Political Absolutism.

It has always been a popular belief--one strongly, clearly and eloquently formulated in President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address-that ours is a Government of, for and by the people. Undoubtedly that was it to be, but with new lords come new governing methods and forces, and if President read the several agreements made respec-tively by certain Pittsburg politicians and Senator Quay, he would unquestionably modify the language of his famous memoial speech by excluding from its application the people of the State of Pennsyl-

The intelligent citizens of this State cannot have failed to perceive long ago that they were politically corralled, but, until the exceedingly frank Pittsburg agreements were made public, they probably did not similarly see that they have been for years in the political shambles, hung up and sold outright to Senator Quay. That the Ledger is justified in saying that that is their political condition to-day is proved conclusively, we think, by the following correspondence, which we herewith republish at lenth without fear that its production will be found tedious.

Mr. Parker L. Walter, a Pittsburg journalist, wrote to Mr. Quay on December 24,

"Dear Senator: Joe Brown sent me at noon to-day and asked me if any terms could be made with you. I said nothing but a complete lay-down. He kept me here until now. First he went over the situation with Flinn, then Flinn went to Magee and this is the result, and is their formal offer to you, known only to them, myself and you:

you:
"Magee will retire from national, State and city "Magee will retire from national, State and city polities; Flinn will do the same after the February elections if you think best, and merely work along in harmony in the Senate. He will step out of City Chairmanship and let you name his successor. You are to name all delegates from Allegheny county to State Convention. You are to name all members of Legislature (House and Senate) from the county; you are to name national delegates.

"Larkin or other city nominees (exceptGuthrie, who is regarded as unsafe for you and other side also) to be elected under secret agreement. Gourley to be defeated even if nominated.
"Flinn to call down Martin and Porter and other Philadelphia leaders if so desired by you; they to give you Legislature and national defegates.

Senate or President.

"In return nothing suggested so far, except certain lines for investigation here. All bona fide wrong-doing of Brown, Flinn, Magee or others to be shown up.

"Brown to meet you at my house in early morning alone. After talk with him, Flinn to come and give such guarrantees as you may ask for.

"This is outline of matter. They say Hastings is with you and the game is up.

"This must be arranged, they say, before the committee meets here, and must be absolutely a secret.

"Wire me early, so I can tell Brown. "Write what you desire done to 117 Linden avenue, East Liberty, Pittsburg.

Yours, etc. "Parker L. Walter.

The Joe Brown above mentioned is the Director of Public Safety of Pittsburg. Mr. Flinn is a State Senator, and Mr. Magee an active politician, the three being the Republican leaders of the anti-Quay forces of that city.

Two other forms of agreement, the accuracy of which is certified by Mr. Richard R. Quay, the son of the Senator, are part of these interesting and instructive disclosures. The first is in handwriting of Senator provides that :

the influence in all matters in State and national politics of the said parties agreeing that they will secure the election of delegates to the State and National Convention, who will be guided in all mattersby the wishes of the said party of the first part (Quay.) and who will also secure the election of members of the State Senate from the Forty-third, Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Senatorial Districts, and also secure the election of members of the House of Representatives south of the Monongahala and Ohio rivers, in the country of Allegheny, who will be guided by the wishes and request of the said party of the first party (Quay) during the continuance of this agreement upon all political matters."

And that: the influence in all matters in State and national

And that:

"All legislation affecting the parties of the second part, affecting cities of the second class, shall receive the hearty co-operation and assistance of the party of the second part, and legislation which may effect their business shall likewise receive the hearty co-operation and help of the first part (Quay)."

It appears however, that this agreement, which provided for handing over to the absolute domination of Senator Quay the electorate and the political affairs of the people of the Commonwealth, and which also provided that he should be the sole arbiter of all State legislation, including his own re-election to the Senate of the United States, was not considered by him to be wholly satisfactory, it being deemed less stringent and too circumscribed to satisfy his demands for the absolute control of the government of Pennsylvania. Upon the authority of his son it is stated that he consequently prepared and submitted a form of agreement, type-written, embodying his demands. It was dated January 1, 1896 and was as follows:

"Until January 1, 1900, the following shall be the political conditions in Allegheny county: Mr. Quay is to have the absolute support of the signers hereof in State and National politics, and is to sustain through his friends all regular Republican nominees and the straight Republican organization.

