Care of the Trees.

In a number of cities societies have been formed to promote the planting and protection of trees and the erection of drinking fountains and to otherwise render towns and cities in which they are located more attractive than they have been. One of these societies is located in the city of Brooklyn, and its members show not only an interest in the promotion of these good objects in their own midst, but are urging, by means of circular and other methods, the formation of similar organizations elsewhere, and the dissemination of useful and timely information to the public everywhere.

In a late circular the public is informed that within a little while the period of hatching of the eggs of the Tussock moth (Orgyia Leucostigma) will arrive. It is very important for those who wish to be prepared to destroy them, with other leaf-eaters, to make preparations without delay. The society recommends that the trees be sprayed. They recommend as a safe solution for general use on shade trees one-third of a pound of London purple or Paris green to forty gallons of water, one ounce to eight gallons, one-half ounce to four gallons, one-quarter ounce to two gallons. The reservoir should be carefully measured, so the amount of water used may be accurately determined. The poison may be prepared by doing it up in packages containing the amount to be used. The efficacy of the treatment depends greatly upon the preparation of the solution. A solution too strong will burn the foliage, took weak a solution will be ineffectual. One pound of cheap flour to forty gallons of water will improve the mixture, and a pint of glucose or cheap molasses will cause the solution to adhere to the leaves and not be so easily washed off by rains. In the case of London purple it is well to mix an equal weight of flour of lime to prevent the poison from burning the leaves. The solution should be well mixed and constantly stirred while using, to prevent settling. Most outfits are provided with means to stir the solution while in use.

For the Elm leaf beetle, the spraying should begin as soon as the little round holes in the leaf are seen. For the Tussock moth, as soon as the eggs begin to hatch. Two sprayings ten days apart may be sufficient; better to spray three times. Heavy rains may make an additional spraying desirable.

Any one who desires information concerning the care of trees need only address "The Tree Planting and Fountain Society," No. 44 Court street, Brooklyn, N. Y., to receive a timely and satisfactory reply.

They Were Candid.

Two Gentlemen Have a Brief Interview and Exchange Courteous Sentiments.

The man with the overcoat, the clean collar and the recently shined shoes was coming down town and had stopped for a moment to make certain of his street, when he was aware of the man with the undershirt and the Legislature breath.

"Sir," said the latter personage, "I might attempt to dissemble and to deceive you; I might seek to veil my motives by speaking of a starving wife and seven crippled children. I might remark on my desire to eat for the first time in three weeks, but I am an honest and candid man. I believe in being frank and open in my ways. Will you let me have five cents to purchase a drink of very cheap but very wholesome whisky?"

The man with the shine, overcoat, et al., looked at him a moment and then said: "I admire candor. I, too, am a frank and open sort of a man in my ways. I will be free and plain with you, therefore. No, you guzzling, swilling hobo; you walking garbage cart, you red-nosed bum, I will not give you money. I might say that I have no money with me, but I believe in being truthful and perfectly honest with such spoiled tripe as you, you huge, bleareyed sewer."

"Thanks," said the applicant. I do love a frank man who does not attempt to disguise his real sentiments or motives. I am much obliged to you, sir, for the confidential and trusting way in which you have revealed your heart's secret thoughts to me. You have been square and fair with me and I shall not betray your confidence. Farewell!"

And the two candid men parted.

How People Should Walk.

An Expert Shoemaker Gives Some Pointers Upon the Subject.

A shoemaker says: "As soon as a man comes into my shop and takes off his shoes, I can tell whether or not he is a good walker, and it is astonishing to find how few men know the proper way to step out. If the shoe is worn down at the heel—not on one side, but straight back—and the leather of the sole shows signs of weakness at the ball of the foot, a little greater on the inside just below the base of the great toe, I know that the wearer is a good walker.

"If, however, the heel is turned on one side, or is worn unevenly throughout, and the sole is worn most near the toe, I know that I have to deal with a poor pedestrian. The reason of the difference in position of the worn spot lies in the fact that the poor walker walks from his knees, and the good from his hip.

