THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—Winter will be here ere long. Are you ready for it.

—It felt very much like snow on Sunday night, but the snow failed to materialize.

—Ira C. Mitchell Esq., is reported to be seriously ill at his home, on north Spring street.

—Temp Cruse is able to be out again after his attack of diphtheria. He looks slightly thinner.

—A new porch and new paint have added material improvement to Harry Keller's east Linn street home.

—'Miss Philadelphia's' coming is already the talk of the town. A great crowd should greet her when she arrives, Dec. 7th.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sheffer, of Curtin street, celebrated their silver wedding with a small company of friends last Saturday evening.

—Philip W. Barnhart, who died at his home, near Curtin's Works, Wednesday of last week, was buried last Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

—W. E. Gray was return judge for this county in the congressional contest. He met the judges of the other counties, in Clearfield, on Tuesday.

—Photographer H. B. Shaffer returned from Altoona, yesterday afternoon, where he was looking up the possible location of a branch gallery in that city.

—The Pennsylvania State College football eleven will play the University of Pennsylvania, on Franklin field, Philadelphia, to-morrow afternoon.

—Dr. Joseph M. Belford, who was a dentist in this place a number of years ago, has been elected to Congress from a New York district. He is a resident of Riverhead.

—If this kind of weather continues it will not be long until the plumber and coal man shake hands over the arrival of good times, but McKinley won't have brought them.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Malin will celebrate the silver anniversary of their marriage, on Monday evening, November twenty-third, at their home on east Howard street.

—The Bellefonte Academy football team went to State College, last Saturday, and played the sub-Freshmen of that institution. They were defeated by the score of 8 to 2.

—John R. Bell, second son of William Bell, of this place, has been married to Miss Fannie Labor, of Orient, L. I. The bride and groom were here on their wedding tour, last week.

—Mrs. Mary A. Rue, of Boggs township; John Stover, of Benner township; and A. S. Smith, of Milesburg, have recently been made happy by favorable action on their pension claims.

—Alfred J. Heverly and Miss Claire C. Saylor, both of this place, were married in the Catholic church last Thursday evening. Miss Mollie Flack was bridesmaid and Arthur Hull was groomsmen.

—Bellefonters are beginning to talk about the coming of 'Miss Philadelphia.' It will be the theatrical event of the season. Willie Collier is coming with the company of 100 people. The prices will be $1.50, $1.00, 75 and 50.

—Andrew Kniecly, formerly employed by Cedars, is now engaged in the baker business in Tyrone. He learned his trade at a fine place and if there is anything in being properly started Andrew ought to make a success of the new venture.

—There will be a change in the running of nearly all the Pennsylvania trains within a few days. Lookout for the change of schedule. It will be a matter of only a few minutes, yet it will be enough to cause annoyance if you are not acquainted with it.

—The Brockerhoff house bus looks as neat and pretty as new paint and artistic finishing can make it. It has just come from McQuiston & Co.'s shops, where it was repainted in white and cream and is now a rolling advertisement of the good work done at those shops.

—The Centre Hall Reporter is responsible for the scare that the annual session of the teachers institute will not be held in Bellefonte this year. Phillipsburg has been talked of as a possible place for the sitting of institute and it is possible that the body will convene in that place this year.

—The Undine fire company, in preparation for their annual Thanksgiving ball, are going to enforce the rule of admitting no one without cards. They propose to have the best of order and to accomplish this end will issue invitations only to those who are expected and will be welcomed.

—'Professor' Day, the modern hypnotist, closed a very successful week's engagement at Garman's, on Monday evening, by entertaining the largest house of the season. Though Day has only to do with hypnotism and the results that can be accomplished through its employment it has been a long time since there has been so much entertainment provided at Garman's. Everything he does or persuades his subjects to do is neat and clean, so that no one could find the slightest pretext on which to decry the phenomena.

TWO OLD FIGHTERS.—A fist fight has seldom a funny side because the better nature of everyone is shocked by the manifestation of such brutality but Bellefonte laughed a great deal, last Friday, when the facts of a fight which two of her oldest residents indulged in became known.

