While head miller W. E. Terry was assisting with some work that was being done on the breast of the dam at Geo. W. Jackson & Co's mill, on Monday morning, he slipped on the wet stones and fell off the embankment. He had a tumble of about twelve feet and cut a deep gash in his head, dislocated his right thumb and was considerably bruised about the body.

Fillmore is enjoying a great revival. Sixty four people have been converted and the Methodist church is crowded nightly. To Mr. McEntire, brother of L. D. McEntire the grateful people are of the community feel so kindly that they presented him with a purse of forty dollars. He preaches earnestly and worked faithfully till the church was aroused and the revival general.

While Arthur Dale, a young son of Clement Dale Esq., of north Allegheny street, was playing with some school mates at the Academy, on Wednesday of last week, he was accidentally pushed over an embankment. In falling he strained and bruised his left leg so badly that it has been impossible for him to use it since the accident. He was on his back even yesterday, though improved a little.

ATTEMPTED TO BURN THE COURT HOUSE.—Only the timely discovery of the fire, last Monday morning, saved the people of Centre county the worry and expense of building a new court house. A futile attempt was made to burn the building and had it not been discovered just when it was there is little doubt but that the imposing old structure would be in ashes.

The alarm sounded about 2:30 a. m., the fire having been discovered by some unknown who called to officer Gares, as he was going up street, and then disappeared. The fire department was on the scene promptly to find that the fire was located at the southwest entrance to the court room, on the second floor. Those who got there first do not hesitate to declare that they smelled and saw coal oil about the place, as much as it had been thoroughly saturated. The fire was evidently started from the top landing of the stair case and whoever did it knew the best place to do the work without going clear to the garret, where there is a regular tinder box.

From that position the reflection of the flames from the window would be less likely to attract the attention of the watchman at Garman's hotel until the fire had a good start; so you can see the fire was a carefully planned one. Entrance was made to the building through a window in the treasurer's office. It was forced open and from that point the way was clear to the place where the fire was set.

Many rumors have been afloat as to the probable incentive and not the least noised is the one that it was done to burn the ballots that were known to be in the building pending the opening of the shrievalty contest, on Monday. There is very little serious thought given this theory, as everyone knows that the incendiary, who was clever enough to place the fire as it was done, was clever enough to know that the ballots were securely locked in a fire proof vault. Other theories are to the effect that it was done with the hope of making work or out of pure deviltry. The latter is most probably the real one.

The damage to the building is very slight. It will not require more than $50 to repair it all, as nothing but the two doors and the facings were burned, aside from the cheap matting on the floor.

COUNTING THE BALLOTS.—The work of counting the ballots in the shrievalty contest began, on Monday morning, and has been carried on with as much haste as possible. Up to last evening they had finished the following precincts:

Gregg E. P., Gregg W. P., Half Moon, Patton, Walker, Marion, Snow Shoe, W. P., Snow Shoe, E. P., Millheim, Liberty, Hoyard, Twp., Howard Boro., Milesburg, Boggs East, Boggs West, Unionville Boro., Rush, N. P., Rush, S. P., Union Twp., Hurston, Taylor, Worth, Boggs, N. P., Burnside, Harris, Centre Hall Boro., College E. P. and College, W. P.

Thus far it has been an utter failure in proving anything wrong in the returns and even the sworn statements of different Miller advocates have been proven false by the count itself. The great cry that was raised, early in the contest, that many votes, marked in the circle at the top of the Republican column then marked in the square opposite Cronister's name, had been unlawfully counted for him, has been entirely hushed in face of the fact that out of the twenty-nine precincts only two such ballots have been found.

As a matter of fact the count has actually showed a balance in favor of Mr. Cronister and the search through the rest of the boxes will hardly make any change in the result.

Of course a great many ballots are being held over for the judges to pass upon, but they are so plain in their intent that the ruling will not change them. For instance, some of the ballots have a X marked in the circles at the tops of both Democratic and Free Silver columns. Such votes will be counted straight because the electors are the same and only one county ticket is voted for.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY IN THE HARDWARE BUSINESS.—To look at James Potter, as he drives about Bellefonte behind the speediest pair of pole horses in the town, one would not imagine him to be an old man, by any means, nor is he. But when you know that he has celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his going into the hardware business and has a son larger than he is himself there can be but one conclusion and that that James is no longer a youth.

