THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Bellefonte public schools will reopen on Monday.

—Don't forget the circus next Thursday. It will be a big one.

—On Monday you will be allowed to shoot squirrels in Pennsylvania.

—A Snow Shoe man recently buggy-whipped a young girl of that place.

—There was frost at Penn Hall, this county, Wednesday night of last week.

—The Phoenix flouring mill, of this place, is closed a few days for repairs.

—John Anderson's pool and billiard room, on High street, is being refitted.

—A new 700lb. bell has been placed in the Evangelical church at Coburn.

—There were about six hundred people at the Lutheran reunion at Hecla yesterday.

—Col. James F. Weaver, of Boggs Twp., realized 50 bushels of oats to the acre on his farm.

—Notwithstanding the rain there was a fair attendance at Market, on Tuesday morning.

—The Knights of the Mystic Chain propose having an ox roast at their coming picnic at Hecla park.

—The flour mill at Bald Eagle operated by H. W. Hoover was robbed, on Friday night, of a lot of chop and flour.

—Jacob Barner, a Sugar valley produce grower, is said to have a potato patch that averages a peck of tubers to every hill.

—Only one person took advantage of the Pennsylvania railroad's cheap excursion to Atlantic City yesterday morning.

—The State college band has new uniforms. Red coats and white helmets give them a very gay appearance when on parade.

—Benner Stere, a Unionville genius, has invented what is said to be a very handy wire stretcher to be used when making wire fence.

—Samuel Bowmaster's three year old child died at Coleville, on Saturday, and was buried on Sunday afternoon. Dysentery caused death.

—In the bicycle races at Tyrone, on Saturday, Lester Schaeffer, of this place, came in second in the two-mile open, and third in the five-mile open.

—A spotted snake, three feet long, was found in the bed room of Mrs. I. W. Raven, of Millheim, last Friday. It had a stinger an inch long on the end of its tail.

—Rain spoiled the cake walk that the Milesburg hook and ladder company had advertised for last Saturday night and thirty gallons of ice cream were sold for $47.

—The entertainment in the opera house, Wednesday evening, by the colored people was really a very interesting one and deserved far more patronage than it received.

—Mrs. J. V. Thomas has rented her house, on Allegheny street, to Mrs. Morris, of Overbrook, who, with her two grand children, will occupy it for six months. Mrs. Thomas and her two daughters will spend most of the winter in Philadelphia.

—The Commissioners of Centre and Clearfield counties met, on Friday, and decided to build an entire new bridge over the Moshannon, near Lucas' mill, in barnside township. The contract for the superstructure was awarded to Nelson, Buchannon Co. of Chambersburg, Pa. A new bridge will be erected at Pesio, but not within the present year.

—Mrs. Julia A. Marks died at her home in Boggs township, on Friday, August 23rd. Deceased was 78 years old. She had had a number of attacks of paralysis and had been ill a long time. Deceased was a widow, her husband having preceded her to the grave twelve years ago. Two sons and two daughters are left to mourn her death. Burial was made on the 25th.

—Frank and Mrs. Westcott will leave Bellefonte to-morrow for their new home at New Kensington. They shipped their goods, on Thursday and are moving to the new glass town where Mr. Westcott will work in the future. We are really sorry to lose two such good residents, but know that the move will be a profitable one to them and consequently we are gratified at hearing of it. In talking of the unprecedented boom in the glass business Mr. Westcott said "there will be only two factories in the United States idle this winter. Those at St. Louis and Bellefonte." Coal is too hard to get at the former place but what of the latter?

THE WEEK IN COURT.—The regular quarterly session of court convened here Monday morning, with judges Love, Faulkner and Rich on the bench. After the constables had made their returns the roll of jurors was called and the routine of organization gone through with. Court adjourned until afternoon, when cases were taken up and disposed of as follows:

The grand jury went to work under Col. James F. Weaver, as foreman. Joseph Peters, Peter Schluter and John Hetliss, all of Philipsburg, appeared for naturalization. The first two were given papers, but Hetliss, being a Hungarian and unable to read English, was held over until October.