Nearly everyone knows old Johnny Caldwell. He is 78 years old and indeed it seems as though he ought to be about an hundred, for he was quite an old man when he used to deliver coal for the Snow Shoe company and spend his idle time chasing the boys who were wont to disturb his geese on their nests on the island near where the Central R. R. of Penna. station now stands. Johnny isn't one of the most robust of men. In fact he is little and skinny and scarcely weighs 100 lbs, but he still possesses that refreshing Irish grit that seems to hang on to the last breath of age. Last Friday morning he was walking along Beaver street, when he met his anything but friend, Benj. Housel, aged 82, and too heavy to be weighed on a scale that doesn't register at least 200 lbs. The election had been of too recent occurrence for the men to pass without some remark and the most natural thing in the world for them to begin to twit one another about was the division of the spoils of the Republican victory. Johnny Caldwell said it would be hard to remove the Democratic mail carriers without cause, the lie passed and the two old fellows were fighting like game cocks in less time than it takes to tell it.

Housel's superior weight told in the in fighting. In fact it was only a matter of a minute or so until Johnny was broad on his back, while Ben was sitting astride of him, choking him with the one hand and laying on with his cane with the other.

It is just as hard to make an old dog forget his old tricks as it is to make one learn new ones and that accounts for Housel's eye looking like the eight ball at pool before he got Johnny down. The latter had not forgotten his pristine glory as a scrapper and before his opponent sat down on him he decorated Benjamin's eye in such a way as would have made it a capital ornament for Mark Hanna's flag day.

About the time the two old fellows had exhausted themselves and were too weak to give the peace maker the thumping he usually receives Dr. R. G. H. Hayes arrived and separated them. Each proceeded 'to take the law' on the other, but the law refused to have anything to do with either, so the old scappers pass without speaking now, but they watch each other out of the corners of their eyes, all the same.

THE GLASS WORKS WILL BE IN BLAST SOON.—It has been five years since glass has been made at the factory in this place and it is now beginning to look as if it will not be half as many weeks until the plant will be in full operation again.

Last Monday the last dollar of the necessary $3,000 to start it off on the co-operative plan was subscribed and it now remains only to put a new roof on the factory and divide the furnace, so that four pots only need be worked. It will not take long to accomplish this so that it is confidently expected that before the middle of December the factory will be started up on a safer basis than it has ever been operated on before.

It will be wholly on the co-operative plan; the skilled workmen controlling everything, with the possible exception of the books, which will be turned over to an expert accountant. Under this plan there will be no interest on borrowed money to pay, no high salaries to officials and no one but practical glass men directing the work. If the factory cannot be made a success under such conditions then there can be no possibility of making money in the glass business in Bellefonte.

The final arrangements were concluded yesterday about noon and what will be known as the Co-operative Glass Company of Bellefonte will be in operation by December 1st, with about twenty-five men employed. The officers of the organization are: President, John Kniecly; secretary, Thomas Shaughensy; manager, James Conroy; directors; Jacob Gehring, John A. Waite, Mattie Vable and Louis Kohlbeck. The other men interested are Herman Cruse, George Seigwort and George Vanscoyoc.

They are to get the factory free of rent until August '97. After that time they have an option to lease it at $600 per year. Council has already exonerated half the taxes.

BURNED ON SUNDAY.—About one o'clock Sunday afternoon the house, barn and out-buildings, owned by John Dolan, near Jacksonville, were totally destroyed by fire with nearly all of their contents. Most of the furniture, two horses, two cows, farm implements, 300 bushels of potatoes and 350 bushels of corn are lost.

Mr. Dolan was in the house at the time the flames were discovered, but he had gained such headway before he noticed them that he barely escaped from the burning building. The loss is a very serious one to the family, as they carried no insurance.

The rumor that a little girl of the family had been burned up in the house is all a hoax.

