TO CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—The "Midway" to-night at the armory.

—Woodcock are reported to be scarce in this vicinity.

—Thirty six wagons attended curb market on Tuesday morning.

—The P. O. S. of A., at Coburn, will hold a festival to-morrow evening.

—Free silver meetings are reported to be capturing many people in Clinton county.

—Centre county Pomona grange will meet at Milesburg at 10 o'clock, a. m. Friday, August 14th.

—Every Democrat in Centre county should read the WATCHMAN at least during the campaign.

—Millheim's new school building is ready for the slate and work will probably be begun this week.

—Those who have been to the "Midway" at the armory pronounce it the greatest show they have ever seen gotten up by home talent.

—The Bellefonte Methodists will picnic at Hecla Park, on Wednesday, August 5th. A brass band will be taken along to furnish the music.

—Lightning killed two horses owned by Ricker Bros. dairymen of the lower end of Nittany valley. The accident occurred on Sunday night in the field.

—Mr. C. S. W. Jones, proprietor of the Tyrone Herald, has our deepest sympathy in the sadness in which the recent death of his beloved mother has plunged him.

—Phillipsburg miners who have been fruitless in their search for work in other regions are walking back to their former homes. They are reported to be too poor to pay car fare.

—The home of Samuel Fisher, on Half Moon hill, was burglarized last Thursday evening, while the inmates were out. A revolver and household articles to the value $30 were taken.

—Judging from the muddy condition of Spring creek Wednesday night's rain must have been, by far, the hardest one we have had this season. With all the other storms the water had scarcely been filled.

—Capt. Pearson, 6th. Cav. U. S. A., stationed at Ft. Myers, Washington, D. C., has been detailed to succeed Lieut. E. S. McCaskey, 1st Lt., 21st Inf., U. S. A., as commandant of The Pennsylvania State College cadet corps and professor of military science and tactics.

—Mrs. E. M. Edwards, one of Philadelphia's leading chiropractors and manicures, will be in Bellefonte for 10 days from Thursday, August 6th. Elsewhere in this issue she advertises her business and if you are in need of such service you would do well to take advantage of this chance.

—Consummated facts seem to indicate that the Bellefonte Reformed congregation must have done something wrong at their picnic, on Wednesday. They were caught in a big storm just as they were about to leave the picnic ground, then their church steeple was shattered by lightning the same evening.

—Edward Gillen the enterprising young green grocer who has had a store in the Crider building, on High street, for some time has purchased Geo. Fasig's store, on Allegheny street, and will soon consolidate the stock of both places in the latter location. We are glad to see this evidence of deserved prosperity, on the part of a hard working young man.

—Co. B. came home from camp Gibson, at Lewistown, on Saturday evening, a tired, muddy, bronzed lot. With all the hardships of camp life the boys reported having had a good time and besides having gained the reputation of being the best entertainers in camp they conducted themselves with a dignity that was a delight to the many friends who visited them.

—The Army worm has appeared in the lower end of Nittany valley, where the farm of Mr. Austin Confer, of Cedar Springs, has been over-run by the pest. The army began in a ten acre field of timothy and ate up every stalk, leaving the field with the appearance of having been burned. Head the army off! We don't want it here. The Idaho devil, another bad crop destroying worm, is in the same locality.

—The WATCHMAN's prediction that Cap't Quigley would resign immediately after camp has been borne out by the fact. He has tendered his resignation to Co. B, and an election will be held, soon, to fill the vacancy. Lieut. Hugh S. Taylor is the only man spoken of for the position. While with the company Capt. Quigley did much to pull its standing up, but the work was more than his growing law practice would allow so he resigned.

—It will be a matter of news to many of his old friends in this county to learn that Rob't F. Sample of Pine Grove Mills, is now making money as proprietor of a first class hotel in Uniontown, Pa. Bob was in the rail- and mail service during the first Cleveland administration, but this latest venture was news to us. Any Centre county people who should happen to find themselves in Uniontown could not do better than to look him up, for they would be sure of the best treatment possible to receive.

A TERRIFIC STORM.—What the electricians at the Edison electric illuminating company's plant say was the severest electrical storm that has passed over Bellefonte since the building of that place, frightened many people in the community between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock Wednesday evening. It was not unnatural that such a humid, oppressive day should have ended with a violent storm, but no one was ready for such a severe one.

