For Prothonotary—W. F. SMITH, of Penn Twp.
For District Attorney—W. J. SINGER, of Belleville.

The Democratic State Convention.

In accordance with the resolution passed at a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee on July 24, 1895, I hereby give notice that the Democrats of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State Convention in Williamsport on Wednesday, September 11th, 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the office of State Treasurer and Judges of the Superior Court, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

In accordance with Rule 6, Section 1, unanimously approved by the State Convention September 19, 1893, representatives shall consist of representative delegates, one for each one thousand votes cast at the last preceding Presidential election or for a fraction of such vote amounting to five hundred or more, in the respective representative districts, provided that each representative district shall have at least one delegate.

R. E. WRIGHT, Chairman.

MATT. SAVAGE, Secretary.

Drawing to a Close.

The fight between the Republican factions in this State is about drawing to a determination by the action of the State Convention; it has raged all summer and has given the people an insight into the corrupt, debased and disorganized condition of the party which has absolute control of the government of this Commonwealth.

This fight has served to show what political organization can be brought to by a long continuance of irresponsible power through majorities that have induced its leaders to believe that their corrupt practices, their profligate mode of legislation and government, their contempt for constitutional requirements, and their shameless sacrifice of popular interests to the greedy demands of corporations and monopolies, are not obnoxious to public sentiment and may be continued without their being called to account. The uninterrupted and colossal indorsements, which the people indiscreetly gave them, could have no other tendency than to confirm them in the belief that they are irresponsible, and to convince them of their immunity from punishment for their misdeeds.

Thus it is seen that drunken with long continued power, and made insanely reckless by their condoned political excesses, they at last turn upon and rend each other, furnishing a modern exemplification of the hogs mentioned in scripture which, although not alluded to as a "combine," were similarly taken possession of by an evil spirit that impelled the swinish herd to its destruction.

The developments brought out in this factional fight, by the mutual charges that are being made, show that the hoghish term that has been given one of the factions might be applied to both, without doing either of them injustice. Having become embroiled in a fight for the control of the party machinery they are telling the truth about each other with unshamed recklessness, and their interchange of criminations is verifying all that the Democrats have charged them with being guilty of. Out of their own mouths they are furnishing the evidence that neither faction is worthy of the political power for which they are contending between each other, and that the welfare and honor of the State demand that both should be turned out of the places of trust and profit which they have so long abused and disgraced.

The Falls Creek Herald came out last week with a twenty-four page edition descriptive of the town in which it is published. Half-tone illustrations of important buildings and prominent men lead attraction to the paper and the whole reflects considerable credit on CHARLES J. BANBERT, the young publisher. Notwithstanding his plant has been burned out twice since he started there five years ago he has stuck to it with a zeal that has characterized him as one of the most aggressive young newspaper men in the State.

Governor HASTINGS and his chairman Col. GILKESON need have no fear of outraging Republican ideas of honesty and fairness in making up the roll of the Republican State Convention to suit their own necessities. Any fellow who has so little self respect and is so lacking in conscience that he can belong to a party whose leaders are as rotten and corrupt as the principals in both factions of the Republican party have shown each other to be has no idea about either honesty or fairness that could be outraged.

The Education of Deaf Children.

The Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Mount Airy, Philadelphia begins its seventy-sixth year of school work on September 15th. It is a free school supported by the State for the education of Deaf children. Applicants for admission must be six years of age and not over twenty. Oral methods by which the deaf are taught to speak and to read from the lips are pursued. Separate intellectual and industrial departments with experienced instructors are maintained. All classes are now forming, and parents and friends of deaf children should lose no time in making application for their admission. Address Dr. A. L. E. Crouter Superintendent Institution for the Deaf, Mount Airy Philadelphia for full information.

Hastings, a Political Dead Duck.

The Combine, with all its Patronage and Wealth, Knocked out by Quay, the old Boss is Still the Big Boss. The Fight in Philadelphia.

