—On Sunday evening Rev. W. W. Hess, of Boalsburg, will preach a sermon for rail-road men in the Evangelical church, in this place. Every body is invited.

—St. John's Catholic church, of this place, will picnic at Hecla Park, on Wednesday, August 7th. Every-one is invited to attend. The proceeds will be for the new parochial residence.

—These nine cent sales don't bother wise people, they buy where bottom cent sales are going on every day, without special fuss. Lyon & Co's new advertisement contains bargains for you.

—Mr. and Mrs. John T. Laurie lost their sweet little daughter Martha, on Tuesday morning. She was seized with convulsions and died from exhaustion. Burial was made Wednesday morning.

—The county Commissioners have realized at last that the Sheriff has papers and documents in his possession constantly that should be protected in case of fire. Accordingly they have ordered a large safe for the jail.

—The State College Methodist Sunday school picnic at Hunter's park, last Saturday, was spoiled by the rain. Most of the picnickers returned to the College on a morning train. They could not stand the immersion.

—John Davis, employed at Morris' Coleville lime kilns, fell through a trellis early, on Tuesday morning last, injuring himself to that extent that his life was at first despaired of. He was attended by Dr. Hayes and is now rapidly recovering.

—James R. Hughes has been elected associate principal of the Bellefonte Academy. This is an honor meritoriously and judiciously bestowed. Mr. Hughes has been untiring in his work for the advancement of the Academy and holds testimonials of the most complimentary kind as to his scholarly attainments.

—Prof. John Hamilton is proving to the people of College township that brains and good roads go together. He is the supervisor and has undertaken a system of road making that already evidences its practicability. The College township roads are growing better every day and all because the work that is done on them is made effective.

NEARLY A SUCCESSFUL FORGERY.

On Tuesday of last week a fairly well dressed man, about 28 years old, of medium stature, with mustache, entered the counting room of the Penns Valley Banking Co. at Centre Hall. He presented a check signed by Enoch Hugg, a reputable Milesburg merchant, and asked for payment of the same. It was drawn on the First National bank, of this place, for the amount of $197.00 payable to — Carpenter. At the time the stranger presented the check he handed cashier Wm. B. Mingle a letter in which it was stated that the check had been drawn too late, Monday night to get it cashed in Bellefonte and that Carpenter had to leave early Tuesday morning, before the banks were open. Carpenter said he was going to buy cattle. The whole thing seemed very plausible but to make everything certain the cashier called up the First National to ascertain whether Mr. Hugg's check was good for $197.00. He was informed that it was and then promptly paid the amount to Carpenter. Before going to the bank the sharper had ordered a buggy from Boozer's livery stable in which he said he intended to drive to Bellefonte, but here is where the rest of his nicely planned scheme was knocked into a cocked hat. Mr. Boozer, the liveryman, happened to be in the bank just when the stranger appeared to get his check cashed, but was called out later to look after the buggy that had been ordered. When he found out that the fellow in the bank was the same one who wanted to go to Bellefonte he thought there was something suspicious about it and went back to the bank to notify them of his suspicions, meanwhile he had ordered the buggy held until he returned to the stable.

Upon learning that Carpenter intended coming to Bellefonte instead of driving "out into the country three miles to buy cattle" as he told in the bank, Mr. Mingle called up the First National again and found out that the number on Carpenter's check did not correspond with the series in Mr. Hugg's check book. The latter gentleman was called up and pronounced both letter and check a forgery.

Fortunately it was not too late, for while Carpenter had left the bank Mr. Boozer's shrewdness had detained him in town and he was arrested (?) by bogus constable, Frank Crawford, a few moments later, at the instance of Mr. Mingle. He was made pay back the money and did it all but a few cents, which he had spent at the hotel bar. After doing this they left him go.

It was wrong not to bring the fellow to justice as the probability is great that he will continue such tricks.

THEY LEAVE FOR CAMP TO-DAY.