During the morning the court directed the Sheriff to summon 36 jurors for a special term of court to begin October 14th.

Commonwealth vs Wm. H. Smith, assault and battery. William Eckley prosecutor. Bill ignored and prosecutor for all of costs except $4.00 for county.

Commonwealth vs Michael Walk, charged by Henry Stevens with cutting timber on land that did not belong to him. Bill ignored and Henry Stevens for costs.

Commonwealth vs Wm. R. Essington charged with f. and b. by Fannie Adams. Defendant plead guilty and usual sentence imposed.

The case of the Commonwealth vs James Somers charged with f. and b. by Elizabeth Bailey was settled by defendant giving bond of $400 to the overseers of Half Moon township that the child will never become a charge.

Commonwealth vs J. C. Miller, alias Wilson, charged with larceny by Jere Funk, of Philipsburg. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay costs, a fine of $1, restore the stolen goods to its owner and undergo four months' imprisonment in the county jail. The watch was taken from the home of Mr. Luken in Philipsburg.

Commonwealth vs John Vallance charged with false pretense by Herman Martz. Bill ignored and prosecutor to pay costs.

Commonwealth vs William Banyer charged with adultery by Joshua Folk. Bill ignored and county for costs.

Commonwealth vs Eliza E. Miller, charged with malicious mischief by Henry Walters. Not guilty and prosecutor for costs.

Commonwealth vs Mollie Mallory, Lizzie Mallory, Kate Cain, Agnes Cain, and Annie Cain charged with assault and battery by Michael Dougherty. Verdict of not guilty and defendants to pay half and prosecutor half of costs and do it within ten days. This is the case that caused the excitement in the vicinity of Axe Mann some time ago.

Commonwealth vs Samuel Solt, Andrew Meese and James Reed charged with indecent exposure by Frank P. Blair. Verdict not guilty and county for costs.

Commonwealth vs Henry Moyer charged with larceny of a bull calf by Ivy W. Barges. Not guilty.

Commonwealth vs Samuel Stover charged with f. and b. by Bella Guiser. Defendant plead guilty and usual sentence imposed.

Commonwealth vs Wm. Packer, of Curtin township. Charge, assault and battery. Prosecutor, Frederick Kerchoff. Plead guilty to assault and battery. District attorney enters not pros to the second count, aggravated assault.

Emanuel Harter vs Kate Neece, plea assumpsit. Judgment confessed in favor of the plaintiff, by paper filed, for $86.39 with stay of execution for sixty days.

A. B. Hurd and Peter Arp, trading as the Eagle Foundry Co., vs William Parker, plea assumpsit, settled.

J. A. Woodcock & Son vs John G. Platt, J. F. Barber and William Lauderbach, trading as the Philipsburg Produce Co., plea assumpsit, settled.

B. Weber vs W. J. Singer, administrator of etc. of Conrad Singer, deceased. Plea assumpsit. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $384.85.

B. Weber, trustee, vs W. J. Singer, administrator of etc. of Conrad Singer, deceased. Plea assumpsit. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $151.04.

John Lannen vs J. D. Bearick. Plea assumpsit. The defendant not appearing judgment was taken in favor of the plaintiff for $30.62.

Commonwealth vs George Flannigan; charged with f. and b. by Sadie White. Defendant plead guilty. The child being dead he was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars, forty dollars lying-in expenses and costs of prosecution.

Commonwealth vs F. C. Tanyer, of Julian, charge, larceny and receiving stolen goods, knowing the same to be stolen; prosecutor, John D. Wagner. The defendant was arrested for stealing a lot of carpenter tools in the fall of 1893. Verdict, not guilty.