The primaries in Philadelphia Tuesday practically decided the great factional contest between Quay and the combine. With all the delegates elected except those of Lehigh county it is evident now that the Beaver Boss will have a majority of 10 votes in the Republican State convention, next Tuesday. Neither side has enough instructed delegates to dominate, but it is likely that the uninstruced will get in out of the way and ally themselves with Quay. He will surely win, unless Gilkeson manipulates the roll of delegates and gives all contested seats to Combine people. In such an event it will not be surprising to hear of an open fight or two conventions in session.

PHILADELPHIA, August 21.—Conventions to nominate candidates for county offices and for delegates to the republican state convention at Harrisburg next Wednesday were held today. The county conventions excited little interest, as they were of the out and dried order, and the delegate conventions absorbed all the attention, as upon the result of their action probably hung the mastery of the Republican party leadership in Pennsylvania. Philadelphia has twenty-eight legislative districts and these twenty eight districts send seventy delegates to the state convention. Of the result of the convention in these districts, as they bear on the Quay Hastings fight, considerable doubts and confusion exist. Both houses are claiming several districts, and in two of them, the first and Fifth, there was a split and two conventions were held and two sets of delegates elected. The estimate of seventeen delegates for Senator Quay made in these dispatches last night seems to be about the right number, and the victory appears to rest with him, as he was originally conceded only ten delegates by his opponents.

The Hastings leaders to-night give to Mr. Quay but fifteen delegates, but tacitly admit that at least seven delegates are in the doubtful column. The Hastings leaders claim they have won what they expected, but the claim of victory seems hardly borne out by the results. Quay has undoubtedly carried the Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth districts, although the Hastings people claim the Third and Sixth, and thus cut off two delegates from his seventeen, and figure out but fifteen for him.

As stated as far as can be predicted of a convention in which so many delegates are uninstruced, Senator Quay appears reasonably sure of victory, as the drift of sentiment throughout the state seems to have set in his favor. The Hastings leaders, however, appear undisturbed and are as confident of victory as they were weeks ago.

Lieutenant Governor Walter Lyon, Auditor General Amos H. Mylin, Secretary of Internal Affairs James W. Latta, and Theodore L. Flood, who was permanent chairman of the republican state convention of 1894, have signed a paper joining in the call for a meeting of the state committee next Monday to prepare the roll of state delegates. The four signers, together with General Hastings, and Congressmen-at-Large Candidates Grow and Huff, constituted the seven men who elected B. H. Gilkeson state chairman. It was explained that there was no time to present this paper to either Mr. Grow or Mr. Huff for signing, and, of course, it was not deemed advisable to ask the governor to sign it.

Chairman Gilkeson, not having responded to a call for a meeting of the state committee, signed by thirty-seven members of that body, the notice signed by sixty-five members, which is more than a majority, was today sent to every member of the committee, requesting him to attend a meeting of that body in Harrisburg on August 26.

GILKESON NOT LIKELY TO ATTEND THE STATE COMMITTEE MEETING.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 21.—It is stated on good authority, to-night, that Chairman Gilkeson has almost decided not to attend the meeting of the Quay members of the Republican state central committee, which is to be held here on Monday next. Despite the jubilant claims of the Quay people, the governor and Gilkeson express an apparently honest belief that they will win. As a matter of fact, the straight news that comes from Philadelphia indicates that not more than 17 Quay delegates have been elected there, with from 5 to 8 contested claims.

The combine people practically admit a convention majority of 10 for Quay, including contested seats, but they are dead set on making up the roll of delegates themselves, in order to be in position to control the state convention at the start and give the contested seats to "combiners," thus securing an anti-Quay convention. Senator Quay wants to make up the roll for the same purpose, and the deadlock over this question will come next Monday. It is asserted that the governor, Dave Martin and Senator Porter are unanimous in their objections to Gilkeson recognizing the gathering of Quay committeemen here next week.

The following table shows a fair estimate of the way the delegates can be counted. A close examination will reveal the fact that it is a pretty fair division: The one delegate in Blair county given to the Combine will more than likely be for Quay.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Millheim public schools will open next Monday.

Dogs have been killing many sheep in Marion township.

