THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

WARD CAUCUS MEETINGS.—The Democrats of the North ward of Bellefonte will meet in caucus, in the arbitration room, in the court house, this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The South ward caucus will be held, in the Recorder's office, this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The West ward caucus will be held in the WATCHMAN office, at 7:30 o'clock, this evening.

At present there are only six prisoners in the county jail.

Thirty-three picnics have been booked for Hecla park this season.

Rev. Dr. Colfelt, of Bedford, delivered two masterful sermons in the Reformed church here on Sunday.

Phillipsburg's new furniture manufactory building is nearing completion. The building is frame, 40x70 feet.

The Millheim Journal says prothonotary Smith ate $40 worth of stuff at a festival down there, on Saturday night.

Over three hundred people visited Benj. Gentzel's park, below town, on Sunday. The attraction was a pair of fawns that were lately born there.

The special "tabernacle" train over the Bellefonte Central R. R., brought a great many people to town, on Sunday, to attend the evangelistic services.

The Mill Hall brick works company have just received a medal and award from the World's Columbian Exposition committee on awards. Fire brick won the honor.

If you would see Dr. Kirk smile ask him about the baby. Norman now sings, "there is only one girl in the world for me" and even Mrs. Kirk is happier than ever.

Mr. Alfred Lucas, of Snow Shoe, has been appointed State policeman for the Lehigh valley coal company. His commission was issued by Governor Hastings a few days ago.

The two and one-half year old daughter of Joseph Friar was buried, in the Union cemetery, yesterday morning. The infant had died on Sunday evening, after an illness of several months.

The Keystone league of Christian Endeavor will hold a festival at Snow Shoe Intersection, for the benefit of the league, Friday and Saturday evenings, June 12th and 13th. All are cordially invited.

The Children's Aid society of Centre county have succeeded in procuring a permit in Girard college for one of their subjects. After a thorough examination John Miller was admitted, last Thursday, as a scholar in that institution.

The Milesburg band netted $29.30 at their recent festival. They intend procuring new uniforms soon. The band is engaged for the Blair county semi-centennial celebration and will make a fine showing while away.

Rev. Wheeler, a graduate of the Battle Creek, Mich., Seventh day Adventist college, was in town during the fore part of the week trying to strengthen up the little band of believers in that faith who meet regularly, on Saturdays, in the old Methodist church building, on east High street.

Martin B. Garman and wife have moved from their present rooms with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenkins, on High street, to the house, on North Allegheny street, recently vacated by Mr. F. H. Thomas. Their new home is just as cozy as can be.

The members of the Disciple church, at Mill Hall have drawn up a memorial to all who contributed to the purchase of the new bell recently hung in that church. Of the amount, single men subscribed $57.50, while married men subscribed $24.75, the balance having been raised by the church and Sunday school.

The Humes house has been raised to the desired height and the contractor is busy shoving it back the necessary 12 feet, onto the new foundation. The building is estimated to weigh 800 tons and is being moved on greased ways. It has been moved about four feet already.

In our last issue we stated that John S. Waite had opened a bicycle riding academy in Lock Haven, unfortunately it was construed that he had given up his school in this place, but such is not the case. Mr. Waite is dividing his time so that he still caters to the bicyclists of Bellefonte, as well as to those of Lock Haven.

Pi chapter of the Sophomore fraternity, Theta Nu Epsilon, at The Pennsylvania State College, banqueted at the Park hotel, in Williamsport, last Friday night. Covers were laid for forty. The dining motto of the society is: "recess in hell, the devil's dinner." It is sad to think that a party of college men are training for such a habitation.

A number of Bellefonte sports went up to Tyrone, on Saturday, to see the trotting races at Wooden's park. Jim Chambers was there and sent Hal Pointer an exhibition mile in 2:17. The races were for cash prizes and Jeff Meadows, of Mifflin county, got most of them, the best racing time made was 2:24. Dave Atherton, of Phillipsburg, had his horse there.

