DAVID BARLETT DEAD .- A long and painful affliction with rheumatism and kindred troubles resulted in the death of Jacob Barlett, a well known resident of this place, last Saturday morning, at 2 o'clock. Deceased had been confined to his bed for five months previous to his death and though able to be about before that time he only moved to endure exerutiating pain.

Mr. Barlett was 66 years old and for a long time had owned a dray, having been quite successful with it. When disease weakened his rugged constitution, several years ago, he turned the business over to his son Jacob Jr., and then began carrying the mails from the employer.

Peters, the church, of this place, at the home of 22 year old son of Wm. A. Peters, of Unionville, this county, met a horrible death. He was employed as a freight brakeman and in attempting to make a coupling he slipped and fell. The first wheel on a car passed over his body while the second stopped on it. When he was taken from the rail his neck was broken, his right collar bone fractured and he was terribly mangled about the chest.

SHOULD SATISFY THE PUBLIC. -- In order to relieve all doubt in the minds of the most skeptical Messrs Garbrick & Tate, the Coleville ice-men, have just done a very wise thing in having a block of their latest harvested ice analyzed by Prof. G. G. Pond, head of the department of chemistry at The Pennsylvania State College. Prof. Pond is a scientist of note and his report, published in another column of this issue, is the best testimonial that could possibly be desired as to the purity and healthfulness of the Coleville ice.

There is no reason that its use should be curtailed on account of the typhoid epidemic in that vicinity as the State Board of Health officers long ago declared that there is nothing wrong with the water in Buffalo run and that the trouble possibly arose from a spring fed by a polluted mountain stream that is several hundred feet below the inlet to the ice pond.

This action on the part of these energetic ice-men should set all minds at