Five bands have entered this far for the contest at Hecla next Wednesday.

George Stover, of Aaronsburg, recently raised 400 bushels of potatoes from 1 1/2 acres of ground.

The Centre Hall implement works have been closed and all employees are discharged.

The post-office department has made an allowance of $1,500, per annum, for clerk hire in the Belleville post office.

The great band tournament at Hecla, next Wednesday, is going to attract a large crowd.

It is almost an assured fact that ex-Sheriff Cooke will be out for the Republican nomination again. He gave the Centre Hall band $5 because it serenaded him, last Saturday, while on its way home from Eagleville.

There will be a festival on Saturday evening, August 31st, at the U. B. church, at School House Crossing, near Snow Shoe Intersection. Ice cream, cake, confections and other delicacies will be served for the benefit of the church.

Christ H. Murray and Thomas Mitchell, having passed very successful examinations, will be admitted to the practice of law in this county at the next session of court. Both young men are talented and will doubtless prove creditable acquisitions to the profession.

Some of last week's papers stated that the Belleville band would hold a tournament this fall. This is a mistake as our band does not propose to hold any tournament or picnic this year. They have a musical festival on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, as announced in another column.

The red mill dam at Spring Mills was dried off, on Thursday, in order that the gates could be repaired and it is said that one thousand eels, besides many bushels of cat-fish and suckers were caught. Mr. Harter invited his customers to make a fishing frolic and all got as many as they could carry home.

Adolphus A. Stone, aged 61 years, died at his residence in Kansas City, Mo., at 8 o'clock, on the morning of the 11th inst. He is survived by a widow, one brother and two sisters as follows: Mrs. Carrie A. Stone, of Kansas City; Henry H. Stone, of Chicago; Mrs. Emma Allen, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Prudence Haines, of Philadelphia. Mr. Stone will be remembered by the older citizens of Belleville, as he lived here when a young man, and many of them will be sorry to learn of his death. His remains were taken to Marshall, Mo., for interment.

PENN'S CAVE SOLD.—Last Saturday Samuel and Jesse Long sold their famous Penn's Cave property to a man by the name of Warner for $9,000. The new owner will not take possession until April 1st, 1896.

While Jeweler Watkins, Wallace Weaver and the Kerstetter boys were returning to Millheim, after the festival at Madisonburg, last Saturday night, they met with an accident that might have resulted seriously. Watkins was leading and stopped suddenly. It was so dark that Weaver did not see him and ran into him. The latter's horse fell down and then the Kerstetters drove right into him resulting in their horse throwing them out and running away. The top of Weaver's buggy is all that was damaged.

A JAPANESE FESTIVAL AT PINE HALL.—On Wednesday evening, September 4th, there will be a novelty in the way of entertainment at the Washington grange hall, at Pine Hall. It will be a Japanese festival that will be held on the lawn and will be for the benefit of the Lutheran church organ fund. A musical concert will be a feature of the entertainment.

James B. Fields, of Ferguson Twp., and Minnie B. Miller, of Patton Twp.

George Hardman, of Hannah, and Blanche Jones, of Port Matilda.

J. M. Dooley and M. E. Bauer, both of Belleville.

Next session begins on Wednesday, September 11th.

MRS. CHESTER MUNSON DEAD.—Mrs. Letitia Munson, wife of ex-associate judge Chester Munson, died at her home, in Phillipsburg, on Monday evening. She had been in poor health for a long time so that her death was not unexpected, though particularly sad to her venerable husband.

Mrs. Munson was born in Phillipsburg, March 14th, 1826, and as a Miss McClellan, was married just fifty-one years ago. She is said to have been a very benevolent, as well as a lovable woman, and a consistent member of the Methodist church. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon.

SPORTS AT THE LOGAN PICNIC.—The sports at the Logan fire company's picnic at Hunter's park, last Thursday, resulted as follows:

At the morning base ball game the Belleville "Black Diamonds" defeated the Phillipsburg colored club by the score of 20 to 2. The same clubs played again in the afternoon, the score resulting 17 to 18 in favor of the home team.

