Queen Victoria.
 In his cable letter to the New York Times Harold Frederic, who is generally well informed, makes the statement that there seems to be no doubt Queen Victoria is passing through one of those phases of semi-insanity which recall that she is the grand-daughter of George III. For the past six weeks the worst of the attacks has been given everybody much anxiety and causing trouble at Balmoral. Rumors connect them with the decease of a favorite retainer, for whom the queen had great affection. He is said to have been the nephew of the Scotchman, John Brown, at one time a devoted servant of the queen. It is stated in the correspondence that since his death the queen has been going to his grave and to John Brown's in all weathers, and doing other extraordinary things of a crazy character which it is impossible any longer to ignore. If the attack is not more pronounced, it may pass off without official notice, as in former years.
 Queen Victoria is now in her 70th year. When George III., her grandfather, was first stricken with insanity he was in his 50th year. He recovered from that ailment from a second attack, but the most severe, occurring some years later, closed his life in darkness of eyes and mind. He died in 1820, and a writer says of the pitiable close of his existence: "Stone blind, stone deaf, and except for rare lucid intervals, wholly out of his senses, the poor old king wandered from room to room of his palace, a touching picture, with his long white, flowing beard, now repeating to himself the awful words of Milton, 'O dark, dark, dark, amid the blaze of noon—irrevocably dark—no hope, in his mood announcing to himself to be in the companionship of angels.'"
 No such winding up of a brilliant and successful reign, all will join in the hope, is in store for Queen Victoria. But the New York "Times," commenting on the statements of its correspondent, makes the curious reflection that "O! all the positions open to men or women, the position occupied by a royal personage is the only one with the satisfactory performance of every duty mania, so long as it does not assume a violent form, will not interfere in the slightest degree." Yet the English people found it necessary to hand over their government to that graceless vagabond, the Prince Regent when George III. was stricken down. Still, it is to be said his mania took on a violent form, and was accompanied with crazy acts of administration.
How Lightning Kills.
 A new theory as to how lightning kills, but one which may be held in abeyance until a clearer solution of it can be presented, is just now being argued by the scientists. According to this new-fangled idea, a person is never "struck" by lightning at all, that is, in the general sense of the word quoted. The new theory is the result of deductions that have been made and necessary to hand over their government to that graceless vagabond, the Prince Regent when George III. was stricken down. Still, it is to be said his mania took on a violent form, and was accompanied with crazy acts of administration.
A Bad Horse Market.
 According to the Chambersburg Spirit, Philadelphia is a bad horse market at present. One dealer from Franklin county took a car load of horses and found that one of the horses that he paid $40 for and freight, sold for $30. Other dealers who were in the market did not fare any better than did Mr. Zollinger. He saw a fine pair of driving horses, well matched, five years old and sound all over, sold for $2, for the pair. A bay horse five years old, sound and fine appearing, guaranteed to run in less than three minutes, to be returned after a month's trial if not satisfied, went for $75. Prices for heavy work horses were very little better. It is safe to say that no horses will be shipped to Philadelphia from this section for some time.
A Newsboy's Travels.
 James Kelley, the newsboy who runs between Lock Haven and Harrisburg and who is better known as "Sawdust Jimmy," is credited with a traveling record equal to seventy times around the earth. He comes north on News express and goes back the same day, thus traveling 236 miles each day on the round trip. He works every day in the year, and thus gets over 87,140 miles per annum. He has been on the road in this business fifty twenty years, on the same run, consequently he has the enormous mileage of 1,742,800 to his credit; or he could have circled the globe about seventy times by traveling round and round.
Valuable Gold Ore.
 MARTINSBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.—The Tussey mining and smelting company claim that quartz ore mined near Henrietta has assayed $30,000 worth of gold per carload.

The statement that the banks of this country lost more than twenty-five millions of dollars in the last year by defalcation and embezzlement is sufficiently startling to challenge attention. Not less significant is the further statement that the annual loss from these causes has risen in ten years from three and a half millions to ten, the aggregate for the whole period being upwards of one hundred millions.
