Words Cannot Properly Portray the Situation in Italy.

Thousands of Italians Killed .- The People Assuming a Most Threatening Attitude in Rome and Throughout Italy .- It is Admitted that 5,000 Italian Soldiers were Slain-Rome is a City of Mourning and of Sullen Anger-General Baratieri Recalled.

ROME, March 6 .- The kingdom of Italy to-day is in a condition of excitement, grief and anger almost beyond description. Words cannot adequately portray the situation, for every dispatch received from Massowah adds to the gravity of the disaster to the Italian army at Adowa, Abyssinia.
When the first news of General Baratieri's defeat reached this city, report had it that only 500 men were killed, then yesterday afternoon the number ran up to 3,000 killed, with sixty pieces of artillery captured, and this morning's dispatches place the number of Italians killed at the battle of Adowa and in the long, harrassing retreat which followed at 5,000, and it is believed that not even these figures tell of the full extent of the disaster.

HORRIBLE FATE OF WOUNDED. son, based on stories of recent Italian defeats by the Abyssinians, to believe that those who fell wounded during the retreat of over fifty miles met a more horrible fate than those who were kill ed on the spot.

Throughout the night the garrison was kept under arms and mounted patrols traversed the principal streets The masses, however, do not seem to have retired to rest. The streets were filled with people until daybreak and after early morning every public place was crowded with excited men and women. A number of disturbances are that the people are assuming a most | speeches. straining every nerve to suppress all from which he never recovered.

AWARE OF THE DEFEAT ON TUESDAY It is said that the government was aware, on Tuesday, of the full extent of the deteat inflicted upon the Italians, but it was judged to be dangerous to allow the startling information to reach the public suddenly, and so first the report of the defeat was permitted to leak out; then the war office officials allowed it to be "rumored" that 500 men were killed; after this came the report "that 3,000 soldiers had fallen." And now it is "admitted" that 5,000 Italian troops were slain, in addition to a severe loss among the native troops serving under the flag of Italy. Under these circumstances it is not astonishing that the wildest kind of rumors are in circulation, and that in some of the clubs the number of killed and wounded is placed at 10,000. Exaggerated as these figures may tney show the state of the public mind here. All fetes have been indefinitely postponed, masses for the repose of the souls of the dead have been celebrated this morning in every Catholic church in this city, and crowds of weeping women and sorrow-ing men were in attendance.

Ne Cuban Annexation. The European papers, commenting on the Senate Cuban resolutions, agree that it is a move in the direction of annexation of the island, but this is not the opinion held in the United States. Mr. Sherman in the debate suggested Cuba might go to Mexico, as its ple were of the same race, language and religion. This is a visionary suggestion. The Cuban leaders have shown the resolution and courage essential to an independent existence, and it is independence they are fighting for and would soon achieve had they a fair field in the way of obtaining arms and muni-tions of war. From all accounts, sup-plies of commissary stores and the needs of transportation, and all the men that are wanted for their armies, can be procured at home, but they are badly in want of war material and trained officers. It is astonishing what they have accomplished in a year, even with these disadvantages. A year ago the insur-rection was started at the extreme eastern end of Cuba by a handful of mer. Now the insurrectionists cover the whole island, and its guns are heard in Havana and Matanzas. The Spaniards are always going to do something which they never do. Frothy proclamations, outrages on non-combatants, confiscation, the prison and banishment is their way of making war. It raises the suspicion that the hearts of the Spanish soldiery are not in the work. They have 150,000 regular troops on the island, yet they might as well be in Spain so far as aggressive movement is concerned. On the other hand, the Cubans are all the time doing something.

Although war is not generally predicted between the United States and Spain by the European press, yet the recognition of belligerency or of independence would probably produce complications that would speedily lead to war. The seizure of an American ship on the high seas, for instance, or rough usage of Americans resident in Cuba, even if the Spaniards were acting within their rights, would inspire retaliatory measures and fan the war feeling in this country to a flame that could not be stayed. War may not be a certainty, but it is so extremely probable that our government should prepare Locomotive Building. All of the thirteen locomotive building companies in the United States, except one, says the Railroad Gazette, turned out more locomotives in the past than in the previous year, the total number having been 1,109, as against 695 in 1894. The freight cars built in 1895 were 31,803, as compared with 17,029 in 1894.

