FIRE AT STATE COLLEGE. - At about 3 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out at State College that totally destroyed the handsome new chapter house of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. It is supposed that the building took fire from an open grate on the first floor and the interior was burning fiercely when a student named Reynolds, from Lancaster, who is an inmate of the house, was awakened in a nearly suffo. cated condition by the smoke. About the same time a number of villagers had discovered it and were sounding warning to the boys.

As the fire had started near the foot of the stair case it made escape by that means impossible and many of the occupants were taken out with difficulty. Some of the boys barely saved their lives. B. F. Fisher Jr. and E. P. Harder both having had thrilling escapes. The house was a cased brick and slate structure and occupied a site on the campus between the Inn and the ar-000 and $12,000. There is insurance on it amounting to $9,500, with $1,000 on in such a commendable effort. the furniture.

It was counted the finest club house at the college.

Had it not been for the ice and snow the fire would undoubtedly have spread. As there is no means of fighting fire at State College, other than by buckets. and with the wind blowing a perfect gale at the time, it was a very serious situation for the villagers. Nearly every building in the place is of frame and a fire once started would be disastrous in DEATH AT STATE COLLEGE .- The death of Miss Jeanna Hunter, which occurred at her home, at State College, last Saturday morning, after a week's illness with pneumonia removes a most estimable lady whose memory will be revered by the community in which she has lived so long.

Her death, though sudden, was not altogether unexpected as the disease developed with unusal severity.

Miss Hunter had lived at State College for thirty-eight years and her one sister, Miss Sophia, with her brother, Capt. John A. Hunter, of Storms- him as a subscriber. He is one of the men town, are the only remaining members of a once large family. Her early life was spent in the vicinity of Pine horse and comes to town on the train. Grove Mills, having been born on the old John Weaver farm, near that place, sixty-seven years ago. Her remains were buried there, Tuesday, after Rev. Heaney had conducted services at the visiting friends in this county. It has been house.

The death of this good woman is truly a loss to that community. Her simple, christian life, her charities and kindly nature made ber always much loved by those who knew her, yet in her death

"Father" Ruthven, the man who has been lecturing over the country under the guise of an ex-priest, and drawing crowds by advertising "for men only" and "for women only," has been shown up to be an imposter. He has lately been in the Clearfield region in flaming those whose morbid minds crave such stories as he tells, but he will more than likely give Philipsburg a wide berth, as the Ledger has published a two column exposal of him. It is a matter of gratification to us that this man was in Bellefonte a year or so ago and no one would give him a hall in

Department of Chemistry. G. G. POND. Professor. State College, Centre Co., Pa., Feb., 1st, 1896. Messrs, GARBRICK & TATE, Bellefonte, Pa.

Gentlemen:—I have carefully avalyzed the sample of your ice which you brought to this laboratory Jan. 30th, for this purpose, and find that it is very pure, and free from sewage or other contamination. The analysis shows this ice to be, in my opinion, better than the average quality of viver pulge ice. age quality of river or lake ice