THE LOST IS FOUND.—Charles Baylets, the 13 year old boy who ran off from his father's home about five miles east of Bellefonte, on the 22nd ult. was caught, through the agency of the WATCHMAN, on last Saturday morning. The youngster had been gone over a week and his father, John Baylets, had hunted him everywhere without success. It seemed as though the earth had opened up and swallowed him completely.

About 9 o'clock last Saturday morning the following telegram reached this office.

Snow Shoe Intersection, 30tn. To DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN:

I got the boy, Charles Baylets, who ran off from home, on the Reuben Valentine farm, on Jacksonville road, as advertised in your paper. Can you send his father word this p. m., to come for him today, please.

J. C. SNYDER.

A messenger was at once dispatched to the home of the farmer and by 4 o'clock that same afternoon a light road wagon could have been seen standing in front of this office with a robust looking boy, doggedness written in every feature, holding the lines with as little concern as if he had just driven to town to spend the day with his father. He was the run-away. The WATCHMAN's messenger had found Mr. Baylets at home and he started for Snow Shoe Intersection at once. There he found his boy safe in Mr. Snyder's keeping.

The young tourist had gone to the vicinity of Salona, after leaving home, but tiring of life about there he drifted on to Lock Haven, whence he took a freight for Tyrone. Of course he stopped at several places en route and managed to be in Lock Haven the day Robinson & Franklin's shows were there. He returned from Tyrone, on Saturday morning, and the train on which he was riding had just stopped for water at the Intersection when Mr. Snyder threw down the WATCHMAN, he was reading at the time, to go out and give the engineer his orders. With the story of the run-a-way fresh in his mind he spied the youthful traveler perched on a coal car. In an easy questioning way he learned the boy's name was Charles "Raymond," he had been cute enough to change his name and took that of his mother's before her marriage, and that he was looking for work.

Mr. Snyder told him to get off that he was just looking for such a boy to be door-keeper in a mine at Snow Shoe, at 75 cents a day. Never dreaming of a trap Charles tumbled off and went home with his employer only to find himself in the arms of his father several hours later. He talked freely of his experience and said he had plenty to eat all the time he was away, with a good bed to sleep in every night. He ran off from home because he did not like farming. His father says he is a good worker and it is possible he will be put to a trade when he gets old enough.

DEATH OF H. C. LOVE.—On last Friday evening, at his home in Tyrone, Harry Clay Love, one of Tyrone's leading citizens, died after a two week's illness of inflammatory rheumatism. He had had several severe attacks of the same disease, but had always recovered his wonted health, and this time was not considered in any special danger until the disease got near his heart, and even then his death was entirely unexpected.

A son of the late James and Mary Gray Love, of the upper end of this county, he was born at Loveville, on the third of November, 1853. After graduating from Dickinson Seminary, at Williamsport, in 1871, he entered his father's store where he clerked until the family moved to Tyrone, some ten years later. In 1883, he started a hardware store and since that time has been one of Tyrone's most prominent business men. In 1889, he was elected county surveyor for Blair county, and since '94 has been president of the town council.

Although Mr. Love was never a resident of Bellefonte he was closely connected with it through his wife, Miss Mary McKee, and his brother, Judge John G. Love. His wife and children have our sincerest sympathy for their's was a happy home and the children are just at an age when they need most a father's guidance. They are Helen C., James McKee, Robert Adams, Susan Beck and Jane Gray. His three sisters, Misses Lydia, Emma and Annie, live in Tyrone, and his other brother, Winifred S., in Carlisle.

He was a member of the Methodist church and was buried Monday afternoon in the Tyrone cemetery.

A MISSIONARY TO CENTRAL AMERICA.—Bellefonte has had few young men to whom she could point with greater pride than she can just now to Evan Goodfellow, who will sail from New York, to-day, for Santo Carlo, Central America. Converted to Christ several years ago at the Y. M. C. A. in this place he has consecrated his life to the Master who raised him from out the depths.

