

Pine Grove Mention.

Supervisor Archey is busily engaged in repairing the roads for winter.

We regret to note the illness of Mrs. F. E. Meek, of Altoona, who is seriously ill from a stroke of paralysis.

Our mutual friend Adam Felty is giving special care to his gradually scarred face caused by a fight with the ground. Adam is always on top.

Wm. Smeltzer, of Spring township accompanied by his sister Letta Sundayed with H. H. Goss and viewed his father's early boyhood home.

Mrs. Sarah Tressler is sick unto death at the home of her son-in-law, D. L. Miller, where everything that kind hands can do is being done to make her last days comfortable.

Mr. Henry Koch and wife, of near Bellefonte, were seeing old neighbors here in the early part of this week. Both looking as cheery and happy as when they first took the sacred vow.

We are sorry to announce the serious accident that befell one of our former town boys, Glenn Bailey, who has been in the employ of the P. R. R. company's lumber yards, at Altoona. While walking on the top of a lumber car he was thrown to the ground and rendered unconscious.

A. S. Walker is in Satillo attending the funeral of his aged uncle John Jamison. Mr. Jamison at one time owned the John Everhart farm in this township; but sold it to go into the hotel business near Broad Top, Huntingdon county, where he was buried on last Thursday.

Butcher season is here again with Michael Segner leading off. Mike is ahead in butchering as in everything else. From present indications John G. Hess will have the boss hogs if we are to judge from age and not feed. Thus far Mr. Krieder has the belt, his one porker tip ped the beam at 60 pounds.

On the evening of the 10th Earl Authur the two month old son of John and Mary Whitmer died at his parents home on the Branch. The little fellow unlike his twin sister was always delicate and his death was not unlooked for. He was buried Tuesday afternoon in the Boalsburg cemetery with the Rev. George Guyer officiating.

Mr. Ward McCauley and family returned from Nebraska, where they report almost a famine. They are snugly located with Mrs. Mary McCauley, who recently purchased the personal effects of her mother Mrs. Hannah Cline, near East to become a full fledged Pennsylvania farmer and we welcome him to our agricultural ranks.

Miller J. D. Wagner is over hauling his roller mill. A thirty foot water wheel will take the place of the small turbin wheel and a new set of choppers will be added at an expense of at least a thousand dollars. Mr. Wagner has a wide reputation as a first-class miller and pleasant and obliging gentleman. It's a pity that he is a doted in the wood Republican for if he would turn from the error of his ways he might some day be able to take care of Centre county's cash.

Mr. Eckel one of our most highly respected citizens is suffering from a paralytic stroke at his home on Main street. Mr. Eckel is a saddler by trade and on Monday of this week did a lot of heavy stitching in the shop. The next morning he ate a hearty breakfast and after doing the work at the stable walked up town and seated himself on Mr. Weaver's store porch. Suddenly while conversing with some neighbors a strange expression was noticed on his face and when asked if he replied no, but was led home and put to bed. He is in comatose condition unable to speak.

H. M. Krebs has been clad in his fighting armor for some days anxiously waiting for the fellow who stole or killed his valuable hunting dog Sport. Dr. Kusta-border is also on the war path because his dog was shot near the buildings of farmer Samuel Musser, a mile from home, by one of his hired boys who likely was following the advice of his elders. The doctor hied himself to the county capital for legal advice, which he got in full and plenty from the way he has been expounding the dog law ever since. The young man was promptly arrested and taken before Justice Miller on Tuesday of this week, when the dog law was thoroughly ventilated. The lovers of the poor brutes are anxiously awaiting the result of the squire decree in the matter.

Books, Magazines Etc.

Mary Anderson de Navarro in her stage career memoirs, which will be published in The Ladies' Home Journal (the opening chapters in the December issue), gives the public a most interesting and entertaining view of the trials and hardships she successfully combated in following out her conviction that the stage presented to her the opportunity for a splendid career. She exultantly refers to her debut in Louisville, Kentucky, on Saturday evening, November 27, 1875, upon which occasion the "tal, shy and awkward" girl of sixteen interpreted Shakespeare's love-lorn "Juliet." The performance was arranged upon two days' notice-time for but a single rehearsal-and the aspiring Kentucky girl was jubilant when the theatre and a stock company were offered her, upon condition that she play without pay. Her happiness, however, was not unclouded, for of the event she writes with touching pathos: "That Thursday" (the day that her first appearance was arranged) "was one of the happiest days of all my life, filled as it was with the brightest hope and anticipation. Only one black cloud hung over it; the thought of Nonie and my grandparents who were all very dear to me. Had I known then that I would die, my mother and I far away from him, and that almost until his death he would refuse to forgive or see me unless I abandoned the stage-life which he thought so injurious-nay sinful-I would even then have renounced what was within my grasp. This estrangement saddened many years of my life, and has cast a shadow over all the otherwise bright and happy memories of him who was the father, friend and playmate of our childhood days."

Mrs. de Navarro evidently did not suffer from stage fright, the crushing terror of debutantes, for she writes that she stood impatiently waiting for her "cue" to go on. At last it came, "Then, in a flash, I was on the stage, conscious only of a wall of yellow light before me, and a burst of prolonged applause." The performance was filled with rather depressing incidents; one of the players forgot his lines and had to be prompted by the youthful star; "Romeo" neglected to bring his dagger, and "Juliet" had to perform her dispatch with a hairpin, while the lamp that hung in "Juliet's" tomb, fell and badly burned her hands and arms. "Despite of these," she writes, "the night was a success, and I knew that my stage career had begun in earnest."

Depends on Populists.

The Two in the Kentucky Legislature Will Elect a Senator.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 11.—The fate of the candidates for the seat of United States Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, will rest in the hands of the two Populists elected to the House. Complete returns show the following: House—Democrats, 46; Republicans, 52; Populists, 2. Senate—Democrats, 22; Republicans, 16. Joint ballot—Democrats, 68; Republicans, 38; Populists, 2. The Republicans claim that both Populists will vote with them, while many Democrats are of the opinion that the Populist vote will split.

Wages Increased.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 11.—Beginning to-day, the employees of the Brown-Bonnell iron company were given an increase of 5 per cent in wages.

One pound of cotton seed meal or one pound of lined meal is equal in nutrition for feeding cows or other stock to be saved as corn meal. The feeding of either should be used with a mixture of water. Quaker Chop at 1 cent per pound in bags of 90 to 100 lbs. The above feeds, quality considered, are the cheapest or most valuable for the money of any cow feed now in use in this vicinity. 40-45-3m McCALMONT & CO.

SELL HAY AND MAKE MONEY.

One ton of shredded Corn Fodder is equal in nutrition for cattle feed to three fourths of a ton of Timothy Hay. Farmers who have their corn fodder shredded or cut and crushed, find that one-half the fodder in feeding their stock can be saved as compared with feeding the stalks, blades and husks in the old way. Cows and horses relish corn fodder as much as they do hay, when the fodder is prepared and steamed by the use of hot water during the winter season. The best machinery for preparing corn fodder is the