The lightning was frightful, the rain fell in torrents and the thunder roared like the booming of many cannons. The steeple of the Reformed church, on Linn street, was struck, and the slate and sheeting was ripped off for a distance of 15 feet as clean as if carpenters had done the work. The electric bolt entered the steeple on the north side but flashed across to the south side of it, where the damage was done. At the electric light station seventy-five flashes ran in in about as many seconds. The display there was beautiful, though decidedly fearful.

The water fell in blinding sheets, washing out roads, sidewalks and gardens. It was only a few moments until Spring creek was a boiling, seething torrent of muddy water, the first time it has been at all riled since the spring floods.

The wind beat down young fruit, leaves and the corn and oats on farms on the outskirts of the town. The storm was not general throughout the county.

MORRIS FUREY'S HOUSE STRUCK.—During a storm that crossed Nittany valley during the afternoon lightning struck the farm house occupied by Morris Furey, on the Burnside farm, a few miles below town. The chimney was demolished and things pretty badly torn up, though no one was hurt. Mrs. W. T. Spear, of this place, had been sitting right beside the fireplace just a moment before the flash. She had little Joe Woodward on her lap and both might have been seriously injured had she not moved just when she did.

A singular feature about the storms is their frequency and the suddenness with which they blow up and go scurrying in in one direction or another. They all seem to be local, for while it has been known to be raining hard in one part of Bellefonte, the other end of the town has been perfectly dry.

A HELLSH TRICK.—One of the most despicable tricks and one that should be punished as severely as the crime of arson, was perpetrated on William Grove Jr., at his home, about three miles west of this place, on the Buffalo run road, on Tuesday night.

As near as can be judged from the sounds it was about 11 o'clock when neighbors heard a strange noise being made in Mr. Grove's barn. He did not know that anything unusual had happened until Wednesday morning when he went to his barn and discovered his harness all cut up. In addition to the complete destruction of his harness his buggy top was cut and torn in such a way as to ruin it and his self binding harvester was wrecked. The seriousness of Mr. Grove's loss can be better realized when we state that five sets of tug harness were so badly cut that he was told that it would be cheaper to buy new ones than to attempt to have them fixed up.

Mr. Grove is at a loss to know who did the contemptible work or why it was done. Suffice it to say, that if the party is apprehended he will be very severely handled.

KILLED MANY ANIMALS.—On Monday state veterinarian, Leonard Pearson, went to Millheim to look into the hydrophobia scare that was raised in that vicinity last week, when a mad dog was supposed to have inoculated many cattle with the rabies. Some thirty or forty hogs and cattle that were supposed to have been affected were killed, as well as a number of dogs above Madisonburg; where Calvin Rishell had to kill fifteen hogs.

As some people objected to the killing of the animals that had been bitten Dr. Pearson was sent for. When he arrived short work was made of every one that was known to have been bitten.

One of the bitten dogs escaped, however, and went through the valley without being shot, though there was a veritable army following it up. At Rebersburg, Reuben Smull had to climb a tree to get out of the way of an animal that was apparently affected. All the well dogs in that vicinity are kept penned up now.

THE LOGANS AT HECLA.—It is estimated that the Logans had two thousand people at their big picnic at Hecla yesterday, where everything went off as advertised. As entertainers the firemen are not to be surpassed and they made every one have a good time. There was plenty of music a good dancing floor, plenty to eat and what more was needful but the grand balloon ascension to complete the delight of the crowd.

"Prince Leo", Leo Stevens, the acrobat, was on hand and at 3 o'clock made a beautiful ascent to an altitude of 2000 ft. after being carried in an easterly direction for a short distance he made his parachute jump, beautifully, while the crowd cheered itself hoarse. He landed in an open field and was not injured in the slightest.

The picnic was a financial, as well as a pleasurable, success.

PICNIC.—The congregation of St. John's Catholic church, will hold their annual picnic at Hunter's park, Wednesday, Aug. 12th. Everybody is cordially invited to participate. Dinner 50cts, supper 25cts. Proceeds for the church.

—Why don't you subscribe for the WATCHMAN, for the campaign, at least. Only 30cts from now until November 15th.

—Corn and tobacco were injured by the storm in Clinton County on Monday.

—George McMullen has been arrested for robbing refrigerators and cellars in Lock Haven.