 Experts attribute this increase not merely to the growing tendency to speculation, but to the inadequacy of the methods of book-keeping commonly in use in the banks, in proportion to the great expansion of business. The knowledge that an embezzlement is thus less likely to be detected is a temptation to bank employes, and even unusual care on the part of bank directors cannot be relied upon to make embezzlement impossible.
 What is true of banks is also true of the accounts of a large establishments, and the real remedy seems to lie, as suggested, in the frequent examination of the books by outside experts. This plan should be adopted, not merely when suspicion is aroused, but as a regular business system. So employed, it would be helpful to all honest book-keepers, clerks and cashiers, and would prevent much irregularity and loss.
 In the Durant case the jury had no difficulty in arriving at a verdict of guilty in the first degree. The evidence for the prosecution was as strong and complete as could have been secured in a circumstantial case, and the defense was not merely weak, but demoralized by the shifting efforts of the defendant to prove an alibi. It is understood that an equally strong chain of evidence has been woven in the murder of Minnie Williams, the other girl whose body was found in Emmanuel Church tower, so if the jury had failed in the first instance conviction would have been almost inevitable in the second. The character of the crimes and the motive of the perpetrator, sympathy or compassion for the criminal. There is no excuse for leniency in dealing with a fiend, who had no mercy for his victims, and the fact that he was educated and intelligent makes his brutal crimes the more discreditable.
 The order of 6,000 freight cars by the Pennsylvania railroad argues that the great business enterprise, in most respects the greatest in the Union, believes that good times have come to stay, and that the "free trade Wilson tariff" is not going to ruin everything. It is stated that the railroads centering in Chicago have ordered 24,000 freight cars for the increased business in sight in moving crops. When the crops are moved eastward and to Europe something always comes in exchange. When the farmer is buying there is solid prosperity in the land. Complaint is made that we are buying more goods abroad than we did the last year of McKinley. Certainly we are, and it is one of the evidences of returning prosperity.
 One curious result of the earthquake in Indiana was to open up streams which had been utterly dry for weeks. The region in which this phenomenon occurred is of limestone formation, by drilling through which an abundance of water is always attainable. The theory is that the earth's vibration opened up crevices through which the water poured; and this supposition, which is altogether plausible, is strengthened by the fact that the same thing occurred twenty-one years ago, when Indiana was shaken by a seismic wave during a dry summer.
 A ragged and bewhiskered individual stopped Chauncey Depew on Fifth avenue and asked for a dime. He was given a quarter and after thanking Mr. Depew, said:
 "May I ask you who you are, sir?"
 In a rather confidential tone Mr. Depew answered:
 "I am Grover Cleveland, president of the United States; and who are you?"
 "Me?" said the mendicant in a tone of surprise and disdain I am Chauncey Depew, president of the New York Central railroad.
 Professor Moore, the new head of the weather bureau, thinks that captive balloons can be of great use in collecting meteorological data. A north pole expedition by means of balloons has been projected, and by the machines constantly struggling with inventors are just as attractive to scientists now as they were a hundred years ago, when Benjamin Franklin was foremost in producing results, but little of much value has been accomplished.
 DUTY.—It is a duty we owe to ourselves, as well as those who are dependent upon us, to preserve our health and strength. Aunt Rachel's Peruvian Malaria Bitters are found to be an unfailing and valuable assistant in maintaining the vigor of the system, and in keeping it in tone. Excellent for those subject to malarial fevers, women and weakly persons to give an appetite.
 Not long ago the two-year-old child of a Berlin day laborer died of starvation. The frenzied father, to save his darling from the potter's field, took the body in his arms and went begging wherewith to give it a decent burial. He was arrested as a mendicant, according to law, they said.
