 Calls It a Fake.
 A Furrier Says the Massacre Story Was Coined in a Saloon.

E. Meheey, a furrier of Salt Lake, Utah, who has just returned from the Jackson's Hole county via Rexburg, Ida., with a consignment of elkheads and bearskins, which he bought from the Indians who have been hunting in that region says the stories of danger are mostly fiction. He was present in the saloon at Rexburg when the story of the massacre of fifty settlers was concocted and written to be sent out.

"The people up there," said Meheey, "regard the whole business as something of a joke. Of course they know it has its serious side, but they are all pioneers, used to serious things, and don't mind the danger. Their object in calling for troops is to get the Indians out, so as to save the game for the settlers and for the tourist hunters, who furnish employment and revenue for the settlers in the summer. Incidentally, they make considerable out of supplies for troops who come in."

"I have an order for two Indian scalps. When I told the chief of scouts with the Ninth cavalry what I wanted he laughed. 'You are more likely to get darkey scalps,' he said, meaning to get hurt than are the Indians."

"Beaver Dick, who has lived in Jackson's Hole for forty years and has a Bannock wife, told me that the Indians might make some trouble, but that there would be no raids on settlers. He said if anybody made trouble it would be the settlers, not Indians. He has gone to the Gros Ventre mountains to advise the Indians to keep quiet until the excitement dies down."

Cool July Weather.
 The Temperature Four Degrees or More Below Normal.

July has left quite a weather record. Even the old citizens, who, as a rule, are weather standbys, can't recall a July so cool. Observations taken by the government weather bureau in Pittsburgh show that the aggregate maximum temperature of the month just closed is 112 degrees below the normal; in other words, each day of the month on an average was four degrees cooler than July days usually are. The rainfall for the month was also below the normal or natural fall by about 2 1/2 inches.

August also starts in cool, though we are promised that to-day will be a little warmer than yesterday, and to-morrow still a little more so. There is no rain in sight. There may come some this way soon, but that is yet uncertain.

The coolest place in the country yesterday was Buffalo, where the mercury did not get higher than 64 degrees. At Marquet, Mich., the highest point reached was 66 degrees. Pittsburgh comes in as the third coolest place yesterday, the maximum figures being 68. The coolest time was at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, when the mercury had gone down to 52 degrees. Havre, Mont., where the people have been wearing overcoats, and where a frost occurred a week ago, came near being one of the hottest places in the country yesterday; it had a maximum temperature of 86 degrees. Rapid City, S. D., and St. Louis had equal temperatures yesterday. Bismark, N. D., and Galveston, Tex., went then two degrees better. Chicago had 72, Harrisburg, 70, New York 72 and Memphis 74. Reports show that yesterday the weather was uniformly cool all over the country; even at the warmest places the heat was not uncomfortable.

More News from Huntingdon.
 PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—A special to the Record from Huntingdon, Pa., says that Superior Court Judge Orsady may decline to permit the use of his name for nomination to his present office or in any other connection before the Republican State convention. The returns from Saturday's primaries are not all in yet, but as far as heard from the Quay delegates have twenty-five votes for one cast for the delegates favored by Judge Orsady.

On Saturday Judge Orsady is said to have told a friend that if he did not carry the county he would decline to go before the State convention, and it is claimed that he will be true to his word and refuse to continue as a candidate for the superior court.

Next to this feature public attention is centered on the probable outcome of the fight for district judge. There are fourteen districts yet to be heard from. The returns received give Judge Williamson, who was appointed by Governor Hastings, a small majority over Thomas W. Myton, but it is believed complete returns will nominate Myton by a narrow margin.

Lancaster maintains its proud lead as the great garden spot of the county. The first six counties in the value of their agricultural products, according to the census reports just sent out, have this relative rank: Lancaster, $7,657,790; St. Lawrence, New York, $6,054,160; Chester, $5,863,800; Worcester, Massachusetts, $5,489,430; Bucks, $5,411,370, and Colusa, California, $5,357,350. While the farms of St. Lawrence county number just as many as Lancaster they are valued at only $32,000,000 and Lancaster at $69,000,000. A further interesting detail fact is that both the St. Lawrence and Colusa sections are three times larger than Lancaster, and yet the Colusa region of California with a wheat product of 5,000,000 bushels a year has a farm valuation of only $16,000,000. There are some big differences and distinctions as garden spots run in this country.