BURGERS ARRESTED IN TYRONE.—Three men were arrested, in Tyrone, at an early hour Sunday morning, while trying to effect an entrance into a store in that place. A complete set of burglar tools were found on the men, who gave their names as Joseph Timmins, of Baltimore, and James Patterson, of Cleveland, O., and Joseph Merley, of Tampa, Fla. They were given a hearing Monday and committed to jail.

—Bryan's majority in Penns valley was 1075.

—Read the new advertisement of Bellefonte's cheapest store on the 5th page.

—The Gentzel hunting party are off on their annual search for deer in the "Green-woods."

—Centre Hall was the home of three candidates for Congress last week, none of whom were elected. Col. Spangler, in this district; Clevan Dinges, Prohibition, in the Lycoming district; and Will O. Hoffer, in Kansas.

—The Bellefonte Academy now has a singing school conducted by Miss Helen Overton. No extra charge will be made for the half hour lesson given once a week after the regular school hours.

—Orin Parsons, the New York artist, was in town, Wednesday, showing some of his water colors. His pictures have always been appreciated by Bellefonte buyers, and his visits usually mean sales.

—James Schofield is fairly slashing the prices on his great line of blankets and robes. He wants to dispose of them before Jan. 1st, 1897, and does not propose that anyone else shall supply your needs if low prices are what you want.

—A neat little looking glass, just large enough to satisfy anyone's vanity, is Sechler and Co's latest advertising dodge. They are being hung up all around town to remind people where to go for bright, fresh, groceries.

—Friends of two fellows who were incarcerated therein burglarized the Dubois lock-up, last Sunday morning, and made away with the inmates. It is fortunate that the burglars didn't take the lock-up, for we understand that it is such a handsome (?) building that its loss would seriously affect the town.

—Solomon B. Thompson, a well known old resident of Cedar Springs, Clinton county, seemed to realize that he was nearing death's door. For several days he had been in his usual good health but was steadily making arrangements for death and sure enough, on Monday afternoon, after he had washed himself and put on clean clothing, he dropped over dead.

—Some people say that advertising is all a matter of luck; that you cannot tell what advertising is going to do, or whether or not it is going to pay. This may be true, but it is very strange that the man who gives careful thought to his advertising and does it in an intelligent and straight forward way usually has the luck on his side.—Art in Advertising.

—In spite of all the talk about hard times, dull seasons and business stagnation, it often happens that individual enterprise is quickly emulated by others until the whole business world is in active motion again. One bold advertiser can start a crowd of other advertisers, because they have to, in order to protect their trade.—John Chester.

—John Strong, of Potters Mills, will wheel William Smith, on a barrow from the post-office to the hotel, in that place, to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The distance is 1/2 mile and the feat will be the payment of an election bet. The wheeler dare stop as often as he pleases, but the rider can call for a speech every time the wheeler stops. A band will head the procession.

—Miss Dona Mowery, of Granville, Millin county, died at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Hendershot, at Valentine's iron works, this place, at 7 o'clock on Sunday morning. The young woman was 22 years of age and had come to this county on a visit. She had been a sufferer with consumption, but her demise was not expected so soon. Her parents arrived, on Monday, and the remains were taken to Millin county for burial.

—Statistics of this year's crop of apples are beginning to come in. The New England Homestead estimates the crop in the United States at a little less than 59,000,000 barrels, as against 57,000,000 barrels in 1894 and 60,500,000 barrels in 1895. It appears, then, that the crop which was supposed to be phenomenal is so only in certain sections, and the general average is low, rather than high. New England and New York, however, report over 16,000,000 barrels, as against a little more than 7,000,000 last year; while Michigan has the largest and finest crop she has ever had. This is a situation where facilities for distribution are needed, in order that all parts of the country may have their share of the fruit.