The bicycle races resulted as follows: One mile novice, won by Harry Weaver, Joe Katz second, Temp Cruise third.

Half-mile open, won by George Williams, A. Lester Shaeffer second, Harry Yeager third. First prize, a sweater.

One mile open, won by George Williams, Shaeffer second, Yeager third. Prize, bicycle shoes.

Three mile open, won by Shaeffer. Williams second, Yeager third. First prize, bicycle suit; second, bicycle saddle.

A BAND THAT IS NOT APPRECIATED.—The town council of Milesburg has put itself on record as having turned down the prize musical organization of Centre and Clinton counties. What does it mean? A little less than a year ago this same council was pulling this same band around in carriages under the glow of myriad red lights and stuffing them with one of the finest banquets ever served in that town.

The Milesburg band was turned out of its quarters in the council building last week, because it has become a "nuisance," according to the views of some of the people down there. The musicians, nothing daunted by council's unfriendly action, have hired another room where they are holding forth in all their glory.

When a town like Milesburg turns down a band that has brought it nothing but honor, one that most any other town in the State would be proud of, it is decidedly hard up for something to exercise a little authority over.

A SCHOOL THAT SHOULD BE PATRONIZED.

The advertisement of the Belleville Academy, which appears in another column, indicates another year of the thorough and excellent preparatory work that this worthy institution has the reputation of doing in all its departments. The teachers have had wide experience and are well known as being exceptionally successful in their respective lines of work. The richer and more fashionable schools in our cities turn out no better students than graduate at our own academy; in fact, the academy boys and girls, as a general thing, are on the honor rolls in many of our leading colleges from year to year. Last year was most successful. The attendance came near the hundred mark and the graduates won special honors for this historic school. Five graduated at the State College, of whom two were among the first five honored, one graduated at Haverford, one at University of Pa., and another at the Jefferson Medical University, at Phila. This fall two enter Princeton college, one goes to Mt. Holyoke and three others will probably enter the State College, while three others will teach in our county schools. The number of students from the country is becoming very large owing to the special rates offered to the students on the railroads and the adaptation of the school schedules to those of the railroads. Students may enter at any time and are charged from the time of entrance. The success of this school is due to the careful attention that is paid to every individual. Backward pupils are not neglected for the brighter ones. All receive the attention needed to make them thorough in whatever they do.

THIRD ANNUAL CONVENTION OF CENTRE COUNTY CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

FOSTER STILL TALKS WEATHER.—The cool wave that struck this section Saturday evening was predicted by Mr. Foster in his weather talk in the WATCHMAN last week. In fact he has been "hitting it," as they say, with remarkable accuracy. If for no other reason than just to see how near correct they are you should read our weekly weather bulletins.

"My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 17th to the 20th, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 21st, cross the west of Rockies' country by the close of the 22d, great central valleys 23d to 25th and eastern States the 26th. This disturbance will be unusually severe, in and west of the Rocky mountains, and the cool wave following will cause killing frosts in the upper Missouri, upper Mississippi and Red river of the North valleys.

Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 21st, great central valleys 23d and eastern States the 25th. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 26th, great central valleys the 27th and eastern States the 28th.

Particular attention is called to the following aurora and earthquake dates. The latter will probably occur only in earthquake countries. Within a few days of August 20, Sept. 17, Oct. 16 and Nov. 14, severe earthquake shocks may be expected. Near Aug. 22, Sept. 18, Oct. 15 and Nov. 12 brilliant auroras will probably be observed on the North American continent.

In my next bulletin will be given detailed forecasts of temperature, rainfall, storm waves, severe storms and frosts for September. The calculations have been carefully revised, and I expect 85 per cent. to prove correct."

HUBLERSBURG GIRLS HAVE FUN WITH A NITANY BENEDETT.

All through Nitany valley Nelson Robb, the popular station agent at Nitany, is known as a practical joker and an all-around good fellow. No one enjoys getting ahead of people better than he does and doubtless he thought he had made the master stroke of his life, when he slipped off to Zion where he was quietly married to pretty Fanny Fisher, a daughter of Dr. Fisher. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father and had been so quietly arranged that scarcely anyone knew of its consummation.

