

State College and Vicinity.

Harry Hayward is visiting friends in Massachusetts. Dr. G. G. Pond has gone to Germany on a short vacation. Miss Carrie M. Tucker is visiting her friend, Miss Hattie C. Atherton. Dr. William Frear has just returned from a business trip to Philadelphia. Derner Pearce and his mother enjoyed their drive to Phillipsburg last week. Dan Stuart has returned from the Cherry Run camp, where he had a splendid time. George Graham, of Phillipsburg, is moving his barbershop into the Holmes building. Prof. Geo. C. Watson left, Saturday, for Clyde, N. Y., where he will spend his vacation. Wm. H. Reblum, the instructor in chemistry in the Butler High school spent Wednesday in town. Master From Faulkner, of Phillipsburg, came over a few days ago, and is visiting his uncle Frank Morgan. Mr. J. O. Glover came up from Northumberland and spent Saturday at home, returning to business on Monday morning.

Centre Hall.

Miss Sarah Deisinger is at York, Pa. The WATCHMAN'S free silver course is being generally commended. The Lutheran Sunday school will hold a picnic Thursday of next week. Mrs. Flora O. Bairfoot returned from Philadelphia after a four weeks' visit. Mrs. James Lohr and family, of Philadelphia, are here for a short visit. Miss Mamie Kreamer, of this place is spending a few weeks in Philadelphia. Miss Roxanna Brisbane is entertaining one of her classmates, Miss Mary Barton. Landlord Edwin Ruhl, is repairing his porch in front of the Diamond house. Postmaster Chas. Meyer is receiving congratulations upon the arrival of an assistant. Mrs. Annie Van Pelt and family will go to New York shortly for a period of a few weeks. The Odd Fellows are increasing their membership largely. The order is in a flourishing condition. Mrs. Ed. Nearhood took sick while on a visit to Rebersburg, and was detained at that place for several days. Barber Jerry Miller is still absent at Atlantic City, where he is operating at the chair and seeking health. Messrs. Arney and Stover are busy painting dwellings, etc. These young men have established a good reputation in their line of business. Al. Mays, the notion man of Lewistown, is a free silver man all over and all the time. He talked that kind of money for an hour in our town recently. Many minor improvements are being made by property owners in town. There is no town in the State that has so many well kept homes as Centre Hall.

C. H. can now boast of having one of the finest photo galleries in the county. Mr. Lukenbach is an experienced artist and his photos are sufficient proof. A busier professional man than Dr. J. F. Alexander is not to be found in Central Pennsylvania. His services are sought because of his superior skill in the profession.

Rev. Davis has been given a call by the Sinking Creek Presbyterians. So the writer is unofficially informed. The Rev. has been among the people considerable as a supply, and they did well in asking his services as a pastor.

Messrs. Wolf & Crawford of the Centre Produce Co., shipped the first consignment of potatoes from here the beginning of this week. The yield of tubers is not more than one-third of that of last year, and the quality is also much poorer.

Miss Clara Webb and Edna Reynolds, of Reedsville, are paying Romie Van Pelt and Bessie Wallington a visit. The former, though but twelve years of age, is giving her time to the study of elocution, and her reciting will convince any one that she has selected the right vocation. The latter has a musical turn.

In a few days work will be commenced on Main street. The hills opposite A. S. Kern's and P. F. Luse's properties will be cut down and the street piked with crushed stone from gutter to gutter. The Diamond will also come in for considerable repairing. The street at present is in a very bad condition, and the proposed improvement will be a benefit to all. Church street needs repairing also.

Spring Mills.

The Millheim telephone company has finally adjusted its difficulties with the P. E. R. Co. The severed lines have been repaired and we are now in communication with the eastern section of the county. The line will be extended to Bellefonte as soon as possible.

C. P. Long the active merchant of our village, is erecting a very handsome brick residence. The style of architecture is somewhat on the Gothic order. The location is very desirable with charming scenery in all directions. If it is correctly informed, Mr. Long contemplates erecting several other dwellings before the winter sets in.