Commonwealth vs George Deitz, Annie Dietz, R. J. Mann, Carrie Mann and James T. Fye, all of Curtin Twp. Charge, forcible entry and detainer; prosecutor, John A. Mann. These defendants, on the 8th day of last April, battered down the door of the house occupied by the prosecutor as the tenant of George Deitz and forcibly ousting the prosecutor out of the house and putting his goods out on to the public road. Verdict, guilty for forcible entry as to all of the defendants save Annie Dietz, who is the wife of George Deitz and could not be convicted on this charge. Sentenced as follows: Geo. Deitz to pay cost of prosecution and fifty dollars fine for the use of the county; R. J. Mann to pay cost of prosecution and ten dollars fine; James T. Fye costs of prosecution and ten dollars fine. Sentence suspended as to Carrie Mann.

Commonwealth vs J. Wesley Decker charged with assault and battery by his brother Jonas F. Decker. J. Wesley Decker brutally maltreated his wife, hence the suit. Verdict, guilty.

Commonwealth vs John Guiser and John Gentzel, overseers of poor of Walker township, charged with neglect of duty by Sampson Wolf. The prosecutor had been a charge on the township for five years when the overseers made up their mind he ought to work a little. Accordingly they procured him a job of packing staves on a saw mill. Wolf complained that he could not do the work, owing to the dust affecting his throat. Verdict of guilty in manner and form as indicted.

Commonwealth vs George Goodman charged with assault with attempt to commit rape by Margaret Calderwood. Defendant plead guilty.

Commonwealth vs "Prof." Clarence Davis charged with carrying deadly concealed weapons and wantonly pointing a revolver at W. Gussallus. Verdict of guilty. The case of Boyd Stonerode, of Milesburg, charged with forgery and false pretense, was then taken up and is now being tried.

TWO REPORTS FROM THE GRAND JURY.—When the grand jury finished up its work at court yesterday it had two reports to make to the court; one a majority report, the other a minority report containing the signature of foreman Col. Jas. F. Weaver and four or five others. These gentlemen objected to the recommendation authorizing the Commissioners to make unlimited improvements to the old Court House in the way of adding new rooms for jurors, witnesses and others. They say that inasmuch as no limit was fixed they could not conscientiously approve of it. This recommendation is mandatory since it is the second one. The other having been made last April.

—Washburn's show, next Thursday, will probably be the last one of the season. It travels by rail and has an excellent reputation.

—Since Clinton county, has instructed its delegates for C. S. McCormick, Esq., for appellate court judge. Judge Mayer's name will not be presented as a candidate for this position.

—The Loganton stage tumbled over an embankment in the Sugar-valley gap, on Saturday afternoon, and the driver was slightly bruised. One of the mules that was drawing the stage shied when the Green Bur band wagon was met, hence the accident.

—The body of Mrs. Mathias Mayer, who died of Bright's disease, in Houtzdale, Friday evening the 23rd, was brought to this place Monday morning and buried in the Jewish cemetery. She is survived by her husband, who worked in Sussman's store years ago, and three children.

—A party of Tyrone boys, traveling under the name of the "Texas Rangers," reached this place, on Monday evening, in a hack. They were on their way to Eagle's Mere, Lyscombing county, where they will camp for a week before returning. They spent the night here and continued merrily on their journey next morning, notwithstanding it was raining very hard. The party was made up of the following boys: Ed. Toner, Harry Gardner, William Kephart, Bert Trout, Charles Herlt, Robert Wilson, Charles Cass, Jr., Samuel Ross, Guy Walker, Tony Laird, and Harry VanScoyoc.

—Coming without the roar of trumpets and seeking to proclaim its merits in as modest a manner as possible. Leon W. Washburn's great allied shows, big three ring circus, museum, menagerie and hippodrome has completed arrangements to exhibit here Thursday, September 5, 1895. To those acquainted with the career of Mr. Leon W. Washburn it will be readily seen that the present organization is by far the most pretentious that he has ever carried over the road. The many pleasing acts by numbers of riders, leapers, tumblers, acrobats, contortionists, jugglers and acrobats, certainly ought to convince the most skeptical that it will be worth anyone's time and money to visit his circus. The menagerie is well filled with a collection of elephants, camels, water-buffalos, rare birds, venomous reptiles, lions, tigers, tapirs, hyenas, leopards and a monster collection of the monkey tribe. The hippodrome is most exciting and the many races, trials of strength between man and beast are certainly well worth consideration of the auditor.