Co. B. 5th Reg. N. G. P. will leave for its annual military encampment with the second Brigade, at Glen Cairn, this morning. The boys are not in as good shape as they have been in the past, but if there is anything in determination to try they will still make a creditable showing while away. The following is the roster of officers and men who will go:

Commander, First Lieut. Geo. L. Jackson; Second Lieutenant, Hugh S. Taylor; Sergeants, P. D. Garbrick, Claud W. Smith, James W. Alexander, J. R. Hughes and L. M. Reardon; Corporals, Chas. Taylor, Chas. Dorworth, John Loe, Wm. Smeltzer, Harry Rine, and Chas. Garis; Musicians, Samuel B. Shoud, W. M. Hedding; Privates: C. Crossmyer, W. H. Crosthwaite, J. H. Cole, G. W. Fishburn, Wm. Fishburn, J. G. Flemy, I. C. Holmes, Grant Hoover, B. L. Hunter, Harry Keller, J. F. Koch, Geo. A. Krapp, Cyrus Lucas, F. E. Latterman, Wallace Markle, Geo. McKee, Geo. Miller, Harry Miller, Maurice Miller, James Morrison, A. G. Noll, Fred Robinson, John Robinson, A. R. Ruit, C. H. Steel, H. G. Swabb, W. H. Shawley, E. E. Sunday, John Spearly, A. D. Smeltzer, Ernest Shine, E. C. Tuten, E. E. Taylor, Wm. Tonner, F. E. Taylor, C. E. Taylor, F. H. Taylor, Wm. Wetzel, Willis Williams, Chas. Schroyer, M. N. Trone and Cal Pifer.

TWO GRAVE BLUNDERS.—In giving account of a Phillipsburg scrap, in our last issue, we said that Bob Cole had undertaken to separate two fighting women, whereupon they both set to beating him, so that he had to take to his heels for safety.

Now a great many people have thought that the Bob Cole referred to was Robert Cole Esq., Bellefonte's architect, but we want to assure you that such was not the case. Our Mr. Cole has't been in Phillipsburg for several years and furthermore he was in doubt as to whether he "would interfere when women get to quarreling."

In publishing an account of Lewis H. Watson being tramped to death by a horse, in our last week's issue, we said he had been buried at "Hickory shingle" grave yard. Now this statement sorely grieved Irvin Walker, Esq., who wanted to know "who in the h— ever heard of a hickory shingle" so to make amends we will state that the burying place referred to is known as the Messiah grave yard.

—Don't fail to read Shaeffer's ad.

—George Deitz has sold his farm on Marsh Creek and bought another some where on Wallace run.

—Think of it, a paper like the WATCHMAN from now till Jan. 1st, '96, for only 50cts.

—Two hogs owned by Joe McCloskey, of Marsh Creek, ate paris green, that was intended for potato bugs, and are dead.

—The Eagleville Baptist Sunday school will picnic on August 10th, at the old picnic ground above the P. R. R. station.

—Lyon & Co's new advertisement on another page will give you an idea of the marvelous low prices at their store just now.

—Samuel Shoemaker had two ribs broken and was otherwise injured in a runaway accident in Lock Haven, on Saturday afternoon.

—Mr. Clark, Irvin Spangler, Dora Bechdol and Annie Kunes have been elected teachers of the Eagleville schools for the ensuing year.

—Labor day falls on the first Saturday in September in Pennsylvania. In most other States the first Monday in September is set aside as Labor day.

—A two-year old baby of L. M. Patterson fell out of a second story window of its home, in Lock Haven, on Friday, and was not hurt. It alighted on its shoulder.

—Mrs. H. E. Crouse has returned to her home in Aaronsburg after having undergone an operation for the removal of a tumor. It was performed in a Philadelphia hospital.

—Taxpayers of the old town of Huntingdon will have to pay a rate of forty mills this year. A new school building has necessitated the raise. Tyrone has a 2 1/2 mill levy, the highest ever known there.

—A half ton of rock fell on W. W. Waters and his son David in the Farndorville fire clay mine, on Thursday. The boy was crushed to death, while his father escaped with a compound fracture of the skull and a broken arm.

—The residence of Mrs. Sarah M. McCloskey, at Eagleville, was totally destroyed by fire last Thursday. Nearly all of the contents were burned. The origin of the fire is not known. The loss is placed at $2,000, with $1,000 insurance.

—"Prof." Davis, the one legged magic lantern show man who got to know Mrs. Redding, of Howard, too well, was released from jail, on Tuesday, after fifteen months incarceration. He will be remembered as the individual whose horse was drowned during the spring flood of '94, while he was trying to cross the creek below Howard.

—"The Phillipsburg Journal" says:—"Dr. J. W. Clark, of Bellefonte, a graduate of State College and Jefferson medical college of Philadelphia, has located in Phillipsburg. His office is in the Barnes block. We heartily welcome him to our town and we trust he will receive a liberal share of the public patronage." Dr. Clark is a son of Mr. James Clark of near this place.

—Fifteen year old Annie Betts, of Homestead, Pa. was found the other day by her father working for a Clinton county farmer. She had run off with Main's circus and traveled with it as far as Lock Haven, where she left it and began service as a domestic. Her father is one of Carnegie's mill men and could give no explanation for the girl's running away. She returned home cheerfully.