The report started some time since, that the tannery at Potter's Mills, recently destroyed by fire, would not be rebuilt in that town, but would be organized into a stock company and commence business in our village, with Wm. Allison, C. P. Long and J. W. Smith as owners has no foundation. No such enterprise is in contemplation.

The supervisor expects to work on the new road, (just granted) next week. This is a road long needed, and in fact, will be a continuation of the George's valley road direct to our R. R. station, and a great advantage to those residing in the eastern section of the town. As at present any one residing there and wishing to take the train, must take a long, circuitous drive to reach it, but when this road is opened and finished it will be perfectly level and direct.

Dr. J. B. Leitzell and family from Orangeville, Ills., and A. P. Leitzell, from Girard, Kansas, formerly of our village, who have been here visiting relatives and friends for several weeks, left for home, on Wednesday last. On the evening previous, the citizens band of Spring Mills tendered them a serenade. The band did remarkably well, and played several pieces of music in very excellent style, which was highly appreciated and applauded by a large concourse of people who had been attracted to the neighborhood. The doctor delivered a very neat and complimentary address, and returned thanks to the band for the compliment extended to them on this occasion. Previous to retiring, the doctor made them a very handsome contribution.

The political atmosphere here is somewhat like the weather—waxing warm. The county ticket does not appear to bother any one particularly. The Republicans in this latitude, have about abandoned their machine nominations and conceded the election of the entire Democratic ticket by a one sided vote. The silver question has taken such a firm hold of the people, the farmers especially, that the Republicans down this way are utterly amazed and confounded, and have discovered it to be an impossibility to check its onward course. A day or two since I had a conversation with a prominent Republican residing not far from Bellefonte, who remarked that he was well satisfied that their county ticket was lost—lost beyond resurrection, and had very grave doubts about McKinley's success. This silver business of the Democrats, and the masterly and vigorous manner in which they are pushing the question, apparently has taken considerable vim—if not life, out of the Republican party. The single gold standard may be all right enough for those who think so, but for my part he continued, I would prefer McKinley on a silver platform than on the one he is, and then some of the newspapers to call it repudiation, anarchy and communism, what supreme nonsense. Such clap-trap has no effect on the people in this age of intelligence, and the sooner the Republicans cease such folly—such childish warfare—the better it will be for them. If all the Democrats and supporters of Mr. Bryan were anarchists and repudiators, what in the world would become of the Republic?—Bosh, if that is what is called a campaign of education, had we not better change it, and enter into a canvass of blackguardism? It might be an improvement. The fact is, when a party is forced to vilify and misrepresent their opponents, it simply proves that their own course is unsound and a very weak one.

Resolutions of Condolence.

The following resolutions in honor of James Turner, deceased, were adopted by Grove brothers post, No. 202, G. A. R., at Howard, at a regular meeting, August 1st, 1896. WHEREAS, in the providence of Almighty God, death has invaded our post ranks, and removed from our midst a kind husband, good citizen, true patriot and highly esteemed and worthy member, and competent officer of our post; therefore be it Resolved, that in bowing our heads in sorrow over this affliction we recognize: First, life's uncertainty and death's certainty, and second, that in the death of James Turner, we lose the friendship and companionship of a worthy citizen, and noble ex-soldier. Resolved, that the sympathy of this post be cordially tendered the widow and family of our departed comrade in their affliction. Resolved, that a certified copy of these resolutions be published in the county papers, and a copy of the same be presented to the bereaved family.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

We have just received from the music publishing house of the S. Brainard's Sons Co., 151 Wabash Ave., Chicago, a copy of the "Red Hot Democratic Campaign Song Book" for the campaign of 1896. This book contains songs, duets, mixed and male quartets, and is especially arranged for campaign clubs. It is not a cheap word edition, and is sold for the remarkably low price of 10 cts. or $1.00 per dozen, post-paid.