"Watch the passerby in the street and you will at once see the difference. Nine men out of ten will bend the knee very considerably in walking, stepping straight out with both hips on the same line, and the toe will be the first to strike the ground. The tenth man will bend his knee very little—just enough to clear the ground—and will swing the leg from the hip, very much as the arm is swung from the shoulder, and not from the elbow.

"By so doing he calls upon the muscles which are strongest to bear the strain, and increase the length of his stride four or six inches. The heel touches the ground first, and not the toe. A slight spring is given from the ball of the foot on making another stride.

"Men who walk in this fashion cover the ground 30 per cent faster with the same exertion than those who walk from the knee."

Florida Watermelons.

Seventy-two million pounds of watermelon is what the railroad and fruit men estimate will be raised in Florida this year. This is equivalent to 3,000,000 melons, which if placed end to end would make a chain of watermelons 852 miles long, or further than from Jacksonville to the city of Washington.

——This dogged silence on the part of the Ohio man arises, it seems, from his being muzzled.

Their Plantation Destroyed.

The Casanovas Lose a Half-Million Dollars by the Burning of Their Estate Near Havana.

Dispatches from Cuba note the fact that the insurgents of Friday set fire to and destroyed the whole San Miguel eatate near the city of Havana, owned by Pedro and Richard Casanova, brothers of Hon. J. N. Casanova, of Philipsburg. Richard is at present there on a visit to his brother, and Pedro is expected on Saturday. The loss incurred by the destruction of this plantation is estimated at half a million dollars.

Congressman Arnold, of this district, was at Washington on Monday looking after the case of Pedro Casanova, who is an American citizen, having been born in New York city, and whose house, in April was attacked by Spanish troops, five of his servants killed and a vast amount of property destroyed, an account of which appeared in our columns.

Following is a sworn affidavit, recorded in the office of the American consul general in Havana; detailing the raid on M. Casanova's home.

"Julio Vidal, born in New York, and 21 years old, was employed on the sugar estate San Miguel, at Jaruco, in Havana province; the property of his uncle, Pedro Casanova, also an American citizen.

"On April 28th at 10 o'clock in the morning Spanish troops of the column commanded by Major Fondevicla appeared, and from a nearby hillock opened fire on the private residence of Mr. Casanova, who was there at the time with his wife and three small children, and several employees, who hurried to the house as soon as the first shots were heard.

"Capt. Martinez, of the Spanish army, with 12 soldiers, advanced with machetes in their hands and entered the house, crying, 'Out, all of you!' and wounding the negro, Eleuterio, in the shoulder while he stood besides his employer, Pedro Casenova. Everybody was thrust out of the house.

"Mr. Casanova was taken to the machine or engine house, and Mr. Vidal, with eight others—white and black servants and employees—was forced to a silk tree, where the commander of the Spanish column stood. He ordered all to stand in line and then to kneel down.

"One of the negroes cried, 'You won't kill me in this way!' and ran away. He was shot down and then killed with the machete. Capt. Martinez forced his horse on the prisoners and struck at them with his machete without wounding anyone.

"The other officer ordered them to lie face downward upon the ground. He then pressed the muzzle of his loaded revolver against the back of Mr. Vidal's neck. Then he ordered them to be bound, still holding his revolver against Mr. Vidal. When he learned that Mr. Vidal was an American citizen he permitted him to be released.

"Mr. Vidal and all other persons found in the house were taken on foot six miles to Campo Florida. There Mr. Vidal was allowed to go, but was forbidden to return to the plantation. Of the seven prisoners five were killed. All the clothes found in the wardrobes of Mr. Casanova's house were taken by the Spanish soldiers. Forty persons are missing from the neighboring village of San Miguel. It is believed that they also have been killed.

