

—TWENTY-SIX YEARS OLD.—The Young Men's Christian Association of Bellefonte celebrated its 26th anniversary by a joint meeting in the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, in this place, last Sunday evening.

In the Methodist church the services were under the direction of J. Wesley Gephart Esq. president of the association; while Judge James A. Beaver, ex-president, presided in the Presbyterian church. Among the speakers were Rev. R. L. Gearhart, of the Reformed church of this place; Rev. Dr. Wm. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. W. Rue, of the Methodist church, Hugh McA. Beaver, state secretary of college Associations and others. The young secretary's plea for an open association building in Bellefonte, a plea for a home for our boys, was truly a most earnest one. Few of the people of this place had had an opportunity of hearing Hugh talk, since his entering into his new work, up to that time and many were surprised at the sincerity and force that characterized his remarks.

General Secretary Cota's annual report was perhaps the most interesting part of the program, since it disclosed some startling facts for his auditors. Not many of our people have an idea of the nature of the work done at the home of the Association on Allegheny street and to give you a slight idea of its nature we publish a few extracts from his report.

"The report showed that 25,000 visitors had been to the rooms on all occasions during the year, which made an average of 70 per day. The attendance at all religious meetings was 4125. The number of meetings held out of town was seven, with a total attendance of 2200. Four professions of conversion were secured during the meetings of the year. There are at the present time 52 publications daily, weekly and monthly, and 1500 books in the library and the reading rooms. Five lectures were held, with an attendance of 1260. The report of the treasurer showed that $1073 had been spent in Y. M. C. A. work. This entire amount was given by 140 persons." Of the amount expended to conduct the work it should be known that Mr. Cota has drawn only a little over $400 as his salary and it is really a shame and a disgrace to the people of our town that such a man as he is should be allowed to remain unpaid and really in want.

No one dare question the work that is done by the Association. It answers for itself and an occasional visit to the building will convince the most skeptical as to its beneficial results.

Are't you ashamed that out of Bellefonte's business population of 6000, or more, there were only 140 persons who contributed to the Y. M. C. A. last year? Think of it. Four young men were converted to God in those rooms and yet only $1073 were expended to maintain them. Had this been the only work accomplished the amount would appear infinitesimal in comparison, but remember that 365 days in the year those doors have been invitingly open for every one. Think of the temptation those cosy, warm rooms have removed from the paths of — well, possibly your own boy.

The year just closed was far more fruitful than the one before it and promise is given of still better results during the coming year. Among the especially commendable features will be the night schools at which penmanship, book-keeping and short hand will be taught free of charge. This will give an opportunity for young men who work during the day to get a business education.

Can Bellefonte afford to be so niggardly? The Y. M. C. A. will need at least $2000 for the current year and it ought to have it.

The annual meeting of the association to elect officers for the year was held last Friday evening and resulted in the following: President, J. W. Gephart; vice president, Geo. R. Meek; secretary, J. P. Smith; treasurer, C. F. Cook; executive committee, Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, J. R. Hughes, W. H. Musser, C. Dale, B. C. Achenbach, L. C. Wetzel, N. S. Bailey, and W. S. Zeller. The new board of officers will take tea with president J. W. Gephart at his home, on Curtin street, this evening.

TRYING TO SAVE THE TROUT.—The continual dry weather has had the effect of making all the streams in the county very low and some of them are about dry. This is the case with Fishing creek in Sugar valley near its head. There is now only water in the deep holes, and the residents of the valley have placed the trout in these deep places in order to keep them alive. Fishing creek was fully as low five years ago as it is now, and the trout were cared for at that time in a similar manner.—Lock Haven Express.

—Mr. D. B. Malone, of Boggs township, and Mrs. Mary E. Negli, of Beech Creek, were married at the Methodist parsonage in this place, on Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. J. W. Rue. As the groom is about 60 years old he will resign his farm to his sons and reside at Beech Creek.

—Henry Linn, a son of John B. Linn, of this place, went horse back riding last Friday evening, up the mountain back of Coleville. When near the old Purdue farm, on top of the mountain, he was riding along an unused wood chopper's road where the overhanging limbs brushed his cap off. Henry dismounted to get it but unfortunately the horse that he trusted betrayed him and the moment he stooped to pick up his cap it dashed away up the mountain. As it was getting dark and he had often heard of how the bears roam about up there at night fall he made a desperate effort to catch the horse, but with no further result than grabbing a hair out of his tail. After failing in this he made tracks for Bellefonte and covered the five miles in something less than an hour. Next day he returned to find that Mr. Koch and his son had caught the horse only a short distance from where he had given up the chase. He is a regular lion at a leap-year ball, but in the woods, after dark, things are different, you know.