The table of contents of The Monthly Illustrator and Home and Country, New York, for August, the first issue at its reduced price from 20 to 5 cents per copy, evidences that even things which seem incredible are possible. The frontispiece, "Cigale," is from a painting by Leon Perrault. The articles of this number, many of them illustrated, are: "An American Artist in Paris. Elizabeth C. Nourse," by Clara McChesney; "Three Sea Vignettes," Poem, by Dora Read Goodale; "Junjun Mag," Story by Harriet Bradner; "What and Its Masters," by R. Frederick Foster; "Shelley and Keats," Poem, by Minna Irving; "Backdoor Neighbors," Story, by Grace S. Brown; "Stephen Crane's College Days," by Clarence Loomis Peaslee; "The Law and the Long Bone," Story, by Mary T. Earle; "Pretty Sal," Story, by Elizabeth W. C. Mann; "House Dark," by Robert Stodart; "A Grand Session," Poem, by Caroline Merighi; "The Making of Monotypes," by H. W. Faulkner; and "The People's Forum," the contributions to the latter being "The Morality of Social Amusements," by Arthur Inkersley; "Greater New York" by William Hemstreet; "The Shining Sun. The Screaming Eagle," by Arthur Somers; "The Executives of this Nation. Benjamin F. Harrison," by Joseph W. Kay; and "The Day of Reckoning," by Henry Rogers Wood. Issued by The Monthly Illustrator Publishing Co., 66-68 Centre street, New York. Price by subscription, 60 cents a year.

Col. McClure in a Bad Way.

From the Lebanon Advertiser: Those who have carefully read the Philadelphia Times for the past few months may have noticed some remarkable changes of front. Before the Republican convention at St. Louis, while Hanna was engaged in buying up delegates, black and white, for McKinley, the Times kept denouncing McKinley for his silver utterances, at the same time figuring up the number of delegates purchased, until he could count a majority. Then the Times spoke of his nomination as assured, and unless "something unforeseen" should occur that his election was "reasonably certain;" advising the Democrats, however, to place a ticket in the field—not with any hope of success, but to keep the party together. The outlook at that time was not promising, and if anything was needed to discourage and dishearten weak-kneed Democrats, it could be got ad libitum from the Times. Now, however, "something unforeseen" has occurred, and we can no longer hear of the "reasonable certainty" of McKinley's election. On the contrary there are manifest signs of alarm, and the Times is appealing to all classes of people to stem the tidal wave which it sees approaching.

Reduced Rates to Grangers' Picnic at Williams' Grove, Pennsylvania Railroad.

For the accommodation of the persons desiring to attend this interesting picnic and exhibition the Pennsylvania railroad company will sell excursion tickets on August 22nd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, and 28th, good to return until August 31st, inclusive, at rate of one fare for the round trip, from principal stations between East Liberty and Bryan Mawr, on the Northern Central railway north of and including Lutherville, on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad division.

For information in regard to train service and specific rates application should be made to ticket agents. The stockholders of the Somerville & Raritan telephone company, New Jersey, which has been in business a little over a year, have sold their stock and transferred their company, with its property and business to the New York & New Jersey telephone company. Treasurer Schwed said the company sold out simply because it didn't pay.

Lore of Colors.

White is the emblem of light, religious purity, innocence, faith, joy and life. In the Judge it indicates integrity; in the sick, humility; in the woman, chastity. Red, the ruby, signifies fire, divine love and royalty. White and red roses express love and wisdom. Blue, or the sapphire, expresses heaven, the firmament truth from a celestial origin, constancy and fidelity. Yellow or gold, is the symbol of the sun, of marriage and faithfulness. Green the emerald is the color of spring, of hope—particularly of the hope of immortality and of victory, as the color of the laurel and the palm. Violet, the amethyst, signifies love and truth, or passion and suffering. Purple and scarlet signifies things good and true from a celestial origin. Black corresponds to despair, darkness, earthliness, mourning, negation, wickedness and death.