"If Mr. Quay is a candidate for the United States Senate in 1899 he is to have the united support of the Senators and members of the Legislature from Allegheny county. In every other case his leadership is to be followed by a united support in the Legislature and in National and State Conventions, except where a bona fide candidate appears in Allegheny county. 'In the National Convention of 1896 the delegates from the Twenty-second Congressional District shall sustain Senator Quay. Unless otherwise agreed hereafter, Mr. Magee shall not be a delegate to either the National or State Convention of 1896.

"In the Senatorial districts now represented by Steel and Upperman, the sitting Senators shall retire and Senator Quay and his friends shall name the successor to Senator Upperman.

"For Legislative and State Conventions for the year 1896, Senator Quay and his friends shall name the members and delegates from the First, Second, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Legislative Districts. After 1896 the personnel of the delegates in the Sixth and Eighth District shall be a matter of conference between the parties hereto, and, if no agreement be arrived at, shall be settled by arbitration. Senatoria appointments in the city of Pittsburg shall be first indorsed by the parties hereto resid-

"No legislation is to be had at Harrisburg or desired, the effect of which will be to injure the character or business interests of the Pittsburg parties hereto. This, however, not to interfere with the general reform legislation outlined in the platform of the Republican State Couvention of 1895. "In the Twenty-second Congressional District the candidate for Congress shall be named by the Pittsburg parties, and shall 39-37-1y

> Remarkable as these documents are in their purpose to take from the people and to lodge wholly in the hands of Mr. Quay the political power of the people, it appears that there is nothing new in them. Upon this point Senator Flinn, a subscribing party to them, publicly testifies:

lutely.

"There was nothing startling in the agreement submitted by Mr. Brown and myself, as it was a practical reproduction of the agreement made in August of 1890, and signed Senator Quay and N. P. Reed on one part, and Mr. J. O.Brown and myself on the other part. This agreement ran for a period of four years, and-when it expired Senator Quay called Mr. Brown and myself to a meeting at the Duquesne Hotel when the agreement was destroyed. He complimented us on our fairness and integrity in the keeping of the agreement.' Why one or another of the agreements was not consummated by the chaffering leaders of the contending factions is explained by the same authority; the first above quoted would have been perfected, he states, but for Senator Flinn's provision that Mr. David Martin, of this city, should be similarly dealt with regarding the transfer of the anti-Quay voters of Philadelphia to the Senator. He says:

"I took the train to Philadelphia and notified Mr. Martin of my conversation with Senator Quay, and we both agreed that when peace was made it should be made with both municipalities at one time.

It appears however that when subsequently Mr. Quay submitted his terms for the unconditional surrender of Mr. Martin to that leader they were not subscribed to, and the effort to sell and deliver the political rights of citizens of Philadelphia and great national games, and that some of Pittsburg in a lump to Mr. Quay failed.

There it no intelligent citizen of Pennsylvania in whom there survives a single gleam of public spirit who can thoughtfully consider the above stated agreements and negotiations without the profoundest sense of humiliation, indignation and dis gust. That the citizens of this great old commonwealth should be openly, recklessly, shamefully made the mere trafficking commodities if the political market, in which their most precious and sacred rights of citizenship are bargained and sold by the most corrupt and venal politicians, should arouse the honest resentment of every good citizen throughout the State. The secretary of agriculture, in accordance with the mandate of congress, has pre sented a circular letter to be sent immediately to all known reputable growers of and dealers in seeds throughout the United State, asking them to furnish at reasonable prices to the department ten million packets of garden, field and flower seeds, begin ning with asparagus and ending with wheat. This number of packets will be given to each member and delegate in the house of representatives and to each United States senator 15,000 packets for distribution among his constituents, after deducting one third of the whole amount, in accordance with law, for distribution by the secretary of agriculture. Marking Your Bicycle.

