While there will be a general rally to the support of J. C. HARPER, Democratic nominee for Recorder, on November 3rd, from no class of men will it be more noticeable than from the old soldiers in Centre county. They have not forgotten the days he served as Prothonotary nor have they forgotten the fact that he never charged one of them a single cent for their pension papers or the execution thereof. It is kindness of this sort that wins friends for

Mr. HARPER will just begin to realize how many friends he has when the returns come in. He has never been known to deny aid to those in need, when he has been in a position to render aid and he has always been painstaking in his friendship for those who have courted it.

His record as a public official in Centre county stands every test of merit and is so well known that no further comment is necessary to recommend him to the voters as eminently qualified for the office. There is one feature, however, that we do not want to pass over without noticing and that is that he converses in both English and German, thus making himself particularly desirable to the large German speaking element.