—Don't miss "the Midway" at the armory to-night. It will cost you only 10cts. to see the great show.

—Do you read the WATCHMAN? It will cost only 30cts from now until after the campaign.

—In Williamsport the sale of cigars on Sunday is prohibited and the police are not allowed to talk to any one except on business.

—The daintiest dancing, the slickest fakirs, the cunningest Dahomeyans and the bestest refreshments will be on the "Midway" to-night.

—Three Lock Haven boys, who were playing on a raft on Sunday, were thrown into the river at that place and would have drowned had a man not swam to their rescue and hauled them out on a log.

—John Lupold, a prisoner who escaped from the Lock Haven jail some time ago, runs around in Clinton county very much as he pleases and the officers do not seem to be able to recapture him.

—Rev. Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, preached an interesting sermon in the Presbyterian church, on Sunday morning. In the evening Dr. Laurie preached a strong sermon on the three views of Christ's death.

—John Fellenbaum, for many years a blacksmith down at Jenkins' and one of Bishop streets, old land marks, has gone, with his family, to Braddock where his sons John and Al. are employed in the Carnegie works.

—Harry Faith, an Apollo, Pa., bicyclist, was thrown from his wheel last week and cut himself in the side so badly, on a flask that he had in his pocket, that he bled to death. Moral—Don't carry flasks in your pockets.

—The Rote band will furnish the music for a festival that will be held at Haag-en's school house, near Beech Creek, on Saturday evening, August 8th. Ice cream and cake will be served for the benefit of the Mission Sunday school and everyone is urged to go.

—Beezer and Hasel's stock exchange meat market, in the Berner building, on the Diamond, is becoming very popular with Bellefonte housekeepers, owing to the choice meats always to be had there. All kinds of meats constantly on hand at the lowest prices and some grades lower in price than anywhere else in town. Give them a call and be convinced of the superiority of their stock.

—A reward of $25.00 is offered by John Selke, of Benore, this county, for information concerning the whereabouts of his son, Edward, who wandered away from home on June 29th. He is aged 24 years; 5 feet 3 inches high, weighs about 150 pounds, has light hair, blue eyes, moustache, full face; and when he left home was dressed in blue blouse, black pants and wore a black slouch hat. He speaks both German and English.

—Colonel Henry C. Demming, of Harrisburg, an expert mineralogist and scientist of some note, has discovered a remedy for the army worm that will kill these destructive little pests in ten seconds. The Colonel's remedy is to take two ounces of the metal cadmium, dissolved in one pound of nitric acid, which has been previously diluted in five quarts of water; then add five quarts of water and mix thoroughly. Use ordinary sprinkler or atomizer. This preparation should be made in a stone vessel, but when ready for use can be put in other receptacles.

DIED AT DANVILLE.—Eliphas Bush, a son of the late Dr. Bush, of Buffalo Run, died in Danville hospital for the insane, on Saturday, July 25th. Deceased was 47 years old and during his youth gave evidence of a remarkable mind, but a long illness led him a victim of epilepsy. This so exhausted his strength that his brain became affected and made him an imbecile.

One sister, Mrs. T. C. Rumberger, of Chester Hill; two half brothers, Dr. C. B. Bush, and John M. Bush, of Orbisonia; and two half sisters, Mrs. Minnie Matern, of Orbisonia, and Mrs. Frank Gehrett, of Lewistown, survive him.

MONEY TALK AT COBURN.—On Saturday evening an overflow silver meeting was held at Coburn, in the school house, which was addressed by Hon. W. R. Bierly, who spoke nearly three hours on the money question and held the audience to the close. There were many Republicans present who announced their fealty to silver as constitutional money. Prof. Gartoff presided and introduced the speaker. Mr. Bierly had covered the blackboard with figures from the U. S. census and the treasurer's last report, illustrating the economic and industrial conditions of the country. During the evening numbers of the audience asked questions, which were answered and at the conclusion many went up to get information as to where reform literature could be gotten and what newspapers to substitute for the Phila. Hessian papers. A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker.

These meetings, being non-partisan, are claimed to be a great educational factor in clearing the old "hard money" road of the bush that has grown therein and preparing it for other speakers to come.