—While Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sweeley were at market in Lock Haven, last Saturday morning, their fine farm house, near Salona, was totally destroyed by fire, with most of its contents. They had started away at a very early hour leaving the nine children asleep in the house. One of the daughters was awakened later by a strangling sensation and found the room filled with smoke. She sprang from her bed to find the summer kitchen on fire. Only three of the children were able to save any clothing, so narrow was their escape. The loss on the house is $1000.

—Charles Smith Sr., father of ex county Treasurer Charles Smith, died suddenly at the home of his son, on east Bishop street, on Saturday night. Deceased was 82 years and 6 months old. His demise was not at all expected as he had been down town several times, on Saturday, and seemed better than he had been for some time. While preparing for bed he called Mrs. Smith and complained of feeling sick at the stomach, she sent for a physician at once, but the old gentleman sank rapidly into unconsciousness and died within an hour. Burial was made Tuesday morning from the home on Bishop street, Rev. Robt. E. Wright, of the Episcopal church, having officiated.

CLOSE ALL WINDOWS DURING A THUNDER STORM.

—Taking for granted that all of our readers are not of the persuasion that believes that "what is to be is to be" we want to advise every one of the danger through open windows during this hot summer weather when sharp electrical storms are likely to come up frequently and suddenly; often-times bursting in fury before you realize their gathering.

Under such circumstances the house is very apt to be standing wide open, as the saying is, with windows all hoisted and doors thrown wide. Such a condition is solely to create a draft of cooling air which is very refreshing under ordinary circumstances, but makes an excellent conductor for electricity. The electric current is very apt to be attracted by such a draft, as was the case in Tyrone, on Sunday night. Three lightning jumped in at an open window in Eli Garber's home and after tearing things up a little went the way it came.

FOUR ITEMS FROM THE VICINITY OF SHILOH.

—The Christian Endeavorers of the Shiloh church are looking forward with pleasure for the 10th of Aug. when they will hold their picnic in McBride's grove to which they have invited the church, Sabbath school and congregation, as well as several other societies. All expect a good dinner and good time.

—Harvest homeservice will be held in the Shiloh Lutheran church on Aug. 18th at 10 o'clock a. m., by Rev. G. W. Leisher, the pastor.

—On Saturday last the following gentlemen Samuel Zettle, James Peters, Frank Kline and Wesley Tate, with their best girls, picnicked at Penn's Cave. They report having had a good time in spite of the rain.

—Mr. D. M. Tate, while out driving, met with what might have been a serious accident. He was thrown from his cart head foremost into the road, but escaped with a few bruises and scratches.

A SAD DEATH.—Mrs. Katharine, wife of Wm. Harrison, died at the home of her father Mr. Ross, near Pleasant Gap, on Saturday, under most distressing circumstances. She was the second daughter of Mr. Ross, was about twenty-four years old and was married last fall. Her death resulted from confinement, the babe having died also. Deceased was the second wife of Mr. Harrison the other having died under exactly similar circumstances.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning. A large number of grief stricken friends followed her remains to their last resting place. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery at the Gap and Revs. Zehner and Young officiated.

TO THE SEA-SHORE.

—On August 15th and 29th, the Beech Creek R. R. will run two more low rate excursions to the sea-shore. The season at the Ocean summer resorts is now at its height and the low rates and excellent train service in connection with the Beech Creek route, come at a very opportune time. The fares good to return within ten days, to Atlantic City, Sea Isle and Cape May, are from Lock Haven, $5.50, from Phillipsburg, $8.35, from Clearfield $8.90 and proportionate rates from all other points. Stop off can be made at Philadelphia. In this connection it would be well to state that the rates given above cover transportation over the Reading Railroad's double track "Royal Route to the Sea", the safest and fleetest scheduled trains in the world.

THE VICTIM OF A PREMATURE EXPLOSION.

—An accident occurred at Morris' Coleville quarries, early Tuesday morning, whereby Lemuel Poorman was terribly burned on his right side. His face and arm being the worst burned. He had put in a blast at the quarry and while engaged at that work some powder fell into a crevice in the rock. It became ignited later and caused a premature explosion, resulting in the serious burning of the unfortunate man. He will be laid up about a week.

THE LOGAN PICNIC.—The Logan engine company will hold their annual picnic at Hunter's Park this year. Thursday, Aug. 15th, has been settled as the date on which it will be held. A great time is anticipated by the Logans. They will run a train from this place every hour and all sorts of amusement will be provided, together with good meals.