TRAMPED TO DEATH BY HIS HORSES.—A singularly sad accident occurred within a few steps of the railroad station at Zion, on Monday evening, about six o'clock, whereby Isaiah Struble, one of the best known and highly respected farmers in Nittany valley lost his life.

The story of his death is about as follows: His son Howard P., had been plowing with what is called a "Gang" plow, in a field between the house and the town of Zion. Quitting time came and Howard drove into the barn where he was busy unhitching the horses until two of them frightened and started to run, the other two being detached from the plow were still hitched at the heads. It required four horses abreast to pull a "Gang" plow. The team ran wildly toward the yard of the farm barn which anyone familiar with that locality will recall as a large red structure nearest the C. R. R. of Pa., depot. Near the gate to the barn old Mr. Struble was standing talking to Wilson Cole. The latter saw the runaways coming and jumped out of the road. By so doing he missed seeing in exactly what way Mr. Struble met his death. It is not known whether he undertook to stop the horses or whether they ran over him before he could get away. At all events when picked up he was still conscious and asked his brother Joel, who lives on the adjoining farm and hurried over as soon as he heard of it, to turn him onto his "other side." Dr. Fisher was hurriedly summoned, but before he arrived the unfortunate man was dead.

An examination of his wounds seems to indicate that he was not run over by the plow, but simply trampled by the horses. His right breast was crushed in and there were a number of wounds on his head, none of which, however, were serious enough to have caused death. It was the crushed breast that proved fatal. After passing over him the horses ran madly around the straw stack several times then stopped. Meanwhile Howard and Wilson Cole had hurried to the scene of the sad ending of their father's and employer's life.

Mr. Struble leaves a widow with three children. They are Jacob, in the employ of the Union Switch and Signal Co. and who had just left home after a short visit; Howard P. and Mary both at home. Mrs. Struble had just returned from Atlantic City the Saturday before the accident and as she was away for her health the shock has affected her very seriously.

Deceased was 63 years old and a member of the Reformed church. Funeral services will be held to-day and interment will be made at Zion this morning.

A STRICKEN VILLAGE.—The diseased condition in which our little suburban village of Coleville finds herself to-day is exciting the deepest interest on the part of many of our citizens, but as yet no inclination to aid has materialized.

For many months Coleville has been stricken with the epidemic of typhoid fever. Desultory efforts have been made to discover its cause, but nothing has been done to avert its dreadful ravage. Many deaths have already occurred and there are now twelve cases of the fever in the village. The population is small and made up mostly of working people, who are dependent on their daily labor for existence. When any of them are stricken they become practically helpless. With their income cut off they have hardly means to procure necessities; much less those nourishing and tempting morsels that should be the diet in every sick room. In such straits the idea of eradicating the source of the disease has never been undertaken.

Why should Bellefonte not do it? We are enormously well off, compared to that sad community; our merchants and trades-men enjoy all of their trade; they are part of us, then let us waken up to a sense of duty and protect them. Bellefonte should be ashamed of herself that she has not acted long ere this. Had it been a famine in the West, carloads of food, clothing and money would have attested the earnest sympathy of Bellefonters. Had it been a Jacksonville, stricken with the yellow fever, Bellefonte's heart would have gone out in the form of substantial money contributions. Had it been a deluged Johnstown, her sons would have exposed themselves to every hardship and her wealthy citizens contributed liberally, but because it is Coleville—a poor, little, helpless village almost on our threshold, Bellefonters look on the sadder there, but does nothing.

Let us hope that our council will take immediate action in the matter. There can be no doubt that the water is the cause of the trouble, so let there be a sufficient sum appropriated to the Board of Health to thoroughly investigate the town, disinfect it and arrange for its better sanitation.

It won't cost much and think of the sorrow it might end.

