Even though this is true it is surmised that the authors of the trouble don't live very far distant from the Spangler home and if the surmise is verified they will speedily be brought to justice.

CRATIC STATE CONVENTION .- It is not often that a convention of the State Democracy is held so near Centre county as will be the one to convene at Williamsport, on Wednesday, Sept. 11th, nor is such an opportunity afforded every day, of journeying to that town and back for $1.00, yet both these inducements are being held out to the Democrats of Centre county just now.

Accordingly arrangements have been made with the Central R. R. of Pa., to sell tickets, from all points along its line, in Centre county. to Williamsport and return for $1.00. The tickets will be good to use on Tuesday evening trains, if any one cares to go down then. The train that most of the party from here will use will leave at 7:40 and returning, will leave

Williamsport about 9 o'clock. The Undine band will go down on Tuesday so as to be on hand to receive the Bower club when it arrives next morning. As 125 tickets had to be purchased to insure such a low rate, it is desired that every one who can will go. The trip will be a pleasant one and politically profitable, as it will afford an opportunity for all our people to witness a gathering of the State Democracy and be benefited thereby, besides, if a large crowd turns out, it will do much toward impressing on the convention the popularity of Mr. Bower at home and lend that argument in behalf of his nomination.

Free stabling will be furnished persons driving to Nittany to take the train. The hotel stable there will af. ford free quarters for the horses of those Democrats who drive there to take the train.

As he is now interested, with his brother Arthur Kitson, Esq., in a new process for the manufacture of fuel gas, he intends organizing companies both in England and on the continent, while away.