The entire Junior class of The Pennsylvania State College has been notified of suspension because of failure to make up an examination in History in which the class was conditioned last Fall. The trouble arose out of the stealing of the examination papers and cribbing in examination. The class would not deny the charge and suspension was the natural result.

—Rosie Heinle, aged 52 years, died at Cameron, on Wednesday morning and was brought here last evening. She was a sister of Mrs. Corney Bland, from whose house at the glass works, she will be buried this afternoon at 2:30. Consumption caused her death.

News Purely Personal.

—General Wilbur F. Reeder returned from his European trip yesterday morning.

—Mr. Miller Hurlinger, of Phillipsburg, is in town visiting Frank Shugert for a few days.

—Alexander Dixon, of Warriorsmark, has gone to the National soldiers home at Dayton, Ohio.

—Mr. Edward Hannan, of Milton, is visiting at the home of E. L. Powers, on Spring street.

—John M. Dale Esq., Judge Beaver's law partner had business in Tyrone Monday morning.

—Clay Poorman Esq., one of Tyrone's hustling business men, paid Bellefonte a visit on Monday.

—Monroe Armor, of east Linn street, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Claude Jones, in Tyrone.

—W. W. Curtis, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with his mother Mrs. A. G. Curtis, in this place.

—Miss Anna Mann, who has been in Newton Hamilton for a month, came home Wednesday afternoon.

—Mrs. Harry Williams entertained Miss Clara Edmiston, of Philadelphia, for a few days last week.

—Mrs. Sechler and her daughter Miss Anna, are visiting in Frederick, Md., where they went Tuesday morning.

—Miss Ohnmacht, distinguished and splendid looking as ever, left Thursday for Baltimore, Md., where she will stay for some weeks.

—Mrs. M. A. Kirk, with Harold and Norman, left this morning for Clearfield, where they will visit Mrs. Kirk's sister Mrs. Rhinesmith.

—Miss Maud Moore, of Lemont, was in town Thursday, on her way home from Boston, where she attended the Christian Endeavor convention.

—Prof. M. C. Hilseng, who is head of the new department of Mining Engineering at The Pennsylvania State College, was a visitor in town yesterday.

—Mrs. Jack McClelland, of Allegheny, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. L. Spangler, on Allegheny street. Mrs. McClelland is recovering from a recent serious illness.

—The venerable Shannon McCormick, the old Democratic war horse of the east precinct of Ferguson township, was in town yesterday with his son Charles B. McCormick.

—Harris Heylman has left his desk at the First National bank for a brief sojourn at Atlantic City, whither he has gone, with his father, for the benefit of his health.

—Mrs. George Brew, of Grantsville, Md., and Miss West, of Baltimore, arrived at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Jackson, on Linn street, on Monday evening.

—Sup't. W. C. Patterson of The Penn's State College experimental farms, spent the latter part of last week with friends in and about Warriorsmark. His youngest daughter, Miss Nell, accompanied him.

—Lieutenant H. S. Taylor and corporal Gares left with a detail of Co. B, for Glen Cairn, on Wednesday morning. They will have tents up ready for the company when they arrive at camp to-night.

—Esquire W. H. Corman, of Rebersburg township, is combining pleasure with business, on a trip to Illinois, to which State he started on Monday last to dispose of a farm property belonging to his father's estate.

—Abso Markle, State College's good natured, healthy looking butcher was in town last Friday showing his son the sights. Abso doesn't seem to be growing any thinner than he used to be. Indeed he is a regular walking sign of prosperity.

—Mrs. Barbara Rankin and her daughter, Miss Bella, are home from a seven week's visit in Harrisburg and Phillipsburg. They have with them for the month Mrs. Rankin's little grand-daughter, Sarah Hastings, and her nurse.

—Mr. Philip Barnhart was in to see us Tuesday morning in all that rain storm. He didn't mind the wet, he said, "and then I had a little money that I thought belonged to you." What a happy lot printers would be if every one looked at the subscription question as Mr. Barnhart does.

—While on a visit to State College, on Saturday, we met John Fortney, the hustling Boalsburg player. He seemed up to his ears in work and said that he is really so busy that he never gets time to come to Bellefonte any more. The fact that his work is always satisfactory is explanation of his being kept so busy.

—Ed. Kerlin, who manages Brockerhoff's Roopburg flouring mill in such a way as to make it a very profitable industry for the owners, spends many of his evenings in this place. He is a young man of excellent character and seems to have inherited most of his lamented father's knack for running a mill properly.