—Col. William E. Potter, the distinguished and well-known New Jersey lawyer, died after a long illness of locomotor ataxia, at his home, in Bridgeton, on Monday. Col. Potter stood high in military circles as well as judicial, for his career during the war was most honorable and gallant. He took part in nineteen engagements and was one of the six officers detailed to deliver the colors surrendered by Gen. Lee's army to Edward M. Stanton, at Washington, in '65. He was a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, the Loyal Legion of Pennsylvania and the Meade Post, of Philadelphia. Col. Potter always seemed very near to Centre county. His mother was Jane Barron, of Ferguson township, and through her he was related to the Barrons, Mitchells and Meeks. Rev. J. P. Hughes, of the Academy, was named after his father, James Boyd Potter, and his pastor, Rev. S. W. Beach, is a son-in-law of Mrs. Nancy Orbison, of this place.

LOTS OF THEM.—Among the good men in the county who are being talked of as possibilities for commissioner's clerk are; Irvin Morris and Henry Haupt, of Milesburg; Thomas Mitchell, James B. Strohm, Col. Amos Mullen, and H. B. Pontius, of Bellefonte; Joseph Barton and Jason Underwood, of Unionville; James Gregg and a Mr. Confer, of Milesburg; G. H. Heberling, of Pine Grove Mills; J. N. Spiker and a Mr. Shaffer of Potter township; and a number of other worthies. All these men are being talked about and boomed by their respective friends. We are sorry there are not places for them all.

For the Bellefonte post office there are a number of fellows nibbling who will possibly take the bait and get at it right, within a few days. Among them are: Harry Brew, Col. Geo. A. Bayard, James I. McClure, S. H. Diehl and Al. Dale. The latter ought to have an easy thing, as he is the original Quay man about here, but it is just possible that Governor Hastings will attend to Al. You know Al. and the Governor are not the best of friends, so it would hardly be possible for him to let the botanist lawyer run off with such a plum.

The Commissioners elect have a fine array of talent to select an attorney from. Clement Dale, Charles Hewes, W. F. Reeder, W. E. Gray and E. R. Chambers would all like to have the $500 a year that is in the office. Col. Reeder is looking for something bigger, however, a job that will take him away from Bellefonte, so he is not seriously considered. Chambers and Gray seem to be the leading men in the fight.

Then there is Orrie Atwood's job at the court house which Josh Faulk, Thos. McCafferty, Isaac Dawson and Hunter Kniecly all think would suit them to a T.

As a whole the applicants are a good lot of men and if there is anything in party service being rewarded they deserve something, everyone of them. We fear however, that it will be, as it always has been, the old men in the harness will be turned down and some new favorites will be taken up.

WHAT KIND OF WORK IS THIS?—The borough of Bellefonte has a stone crusher, purchased at a cost of $779.29. It was bought because the council did not believe there could be good streets, when the stones were broken by the poor people to pay their taxes. Everyone knows that the borough is head over heels in debt, yet the councilmen concluded that poor streets were worse than a poverty stricken borough, and right wisely, too, so they purchased a stone crusher.

What the public would like to know now is what has been done with the crusher?

When it was bought it was guaranteed to crush 30 tons of stone per day and at that rate every street in town should have been dressed off by this time, so that the fine stone would have time to be ground up and formed into a solid mass before the snow comes, making a good road bed during the winter. Instead of such a condition there are two patches on North Spring street, a square on West High and a strip along the middle of High, in front of the Bush House, that reminds one of the black stripe that usually runs along the broad back of a yellow donkey. Surely this street is not to be left in such a condition.

Why it isn't half dressed and council should be "pulled" for tolerating such nudity on the streets. What is that crusher for, Messrs Councilmen? Are you saving it for an exhibit at the next borough centennial?

COOKE—LONG.—A very pretty wedding ceremony was consummated at the home of W. H. Long, at Jacksonville, on Wednesday evening, when the second daughter of the household, Miss Emma E. Long, was married to Walter L. Cooke, of Howard. The Rev. Jones, of the Presbyterian church, officiated.

Promptly at half-past five o'clock the couple, attended by Miss Margaret Long, a sister of the bride, and Mr. William Mitchell, entered the daintily decorated parlor of the Long homestead and were married. The bride was charmingly gowned in white silk, her maid wearing organdy of the same color.

