

JOSEPH J. RHOADS' WEDDING.—The Huntingdon Semi-Weekly News published the following account of the marriage of Joseph J. Rhoads, second son of the late Judge Daniel Rhoads, of this place, to Miss Petrikin, of Huntingdon. The ceremony was performed last Thursday evening.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride, No. 226 Penn street, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Margaret M. Petrikin being married to Joseph J. Rhoads, of Bellefonte. Rev. D. K. Freeman performed the ceremony, using a ring. The bride was attired in a handsome white satin gown, trimmed with pearls and lace, and came into the room leaning on the arm of the groom, followed by her sister, Miss Mary Petrikin, maid of honor. Fifty or more guests were present from Bellefonte and Huntingdon. The presents were elegant.

The bride is one of Huntingdon's most beautiful and accomplished young ladies. Her husband is a supervisor on the P. R. R. at Burlington, N. J., and a worthy young man. The bridal party left on Philadelphia express for the east.

A SPECTACULAR ATTRACTION.—Joseph Callahan's production of "Faust" at the Garman opera house, on Tuesday evening next, Oct. 22nd. He is ably supported by Edwin Boring, in the title role of Faust; Miss Beatrice Ingram and Marguerite; Mrs. Addie Farwell as Martha; and other competent members of the company. Mr. Callahan has become thoroughly familiar with the requirements of the difficult role of Mephisto through years of study and experience. The electrical effects in the spectacular production of "Faust" are simply indescribable. They surpass any and all similar features. Mr. Joseph Callahan is a young, ambitious actor, and has already done himself credit. Audiences have applauded him in performances in which a better known actor has been billed as Mephisto. The spectacular Mephisto is by reason of merit Mr. Callahan's lineal legacy. Miss Beatrice Ingram is a pretty, guileless and affectionate Marguerite. In the prison scene, in the concluding act, her interpretation is highly effective. Mr. Callahan's support throughout is competent, and should lead him on to protracted successes. Admirers of Goethe's masterpiece have a great treat in store.

The following letters remain uncanceled for in the Bellefonte P. O. Oct. 14, 1895.

Miss Alexander, Mary A. Baney, Miss E. J. Cook, Mary Cleveland, Eddie M. Diamond, Sam Grayson, Mrs. Wm. M. Fornell, Mary Heberlein, Thea Jones, M. Kurtz, Mary L. Miss T. Miller, Robt. McFadden, Katie Silby, Wm. T. Swab.

When called for please say advertised.

REGGLEMAN-BECKWITH.—On October 13th, Peter Beckwith, of Martha Furnace, and Miss Anna Beckwith, of the same place, were married at Port Matilda by H. Osman J. P.

Pine Grove Mention.

Wm. Marts says the rabbit season is here.

Wm. H. Smith says he has another boarder at his house, it is a girl.

Miss Fannie Kanode, after a most enjoyable visit at the pleasant home of W. J. Myers, has returned to her home at Alexandria.

E. T. Livingston and Chas. Smith of this place are in attendance at the reunion of the 49th P. V. Regt. at Huntingdon, this week.

Our farmer friends are taking advantage of the fine weather to crib one of the largest corn crops for years. A few of the forenoon farmers are done.

Ex-county treasurer J. B. Mitchell, returned from Port Royal Presbytery anything but well. He has been closely confined to his house but is now somewhat better.

Rev. Leiper of Lemont will hold communion services in the Presbyterian church of this place the last Sunday of this month. Preparatory services will be held the previous Friday and Saturday evenings.

The Mexican veteran, H. R. Smith, who has been seriously ill for some time at Potters Mills, has recovered sufficiently to be brought to his home in this place. He is able to converse with friends, but is perfectly helpless from paralysis.

Some of our farmers last spring invested in fancy seed potatoes, sold by S. A. Dunlap, and although the crop is commanding a low price on account of the prolific yield, the crop is a paying one. Jas G. Fortney raised of ten pounds Maggie Murphy and ten pounds of another variety, twenty bushels or ten bushels of each kind. Charley Kuhn claims the best as he raised five bushels of choice potatoes from four pounds of seed. Besides using fertilizer he gave them special care and work, which pays in anything.

DEATH OF MARY GARNER.—Tuesday morning the vicinity of Pine Hall was surprised to hear of the death of Mary, wife of John Garner. Some weeks ago she had an attack of dysentery from which she recovered sufficiently to do her house work, but a relapse caused her sudden and unexpected death. She was the mother of eleven children, seven of whom survive with her husband and mourn the death of one whose place cannot be filled. She was forty-three years old, and a daughter of D. M. and Catharine Stover, near Pine Hall. She was a member of the M. E. church and a most gentle, gracious woman. Interment was made at Pine Hall cemetery on Thursday at 2 o'clock p.m.

A HAPPY WEDDING.—The marriage of Miss Olio, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McWilliams, of Edward Bowersox was solemnized on the morning of the 16th at the home of the bride's parents near Fairbrook. Before breakfast the Rev. A. A. Black took his place in the reception room and soon the ceremony was said in the presence of the members of the families. After the sumptuous wedding breakfast the happy couple left on the morning train for Philadelphia and other eastern cities. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in Altoona where the groom has furnished a house ready for occupancy. Edward, a son of Frank Bowersox, is a clerk in the railroad office and is an industrious, intelligent young man. His bride is a practical young woman who has all the qualifications of a cheerful helpful wife.