—Thos. K. Morris who makes his home at the Bush House while looking after his father's extensive lime interests here, spent Sunday with his parents in Tyrone. On Wednesday morning he left for Milton where his father is opening extensive lime operations. It is possible Tom will be located there permanently, hereafter.

—Mr. A. Katz, of the Globe dry goods and millinery store, left yesterday morning for the east to purchase his fall stock. He has full confidence in Bellefonte and says he intends to put in the largest stock of cloaks, blankets, comforts, etc., connected with the best assorted stock of dry goods and notions that has ever been carried in this city.

—Among the twelve or more Bellefonters who left on the C. R. R. of Pa., excursion to Niagara Falls, on Tuesday morning, were Mrs. Morris Cowdick, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Showers, Miss Sallie Miller and Miss Lizzie Gehret. While away Mrs. Cowdick will visit her son Will, who has lately begun the manufacture of brick, together with a general building business at the Falls.

—John Mullinger, of Pleasant Gap, was in town on Tuesday and took the opportunity to call at this office and renew his subscription. He likes to have his paper paid for in advance and in that respect he is like Mr. J. J. Garbrick, of Spring township, who called for the same purpose on Friday. We are always glad to see visitors, but doubly so, such ones as these gentlemen.

—Among the thirty people, who took advantage of the Pennsylvania excursion yesterday morning to Atlantic City, were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mingle and their two daughters, Helen and Roxie, Sadie and Helen Malin, Mrs. S. M. Buck and her son Will, Mr. and Mrs. John Nighthart, Miss Kitty Foster and her niece Tamazine, Mary Hoy, Mollie Eckart, Mrs. Ruth Sharp and her grand-daughter Ruth Stringfellow, Mrs. Ed. Cook and her daughter Hazel, Mollie Snyder, the Misses Pearl, Howley, Lowenstein, Anna Loe, Mrs. Anspach and Messrs. Henry Lyon, Will Runkle, and Homer Barnes.

A BIG CIRCUS COMING.

—Scribner & Smith's circus is coming to Bellefonte, Sat. Aug. 10. The above circus will be twice its former size and all new. They will have 250 people, 125 horses, 10 cages of animals, three open pens in parade, three golden cars, two bands of music and an extra strong ring performance. Mr. Wm. Lowanda, for many years the principal barbeck rider for Barnum, will be one of their features, and another feature will be a giant elephant, Bazal, the largest in this country. The following is from the New York Clipper of March 7.

"J. D. Harrison, a former New York newspaper man, but now connected with Scribner & Smith's circus, is in this city. After endeavoring for two years, Harrison has succeeded in obtaining possession for his firm of the largest elephant in the world, Bazal. The beast was bought by Scribner & Smith's foreign agent from a Hindoo trader two years ago at Tassindon, Bhotan, India, but the authorities there would not allow the animal to be removed. After almost endless red tape, Harrison succeeded in winning the Maharajah's favor and that dignitary ordered the authorities not to interfere with the elephant's removal, and the brute is now with this show.

HONESTY IN THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY.—It is little wonder that George Brandon thinks he has found a veritable Eden in his new home at Carlisle. Read the following advertisement, which is taken from the Carlisle Daily Herald, issue of July 9th, and you will quickly agree with us when we say that the former proprietor of the Brockerhoff house here ought to be happy in falling in with such a lot of honest people.

FOR SALE AT WHEELBARROW PRICES.

A TOP BUGGY. Has seen one year's light service. This buggy bears the manufacturer's plate of the "Lancaster Safety Buggy Works," and for this reason may commend itself to some. As for me, the machine has been unsatisfactory, and for this reason I desire to sell it to some person who has an admiration for this class of vehicles. I will attach no guarantee to the machine and whoever buys must depend on his eyes for his mark. I may state for the information of purchasers that I know more about buggies now than I used to.

—While Clarence Ohl, of Woolrich, Clinton county, was out berrying, last Thursday, he became separated from other members of the party. A large bear got after him, but the young man promptly climbed a tree at the foot of which bruin squatted for about an hour. It left, after a while, and Ohl climbed down and struck a bee-line for home.

—The body that was found near Fowler station last fall, has been identified as that of J. H. Garman, of Fulton, Mo. Identification was brought about through the efforts of Squire H. H. Osman who sent the clothes to Mo.

WHERE YOU CAN BUY THE CHEAPEST.—It is a question of dollars and cents after all. No matter what people say it is as natural to save a penny in buying as it is to eat dinner at the dinner hour. Opportunities to make great savings are not often to be had, but Lyon & Co's, big advertisement in this issue affords just such a chance. Read it and profit by the bargains it holds out. A dollar saved is a dollar earned.