A FESTIVAL.—The benefits to be devoted to the church, will be held at Marsh Creek Summit church, on Saturday, September 7th. The public is cordially invited to be present.

—The Elk tanning company's plant at Irvona was destroyed by fire on Friday night. The loss of $14,000 is covered by insurance.

—Pott's shorthand college open day and night the year round. Complete mail course. State plan preferred. Catalogue and first lesson free. Position for all graduates. Address, Williamsport, Pa. 2t.

—Lettie Freeman Nichols, a deformed colored woman, came near burning herself to death in Philipsburg, on Friday night. Her dress caught fire from a lamp she was carrying and her little daughter threw water on her in time to save her life.

—James Hatch, a resident of Philipsburg was going home the other night and discovered one of the arc lights on the street not burning. He had often seen the trimmer make the light go on by shaking the rope that elevates or lowers the lamp, so he tried it. The rain that was falling had charged the iron spool around which the rope was wound and Mr. Hatch got a shock that nearly killed him. He had to be carried home, as his legs and arms were swollen and black.

—Burglars gained an entrance into S. M. Buck's house, on Howard street, on Wednesday night and succeeded in getting hold of his clothes that were lying in a room adjoining his bed room. They got 15cts out of his trousers, but missed a $10 note that was wrapped up in Mrs. Buck's pocket book. They stole Sam's shoes, consequently he sports a new pair now. The same night they entered Rev. Zehner's house, on Willowbank street, where they procured Mrs. Zehner's pocket book in which there were $4.

News Purely Personal.

—Noah Cronmiller, of Thomas street, spent Sunday with Armstrong friends.

—J. P. Gephart Esq., of this place, was in Millheim, last Friday looking after some repairs on his property there.

—Mrs. Margaret Alexander will leave the beginning of next week for Richmond, Va., for an extended visit to her daughter Mrs. Yarrington.

—Among the Bellefonters who took in the Republican convention, at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, were Mose Montgomery, John M. Dale Esq. and A. Dale Esq.

—Reese Van Ormer, at one time a Centre county pedagogue, later editor of the Centre Democrat and now employed in Coatesville is visiting his old home here.

—Dave Kelley after a few days visit to his brother in this place returned Tuesday evening to Philadelphia, where he is employed in the operators store in the Custom House.

—Miss Lucretia Brew, of north Allegheny street, is entertaining her cousin, Miss Florence Brew, of Toledo, Ohio. She arrived here Monday and will remain until tomorrow.

—Councilman Wm. T. Hillbish left Monday evening for Lorain, Ohio, where he will look into the nature of a position that has just been offered him in the great Johnson rail-mills there. While away he will visit his brothers at Canton.

—Mrs. Orvis and daughter Caroline, of east Linn street, returned from a week's visit to Atlantic City, on Wednesday. They brought Mrs. Orvis' grand-children, the little Canfields, with them to keep during the month of September.

—Miss Rilla Bosner, who is home on a vacation from Camden, N. J. has with her two friends Miss Miletta, of Camden, and Miss Orndorff, of Lock Haven. They have had a delightful time at Penns Cave and the other places.

—Mrs. W. F. Reber and her two children left last week for their new home in West Philadelphia, Mr. Reber has had an office in that city ever since the present administration took charge at Harrisburg and has finally decided to locate there permanently.

—Mrs. George L. Potter and daughters Marguerite and Sarah, of east Linn street, with Miss Craus, of Chicago, are at the shore for quite an extended stay. They will not return before the middle of September as it is hoped the sea air will relieve Miss Sarah of a severe attack of hay fever.

—The Misses Catharine and Anestasia Clarke, of Buffalo Run, have left for short visits with friends. The former with her brother at Kearneyville, W. Va., the latter with friends in Lock Haven. While away Miss Catharine will visit in Baltimore also.

—"Billy" Stuart, an account of whose debut as a national league base ball player will be found on the inside of this paper, was sent back to Pittsburg from Boston, on Tuesday, owing to his having a sore foot. Genies took his place in Tuesday's game and made two errors.

