Game and Birds.

Illegal Contrivances Used to Capture Them.

The destruction of game birds and mammals in Pennsylvania is made the basis of an interesting report by State Zoologist Warren to Governor Hastings to aid him in suggesting certain needed changes in the game and fish laws of the commonwealth in his biennial message to the incoming only States which permit prize fighting, legislature. Dr. Warren says public policy California and New York, went Republilegislature. Dr. Warren says public policy demands that the traffic in game taken within this state should be abolished. "Market hunting is not done by farmers or farmers' sons," says Zoologist Warren, "but by the professional market hunter, who from the time he can lawfully pursue his vocation until the end of the season camps upon the ground where game abounds and proceeds to make it his business and means of livelihood. I have the first instance to record of one contributing toward replenishing a depleted game supply, or paying in any manner for his gunning privileges.

"A reasonable trespass act and the restruction of our game tariff; so that it will include deer, will turkey, ruffled grouse, woodcock and quail, would, I believe, meet the views of our land owners and all those interested in preserving and increasing our game. None of the above are in any manner destructive to farmers and no fear need be entertained that they will ever become that numerous. Bears, squirrels and rabbits are not game which can be defended, and to continue their sale would not be a menace to the game of our state."

This is What the Deft Fingers of Woman Are Busy About.

"If you want to look right sew your buttons on tight" is the motto painted in South Dakota had, up to September 30th, three water colors on a novel button bag that is and seven-tenth inches more of rain-fall than for being finished for the holidays. The main any of the previous sixteen years. Since Septempart of this bag is one-half yard of twoinch ribbon, and its construction is quite four inches to the excess, making a gain of nearsimple. Early in the fold place a spool of patent shot thread; November there were heavy rains, depositing above it on the silk lightly mark a line over two inches, and since then there have been in order that when a row of machine stitch- heavy snows, and about a foot of snow covered ing is run across the spool will be held in the ground on November 25th. are often a source of despair to the thrifty housewlfe, and I am sure that such a newspaper case as I saw the other day would be of the greatest use, as it is large enough to hold a quantity of papers. It is quite decorative, and one might be put in every bed room, as well as the library or sitting room. To make such a case a yard of fancy matting in rich, deep colors is required. The selvedged edges form the sides; the rough edges are somewhat difficult to manage, and the best way is to turn them down with patent brass fasteners, clenching them on the wrong side. Trim off the ends of the straw neatly. Turn up the lower end and tack it to the back with twine and a carpet needle, and finish the sides with large bows of satin ribbon, attaching two big brass rings at the top, by which to haug up the case. Decorate the front with a bunch of dried grasses or work "papers" across it with heavy worst- 39-37-1y

A piece of satin fifteen inches wide and ten inches deep forms a charming bag. This is to be folded in half and sewed up the side and bottom. The portion forming the top is cut to fashion four tabs two and a half inches in depth. The bag is lined throughout with silk or satin, forming a sort of binding at the top of the tabs, and is drawn up by ribbon run through a ca-sing. The sides are trimmed by bows of ribbon and frills of lace, and on the front is embroidered the initial of the person for whom the bag is intended, surrounded by an Empire wreath. This bag develops prettily in black and blue satin, with lace. A handsome case for a writing pad is of white linen, mounted on a pasteboard foundation, twelve by eight inches. The front is daintily decorated with pink clover done in water colors, and a pink moire rib-bon holds the pad to the cover, which has bow at the top to correspond. Attached to the upper and under sides are loops of leather for holding pen and pencil and for binding the covers together.

A pretty hanging letter holder is useful for the desk and is easily made. The back is cut from cardboard, fancifully shaded and covered with plain silk, elaborately embroidered with flowers in embroidery silk. To this section is attached a pocket of bright figured silk, gathered near the top to form a frill, and finished at the bottom with silk tassels. The holder is ornamented at top and sides by rows of wide satin or silk ribbon.

DISCOVERY.

If this discovery was unearthed by a blacksmith in Boston, Buffalo or Brad-ford we would not ask our readers to believe it but when the mechanic is in ford we would not ask our readers to believe it but when the mechanic is in Bellefonte there is no getting away from the truth You can find Mr. Chas. Shearer at 23 Thomas street where between the rings on his anvil he will corroborate personally what is here made public. Mr. Shearer says:

—"The trouble in my back started from a strain I received while shoeing a horse that was rather hard to handle. I have taken a number of kidney remedies and have been treated by a physician who told me my kidneys were out of gear but he could do nothing for me. Besides being troubled with severe backaches the urine was very dark and I had severe headaches. I know they originated from my kidneys for since I used Doan's Kidney Pills they have stopped. I saw a number of accounts of remarkable cures made by the old Quaker remedy and although I did not know any of the people I concluded to try them as a sort of venture. I sent to the Pharmacy of F. Potts Green for a box and commenced to use them. Colds used to affect me. I have contracted one since I ceased using them and notice no inconvenience. I have also done a great deal of horse-shoeing and other heavy work since but my back has stood the test all right. I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Replying to your inquiry, as to testimonial with my signature, published by Dr. Salm, will say, that I was under his treatment for 10 months for my hearing. It was catarrh of the middle ear, and like yourself, could hear better some days than others, could hear better in noise. My hearing was very much improved by the treatment, and have no doubt, but that he can help you. Dr. Salm appears to be an honest man, and he will tell you the truth, whether he can help you or not. If I were you, I would certainly consult him. I was longer afflicted than you. My hearing was bad in one car for about 35 years, and in the other for about 24 or 25 years. Hoping that your hearing will be entirely restored. I remain.