Silenced by a Joke.

The death of Congressman William H. Crain, of Texas, removes from political life one of the brightest minds in the South.

Mr. Crain used to be one of the leaders of the House. He never spoke with. out the greatest attention, but he always spoke well. For five years past, however, Mr. Crain had practically taken no part in the proceedings of the House. His usefulness was destroyed by a joke, a joke from which he never recovered

Mr. Crain was first elected to the Forty-ninth Congress. He was handsome in appearance, well posted on all subjects, an orator and a man of great personal magnetism. These qualities immediately brought him to the front. His first speech in Congress made him a name. The newspaper correspondents or less, thought of for himself .-- Charles took a great fancy to him and often Kingsley. wrote flattering articles about him.

It was during the Fifty-first Congress that he was sitting in the Press club one afternoon discussing politics with a party of newspaper men. To one of them he remarked upon the fact that when some men spoke all the correspondents left the gallery and retired to the lobby, while when others addressed the House they crowded into the House to hear. He added that he noted they always came to hear him, and he expected all of them to be present on the In these reports no mention is made of the wounded, and there is good reatariff bill. The next morning the press gallery was crowded to hear the debate. There was several speakers to precede Mr. Crain. During their speeches the gallery remained full, but the moment Mr. Crain took the floor every correspondent in the gallery arose and filed out into the lobby. It was arranged on the part of the correspondents as a little joke on the Texan.

The concerted action of the correspondents naturally had its effect upon Mr. Crain. It annoyed him so that he cut his speech short and quickly resumed his seat. The moment he did all which have called for police interference | the correspondents filed back into the have occurred to-day. The indications gallery and listened to the other

Governor Greenhalge Dead. A Native of England-Was Serving His Third

Term as Governor of Massachusetts.

Lowell, Mass., March 6.—Governor F. T. Greenhalge died from pneumonia at 12:30 this morning.

Frederick Thomas Greenhalge was born in Clitheree, England, July 10, 1842. He came to this country with his father in 1844. He passed through the grammar and high schools of that city and entered Harvard college. In March, 1863, he began the study of law, and was admitted to the Middlesex bar in 1865. In 1880 and 1881 he was elected mayor of Lowell by large majorities. In 1884 he was sent as a delegate to the Republican national convention, and in 1885 he was elected to the Legislature in a Democratic district. In 1888 he was chosen a member of the fifty-first Congress. Mr. Greenhalge at once took high rank as a debater and won high praise from his party associates by his conduct of contested election cases. He was elected Governor of Massachusetts to succeed Governor Russell in 1893 and was reelected in 1894 and 1895.

Where and When Tumblers Got Their Peculiar

Every day we drink out of a tumbler, says the Jewelers' Circular. Why is the large glass that holds our milk and water so called? Years ago professor Max Muller was giving a luncheon at All Souls' College, Oxford, to the Princess Alice, the wife of the Grand Duke of Hesse-Darmstadt, and the second daughter of Queen Victoria. There was not a dozen guests beside the princess and her husband, and a very agreeable luncheon we had, with talk on all kinds of interesting subjects.

But what excited the curiosity of all strangers present was a set of little round bowls of silver, about the size of a large orange. They were brought round filled to the brim with the famous ale brewed in the college. These, we are told, were tumblers, and we were speedwaited the approach of an officer at 11 | ily shown how they came by their names—a fitting lesson for the guests of a philologist. When one of these little bowls was empty it was placed upon the table mouth downward. Instantly, so perfect was its balance, it flew back to its proper position, as if asking to be filled again. No matter how it was filled again. treated-trundled along the floors, balanced carefully on its side, dropped suddenly upon the soft thick carpet, up it rolled again and settled itself, with a few gentle shakings and swayings, into its place, like one of those India rubber tumbling dolls babies delight in.

This, then, was the origin of our word tumbler, at first made of silver, as are all these All Souls' tumblers. Then, when glass became common, the round glasses that stood on a flat base, ceded the exquisitely balanced silver spheres and stole their names so successfully that you have to go to All Souls' to see the real thing.