Detective Carroll Tells How the Cycle Thief May Be Trapped.

John D. Carroll, chief detective of a wheelman's insurance company, said recently: "Every owner should have a private mark upon his or her wheel. By this I don't mean a simple mark upon the saddle post or on the saddle itself, as those are the very places where a thief will look for such a mark, and should they be there both saddle and post will be removed. If you want to make the private mark on any part of your frame, say on the underside of the top tube, turn your wheel upside down and remove a portion of the enamel, say one inch by one inch, and clean well till the metal is freed from any part of the enamel. Then cover the space so cleaned with a greasy material—candle grease, for instance; then take a pointed instrument of some kind and wet the point with carbolic acid. Proceed to write your initials or private mark on the tubing, being sure that you have sufficient acid on the pointed 'pen' before you begin. After allowing the acid to leave its trace on the tubing you can rub off the grease, and one application of enamel will cover all trace of the mark you have made. As an extra precaution I would advise every one having a private mark on his or her wheel to keep it to himself. I have had cases where wheels were stolen from owners by their most intimate friends."-Chicago Times-Herald.

The Olympic Games.

Different Stories as to Their Origin Among the Greek

Each tribe wished for itself the credit of having established the festival which drew to Olympia the strength, beauty and intelligence of all Greece. Some claimed that Zeus established the festival to commemorate his success in the contest with Cronus for the sovereignty of heaven, a myth which seems to point to a Pelasgic origin of the games.

The Achæans coveted the honor for their hero Atreus, and Strabo for the Etolians. More widely credited was the belief that the games were established by the Cretan Hercules, who in play challenged his brothers to run a race, and to crown the victor with a branch of wild olive. To the interest of the Dorians was the myth of Apollo outrunning Hermes and Ares.

But such myths do not necessarily imply remote antiquity for the events to which they give a poetic coloring. It is more to the point that Homer describes several of the contests represented afterward in the them may even be found in Egyptian wall paintings of the second and third mill-enium before Christ.—The "Old Olympic Games," by Professor Allan Marquand, in Century.

Hope It'll Prove True.

If the old fashioned weather prophets prove true, the coming summer will see a most prolific yield of fruit. According to popular theory, if the sun shines bright on St. Patrick's day, as it did last week, there is invariably a large harvest of fruit in that locality, and people who have watched and noted the conditions in a period of fifty years says it holds good. It is to be hoped so, for a good fruit crop, whatever else goes wrong, usually mean a fair amount of prosperity.

A SHORT STORY

IN WILKES-BARRE LIFE-INTERESTING TO

THE PUBLIC AT LARGE.

Many a reader of this in Wilkesbarre has seen the large watch sign that hangs out at No. 40 North Main street. It is there to tell the people who see it that Robert W. Haight, watchmaker, etc., can be found at that location, and perhaps you may doubt the following, in which case you can always find Mr. Haight at this address, ready and pleased to verify it. Watch-making, as it is called, is no doubt thought to be a comparatively easy business on the constitution of a man, but this is not the case. The constant stooping position maintained while at work brings with it many aches and pains. Such positions in time affect the action of the kidneys, and this is just what it did in the case of Mr. Haight, and he began to look for a remedy that would relieve. At last he was rewarded. One day he read of Doan's kidney Pills. Nothing was claimed for them but that they were a kidney cure. All the ills the flesh is heir to were not set down as being subject to their wondrous influence, and this inspired confidence in them. The symptoms described by kidney sufferers were his symptoms. He began taking them. Three or four doses brought a change, and day by day he grew better, and now he says: "I am entirely over my trouble. Home remedies I have used, but found little relief of a temporary nature. My greatest trouble was lamenesses and stiffness in the Many a reader of this in Wilkesbarre have used, but found little relief of a temporary nature.