He is being sent out as a missionary by the Philadelphia bible institute and will be absent for five years at least and possibly forever. He bade farewell to his friends here on Sunday. Prayer meetings were held for his successful mission and that afternoon he drove to his mother's home, at Unionville, where he remained until Monday, when he left for Philadelphia to join state secretary Hurlburt at whose instance he decided to go into the work. Evan will be employed in a regular business in that unchristian land and according to the new plan of work will exert an influence for good by his honest and straightforward contact with the natives in business relations. Having thus gained their confidence the matter of interesting them in the word of God is much easier.

Rev. G. S. Bright has accepted a call to the Lutheran church in Phillipsburg.

It is said that the Salt Lick oil and gas company will drill another test well.

While the Mackeyville base-ball club was driving home from Howard, on Saturday, one of the horses fell dead on the road.

The Lock Haven council has given the Keystone telephone company privilege to enter that city. According to the manager of the new company the rates for business houses are to be $24 per year and for dwellings, $18.

Among the new advertisements in this issue will be found one in which two fine houses situated at State College are offered for sale. If you are looking for a home in one of the most desirable communities in the county this is a good opportunity for you.

Miss Helen Gilmore, of the Emerson school of oratory, Boston, who comes highly recommended as a charming and entertaining elocutionist, gives a recital, this evening, in the chapel at the State College, for the benefit of the Presbyterian church of that place.

The two story frame dwelling house, at Mill Hall, occupied by Mrs. Sara Mott and her family, was totally destroyed by fire last Friday night. One of the girls was awakened by bits of the burning ceiling falling down on her bed and had barely time to alarm the family, so that they could escape.

H. A. McKee, the ex-hardware man, has vacated his store room, on Allegheny street, and is now located in an office building opposite the court house. Having disposed of nearly all of his hardware stock he will devote his attention for awhile to settling up his business. Mr. McKee might probably go back to his profession at law.

A man named Robert Smiley, who lives at Eureka mine No. 2, near Phillipsburg, fell from a buggy, in front of the Chester Hill hotel, on Friday night, and knocked his ear off. He was driving with some drunken companions who dropped the lines and in trying to recover them he tumbled out.

BELLEFONTE TABERNACLE.—On Saturday, June 6th, the Central R. R. of Penn'a. agents will sell cheap rate excursion tickets from Mill Hall and intermediate points to Bellefonte and return. This will afford all an opportunity to hear evangelist Weaver and Prof. Weedon. Services all day commencing 9.00 o'clock in the morning. A special train will leave Bellefonte for Mill Hall and local points at 10-20 p. m. Fare from Mill Hall 50 cents; intermediate stations in proportion. Children, half fare.

ARRESTED AT JULIAN.—Railroad officer, G. W. Curtin, brought W. F. Richards, commonly known as "Mick" Richards, down from Julian, on Tuesday evening, and he is now in jail here awaiting trial for having stolen sundry brake wheels, door handles, pins, links, etc. from the B. E. V. rail-road company. Richard's two boys were arrested also, but they cried so piteously that the officer did not bring them with him. He is being held in default of $1,000 bail.

WERE IN THE GREAT TORNADO.—Horace Musser, a son of W. H. Musser, of this place, and William McClellan, two Bellefonte boys, had a thrilling experience in the recent tornado in East St. Louis. Both young men are employed in a tube works in that city, but were at their boarding house when the storm struck the place.

They write that they noticed a funnel shaped cloud approaching, but thought that it would pass high over the city, instead it struck them wrecking property and destroying hundreds of lives. The house they were in was unroofed and every door blown off, one inmate being killed.

FAST BELLEFONTE WHEELMEN.—The bicycle races at Altoona, on Saturday, attracted a number of Bellefonte's crack riders. Among the fast ones who went up were Lester Sheffer, Benj. Bradley and Harry Weaver. The two latter had never been in track races before, but their friends were confident of hearing from them in the finishes. They were not disappointed. Bradley won the mile novice in 2:37, won the five mile handicap and was third in the mile open. Weaver ran away from everyone in the half-mile for boys under 17 and won in 1:18. Sheffer won the mile open in 2:33 and second in another.