A GREAT SUCCESS.—The "Midway Pleasance," which was gotten up to relieve the financial embarrassment of the Y. M. C. A., was so much of a success, on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, that if you care to live over again the delightful experience of the original Midway go down to the armory to-night where it is still showing. Or if you did not get to Chicago during the World's Fair, go down and get a fair idea of what that wonderful Midway was like.

The Ferris wheel, on account of its size, was not put up. The society of P. C. A. objected to the moth eaten camel in the streets of Cairo. And the ostrich farm was not imported for this is a flower season; but the committee deserves the greatest credit, for the show is wonderfully good with its Turks, Indians, cannibals, Japanese, Irish, Spaniards, and Germans, with their exhibits and booths.

To the right of the armory, as you enter, Hagenback's animals were caged with Mrs. Calloway as trainer. The Bais and Lyons and Bullocks Bucked the first night and refused to perform, and as small boys carried off the pet snakes, the animal exhibition was closed after Tuesday night. The Irish village is next in line; its Barney castle and stone; its green where Kitty Potter, Tom Beaver and Fred Blanchard, in the most striking Irish costumes imaginable, dance and hold high carnival; the industries, which consist of spinning wheels and churns, turned vigorously now and then by Henrietta Butts, are all good and well worth a thorough acquaintance.

The little Javanese hut and its enclosure built of straw is an excellent reproduction of the ones that were on the Midway back of the high bamboo fence. Sadie Malin, May Taylor, Bess Elliot, Gregg Curtin and Maurice Jackson vigorously offers, peanuts tied up in burlap sacks as Java coffee to the passers by. The Turkish booth is one of the most artistic in the Armory it is fitted up sumptuously with cushions, rugs, cushions and palms. Bess Muffly, Mrs. Bowers, Charlotte Spigley and Mary Soubeek veiled and Turkish as possible bid you enter and make you welcome.

Anna Valentine's camp of Indians is splendid. With paint, beads, feathers, blankets, buckskin and moccasins the leader and Annie Keller, Caroline Orvis, Rebecca Lyon, Mac Curtin, Frank Shugert and Ed. Valentine are veritable "big Indians." They have two tepees, a camp fire, do a war dance and are willing to read you a fortune for the small sum of five cents. The Dahomeyans are more cannibalistic and ferocious looking than any of the South Sea Islanders on the "Midway." Jim Harris has a ring in his nose that would curl his head. Hard Harris beats the tom-tom fiendishly and George Meek grinds John Uzzle's organ until the poor little dancers, two of the cutest little negroes in town who are dressed in turkey feather skirts, call to the audience "to git." Their cabin is built and thatched with corn-stalks and their dances are the fun of the evening.

Mrs. John Lane has charge of the German village on the stage, and, neither in old Vienna or in the German village were there half so many pretty girls in evidence. Their costumes are almost as pleasing as the delicious refreshments they graciously serve. On around the circle is the Spanish booth, bright and beautiful, with hangings and lamps. Mrs. Burnett, Emily and Sarah Valentine, in high combs, lace mantillas and bright petticoats preside over the ambrosia, which they sell as lemonade. Tom Morris, in a fetching troubadour costume, is the general entertainer of the booth and Joe Katz and Harry Walkey add to the poetry of it with their mandolin and guitar playing.

The centre of the Armory is taken up with Mary Blanchard's tea house and garden. The house is built of bamboo and fitted up with screens, bead portiers, gongs, teak wood furniture and lanterns. The garden is most attractive, with its shrubbery, bamboo furniture and flowers. Rebecca Blanchard, Betty Breeze, Mary Hendrickson, Jean Shugert, Ed. Harris and Henry Linn, dressed in true Japanese robes, assist at the tea table or hand about the sherbet which can be enjoyed in the garden. The flower booth, which faces the entrance of the armory, is managed by Jessie Laurie, Winifred Meek and May Crider, the former is so taking in her Dresden shepherdess attire that she is besieged with orders for candy while the others ladle out lemonade for the thirsty.

Tuesday evening the Bellefonte band furnished the music for the march and Wednesday evening the Undine band was present to give inspiration for the marching and dancing. To-night one or both will be present and both Miss Crane and Miss Merriman have generously promised to repeat their dances, which were almost professional in their excellence.

SHEFFER—STRICKLAND.—The marriage of A. Lester Sheffer, eldest son of Samuel Sheffer, of east Curtin street, to Miss Jennie Strickland, of Bishop street, was rather a surprise to the many friends of the young people, when it was announced on Tuesday evening.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock, at the bride's home, Rev. Dr. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present and an informal reception was held after the ceremony.