"Have you anything to say before we eat you?" said the King of the Cannibal Isles to a Boston missionary. "I have," was the reply. "I want to talk to you for a while on the advantages of a vegetarian diet."

This Was a Good One.
 "Did I tell you the latest bright thing my little boy got off?" asked McBride, as he joined a group of friends at the club.

"Yes, you did," replied all in concert, with discouraging unanimity.

"That's where I've caught you," retorted McBride, "for it only happened last evening, and I haven't seen a soul of you fellows since. Besides, this was really a good one."

"Then you haven't told it to us," replied Kilduff, speaking for the crowd. "Go on."

"Yes, tell us quickly," added Skidmore, "and let us have the agony over."

Thus encouraged, McBride began: "You know, boys, little people have sharp ears, and they are not at all back-washed about telling any little scraps of information they pick up. This peculiarity has led a good many parents to resort to spelling words when their children are present. Of course, that sort of thing is of no avail after the youngsters learn to spell. Well, Mrs. McBride and I are in the spelling stage now, and little Freddy is often very much mystified by our remarks to each other. Last night we had our new minister to dinner, and Freddy watched the good man helping himself very liberally to biscuits. He thought it a good opportunity to put into use the family verbal cipher, feeling perfectly certain that the minister would find it unintelligible. So he called out, 'Mamma!'"

"What is it, Freddy?" asked my wife.

"Mamma, isn't the m-i-n-i-s-t-r-a-p-i-g?" spelled out Freddy triumphantly.

The fellows had to admit that this story about McBride's boy was really a good one.—Harper's Magazine.

No Indians to Fight.
 It turns out that the savage Indians who had congregated in Jackson's Hole with a view to the massacre of all the white people in the neighborhood were in fact huddled together there to defend themselves.

Their latest massacre that has occurred was the lawless slaughter of a number of Indians, and their comrades justifiably concentrated in a mountain fastness for mutual protection. Learning that the United States troops were coming, they knew they would be safe and they appear to have made off to the reservations.

It is clearly evident not only that the whites were the aggressors, but that the Indians did not even hit back. It is furthermore evident that the alarming stories sent East from Wyoming were deliberately concocted with interested motives, partly to embroil the Indians and get their hunting privileges curtailed by the government, and partly for the pleasure and profit to be derived from the presence of the troops.

There will be no fighting, and General Copping will take care that the Indians get fair play. If the whole charge of the Indians were entrusted to the War Department, there would be no more wars nor rumors of wars.

The great strike of the tailors in New York, not for an advance of wages, but for humane hours of labor and decent surroundings in their work, and against the "sweating" process, promises to be a success. The persons interested in the strike are mainly Jews and their employers. The tailors are taking an active part in the movement, and at one of their meetings a few days ago they refused to listen to a speech from Emma Goldman, the anarchist apostle, who had a close connection with the would-be assassin, Berkman, serving a long sentence in the West Virginia penitentiary for an attack on Mr. H. C. Frick. Miss Goldman was very anxious to address the woman workers. The president of the society, Miss Freedman, cut her short, and said: "We are honest working girls, and you are not a working woman. We are able to take care of ourselves, and we want no anarchies here. We have lots of girls who can talk just as well as you can and who will give us better advice. Please get out of the room." Every body who reads that patriotic little speech will hope that Miss Freedman and her associates may win their strike.

Georgia seems to be overdoing the watermelon business, and there is a great glut in the markets. Out of a cargo of 50,000 melons brought to New York in one day by the Savannah line steamer, the company abandoned the rest, and the rest were abandoned to the steamship company and sold for freight charges. The fruit trade with the south is assuming immense proportions. On Wednesday one steamer from the south brought 40,000 melons and 8,000 barrels of pears. The southern growers are complaining of poor prices, while the northern consignees say the fruit is not shipped in good condition, and the planters, abandoning cotton on account of its low price, are glutting the market with fruit and vegetable products. The poorer class of New York are realizing the advantages in a plentiful and cheap supply. The market combination in Pittsburgh manage to keep up prices notwithstanding the big supply.

