Christmas Presents.

The Froper Thing to Give Grandmother, Grandfather, Mother and His Royal Highness, Baby.

Twelve days until we shall have upon us the most glorious of holidays. Meantime we must stare right in the face to Children about Jesus." This is one of that ever-perplexing question. What shall we give? The true value of a Agents often sell from 10 to 15 copies a Grandmother and grandfather are per-haps the hardest members of the family book to be sold for the holidays. They for whom to purchase gifts. For the also offer an Estey Organ, retail price grandmother two tiny velvet bags filled $270, to anyone who will sell 110 books with cotton batting and connected by a in three months. It is an excellent opstrip of silk elastic will make a pretty | portunity for a church or society to se place for unused knitting needles. Or a black silk bag lined with purple, just large enough to hold a small Bible, the in two months, or a gold watch for sellspectacles and purse and handkerchief, ing 60 copies in one month. This prewould be an acceptable gift. Double mium is in addition to the regular comstrings of silk to hang on the arm finish mission. They have also published a if off. A triangular shawl crocheted of new book, "Gems of Religious Thought" yarn never comes amiss, and a black by Talmage, which is having a large silk apron, with pretty black ribbons and feather stitched with black silk would delight her heart. For grandfather a pair of knitted bed room slippers or a carefully crocheted silk skull cap, would be very nice, or a couple of black silk neckties. To the mother of a household every one gives gifts to adorn her home. Would it not be well to give her something for her own self, something to make her think that you still realize that the days are not passed when she likes to adorn her person? A gift of a writing desk, a pretty pair of garters, a half dozen pairs of pretty stockings, a cate constitution, until her health is so dozen of nice handkerchiefs, a pair of completely broken down, that her every plated side combs-in fact there are so many little things that she would ap- delicacy, prompt her to defer consulting preciate that when you sit down to think it out you wonder why you did have ensued. Dr. Pierce's Favorite not think of it before.

Of course, his babykins comes in for a lion's share of the Christmas gifts. He usually gets toys—something that you wouldn't recognize on New Year's day. A set of little pins for his frocks are pretty, or a slender gold thread answering to the name of a necklace, or gold sleeve holders, which are rapidly making their way to the fore again. Unless the baby's mother is very poor do not venture on giving articles of clothing. If you do, you will rue it, for the young mother will accept it as the deadlist of insults.

With regard to the giving of gifts to young girls, by young men, there is a great deal of etiquette to be observed. A young man, unless he be the flance of the nerves. the young girl, should not give her anything but flowers, bon-bons or books He may, however, go to a great deal of expense in these articles. The girl, however, has a little more latitude. She may give him a silver match case, a silver stamp box and many other trifles intended for his desk, but there is no reason why she should give him a silver

Every girl takes a pride in her own room, and she will welcome any gift for that portion of the house which is devoted especially to her effects-a dainty pillow, a writing desk with dainty fitments, a head rest, a small rocking chair, glove case or veil case with an inscription on the outside. If you wish to go a little higher in price, you can get half a dozen pairs of gloves of assorted shades, always remembering to have one black pair among them; or half a dozen pairs of silken hose, a lot of pretty handkerchiefs, or a tiny bit of Dresden ware for her dressing table. If she be a girl who cares for church, you cannot give her anything more acceptable than a prayer book of seal or more. inscription on the outside. If you wish ble than a prayer book of seal or morocco, with silver edges and maybe a silver some pair of garters would make a pretty gift. One pair seen lately had for the this line between Chicago and San Francisco just near the gold clasps. Of course the the Pacific coast. Through trains leave Chiphotograph frames, with dainty flowers lines from the East and South. either painted on or embroidered with one's picture inside, make a pretty gift, routes, etc., apply to ticket agen ts of connec and calendars are always purchased. They come this year so befrilled that you would not know them. They are York. handpainted, ribbon decorated and very often they are treated to a frill of lace around the edges. For the lover of art, portfolios come in handy, and if is a bit handy with the brush a pretty scene may be painted on the outside-perhaps some spot where you and the recipient have passed some pleasant hours together.