On Saturday it was just twenty-five years since he entered the Harris hardware store. It was then owned by James Harris and John Harris, now deceased. Unlike most boys of his age he liked to work and so ambitiously was he to do something that he played "hooky" from school the day he started in. From that time on James has followed the hardware business until he is now a partner in the firm of James Harris & Co., and it has been almost solely due to his efforts that the firm has built up an extensive wholesale business.

The event was celebrated by his entertaining all of the employees of the house at dinner, on Saturday evening. It was served at his residence, on Spring street, and was a most enjoyable occasion.

In Tyrone the sleighing is right good, while in Bellefonte there is hardly enough snow to make a ball.

The six children of the late John Woodring, of Tyrone, average 21 1/2 lbs in weight. There are three girls and three boys.

The Tyrone cow association, or insurance company, is said to be in a flourishing condition. Only two assessments were made last year.

We desire to call attention to the new testimonials that appear in Dr. M. Salm's advertisement in this issue. They speak forcibly of the skill and success of the specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Salmon celebrated the crystal anniversary of their marriage, on Tuesday evening, at their home near Beech Creek. There were seventy-five guests present.

Rev. Geo. H. Hemingway, of Carthage, Mo., who will be remembered for having preached a number of times in the court house here, last year, has received a call to the first Presbyterian church at Bloomsburg, Pa. He has been anxious to get East for some time and will accept the call.

Last Friday Mrs. Robert Haines, of Snow Shoe, gave a delightful dinner for Mrs. Andrew J. Cook, Mrs. J. L. Seibert, Mrs. Henry P. Harris, Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson, Miss Ellen Woods and Miss Lizzie Harris, of this place. Covers were laid for twelve and the menu was served with the usual beautiful hospitality for which that home is known.

Huntington had a shooting affray, on Friday morning, when Henry Meekbaugh, aged 60 years, was shot through the right lung by his 27 year old son. The old man had been drinking heavily and had made all manner of threats of violence to the members of his family. They stood it as long as they could then the young man seemed crazed and shot him. He is in jail awaiting the result of the injuries inflicted. The father will recover.

If you want to vote for a good, active young man who knows everybody in town, as well as their needs, vote for John Trafford for overseer of the poor. He will be careful not to squander the department money, yet he will be just as careful to help those deserving of it. The people of Bellefonte cannot be too careful in the selection of a poor-overseer and John Trafford is the man who should be selected. What we want is a young man, one who will administer the office energetically.

A Lewistown paper says that Miss Libbie Aurand, of Spring Run, has this fall and winter cut twenty-two cords of wood, cutting the timber down in the woods and cross-cutting it into cord wood length, and has also dug a well, thirteen feet, two and one-half inches deep. This she did all herself, except the cost of twenty-five cents for a man to hoist up some dirt from the bottom of the well. She has also, with the aid of her father and mother, husked fifteen hundred bushels of corn ears. Miss Aurand is a daughter of Eli and Peggie Aurand, of near McEvoytown.

A book reception and entertainment will be given by the class of '97 in the High school, on Monday, Feb. 22nd, at 2 o'clock. You are cordially invited to contribute a book whether you can be present or not. The idea is a very good one for without a library the scholars have little chance to progress, either in the art of letters or science. Books are most needed, not many, but a few well chosen and read, and as there is not a public library in the town, you will be building for the future if you contribute a good book of history, biography, travel or science for the library the school needs.

THE VALENTINE FURNACE FIRES ARE NOT BANKED.—According to an article in Monday's Daily News the impression has gone abroad that the Valentine furnace, at this place, has been blown out for an indefinite period, owing to a scarcity of ore. The report is wholly without warrant, the furnace is running as usual and there is no idea of stopping it.

We would advise the News to use its telephone in the future and not depend on rumors picked up on the streets. Such stories work all manner of injury to business enterprise and no paper has a right to publish them without information that can be considered reliable.

BANQUETED LAST NIGHT.—The Bellefonte lodge of Improved Order of Heptasoph's had a social session in connection with the installment of officers for the ensuing six months term last night. The regular business of installing new officers was gone through in the following: Archon, Jacob H. Gross; secretary, H. H. Harshberger; financier, F. E. Naginay; treasurer, Chas. F. Cook; past archon, W. R. Braebill; provost, W. A. Ishler; prelate, Wm. P. Kuhn; inspector, L. H. Wian; warden, Geo. H. Hazel; sentinel, J. O. Gillen; trustees, Herman Holtz, D. C. Stine, P. H. Gerrity.