They departed on an evening train for a tour of eastern watering places.

The groom is shipping agent for the extensive lime enterprises of A. G. Morris about Bellefonte and is also interested in bicycles, being the Columbia agent here. His wife is a very well known girl. She had been a teacher in the public schools for several years and a very excellent one too. Her re-election, recently, leaves a vacancy on the board that will have to be filled.

—The WATCHMAN from now until after the campaign for 30cts. Take it.

—The Bellefonte United Brethren congregation and Sunday school are picnicking at Hecla park to-day.

—Beezer and Hasel, the meat men on the Diamond, will please you if you only give them the opportunity.

—Thirty-three probationers were admitted to full membership in the Lock Haven Methodist church on Sunday.

—"The finest thing of its kind ever seen in Bellefonte" is the universal verdict about "the Midway", at the armory to-night.

—Punxsutawney chicken hen swallowed a lighted fire cracker that exploded after she had it down. It is needless to state that she is dead.

—A new plate glass window has replaced the one in Kurtz's book store, that was broken by that unlooked for 4th of July celebration up there.

—Musical organizations seemed to be hard to keep in order the world over. The Tyrone band has just reorganized; no body knows for what length of time.

—James Donnelly, of Beech Creek, was taken to the Danville asylum, on Wednesday morning. His is a sad case. Though only a young man he has become violently insane.

—It is now 'Squire Cyrus Wasson, of College township. A commission was issued to that gentleman last week to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Jacob Bortoff Esq.

—In another volume of this issue appears an advertisement for a lot of saw mill machinery, portable engines, etc., which any reader would do well to look up. There are bargains in it.

—George W. Mackey, of Axe Mann, and Allie Johnson, of Benetzte, Elk county, were married in Lock Haven, on Wednesday. Alderman J. W. Harris performed the ceremony in the court house.

—Geo. Sechrist and Ed Musser were driving from Millheim to Logantown, last Saturday, when their horse frightened on the mountain and ran away. Both men were thrown out of their buggy and considerably hurt.

—Photographer H. B. Shaffer has sold his Peekskill, N. Y., studio and will open a new one in Williamsport. The latter location will be operated in conjunction with his Bellefonte place. Mr. Shaffer is one of the coming artists of the country.

—The tannery of J. W. Smith, at Potters Mills, recently destroyed by fire will be rebuilt, but at Spring Mills. Messrs. Wm. Allison, Charles Long and J. W. Smith constituted a new firm that will continue the business, with the latter gentleman as manager.

News Purely Personal.

—John Blanchard has gone to Hot Springs, Va., for a month's stay.

—Blanche and Jennie Faudle went to Atlantic City, on Wednesday. They will be gone for a week.

—Dr. Sam. Noll, of Philadelphia, is visiting his friends and relatives at Pleasant Gap for a few days.

—Mr. Frank E. Allen, representing the Philadelphia Inquirer circulation department, is in town in the interest of his paper.

—Mrs. Henry Pickle, of Millersville, with her little daughter are making their first visit home to grand-father W. T. Twitmore's.

—Mrs. Simon Loeb, Mrs. Strouse and Miss Gertrude Bloomingdale, who have been visiting Mrs. Faudle for some weeks, returned to their home in Philadelphia, Monday.

—Charles and Clayton Rote, Clay Rider, James Stover and "Doc" Bryant, the Coleville boys who were playing in a circus band, have returned to their homes because the circus closed an unprofitable season.

—The family of Mr. W. L. Daggett, proprietor of the Bush House, are spending part of the summer at State College, where they have taken the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity house. The Daggett children are improving in health.

—Sheriff John P. Condo, register G. W. Rumberger and prothonotary W. F. Smith returned from a week at Atlantic City, on Monday morning. They reported having had a fine time and all feel better in health from having had the little rest.

—Charles Steinman Foltz, one of the editors of the Lancaster Intelligencer, is in town with Mrs. Foltz visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Potter. The Intelligencer is one of the oldest and most influential papers in the State. It was founded in 1794, and the soundness of its Democracy need never be questioned.