A velvet muff is another serviceable article. Half a yard of fine black velvet will make this, lined with some gay silk and an edging of martin employed. Shoe bags and boxes made of cretonne or linen, with the pockets feather stitched in Roman floss or Asiatic silk, will be welcomed by the mother of a large family if you insist on giving her some thing for her home. If you are an old friend, a set of fine white linen for her table, or even a dozen of napkins, all of the finest texture, will please her. Now for engaged people. If you have given the engagement ring you will no want to give another. A slendor gold chain, on which depends a pendant in some pretty design, is not expensive. The pendant alone costs from $12 upwards. It is a pretty ornament for the price, having six or seven pearls. and in the heart a small diamond. Bangles are new, and anything new always has an additional attraction to the eyes of a young woman. Bangles are set with different colored stones, but are rather expensive. A watch, although this present is rather old, is always acceptable, as is a gold hair pin. If the girl has many correspondents, some dainty as well as useful article of China. either in the Delft ware or of Dresden. will gladen her heart. If she have high literary ambitions, do not get anything of that description, for if she be a real worker she will have as much use for them as the proverbial cart has for five wheels. She would appreciate a dozen of handkerchiefs more than she would the costliest gold pen you could buy. J. R. H. in Pittsburg Times.

Deafness, Ringing Noises and Catarrh Cured by

For a long time I noticed that I became gradually harder and harder of hearing. Ringing noises came in the ear after a while, and I became very much alarmed. So I went to Dr. Salm and put myself under his care and to-day I am grateful to state, and for the benefit of those who may suffer in a like manner, that I can hear once again as good as ever, and those infernal noises have disappeared, although I am nearly 60 years old. Dr. Salm said all of it was caused by catarrh: M. B. Buck, Spring Mills, Centre Co., Pa. Dr. Salm.

4 Lady 69 Years Old Cured of Catarrh and Deafness.

Some years ago I contracted catarrh and it went to my ears. Gradually I became worse and my ears began to trouble me very much, my strength began to give out, and I became weaker and weaker so that I was not able to work. I took treatment from several of our doctors in the county, but somehow they couldn't do me any good; so I went to see Dr. couldn't do me any good; so I went to see Dr. Salm. He promised to cure me, and I dare say, he kept his word, for to-day I am again stout and healthy as could be expected of any one of my age, 69 years, and I find that I got value received for the money paid to the doctor.

For the last 8 years I have had fearfully sore limbs; they would swell and break open and run; giving me a world of trouble, and making me unit for my daily labor. I have had four Doctors trying to cure me, but they could nt do it. At last I went to Dr. Salm, who made a perfect and complete cure, and I feel as if I could enjoy life once more. Едітн V. Growth Removed from the Eye-Ball by Dr

Salm.

For 10 years my wife, Susanna, had something growing over her eyes, making her almost blind. Dr. Salm performed an operation, and made a perfect success, as she can now again thread the finest needle, and read the finest print, and her eyes do not give her the least trouble. It was a fine piece of work.

About 1 year ago my brother accidentally hit me in my left eye, with a bow-gun. I began to get blind rapidly in that eye, and in a short time, could'nt see anything out of it; total blindness was caused by the hurt. I heard so much of Dr. Salm's wonderful success in his eye operations, that I went to him, and he has once more proven his wonderful skill on my eye. For to-day, after having been totally blind, I can see spl ndidly out of the same again.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE

In 1895.

Briseis, a new novel by William Black, written with all the author's well-known charm of manner, will begin in the December Number, 1895, and continue until May. A new novel by George du Maurier, entitled The Martain, will also begin during the year. It is not too much to say that no novel has ever been awaited with such great expectation as the successor to Trilby. The Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc will continue and will relate the story of the failure and martyrdom of the Maid of Orleans. Other important fiction of the year will be a novelette by Mark Twain, under the title, Tom Sawyer, Detective; a humorous three part tale called Two Mormons from Muddlety, by Langdon Elwyn Mitchell; and short stories by Octave Thanet, Richard Harding Davis, Mary E. Wilkins, Julian Ralph, Brander Matthews, Owen Wister, and other well-known writers.

Brander Matthews, Owen Wister, and other well-known writers.

Prof. Woodrow Wilson will contribute six papers on George Washington and his times, with iliustrations by Howard Pyle. Poultney Bigelow's history of The German Struggle for Liberty, illustrated by R. Caton Woodville, will be continued through the winter. Two papers on St. Clair's defeat and Mad Anthony Wayne's victory, by Theodore Roosevelt, with graphic illustrations will be printed during the year.

A noteworthy feature of the Magazine during 1896 will be a series of articles by Casper W. Whitney, describing his trip of 2600 miles on snow-shoes and with dog-sledge trains into the unexplored Barren Grounds of British North America in pursuit of wood bison and musk-oxen. Mr. Whitney's series will have the added interest of being illustrated from photographs taken by himself.

The volumes of the Magazine begin with the numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the number current at the time of receipt of order.