For more than a hundred years the Shakers have been studying the remedial properties of plants. They have made many discoveries, but their greatest achievement was made last year. It is a cordial that contains already digested food and is a digester of food. It is effective in removing distress after eating, and creates an appetite for more food so that eating becomes a pleasure. Pale, thin people become plump and healthy under its use. It arrests the wasting of consumption, and the there has been such a step forward in the cure of indigestion as this Shaker Cordial. Your druggist will be glad to give you a little book descriptive of the product.

"My boy," said Tompkins, "is the most truthful little fellow that ever lived."

"I believe it," said Hawkins. "I have heard it said that the suppressed qualities in the father always crop out in the son."

Perhaps the oddest pavement ever laid is one just completed at Chino, Cal. It is made mostly of molasses, and if it proves all of the success claimed for it may point a way for the sugar planters of the South to profitably dispose of the millions of gallons of useless molasses which they are said to have on hand. The head chemist of a sugar factory at Chino, Mr. E. Turke, was led to make certain experiments, of which the new sidewalk, a thousand feet long, from the factory to the main street, is the result. The molasses used is a refuse produce, hitherto believed to be of no value. It is simply mixed with a certain kind of sand to about the consistency of asphalt, and laid like asphalt pavement. The composition dries quickly and becomes quite hard, and remains so. The peculiar point of it is that the sun only makes it drier and harder, instead of softening it, as might be expected. A block of the composition, two feet long, a foot wide, and one inch thick, was submitted to severe tests and stood them well. Laid with an inch or so of its edges only resting on supports, it withstood repeated blows of a machine hammer without showing any effects of cracking or bending.

According to Captain Maury, the Gulf Stream runs up hill. He shows that after emerging from the Gulf of Mexico this famous current of warm water broadens out toward the north and becomes correspondingly more and more shallow. Thus, its depth of the Island of Bemis is about 200 fathoms, while off Cape Hatteras it has shallowed to about 100 fathoms. He calculates the ascent at ten inches to the mile. Sir John Herschel has pointed out that the line that "runs up hill" of the Gulf Stream is a "strange perversion of language." The warm water of the Gulf Stream is more buoyant than the cold water of the North Atlantic, and floats on its surface. It spreads out as it moves northward, and necessarily forms a layer, becoming thinner and thinner. Some portion of it, it is true, rises to a higher level, but this is not motion against gravity.

EVERY YOUNG MAN—Should be possessed of certain information without which millions contract perniciosa, most destructive habits—habits which make young men permanently aged, pale, haggard, listless, devoid of ambition, easily tried, languid, forgetful and incapable; fill mad-houses and swell the lines of suicides; separate husbands and wives; bring untold suffering to millions, even unto the third and fourth generation. Parents, guardians and philanthropists can do no better service to the rising generation, than to place in their hands the information and warnings contained in a little book carefully prepared by an association of medical men who have had vast experience in dealing with the grave malady here hinted at, and who feel that they owe it to humanity to warn the young of the land against certain destructive habits, which are far more prevalent than any layman can imagine, and which if persisted in gradually undermine the constitution and health, and destroy the future happiness of the victim. Cut out this notice and enclose it with ten cents in stamps (to pay postage), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and the book will be sent, secure from observation, in a plain sealed envelope.

Despite the fact that the season for strawberries in the East has long since passed, reports of the berries now marketed in the West show that the season there is at its height. In Washington and Idaho strawberries measuring from 5 to 10 inches in circumference are common now. Of forty-three berries picked in one patch near Kettle Falls, Washington, the other day, none measured less than six inches.

VACATION TIME—Is at hand and is gladly welcomed by all, especially those whose duties in life have caused them to greatly run down their system. To meet the requirements, physical and mental, forced upon them. With these and others, it is important, whether at home, at the sea-shore or in the country, that some thought be given to diet, and as further assistance to Nature, and destroy the future happiness of the victim. Cut out this notice and enclose it with ten cents in stamps (to pay postage), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and the book will be sent, secure from observation, in a plain sealed envelope.