THE STORMSTOWN LODGE.—The revolution of the wheel of time have again recorded a prosperous year in the history of the Stormstown I. O. O. F. Lodge. A blessing to many in the nine years of its existence, to the sick and distressed it has been an angel of mercy. Throughout its history it has been distinguished for its generous gifts and good deeds and it is well founded on the solid ground of friendship, love and truth. On the 10th of October, D. D. G. Master Cronister conducted the installation of the following officers. N. G. Harvey Scott; V. G. J. W. Bassor; Per Sec., W. C. Biglow; Ast. Sec., George Tyler; Treas., R. J. P. Gray; J. S. Parson; R. J. to V. G., Cal Murtoff; L. S. to G. J. W. Hartsock; Warden, Reuben Cronemiller; conductor, Mart Farber; left S. S., J. L. Hartsock; Regt. S. S., W. E. Hartshock; chaplain, J. H. Lever. After the installation the sixty members present which included a representative from Pittsburg, State College and Penns Valley were marched to the lunch room by T. G. Burkett and Bob Gray. Chaplain Lever invoked the divine blessing, and deputy Cronister urged everyone to eat, drink and be merry. For one hour the guests followed his injunction so heartily that we could not imagine where the aching void that Bob Gray and Scott Miles complained of was located. As one time it was feared a derrick would have to be procured to remove Cronister and T. G. Burkett from the festive board; but they recovered sufficiently to help on with the speeches which followed the feast. Mr. Cronister called the company to order and in a few well selected words told of his work in the county during the last week. He had helped install the officers of six lodges in five nights, and not any of them were in a healthier or more prosperous condition than the Stormstown Lodge. At twelve o'clock the members and visitors bade each other good night, and started to their homes much pleased with the general good will and fraternal feeling.

Port Matilda Pointers

There have been some strange happenings in our neighborhood, since our last report, some of which we will briefly relate.

The chicken thieves have awakened from their lethargy to go to work again. Mr. Daniel Adams, of this township, was relieved of his flock, on Saturday night, but we did not learn how many there were in it.

Some time ago we noted that we were to have steam power at our grist mill. The engine arrived on Monday and will be put in position in a few days. This will be good news to the people of this community as it has caused much inconvenience to depend on an unreliable water power.

The school tax in this township is 5 mills and still the township is in debt one thousand dollars, and no voter except the school board can explain why it is. The school meetings are all held behind closed doors, and if you ask a member of the board anything, he looks wise and as much as says: you are only a tax payer, you don't need to know. If ever there was a party in power that needed a general cleaning out, it is the Republican party of this township, and if the writer is not very much mistaken it is coming, as you can distinctly hear the muttering of Republicans who have never wavered in the support that they gave the ticket, our road tax is 7 mills, and not $5 worth of work has been done in this end of the township.

Things That Have Happened at State College.

About twenty mining engineering students went to Penns Cave, on Saturday, where they carried on some stone investigations relating to their department. They were accompanied by the Prof. of the department, Messrs. Ihsseng and Stock.

Prof. of mechanical engineering, Louis E. Reber, has taken the senior members of the departments of mechanical and electrical engineering to Pittsburg on a week's observation trip among the great manufacturing plants of that hive of industry.

Everything points to a great game of foot ball when P. S. C. meets Bucknell at Williamsport on the 20th, for State's team is playing a slashing game.

Stormstown Statements.

Chestnuts are not so plenty as last year. The water famine still continues in and about this town.

Cider is selling at 60¢ per gal., apples at 10¢ per bushel and pick them yourself.

Dr. James A. Thompson is improving his property, by building new fues, adding a new end to the house, and a new ice house and other necessary buildings.

A large black bear was seen on the mountain near town the other day, and several parties are out after it. They got several shots at it, but failed to bring it down.

Messrs. Chaney and Thompson, of Port Matilda, have placed a saw mill back of town and are now busy sawing out a lot of timber purchased from P. A. Sellers and Frank Herlacher.

Mr. Simon Sellers was granted a pension last week of $12 per month and $250 additional from the time he had applied. Simon feels like a 3 year old, score one more for Hoka Smith.

Your Pine Grove correspondent is making mention last week of the death of Mrs. Rebecca Heberlein, made a mistake when she said she had formerly been married to Jacob Hicks. Her first husband was John W. Hicks, a son of Abram Hicks.

Two pieces of land adjoining the town sold at a high figure, on the 25th of last month. They were the Daniel's lots. One, containing a trifle over two acres, was knocked down to Martin Dennings for $12.50, the other piece contained 88 rods and was bought by Benner W. Wilson at $195.00. The buildings on them were of no account.

The school tax in this township is 5 mills and still the township is in debt one thousand dollars, and no voter except the school board can explain why it is. The school meetings are all held behind closed doors, and if you ask a member of the board anything, he looks wise and as much as says: you are only a tax payer, you don't need to know. If ever there was a party in power that needed a general cleaning out, it is the Republican party of this township, and if the writer is not very much mistaken it is coming, as you can distinctly hear the muttering of Republicans who have never wavered in the support that they gave the ticket, our road tax is 7 mills, and not $5 worth of work has been done in this end of the township.

Drought in Eastern Pennsylvania Brok-en.

READING, October 13.—The drought which has prevailed in Eastern Pennsylvania since July has been broken so far as this section is concerned. The copious showers of Saturday morning, last night and today have filled all the small streams and replenished hundreds of wells and springs which had failed. Rain fell continuously from 9 o'clock last night until late this afternoon.