After the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding supper served. The couple were then driven to Howard, from which place they started on a tour east. Upon their return they will live in Howard, where the groom is agent for the Pennsylvania railroad company, and they will go to housekeeping in the property which Mr. Poulson will vacate in a short time.

PROBABLY MURDER.—Clinton county has probably a murder on its hands and the new sheriff, R. D. Peck, might have to perform the unpleasant duty of hanging a man, as a result of the shooting of 10 year old Michael Bianco by his uncle George Aidum.

The shooting occurred at Bitumen, in the upper end of the county, on Saturday morning. A party of boys were going foraging for apples. Aidum, a Hungarian, was among them, when his little nephew, Bianco, asked if he could go along. The request being refused the lad protested, whereupon Aidum pointed the gun he had in his hands at him and it went off killing the lad instantly.

Aidum dropped his gun and fled, but he was captured at Westport. It is not known whether he pointed the gun at the boy merely to frighten him or not. He is now in jail, at Lock Haven, and will be indicted for murder in the first degree.

—Millheim will probably supply her new school building with water from an artesian well.

—Since the pike to Milesburg has been abandoned it has been gradually getting down to the condition of a poorly kept country road.

—It is reported that there are a half dozen applicants for the Millheim post office. Among them are J. Spigelmyer and Dr. F. E. Gutelius.

—Barnes' big flouring mill, in Phillipsburg, is soon to go under new management. Duke Copelin, of Phillipsburg, and Andrew Galbraith, of Roaring Springs, are to run it.

—James Schofield announces to the public that between now and Jan. 1st, 1897, he intends selling his entire line of fine and coarse blankets and robes at prices unheard of to the trade. It is his advice that you consult him before buying from agents, either on or off the road.

—Aged 77 years, 3 months, and 5 days Samuel Loose died at his home, at Rebersburg, last Saturday evening, after an illness extending over a long period. He was a carpenter by trade and was a member of the Evangelical church. He leaves a widow with five daughters and one son.

THE REPUBLICANS WILL RATIFY.—The Republicans of Bellefonte and vicinity will jolly over the election of McKinley and Hobart by having a big blow out, in this place, on Saturday night. They expect quite a crowd and Bellefonte expects a noisy time.

The committees of arrangement are comprised as follows: Finance, John D. Sourbeck; parade, W. E. Gray, Geo. Jackson, T. K. Morris, Amos Mullen; decoration, H. P. Harris, Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, J. L. Montgomery; transparencies, S. B. Miller, William Shortridge, H. C. Valentine; advertising, E. R. Chambers, H. C. Brew, S. H. Diehl.

MRS. JEMIMA SHARER OF ZION.—Relict of the late David Sharer Mrs. Jemima Sharer died at her home, at Zion, early Wednesday morning, after a long illness with catarrh of the stomach.

Deceased was a member of the Evangelical church and a very consistent christian woman. She was 64 years old and is survived by the following children: Mrs. Wm. Royer, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Elmer Swartz, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. J. W. Ely, of Zion; and Foster Sharer, of Zion. The funeral will take place this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made at Zion. Rev. Kunes of the Evangelical church will officiate.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by orphans' court clerk, G. W. Rumberger, during the past week.

John W. Guiser, of Bellefonte, and Alta Haines, of Tyrone.

Harry H. Noll, of Rebersburg, and Emma J. Sholl, of Wolf's Store.

William J. Motter and Sam Williams, both of Rush township.

Gust Beizer, of Bellefonte, and Mertie Saylor, of Spring township.

W. L. Cooke, of Howard, and Emma E. Long, of Jacksonville.

William A. Brungart, of Wolf's Store, and Lizzie M. Moyer, of Rebersburg.

News Purely Personal.

—After a few days spent in Bellefonte Johnny Curvian returned to his home, at State College, yesterday morning.

—George T. Bush went to Pittsburg, last Saturday evening, where he served as a United States juror during the week.

