Farm Notes.

—Sow rye this fall. It will give green food late in the season and early in the spring. It is one of the least difficult crops to grow, and is useful in many ways.

—The basket willow may be easily grown along the banks of streams and on low lands. It can be produced from cuttings. There is a ready sale for it and at paying prices.

—Keep your earliest, plumpest and most prolific Lima beans for seed, as you can save such seed to better advantage than buying, there being an opportunity to select the best.

—To neglect a tree that has been injured is to invite attack by insects. As a protection apply a mixture of rosin and tallow to the exposed parts, first trimming the branches, if broken, close to the tree.

—Among the useful and harmless creatures that are wantonly destroyed are the non-venomous snakes. They perform valuable service in several ways, and as they can do no damage to anything, should not be killed.

—People of New Mexico and Colorado claim alfalfa to be a good ration for their poultry. Chickens seem to be very fond of the young and tender shoots, and it is such a quick grower that it furnishes fresh picking at all times.

—Orchard grass is excellent for permanent pasture: timothy lasts but a few years, and clover less. A good mixture is five pounds red clover, four pounds timothy, 14 pounds Kentucky blue grass. The first two make the good pasture in the start.

—The fence imposes a heavier tax on the farmer than the road, not only in its cost, but also because it is a harboring place for weeds, vermin and insects, to say nothing of the litigation in courts, that have resulted from disputes over line fence.

—An Eastern farmer puts clover hay in his mow, alternating with it a layer of oat straw. The latter thus has the flavor of the hay imparted to it, and while it contains no more nutriment than formerly, it smells and tastes better, and animals fed upon it eat it all up clean.

—Rats and mice should not exist in the barns or stables, and the best preventive is the cat, but she should never be fed at the house, nor given more than a light meal once a day. Well-fed cats are lazy and indolent. Make them work, and there will be fewer rats.

—A Southern apiarist says: For cleanliness the bee is unsurpassed; if anything gets into their hive that is not perfectly clean they will carry it out if they can; if they cannot get it out of the hive, they will procure propolis, or bee glue and hermetically seal it up and let it remain in the hive.

—An exchange thinks that farmers who are disgusted with horse raising this year will be disgusted with themselves before the colts of 1895 mature, that they did not grade up and raise more good draught horses. Improvement in the world's industries has begun, and cities must have the useful horse.

—The Indiana Farmer says: Give wheat the same tillage we do corn, and the same land would give just as many bushels an acre as of the larger grain. One way would be, when sowing, to stop every other hole in the drill, thus giving rows 16 inches apart, through which a narrow garden cultivator could be run by horse power.

—Grape rot does not prevail this season to a great extent compared with former years, due to the persistent efforts of growers to abolish the disease by the use of fungicides. It has been a hard battle to save grapes, but growers have learned that it can be done, and those who make the attempt will be rewarded with success.

—Turnips are sometimes grown on stubble land, as a catch crop for sheep, by broadcasting the seed. After the turnips are ready the sheep are turned on the land, and consume not only the turnips, but the young weeds. While it is not the most profitable way to produce turnips, yet it is claimed for the method that the only expense is to plow and harrow the land and the cost of the seed, no other cultivation being given.

—One of the cheapest and most plentiful of all substances that can be produced is dry dirt, and a good supply of it should be stored away for winter use. It is the best of all absorbents in the stalls, keeps the stables clean, and is a deodorizer. Added to the manure heap after being used as an absorbent, it is easily handled when spread on the soil, and is valuable in the poultry houses during the winter. It drives lice away, and may be impregnated with the odor of the floors of the stables.

—Occasionally there will be a tree which makes no growth, despite every effort to provide it with all that it requires. The tree may show no signs of disease, but simply makes no progress, being no larger at the end of the third or fourth year than at the beginning of the second year. It is difficult to discover the cause, but sometimes there may be root lice, or disease under the surface. Remove the top soil, exposing as much of the roots as possible, and over an area of ten feet around the tree. Add a pound of concentrated lye to four gallons of boiling water; let it dissolve, apply warm (not too hot) over the roots, scatter a peck of air-slacked lime next, and return the top soil again.

"Norther's."