Sheffer's prizes were a $15 bicycle suit and a $5 lamp. Bradley received a $20 suit of clothes, two $5 sweaters and a $3.50 pair of bicycle shoes. Weaver won a $5 bicycle lamp.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING JEWELRY.—Olie Weaver, a rather comely looking girl whose home was in the vicinity of Pleasant Gap, was arraigned before justice Keichline, on Monday, charged with having stolen finger rings, to the value of $10, from Mrs. Grace Fitzpatrick. The prosecutor described her property as being a plain band gold ring and another with an emerald setting. Mrs. Minerva Alters testified that she had seen the Weaver girl have one of the rings in her possession. She told a frank story in defence, but was bound over for court under a bond of $300. She is a daughter of Noah Weaver, who lives near Oak Hall now. The theft occurred when the Weavers lived at Pleasant Gap, in part of a double house which was also occupied by a family named Zones, whom Mrs. Fitzpatrick was visiting at the time.

Hon. James Schofield and Wm Runkle went on the girl's bond.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.—Driven to melancholia by sickness Arthur O. Goheen ended the miserable existence in which he has suffered by shooting himself at his childhood's home, near Rock Springs, at noon, on Thursday.

Until last fall he was the personification of all that was healthful and happy, having been married but a short time to a lovely woman and with a prosperous business career before him everything conjured to a promising life until he was seized with pneumonia. The disease so shattered his former robust health that he despaired of ever being better. Finally a change was advised and they moved from Tyrone to his father's, at Rock Springs, where they have been for some months.

Thursday afternoon, shortly after one o'clock, while resting on the lounge, he said to his wife, who was sitting near him, "Mary, I am killing you and my old father by inches." Just then Mrs. Goheen was called from the room and scarcely had she gone 'til a shot was heard and the sound of some one falling. He had gone upstairs, found a revolver belonging to a farm hand in a trunk, hunted up a cartridge, loaded the weapon and shot himself through the head, the ball entering just above the right ear and lodging back of his left eye. His father was the first to reach his side and he was fully conscious until 4 o'clock, when death ended his suffering.

The youngest son of John J. Goheen, he was aged 29 years, 3 months and 28 days. Born at Rock Springs he staid there until eight years ago when he went to Tyrone to clerk in his brothers', J. C. and J. M. Goheen's, store. On the 20th of June last he was married to Miss Mary Gray, a daughter of the late Geo. L. Gray, of Fillmore, who was then residing at State College, and to them a little daughter was born less than three weeks ago.

Also surviving him are his aged father, J. J. Goheen; four sisters, Mrs. Frank Gardner, Mrs. W. E. McWilliams, Misses Belle and Barbara, and five brothers, J. M. and J. C. of Tyrone, Robert, Harry and Rev. Milliken, just home from India. His funeral, Sunday afternoon, was one of the largest ever seen in the valley, for he had many friends, in Tyrone, Half Moon valley, State College and Spruce Creek. His pastor and friend, Rev. Ermintrout, assisted by Revs. Kelly and Guyer, conducted the services. Interment was made at Graysville.

THE BUSINESS OF COUNCIL.—Council met in regular session, last Monday night, and the business that was transacted is summed up in the following digest of the committee reports:

The Street committee reported the work of grading east Linn street about completed, that work in the grading of Reynolds avenue is progressing satisfactorily, that nothing had been done on Beaver street nor the alley at the rear of Dr. M. A. Kirk's property, though the committee intends fixing both up as soon as possible, then all the alleys in town will be looked after. The committee reported negatively in the matter of a new crossing over Allegheny street, between Parrish's drug store and Achenbach's, stating that it would be sufficient to repair the old one. G. W. Port's request to have Armor street extended to east Howard was referred to this committee for investigation and report at the next meeting. Council refused to consider a request for a brick crossing over Spring street, between the Garman and Reynolds properties, on High, because the petition had apparently been changed after signatures had been secured to it.

The Water committee reported on the assessment for the year. The tax levy will be practically the same as last year with the exception that the rate for livery stables has been raised. The report was adopted by council.

The Market committee reported the collection of $2.70 fees.

The Village Improvement committee asked for the use of the Logan hose with which to flush all sewers in town, at least once a month. The request was left in the hands of member Brachbill for action.