—J. Blair Alexander who lives on one of those much talked of Bald Eagle farms, just a short distance west of Snow Shoe intersection, was in town yesterday. He is one of the few fortunate farmers in the county who has a good crop of hay and it is going to net him a neat profit now that the crop is so short in other parts of the county.

—The Misses Iola and Carrie Lucas, daughters of Nelson A. Lucas, of Washington, D. C., are visiting friends in Centre county. They are charming young ladies who have grown up since leaving Coleville a number of years ago. Like the others of the Lucas family they have many friends in this vicinity who are delighted at seeing them.

—Mr. Philip Barnhart, who lives out on east Howard street, was a caller yesterday morning and like everyone else seemed very much oppressed with the heat. He is one of those staunch old Democrats, however, who can find something of comfort in everything, and the bright outlook for the party's success over balanced the depressing effect of the heat and he went away with the WATCHMAN paid up in advance.

—On Wednesday we had the pleasure of a call from Mr. D. A. Deitrick, of Hublersburg, who is the very obliging station master at that place. He is a brother of Bellefonte's popular painter and house decorator and is very like him in respect of a genial, pleasant manner. Several years ago he wrote some interesting stories of lumber camp life for the WATCHMAN, but has not done anything in that line for some time.

DISTRICT FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.—The town of Clearfield is to have the honor of entertaining the firemen who will attend the fourth annual convention of the central district association of volunteer firemen. It will convene on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 19th, 19th and 20th.

The three days will be used about as follows: On Tuesday afternoon the delegates will meet in the arbitration room in the court house to transact the regular business of the organization.

The parade will be made on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Immediately after the parade the steamer contest will take place. The first prize will be $50 and second, $25. The second will be paid only if three or more enter.

The races will be held on Thursday afternoon and will consist of the following:

- 1 Hose Contest—Run 200 yards, attach to plug, lay 150 feet of hose, break connection and put on play pipe, (each reel to carry 200 feet of hose.)
First Prize $30.00
Second Prize 15.00
- 2 Hub Contest—Teams to start with wheel hubs over starting point running a single dash of 200 yds. hubs first over line to win $15.00
- 3 Parade of all firemen.
- 4 Prize drill. $15.00
- 5 Largest company $10.00
- 6 Best uniformed company $15.00
- 7 Potato Race—Contestants to run 50 yds. and gather six potatoes, one at a time. Prize Umbrella.
- 8 Tallest fireman. Prize.
- 9 Best band $10.00
- 10 One hundred yds. foot race new hat.
- 11 Grand free-for-all horse race—three companies to start. Prize $50.00

Pennsylvania State rules to govern all contests. Entries for contests open until noon on August 20th.

Companies outside of district cannot take part in contests.

Both of Bellefonte's engine companies will attend. The Logans will probably take their steamer with them and the Bellefonte band will lead them. The Undines have not fully decided whether they will take their engine or not, but their band will accompany them.

TUBERCULOSIS AMONG WARRIORS-MARK CATTLE.—The farmers in the vicinity of Warriors-mark are getting uneasy on account of the health conditions of their dairy herds. A number of examinations have disclosed the presence of tuberculosis among some of them and owners are beginning to guard against a wider spread of the disease.

A Warriorsmark correspondent in the Tyrone Herald tells of a test made by Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian, last Thursday, on the herd of Levi Nerhoof. "There were seventeen head of milk cows and stock cattle. They found three milk cows that responded to the test. The test is tuberculin. The three that responded were killed on Saturday and a post mortem was held. No. 1, a registered Jersey cow, showed to be diseased throughout with tuberculosis, and would not have lived over a month. A very bad case. No. 2, not so far advanced, but one lung very much inoculated. No. 3, a well advanced case in which lungs and other organs were diseased. A number of farmers and citizens were present at the examinations. There were three applications made to have their herds examined which will be attended to soon. The Jersey cow, when one and a half years old, was brought from Chester county. She showed no signs of disease until three months ago. The doctor's opinion is that Nos. 2 and 3 contracted the disease from No. 1. Nos. 2 and 3 were not Jerseys, but common stock."

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by orphan's court clerk, G. W. Rumberger, during the past week.

A. L. Sheffer and Jennie Strickland, both of Bellefonte.

William W. Gates and Dora Williams, both of Walker township.

Calvin W. Wieland and Jennie A. Condo, both of Harris township.

—The Delaware peach crop, in fact the crop in all parts of the county, is enormous.