In Texas a "norther" is a chilling blast that sweeps over the country, sending the temperature down as much as 30 degrees in as many minutes. But in California a "norther" is a hot wind that puts the temperature up 10 or 15 points above comfort and, instead of freezing vegetation, does great damage by causing too quick ripening. Early this month the Sacramento valley had a norther which lasted 10 days, ripening the wheat crop prematurely so that the yield shrank 25 per cent. over the estimate of the previous week. These hot winds rarely last more than three days, as is the case also with the cold Texas norther's.

—Few men have lost so largely in public estimation as Governor Hastings has during the past six months. He went into office with a majority of 240,000 as an endorsement. But he threw away his chances. He allied himself with a most corrupt element of the Republican party and made himself an agent in inflicting upon the people of the state extravagant and other vicious legislation. From being one of the most popular men in the state, six months ago, he is now one of the most unpopular, and his unpopularity is on the increase. It is all his own fault. He deliberately did what was wrong and what he knew was unjustifiable. He was ambitious to be president—perhaps he is yet—but he has spoiled all the presidential chances that he ever possessed, and when he is through with his term as governor he will probably drop into an obscurity from which he is not likely to emerge.—Altoona Times.

Oh! G. M. D. Oh! G. M. D. Thou wondrous healer, 'tis to thee Our vows we pay, your tributes bring; Of thee we tell of thee we sing. Who dreads dyspepsia's dire attack, With constipation at its back, Assured should be, relief is nigh; But to G. M. D. Pray they fly. By nervousness so sore oppressed With life a burden, robbed of rest, There hundreds are who fain would know Where they to get relief can go. We point to G. M. D. and say Be cured, be happy, light and gay. Following the path that thousands tread, Be cured in heart, be cured in head. What is this mystic G. M. D. But Golden Medical Discovery. That's just it, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Sold every where.

Told the Truth.

Mumbleby—Greenland says that he got a big string of fish with that expensive new tackle of his.
Bumbles—He did. Traded the tackle for it with a country boy.

Off in the still night Ere slumber's chain hath bound me; Sharp pains dart through my head, And chills come creeping round me. I feel so sick, I sure shall die! All hope of cure seems broken, But there's a "Pellet" all may try, A sure, unfailing token.

Yes, a token of recovery in every case, as effective, and almost as magical as the famous "talismans" of fairy-lore, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a positive cure for all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Taking No Chances.

"What you lookin' fur?" asked Plodding Pete.
"Work," replied Meandering Mike.
"What fur?"
"So's I kin see it fast, an' dodge."

—Scrofula humors and all diseases caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

—Keep a close watch for borers and cut them out when found. Examine the base of peach and apple trees for them.

Tourists.

"The Crack Train of the World."
A prominent New York merchant and importer of leather goods said in our hearing the other day, "I have traveled all over Europe and America, and I consider the train which leaves Chicago every day at 6:30 p. m. for St. Paul and Minneapolis, via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, 'The Crack Train of the World.'"
In which statement thousands of others heartily concur.

Business Notice.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had children, she gave them Castoria. 38-43-2y

Cottolene.

HOW TO

FRY WITH

COTTOLENE.

Fry everything, from potato chips to doughnuts, in Cottolene. Put Cottolene in a cold pan—heat it slowly until it will delicately brown a bit of bread in half a minute. Then put in your food. It will pay you to try Cottolene just this way—see how delicious and wholesome it makes the food.

Get the genuine, sold everywhere in one, three, and five pound tins, with trade-marks—"Cottolene" and ster's head in cottolene's wreath—on every tin.

Philadelphia	6.45 "

Passengers can spend the night in the city and proceed to the shore by any regular train of the following day. For further information apply to ticket agents, or to Mr. Thomas E. Watt, District Passenger Agent, Pittsburg.

Both Averse to Interference.

At the corner of Fourth avenue and Smithfield street a lady from Glenwood entered a crowded outgoing car. The conductor knew who she was, and that she resided in Glenwood. He suspected that she had made a mistake, and that she thought that she was on a Second avenue car, so he crowded up the aisle and politely inquired:

"Where are you going, lady?"
"That's my business," she tartly replied.
The conductor said nothing more, and the car sped along through the dark crossing the Monongahela through the covered Tenth street bridge, and rapidly putting space between it and Glenwood. When it entered the big Knoxville incline elevator and stopped nobody said a word. After a minute's wait up the precipice it started, leaving the sparkling electric lights far below.

"My goodness!" screamed the Glenwood woman to the conductor, "where is this car going?"
"That's my business," dryly replied the conductor.—Pittsburg Dispatch.