 RHEUMATIC PAINS.—Dr. David Kennedy's statement that the real cause of Rheumatism was the imperfect action of the kidneys, and that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy opened the clogged ducts, permitted the secretions to pass off, relief and comfort following as a natural result, was so reasonable that sufferers seized it with avidity and many a victim of Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago has been cured by its use.
 De Tanque—"Old Soak has developed into a veritable bookworm." Guzzler—"Yes, he heard somebody say that much reading maketh a man full, and he has never experienced that kind before."

GENERAL WASHINGTON'S OTHER NAME.—A large company of persons was started recently by the inquiry for General Washington's other name. A wag asked the question but in a manner that betrayed no humorous intent. It was evident that the company had never heard the Father of his Country had ever assumed an alias. The wag was compelled to tell his fellow guests that our first President's other name was "George." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the name of the world renowned remedy for all blood disorders, liver complaints, and consumption, (or lung scrofula) in its early stages. It has no other name and no rival, because it's the only medicine for these maladies so certain in curative effect that it can be guaranteed to cure or money returned.
 A long suffering public has about reached the limit of its patience in the pugilistic jangling match. It has shifted from a disgraceful barroom encounter in Philadelphia, and a volume of billingsgate in New York, to fleeing and dodging all over Texas and Arkansas, not to mention the Indian Territory. The new proposal to reopen the controversy in Louisiana is passing the point of endurance, and unless those heavy weight bluffers soon meet and disfigure each other there is danger of an uprising of the populace to disfigure both of them. Prize fighting is disgraceful enough, but jangling for the gate receipts and variety show advertising is worse.
 AN IMPORTANT OFFICE.—To properly fill its office and functions, it is important that the blood be pure. When it is in such a condition, the body is almost certain to be healthy. A complaint as this is scrofula, in some of its various forms. A slight cold develops the disease in the head. Dropsings of corruption passing into the lungs bring on consumption. The only way to cure this disease is to purify the blood. The most obstinate cases of catarrh yield to the medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla as if by magic, simply because it reaches the seat of the disease, and by purifying and vitalizing the blood, removes the cause. Not only does Hood's Sarsaparilla do this but it gives renewed vigor to the whole system, making it possible for good health to reign supreme.
 Forty years ago Theodore Parker predicted that before the end of the century Kansas would have 1,000,000 inhabitants, and be worth $1,000,000,000. The prediction has already been more than fulfilled, the State having 1,500,000 people and being worth $2,000,000,000.
 The Shakers have made a great hit. Their Digestive Cordial is said to be the most successful remedy for stomach troubles ever introduced. It immediately relieves all pain and distress after eating, builds up the feeble system and makes the weak strong.
 The fact is, foods properly digested are better than so-called tonics. The Cordial not only contains food already digested, but is a digester of other foods. Food that is not digested does more harm than good. People who use the Cordial insure the digestion of what food they eat and in this way get the benefit of it and grow strong.
 The little pamphlets which the Shakers have sent druggists for free distribution, contain much interesting information on the subject of dyspepsia.
 Ambassador Bayard's chief English chum is said to be the Archbishop of York, whose country place he frequently visits.
 INTENDED TO CATCH YOUR EYE.—Don't skip this paragraph because it is small. It is worth reading for it tells about The Pincola Balsam, a certain remedy for cough, tickling in the throat and the stopped up feeling in the upper part of the chest. A simple cough may turn into something serious if let alone. It ceases to vex you and to keep you awake o' nights when you have allayed the inflammation in your throat with Ely's Pincola Balsam. The druggists sell it for twenty-five cents.
Medical.
IT IS KNOWN BY ITS CURES
 It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit.
 The thousands of people whom it has raised from disease and despair to happiness and health, are the strongest and best advertisements Hood's Sarsaparilla has. No other preparation in existence has such a record of wonderful cures.
 This is why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sale, and requires for its production the largest laboratory in the world.
 Now if you need a good medicine, why not try that which has done others so much good. Remember
HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA IS THE ONLY TRUE BLOOD PURIFIER