Mr. Arnold seemed to get very little satisfaction from the state department. The officials say that a great number of similar claims are being laid before them, but that under present conditions nothing can be done. The course of action, they say, will have to be determined later and will largely depend upon what course this government finally takes in the Cuban affair.

No formal claim will be filed in the case referred to until Mr. Casanova himself arrives in Washington, but it is probable that the loss for which compensation will be claimed amounts to $200,000. The consequential damages for the indignities done Mr. Casanova is still another question. In relation to this matter of the claims of American citizens for the losses and damages caused by the unwarranted actions of the Spanish military authorities in Cuba, it is said that the administration in delaying action because it anticipates counter claims from the Spanish government, on account of the fillibustering expeditions from this country, bearing arms and supplies to the Cuban insurgents.

"Poor Maria," said Sophia,
"She's as sick as she can be,
"In her coffin, much I'm fearing,
"We shall soon Maria see."
"Sad dilemma" answered Emma
"Yet can I a cure suggest
"For your friend so sore oppressed.
"Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo,
"For relief of woman's woe,
"Favorite Prescription' makes.
"She who this with promptness takes
"Soon gets rid of pains and aches.
"Bid her take it and assure her,
"That it will most surely cure her."

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—Mine is a case of eleven years' standing, which baffled the skill of the best medical aid procurable. I obtained no good effect, until I began the use of the "Favorite Prescription," which lifted the burden which was seeking my life.

My gratitude I owe to the "Prescription."

I hope that all suffering humanity (as in my case) may profit by the result of my experience. EVALINE NEIL,

Cause for Complaint.

Doctor—I'm very sorry to tell you, madam, your husband will not live twelve hours.

Madam—Mercy! And you've made me purchase enough medicine for six days.

PERFECT WISDOM—Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Pure, rich blood is the basis of good health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier. It gives good health because it builds upon the true foundation—pure blood.

Hood's pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

A DOLLAR WENT FURTHER IN THOSE DAYS.—A wag, when told that George Washington threw a dollar, over the natural bridge of Virginia, replied that a dollar went further in those days than now. The wag, though witty, was wrong; for a dollar never went so far as now, if it be invested in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is universally acknowledged to be a specific for consumption, bronchitis and all wasting diseases. The nutritive properties of Cod liver oil are trifling when compared with the results that follow the use of the "Discovery."

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:—Sir—About the year 1880, I was attacked with a severe hacking cough. I took medicine from different doctors for two years, without much benefit. My cough grew worse, and the doctors said I had consumption. I had hemorrhage from the lungs, and coughed up a great deal of phlegm. After reading of the many cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I procured two bottles, and before I had finished using the first, was able to walk about the house, and to go out, I was soon able to do light work. I continued with the medicine, and am happy to say that it saved my life and entirely cured me. "It is the best medicine in the world for all lung troubles." Sincerely,
E. A. MITCHELL,
Martin, Franklin Co., Ga.,

——Mary and Martha, two little sisters, had been promoted to the dignity of a big bed, where they slept together. "I sleep on the front side," announced Mary, with an air of importance.

"And where do you sleep, Martha?" inquired the visitor.

"I sleep where Mary doesn't," replied Martha, with a rueful glance at her restless little sister.—Harper's Round Table.

SANITARY BUREAU, NEW YORK CITY.—Dr. Cyrus Edson of the New York Health Department recommends Speer's Port Grape Wine in his practice as the purest and most reliable wine to be had, and his opinion is endorsed by his associates as will be seen from the following letter:

New York, December 9, 1887.
The Speer N. J. Wine Co.,

Having used your Port Wine to a large extent in my family in cases of sickness and found it to be all that was recommended of it by my family physician, I desire to purchase it by the dozen bottles. Respectfully yours,

"YIELD NOT TO MISFORTUNE."—I was afflicted with catarrh last autumn. During the month of October I could neither taste or smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it.—Marcus Geo. Shautz, Rahway, N. J.

I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since a boy, and I never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.
