

THANKSGIVING.

Live fast, you selfish, thankful throng. For life to-day is fair, And when the dinner comes along, Take in a goodly share!

THANKSGIVING FOR TWO.

The Widow Wilson's farm had seen better and more prosperous days, and now was traveling backward. It began at the top of Brindle hill, where it was bounded by the county road, and straggled down to the lake shore, its hundred acres or so wandering over hills and dipping into hollows, until they terminated at the bay, with its rim of white and glistening sand.

that there might be something in the cellar and in the cupboards, for the widow was known in the township to have been a "good provider" in her days of affluence. Circling the narrow paneled southern window an advance guard of the outside sunbeams came streaming in, one of them lighting the gray hair of the woman, with a silvery halo. Jen thought he had never seen a woman who appeared so "lady-like" and how young she looked. He paused a moment to regard her, and she opened her eyes. He retreated in confusion a step or two, the red blushes staining his honest, open face.

of late. He was deeply stirred by the soft brown eyes of pretty Susie Jones, a chorister in the church; Susie, who lived as he had done, with friends for board and keep, another of New England's orphans. He never mentioned this darling affection, not even to the widow; but her eyes, though growing dim, were acute enough to penetrate his honest soul. His whole life lay centered in the farm, which had become as essential to it almost as the air he breathed. But now there must be young life in dancing before his face, in woodpile, in field, in garden.

Thanksgiving Dainties. Recipes for a Half-Dozen Kinds of Pudding. For transparent pudding: Cream a pound of butter and sugar together; add eight well-beaten eggs; flavor the mixture with nutmeg. Line a pudding dish with thin puff paste, pour in the pudding and set in a very hot oven for ten minutes. Serve without sauce.

Around the World Route. The newest project that is broached by Yankee capitalists is the establishment of a globe circling line of travel. It is proposed to construct a swift line of steamships to traverse the Pacific, which shall be ready by the time the trans-Siberian railway is completed; and by means of that line and such arrangements as can be made with existing land and ocean routes of travel to complete the circuit of the planet, and enable anybody for a comparatively moderate sum, to far surpass the record of Phineas Fogg, whose imaginary journey, completed in 80 days has furnished the world with so much entertainment.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN. Bring children up to sleep in the dark, as it is much better for their eyes, the complete darkness being an entire rest. Dark green or blue curtains are the best for bedrooms, and they should be drawn across the window to prevent the glare of the morning light falling too strongly upon the eyes. Never place a child's bed opposite a window, as the bright light falling upon the face in sleep is exceedingly bad for the sight.