Cap't. Robert Johnson, of Altoona, district deputy, was installing officer. After the ceremony a fine banquet was served at the Broeckerhoff house. Proprietor Neubauer fairly surpassed the reputation he has for catering to such functions and the Heps., with their guests, lingered at the daintily laid tables long after the last course had been served and as the blue smoke from many a cigar went curling to the ceiling one story after another was told until it grew too late for more.

MRS. DELONG, OF ROMOLA.—After an illness with stomach and bowel trouble that extended over a period of several years Mrs. Hugh S. DeLong, of Romola, departed this life on Saturday, January 30th.

Mrs. DeLong was aged 46 yrs, 4 months and 16 days. She gave her heart to God four years ago and was identified as a member of the Christian church at Romola. There are left to mourn her loss a husband and six children, two sons and four daughters, two of whom are married.

All that was mortal was laid in its last resting place in the Christian cemetery, at Romola, on Tuesday, February 2nd.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. M. S. Blair, choosing as his text St. John, XI:25. Brother Blair was assisted by Rev. N. L. Atwood, of Girard, Pa., and Rev. J. W. Forest, of the Howard M. E. church.

The pall-bearers were four nephews: Messrs. R. A. Mann, William and David Jones, and Eugene Kline, also E. J. Williams and Newton Wilson.

The flowers presented in her memory were very pretty. One wreath was from her nieces, Mrs. G. D. Robb and Miss Clara Kline, of Altoona, the other by her son's school. The bereaved family have the heart felt sympathy of all their friends and relatives.

MRS. GEORGE R. MOCK, OF PHILIPSBURG.—Many friends and relatives of Mrs. George R. Mock, who live in this end of the county and particularly about Bellefonte, Lemont and State College, are sad because of the untimely death of so charming a woman. Raised near State College and educated at that institution she is remembered as a sweet mannered, lovable girl. In 1893 she married Mr. Mock, of Philipsburg, and leaves him with a two year old son.

She had been ill for some time with heart and lung trouble, her death having occurred on Friday afternoon. Funeral services were held at her late home, on Monday, and interment was made in Philipsburg.

Her maiden name was Grace Moore, she being the daughter of John P., and Ellen Moore, of Lemont, the former of whom is deceased. Besides the husband and little son she is survived by her mother and three brothers and three sisters, viz: Archie, of Altoona; Robert and John, of Philipsburg; Mrs. James Johnstonbaugh, of State College; Mrs. James McKee, of Pittsburg, and Miss Mand, of Coatesville.

AN OLD VETERAN GONE.—Samuel Wyland, born at Rock Forge, 59 years ago, died in his rooms over McCalmont & Co's store, on High street, Bellefonte, at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. He was a veteran of Capt. H. H. Montgomery's company of the 148th P. V. He had suffered for years with various complaints.

Funeral services were held at 1 o'clock, on Tuesday afternoon, and the remains were taken to Curtin's for burial. A squad from Co. B, 5th Reg. N. G. P. escorted the body and the Geo. L. Potter post, of Milesburg, attended had charge of the funeral.

TOO MUCH WHISKEY AND QUININE.—William H. Smith, an employee of the Central hotel in Philipsburg, was advised to knock a cold out by liberal doses of whiskey and quinine. He followed the advice of his friends and is now in his grave. Too much of both resulted in poisoning and he died last Thursday.

J. W. Newson, well known as a restaurateur in this place a number of years ago, died in Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, last Friday. He had suffered with an affection of throat for over a year and hoped to get relief through an operation, but died while undergoing it. There was a sad fatality attached to his family. On the 6th day of June, 1894, Frances, his only child, less than four years of age, met with a horrible death by falling into a tub of boiling soap. From this shock Mrs. Newson never became reconciled. On the 22nd day of January, 1896, she was found dead in her room, and this, with the loss of the child, was a very severe blow to Mr. Newson, who only survived his wife one year. He was proprietor of the Syracuse hotel, at Howard, at one time.