In the matter of the borough line a report was made to the effect that the work had been gone over and the points were gotten much closer together. In fact the lines so nearly met that there is no question as to whether the poor house and Gross properties are outside the borough.

After the approval of bills to the amount of $724.89 council adjourned.

A CLEVER DEVICE WINS A MEDAL.—A. P. Lucas, of Mt. Eagle, is the happy recipient of a sterling silver medal, in the form of a pendant, which he has just received from John Wedderburn & Co., patent solicitors, of Washington, D. C. It was the May award for the cleverest device that had been patented by them. Mr. Lucas' invention is a steel picket and fastener for wire fences. It is a very simple little thing, but very useful and is likely to net him a good revenue.

BLOWN OUT.—The fires in the Valentine iron company's furnace were blown out, on Wednesday night, and that great plant will be at a stand still for at least a month. The shut down was necessitated in order to reline the stack and the latter work will keep all but about thirty of the men employed during the interval.

The mine banks will be run as usual.

CALVIN GEHRET INJURED.—While working on the dump at the Washore mines, south of this place, on Monday morning, Cal. Gehret fell over the 15ft. dump onto a pile of rocks below. He was considerably bruised and had his back sprained, though no bones were broken. The unfortunate man suffered a great deal, but is now recovering nicely.

When John C. Motz was manager of the Millheim turnpike no toll was charged veterans on their way to Memorial day exercises. Under the new management things are changed and the Journal complains about it.

MARRIED AT GARMAN'S HOTEL.—At half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon Rev. Jones united Charles M. Thompson and Miss Margaret O. Hicks, both of Stormstown, in marriage. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the Garman house, in this place, and was strictly private.

The bride and groom are popular young people in the Halfmoon valley and their many friends will be gratified at hearing of their nuptials.

MEMORIAL DAY IN BELLEFONTE.—The nation's day of sad tribute to her historic dead was observed with the usual impressive ceremonies, in Bellefonte, on Saturday. Gregg post directed the order of procedure which has already been published. The post, Co. B. 5th Reg. N. G. P., the P. O. S. of A. and the K. G. E. cadet corps participated in the parade to the martial music of the Bellefonte band and Fisher's drum corps.

At the cemetery the graves of all dead soldiers were strewn with flowers besides being marked with the regulation G. A. R. memorial emblem.

After this function the crowd had assembled to listen to the oration by W. C. Heine Esq., but the threatening condition of the weather made it necessary to return to the "tabernacle," where the services were completed. Col. Wilbur F. Reeder spoke also.

Memorial day is fast becoming one of more general observance by the masses. Originally designed and set apart as one on which the ever bustling country should stop to drop a tear and freshen the memory of those who had died that she might live, it has come to a pass when nearly every grave, be it of soldier or civilian, is visited by some one who leaves a sweet token of sorrow and thoughtfulness for the dead. What an ennobling custom it is. That once a year all should be lost sight of and a sorrow, old or recent, be borne again to make us all the purer and better for having experienced it.

THE U. B. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The annual Sunday school and ministerial association convention of the Altoona district of the United Brethren church will convene, in Bellefonte, next Wednesday and Thursday. A great many ministers and Sunday school workers will be here. The program for the convention will be as follows:

- FIRST DAY. 2.00. Devotion by Rev. R. S. Woodward. 2.30. Address of welcome by J. L. Rote. Response, by Rev. J. L. Tallhelm. 2.45. "Rise and progress of the Sunday-school," by Rev. E. F. Ott. 3.15. Shearer.

News Purely Personal.

Miss Effie Hamilton, of Beaver Falls, is visiting Miss Emma Aikens, on Allegheny street. Geo. Gross, of Water street, is visiting his old home, at Chambersburg, after an absence of twenty-one years. Mr. John Beck, one of Nittany valley's most successful farmers, was in town yesterday afternoon getting a line on politics. Mrs. Susan Foster and her daughter, who had been visiting at the home of Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, on Spring street left for their home, in Philadelphia, on Tuesday morning. Mrs. J. L. Kurtz, who is president of the Children's Aid society of Centre county, left, yesterday morning, for Clearfield, where the society of Western Pennsylvania is now holding its annual convention.