—Mr. M. L. Rishel, a gentleman from Farmer's Mills, who can look down on nearly every other person in that vicinity, has been in town during the week, called hither as a witness in court. Mr. Rishel is a man whose great height excites attention everywhere and the best part of it is that he is every inch a Democrat.

—Mr. and Mrs. Matt. Dooley returned from their wedding tour, on Tuesday evening, and have gone to housekeeping on east High street, where the groom owns several properties. A reception at the home of the bride's parents, on Bishop street, and a serenade by the Undine band were part of the entertaining accorded them.

—Among the many young men, who are now having and giving the girls a royal good time in their old home, are Herbert and Albert Loeb. The former is in Bauland's store in Chicago and the latter in Loeb's in Punxsutawney. Mrs. Adolph Loeb, their mother, has been here most of the summer visiting her brother William Grauer, and his family.

—Among the many well-known men, from different parts of the county, who have been in attendance at court during the week are Capt. John A. Hunter, of Stormstown; post-master Frank Kennedy, of State College; Banker Wm. B. Mingle, of Centre Hall; Squire J. H. Reifmeyer, of Millheim, and H. A. Brummager of Zion.

A HAPPY FAMILY REUNION.—Twenty-two years ago D. F. Confer purchased the farm of Thomas Butler, at Hunter's run, in Liberty township, and with the exception of two years, he has lived there ever since. He is 67 years old while his good wife, Prudence, is five years his junior. Until within the last five months both have enjoyed the best of health, but then disease came to weaken and destroy Mrs. Confer. She has rallied, however, and on last Saturday a reunion of their family was held at the old home.

Of the fourteen children born to this couple all are living but one, a daughter who died in infancy. The eight boys and five girls of the family, all married but the three youngest, were at home on Saturday and when they sat down to the sumptuous dinner that was spread in the orchard there was found to be thirty-five grand-children and eight great-grand-children there too.

The day was most pleasantly spent and everything was propitious but not rain driven the joyous party from the orchard to the house, there to finish dinner.

—A half dozen fine cabinet photos for 99cts is the latest departure at Schaeffer's.

"PROF." J. C. DAVIS IN JAIL AGAIN.—After a few days of liberty "Prof." J. C. Davis, the one legged magic lantern show man, was locked up again, on Tuesday night. He had just been released, after serving a 14 month's sentence for adultery, when he was found again with the object of his former sinning.

With Mrs. Amos Redding he was walking down the rail-road, near the nail works, on Tuesday evening, when imagining himself followed by Chas. and Wm. Gussallus and John Strunk he pulled out a revolver and fired three times at the latter. He told the Gussallus boys that he would shoot them and that he had fired after Strunk with the intention of hitting him. Threats were also made against the policemen here. The boys make information against the "Prof." and he was lodged in jail. Yesterday afternoon the jury found him guilty of the charges preferred.

—Schaeffer the photographer is making 6 cabinets for 99cts. See ad.

VETERAN CLUB PICNIC.—On account of the Centre county veteran club picnic, at Hunters park, Saturday September 7th, the Pennsylvania railroad Co., will run a special train from Bellefonte to Coburn, leaving Bellefonte 6:30 p. m. stopping at intermediate points. Agents at Coburn and intermediate points will sell excursion tickets to Bellefonte and return, limited to day of issue, at single fare for the round trip.

—See Schaeffer's ad.

—Come and see the good things we have bought for you in the way of clothing and hats—for the fall and winter season—bought before the rise in price. Styles more beautiful, prices more reasonable, goods more durable than ever before. Agency for Dunlap and Knox hats. Montgomery & Co.

WHERE YOU CAN BUY THE CHEAPEST.—It is a question of dollars and cents after all. No matter what people say it is as natural to save a penny in buying as it is to eat dinner at the dinner hour. Opportunities to make great savings are not often to be had, but Lyon & Co's., big advertisement in this issue affords just such a chance. Read it and profit by the bargains it holds out. A dollar saved is a dollar earned.
