Madisonburg had quite an excitement last Last week our justice of the peace, Henry

Deputy sheriff, Calvin Weaver, who is a candidate for treasurer, was through Brushvalley and found the political atmosphere very favorable for his election.

The Rebersburg violin, mandolin and guitar club had a "grand time" out at Wolf's Store, last Monday evening. They were perfectly delighted with the trip.

James Corman's water pump, on his farm east of Rebersburg, was totally wrecked by the storm, Mr. Corman says that is just the way it will go with all sorts of gold bugs after election.

Last Monday, Messrs. Stover and Ira Gramley brought their engine and steam thresher into our valley. Near Rebersburg they discovered that they had lost the thresher, and found it a half mile back along the road.

Ex-judge Furst, Col. Coburn and T. H. Harter, were the orators at the Republican rally last evening. Funny that the Democrats had to tell the Republicans of their own meeting in order to rally them for "sound monev.'

To-morrow, Saturday evening there will be another Democratic meeting in Rebersburg. If the weather permits, this will be the finest one held this year. The Rebersburg violin, mandolin and guitar club will play again and give us four or five tunes. Women are cordially invited. Come early, especially those from a distance for whom seats will be reserved.

Francis Speer, Esq., of Bellcfonte, came up on our new railroad on Monday last, well delighted with the trip. During his short stay here he endeavored to see all his old acquaintances as well as added new ones to his list.

Dr. Livingston, of the Mountain City, dexterously held the lines over a pair of gray steppers. He was accompanied by his wife and family who always delight to spend a day or two on Quay street at the hospitable home of E. T. Livingston.

By an order of court the George Eckel property on Main street and the old Daniel Eckel property below town were sold recently. His widow, Elizabeth Eckel, purchased the old home in town and A. G.