Nelson was doubtless laughing in his sleeve, as he whistled merrily about the station all day Friday; indulging day dreams of his sweet bride, all the while he was thinking how he would laugh at the people whom he had deluded on the most important step in his life. Nothing of moment occurred until the night train east arrived at Nitany. A large party of young ladies, from Hublersburg and vicinity; headed by Miss Ida McCaulay, alighted from it and before Robb could realize what they wanted there at that time of night they had surrounded him. There was no escape for the would-be foxy groom. At a given signal each one of the girls whisked out carefully concealed cow bells, sleigh bells, tin horns, etc. and of all the discordant sounds, that disturbed the quiet of that peaceful valley that night, the like had never before been heard. Poor Nelson had to stand it too. The girls had caught him at his own game and there they made sport at his expense until the next train back, nearly an hour later.

Pine Grove Mention.

Miller Wagner has another boarder at his home. It is a girl and is number 7.

Our fellow townsman, J. B. Ard, Esq., takes delight in sipping up his flock of brown Brahmas. In the flock is a double winged pullet.

Mrs. S. A. Young, of Belleville, was a welcome visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. M. A. Fry, on Main street, the beginning of the week.

D. G. Meek and wife, Charley Smith and wife and Mrs. Hess came home from Newton Hamilton yesterday renewed in body as well as mind. Whether it was the meetings, the air of the fishing, that wrought the change, we are not prepared to state.

Little Lester, youngest son of Sheriff Eckley, is now nursing his other arm in a sling. He has been so unfortunate as to have both arms broken this season.

Little Carlisle, son of Samuel Dunlap is also laid up for repairs on account of a broken arm, both accidents are the results of a fall.

Dr. R. M. Krebs of our town is responsible for this snake story. Our readers are not to infer that he is a member of the Woodsmen or any other liars club; but he is a sober truthful man. While hunting cucumbers in his garden recently he killed ninety-nine, 99 snakes (!) and ever since he has been dreaming of all sorts of snakes from the deadly rattle to the common garter snake, the kind he killed.

The Eastern end of our beautiful little burg certainly needs a little renovation, or may be a few sermons on brotherly love would do some good. One day last week our Justice and a Deacon engaged in a war of words that made it breezy for a while. The gentlemen are both rather mild and generally of quiet dispositions and we are at a loss to know just why they got into such a scrape out in the streets where it was witnessed and heard by all the town.

The I. O. O. F. festival at Boalsburg, last Saturday evening, was a decided success, socially and financially. The little electric shower that passed over the valley in the early twilight just cooled the air and apparently revived every body for the balance of the fray. At 11 o'clock the judges announced the list of contestants and results. Miss Jennie Myers having $68.00 to her credit was awarded the hand, some gold watch, her running mate, Miss Etta Felty's account being just $10.02 short of Miss Myers. We understand the committee will present Miss Etta with a similar watch, it is hoped they will. Miss Mary Wibly had a nice sum to her credit and got the chair at $38.50. Just before the tattoo was sounded for lights out the cashier announced that he had $276.00 a very snug sum for the furnishing committee of the new O. F. hall which is about completed.

The echo of the first francs had scarcely died away when a second one was placed on file in the Justice's office. It seems that little Lawrence Eckley, who is a solicitor for notions, and so forth, went to the home of Wm. H. Smith just below town with a view of selling some of his goods. While there his lead pencil rolled under the porch and when he endeavored to raise some boards to get it the Smith sisters objected, which angered the boy. Mr. Smith hearing the racket put in his appearance and he says he took the boy by the arm and started him home. Some time during the day the boy arrived at home crying and reported that Mr. Smith had assaulted and abused him. This riled the lad's father, Wm. Eckley, and a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Mr. Smith, who was brought before Justice Keller. Mr. Smith immediately gave bail for his appearance at court without a hearing. Just what the outcome of this racket will be, is anxiously awaiting so pugilists of lesser weight will learn what constitutes an assault and battery.