Mrs. Matilda S. Eddy died, at Lamar, Clinton county, on Sunday morning. She was the widow of Thomas H. Eddy and was born at Canton, Conn., Aug. 2nd, 1818. She moved to Axe Mann, near Bellefonte, in 1838, where she remained with her husband until 1845, when they moved to Lamar, Mr. Eddy becoming a partner with Reuben Loveland in the manufacture of axes. She was the mother of Mr. L. T. Eddy, of Milesburg.

Mrs. Sara Hooker, of Williamsport, was bitten by a kitten several months ago. Blood poisoning set in and she died on Monday.

Jacob Cowher, aged 76 years, died at his home near Port Matilda, recently.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—C. D. Motz, of Woodward, undertook to throw a belt on a rapidly revolving pulley, on last Friday, and narrowly escaped death. His clothing caught on a set screw and, quick as a flash, he was drawn into the shaft and hurled about it once.

Fortunately he was able to grasp a beam and hold on until the clothing was torn from his body. This was all that saved him from being pounded to death revolving with the shaft. As it happened he escaped with a few bruises.

Guy's up-to-date minstrels come to Garman's, Tuesday evening, February 16th.

Rev. W. H. Van Toor, former pastor of the Philipsburg Baptist church, is moving from that town to Philadelphia.

You are cordially invited to attend the New England supper, which is to be given, Thursday evening, the 18th, in the lecture room of the Methodist church by the members of the Epworth League. Baked beans will not be the only thing on the menu for ice cream, cake, coffee and some Pennsylvania relishes will be served for the 25cts charged for the supper.

Industrious story tellers have started the rumor John Q. Miles, candidate for council in the West ward, should not be elected because he intends moving out of the ward. Such is not the case. Mr. Miles expects to remain a resident of the West ward for some time whether he is elected to council or not. He is the right man to vote for, as is every other aspirant on the local Democratic ticket.

ANOTHER EXCURSION FROM PINE GROVE.—The December excursion over the Bellefonte Central rail-road proved so popular that the management has decided to run another from Pine Grove Mills to this place at the low fare of 25cts. for the round trip. The date has been set for Monday, February 22nd, and a large crowd is expected.

BURGLARS ROB THE CLEARFIELD POST-OFFICE.—Burglars made a big haul in the robbery of the post office, at Clearfield, early Tuesday morning. They effected an entrance by prying off a door and then blew the safe. From it they secured $250 in cash and about $1,000 in stamps, etc.

There were two of them, and were seen by some one as they made their exit from the building, and an alarm was of course given, but before the postmaster, officers or other persons were aroused they made their escape, and thus far there is no clue to who they are or what direction they took in making their escape from the town.

Miller Bloom is the postmaster at Clearfield. He is making every effort to get on the track of the thieves, and of course has notified the postoffice department of the affair, which will at once put detectives on the alert. Some think they are still in Clearfield, and others go so far as to intimate that they are residents of the community, but this idea is not entertained by many, as it is evidently the work of experts and experienced burglars.

News Purely Personal.

Hon. James Kerr, of Clearfield, was a distinguished visitor to Bellefonte on Saturday.

Harry Gerberich, of Thomas street, is visiting his sister, Mrs. C. V. Hofer, in Philipsburg.

Mrs. George L. Potter, of Linn street, and Mrs. Harry Curtin, of Curtin's Works, spent part of this week visiting Mrs. Cyrus Gordon, in Clearfield.

Robert Bradley, a son of Mr. Benjamin Bradley, of north Spring street, went to Bradford, Pa., on Tuesday morning. He has secured a nice position in a bank up there.

J. H. Miller Esq., of Rock Springs, was in town on Wednesday, shaking hands with his many friends here and making arrangements for the sale of the stock he has on a farm up in Ferguson township.

Howard Walton Mitchell, a young Pittsburg attorney, graduated from the Pennsylvania State College in 1890, spent Tuesday night with Hugh Beaver. He was here on business relative to the new Beta Theta Pi fraternity house at State College.

Gray Meek, Mrs. Meek and their daughter, Mary, left last evening for Galveston, Texas, to attend a meeting of the National Editorial Association. After the meeting they will go on to the City of Mexico to find out, if they can, the secret of that country's wonderful prosperity.