—Mrs. John Shadle, of north Thomas street, has gone to Philadelphia, where she has entered a hospital to undergo a surgical operation, that is hoped will improve her health.

—Abel Weber, postmaster Howard Moore and Hayes Schenck, three of Howard's representative men, were in town, on Saturday, talking business, politics or anything else their friends wanted to chat about.

—Assemblyman-elect and Mrs. Foster are going to Philadelphia next week on a visit to his brother. Bob's majority was something to be proud of, but he campaigned so vigorously that he deserves a rest as well as his constituents.

—Mrs. Charles Noll, of Clearfield, and little son, Frederick, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Noll of Allegheny street. Baby Frederick is fairly idolized by his cousins and aunts and grandfather Noll is going to have him be a preacher instead of a politician.

—David Tanyer Esq., one of the old farmers of Bald Eagle, who lives between Howard and Mt. Eagle, was in Bellefonte, on Thursday, attending to some business at the county seat. He has farmed in Howard township for many years and enjoys the friendship of every one who knows him.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Glenn and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. E. Glenn, of State College, were in town, Wednesday, shopping. They did not see in any of the stores the buyers or evidences of prosperity that the Republican papers have been crowding the counters with since McKinley's election.

—Sup't. W. L. Malin, of the Central Pennsylvania Telephone company, entertained his brother Samuel on Tuesday night. The visitor is division superintendent of the Norfolk & Western R. R., with headquarters at Radford. Mr. Malin is older than Bellefonte's member of the family and looks very much like Col. J. P. Coburn, president of the First National bank. He remained in Bellefonte until Wednesday morning. He was on business for the corporation he represents.

—Messrs. Fred Bortoff and W. H. Fry, of Ferguson township, spent part of Monday and Tuesday in Bellefonte in the interest of the extension of the Bellefonte Central R. R. to Pine Grove Mills. Both gentlemen said they had little difficulty in collecting the subscriptions that had been made in this place and were pleased with the outlook for their town. The road is in operation clear through to the Ard farm and only about half a mile of it remains to be completed.

—Rev. Frank Wetzel, the eldest son of Mr. John Wetzel, of Spring township, has been about town for a week or more visiting his parents and brothers and sisters who are all living in or near the town. He is now located at Stoytown, Somerset county, but previous to going there he had spent thirteen years in the West. The reverend gentleman has the Wetzel features but his black hair and beard are a little puzzling when the sandy hair of all the brothers here are so familiar.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH AND MR. BRADT.—George Bradt is not a remarkable man, in any respect, yet he has showed himself, abundantly able to take care of No. 1, especially when the Bellefonte board of health gets after him with a sharp stick for not complying with the laws that body has laid down for the preservation of the good health of the town.

Mr. Bradt is one of those kind of men who would attract attention in a crowd. He is a typical yankee in appearance and has a wife and four children. About six weeks ago one of the latter took diphtheria and the board of health struck for the Bradt home, on east Howard street, at once. The customary yellow card was tacked on the door and the place and its inmates quarantined. George didn't take kindly to the chalk marks over which the Bellefonte health preservers said he dare not step. It was very depressing staying at home when there was a great political campaign on. In truth his spirits must have been well nigh run down when the danger card mysteriously disappeared from the door and George and his dog began their daily amblings as of old.

The doctors hauled him up before justice Keichline, where George declared he did not take the card off and was discharged. Then his tormentors appealed and the case will be tried at the coming court.

Meanwhile the four year old baby got well and now a ten year old girl has the disease. George kept on going in and out, so did the dog, until the people got scared again and the board ordered the dog tied up. This was done, but no one knows what George will do. He certainly has proven his capability of looking out for himself.

HE APPRECIATES IT.—Commissioner-elect Daniel Heckman was delightfully serenaded at his home, in Benner township, on Friday night, by the Coleville band. The evening was spent by the official's giving the band boys a reception which they all enjoyed.

Mr. Heckman desires, in this way, to express his appreciation of the honor the band bestowed upon him by the visit.