Miss Ella Levy starts to-day on a long and what promises to be a most enjoyable vacation. She goes to Niagara, then to Buffalo and thence, by the way of the lakes, to Duluth, Minn. There she will visit for several weeks before going on to Fargo, N. Dak., where she will spend the summer with her brother, Samuel Levy, formerly of this county.

Miss Elsie Weaver, daughter of J. C. Weaver, of Penn street, arrived home from school, at Hagerstown, Md., on Wednesday evening. Grace Mitchell, who had been attending Miss Shipley's school at Bryn Mawr; and Nellie Valentine, who was studying music in Philadelphia, returned to their homes here on Tuesday night. Miss Crider, of Linn street, arrived home from Miss Shipley's, on Tuesday night, also.

Mr. J. N. Brooks, a very pleasant gentleman from Pleasant Gap, who is revenue ganger at the Mullinger distillery, was in town, yesterday afternoon, and spent a few moments pleasantly in this office. He is an old line Democrat who is very much interested in the outcome of the primaries tomorrow, though he is not taking any part in the fight. Mr. Brooks voiced our sentiments when he said that it was his wish that a strong ticket be nominated.

A SCHOOL BOY AGAIN AT SIXTY-SIX.—"Backward, turn backward, oh Time, in thy flight And make me a child again just for to-night."

Last Saturday will be a memorable day for fifty-eight old school boys and girls who found themselves once more in their familiar places in "the little brick school-house," at Butler, Pa. Though the average age of that band of scholars was sixty-one years they were just as happy and full of old time pleasure as when, in all the roughish abandonment of youth, they had teased Tommy Berry, their teacher, during the school-days that lasted from 1838 to 1851.

It was a re-union of the scholars who had attended that school during those years. The building, still being in use, was the scene of their meeting and the pleasure each derived from it was none the less genuine because of the forty-five years of stern, perhaps sad, life that had intervened for many of them since they left the playground of their childhood. Mr. S. A. McQuiston, the carriage manufacturer of this place, was one of those old school-boys and though he is sixty-six years old he was there to enjoy the reunion.

KNOCKED OUT.—Register Geo. W. Rumberger is all right in his social, political and spiritual spheres, but when it comes to sporting he is all wrong. You ought to see the face he has been wearing for a week and all because twenty-two pounds of steel, rubber, leather, etc., so joined together as to be called a bicycle, refused to allow him to straddle it with the confident equilibrium that has assured McKinley on the money question.

The bicycle said unto the unhappy rider: Dust thou art, and to dust return; neither was there time for argument, for in the twinkling of an eye the cruel, cruel earth arose with a mighty swell and smote the tender face of the register. Great was the smite thereof, for in six days his face is like unto a hammered steak and his right optic like the eight ball at pool.

A NEW PLUMBING ESTABLISHMENT.—J. L. Runkle, who is a very careful plumber and steam fitter, has branched out in business for himself. He has fitted up a shop in the basement of the H. A. McKee hardware store, on Allegheny street, where he will cheerfully receive all those in need of his services. He is a hard working young man who applies himself strictly to business. Any patronage turned his way will receive prompt and satisfactory attention.

A $5,000 FIRE AT POTTER'S MILLS.—The large tannery and bark sheds, at Potter's Mills, caught fire, at an early hour yesterday morning, and were completely destroyed. J. W. Smith operated the plant and has $3,800 insurance to offset a loss estimated at $5,000.

It is supposed that the fire was set by a spark from the engine. It is not known whether the plant will be rebuilt.

The exceedingly well written story, "Maryland, My Maryland," on the second page of this paper, was copied from the woman's edition of the Williamsport Sun. It was written by Helen Elizabeth Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Gray Wilson now of Newberry, but formerly of Half Moon. Miss Wilson is young and full of the charms of youth and cleverness. She is teaching in the Williamsport seminary and has written a number of stories and poems for the N. Y. Independent and other reputable papers.

Over six hundred persons were in the Milesburg Memorial parade.