—While playing about the school house, in Milesburg, Tuesday afternoon, a little ward of Mrs. Joseph Swyers fell and cut a terrible gash in her forehead.

Books, Magazines Etc.

—Among the popular illustrated magazines of America, Home and Country and The Monthly Illustrator have held high place. Each have occupied a field peculiarly its own. The two have now been combined under the blended title, The Monthly Illustrator and Home and Country, and the October number furnishes evidence that the strong features of both publications are to be retained, and indeed improved upon. Especially is this true with regard to illustrations, of which there are 166 in the current issue. The subscription price is $2.00 a year. Issued by The Monthly Illustrator Publishing Co., Jos. W. Port Matilda Pointers.

Mrs. Jackson Kelly, of Chester Hill, Clearfield county, died on Monday and was buried in the Presbyterian cemetery here, on Wednesday. She had been a great sufferer for years.

There has not been much petty thieving going on here for some time, but as the crop of spring chickens is fast coming into condition it is altogether likely that they will be gathered in time for Thanksgiving. We noticed Rev. J. C. Young, of Pleasant Gap, in our burg one evening during the week but didn't have an opportunity of shaking hands with him. Of course he was very busy all the time he was here and we didn't feel slighted at all when we saw the smiles on the face of one of our maidens when she saw him driving into town. Come often Reverend.

We have been having a very decided cold spell for the last few days and it has become necessary to hand down winter clothing to properly protect one's self against the chilling blasts. Some people down at Hannah must be of the same opinion, for a gentleman from that place, who has a reputation for veracity, told your correspondent, the other day, of how some one intends keeping warm. He said that a certain Hannah Furness merchant who is accustomed to sleeping above his store, as a safeguard against burglars, was entertaining a party of friends in his place of business last Sunday night. After they had all departed he locked up and went to bed. He heard no disturbance during the night, so imagine his surprise when he found 21 pairs of men's drawers missing in the morning. "The mystery is? What became of the drawers?"

The sprightly form of D. D. G. Master Cronister, of Port Matilda, was seen but for a few minutes on our streets last Tuesday interviewing old acquaintances and forming new ones. While here he installed the officers of Paines valley lodge, I. O. O. F., 278 which duty he performed with dispatch. The officers for the term are: A. J. Tate, N. G.; David Otto, V. G.; J. G. Heberling, treasurer; A. G. Archey, Sec.; M. E. Heberling, Ass't Sec.; with a full corps of appointed officers.

Just as we go to press word has reached us that "Aunt Sallie," relic of Fredrick Gates, at one time a resident of this place died at the home of her nephew, John Gates, at Centre Line, last Sunday, the 6th inst., aged 83 years. During her score of years of widowhood she made her home with near relatives, but for the last few years she was kindly cared for by "Aunt Sallie" Way, near Stormstown. Her death was not unexpected as she had had heart trouble for some time. Her maiden name was Pyle. Burial took place at Gatesburg on the 9th inst., where she gently sleeps by the side of her husband.

It is with sadness that we chronicle the death of Rebecca E., wife of W. F. Heberling, which occurred on the 5th inst. at 3 o'clock a. m. after several weeks illness with typhoid fever. From the first that she took her bed she did not expect to recover. Thus the headlight of another family has gone out and her place around the family hearthstone will be hard to fill. She was the daughter of Peter and Mary Louck and was born August 13th, 1849. She was married twice. June 22nd, 1868, she married Jacob Hicks to whom she had twelve children, but five of whom are living. February 18th, 1888, she married W. F. Heberling and this union was blessed with three children, of whom two bright little girls and husband mourn her demise. Interment was made in Gray's cemetery, on Sunday, at one o'clock. In the absence of the pastor, Mr. Leaver, of Stormstown, conducted the religious services and J. B. Heberling the burial services. The grave was bedecked with flowers and roses which betokened great respect for the departed.

When the news was received on Saturday evening from Cornell, that the score in the great football game stood 0-0, the whole student body nearly went wild. Balls were pounded, cannons fired, and a couple hundred students marched, in shirt tail parade, single file and lock-step for hours up and down the streets and through the campus, with tin horns, bells, rattles, and everything that could be used to make a noise, until they were tired out, and went to bed to gain strength to welcome the boys home on Monday morning, which they did in royal style.