Parker White Esq., of New York, is in Bellefonte, called hither by the serious illness of one of his daughters who is in a critical condition at the home of Mrs. Keller, on east Linn street. The Misses White and their aunt, Miss Powell, have been spending the winter in this place.

P. McCaffrey Esq., of Lock Haven, stopped off in Bellefonte between trains, on Wednesday, to see his sister, Miss Anna. Of course he found time to visit some of his friends here, but not all for they are legion. Born and raised in Bellefonte he knows about as much about the town and its old people as if he were a history.

D. C. Hall, of Unionville, was in town again, on Wednesday. This time to take out letters of administration on the estate of the late John G. Hall, of Union township, his half brother. Mr. Hall has his lands full now with two estates to settle up, but he will do it conscientiously and quickly there can be no doubt about that.

Hon. J. W. Smith, ex-associate judge of Clinton county, was in town, on Monday, keeping in touch with prospective buyers of the Mill Hall brick in the manufacture of which he is interested. Judge Smith has a stately manner that impresses all with whom he comes in contact of the gentlemanliness of his character. He makes a successful representative for the Mill Hall brick and has filled a number of contracts about this place that are giving the greatest of satisfaction.

Harry B. Rote, eldest son of Mr. John Rote, of Axe Mann, came home, on Saturday night, after a nineteen months absence. He has been in Darlington, S. C., managing a jewelry store and seems to like the South very much. Harry was employed in this office before entering the Lancaster horological college and his pleasant, cheerful manner made many friends for him. His success as a jeweler is no doubt largely due to the genial nature that makes him so much of a gentleman at all times. He expects to remain at home until the first of March and will see McKinley inaugurated on his way back.

Ernest Kitson, well known as a past superintendent of the Edison electric company of this place and also of the Bellefonte steam works, is spending a few days among his many friends here. He landed from England about six weeks ago and will remain several weeks longer before returning to his family now comfortably located at Rhyll, Wales. Mr. Kitson has been gone a year and we regret to learn that he will probably remain abroad permanently. He expects soon to install several of his brother Arthur's gas producers on the other side. The machine has lately been perfected and is now a thorough success. Both of the Kitson men are radical bimetalists, or anything but a single gold standard, and are men who back up their ideas with such hard pan argument that they prove posers for the best of the yellow metal dealers.

THE CONCERT AT MILESBURG.—Every one who attended the concert given for the Milesburg Presbyterian church organ fund, last Tuesday evening, was delighted with the performance of those who contributed to its success. Every number was roundly applauded and every performer appreciated so thoroughly that there were no favorites. The net receipts of the concert amounted to $25.74.

It was a disappointment to some that the Bellefonte quartet failed to appear, but it was through no fault of the management. The quartet had promised to sing, whenever called upon, but one of the members was unable to get away from his work, on Tuesday night, so that it was impossible to be there. The posters having been printed before this was known it was too late to change them.

YERGER—RAPP—H. Elmer Yerger, youngest son of Harry C. Yerger, of north Spring street, and Miss Mary Rapp, a daughter of Jacob Rapp, who lives in this place, were married at the home of Rev. Father McArdle, on Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

Oscar Yerger, the groom's brother, acted as best man and Miss Regina Rapp, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Only the immediate relatives of the two young people were present to witness the ceremony. After its consummation a reception was held at the bride's home until the couple departed on an afternoon train for Altoona, their future home.

Both young people are well known here and have the best wishes of a host of friends.

WORKING THE CHANGE RACKET ON STORE KEEPERS.—A slick swindling scheme is the one that is now being worked, with success, on merchants of all classes. It takes two men to do the work and they carry it out as follows:

One of them goes into a store and makes some trifling purchase, paying for the same with a bill which has previously been marked. Picking up his change, he departs. In a few minutes the other fellow enters and buys a cigar. After standing around a few minutes he asks the clerk for his change. The swindler insists that he has paid, and remembers it very distinctly, as the bill he gave the clerk had a very peculiar mark on it, which he describes. The clerk looks in the till, finds the bill as described, gives him the change and apologizes for detaining him.

MUSICAL CONVENTION AT PLEASANT GAP.—Beginning Monday evening, February 15th, Philip Meyer will conduct a musical convention in the Lutheran church, at Pleasant Gap, for one week. A number of singers have already signified their intention of participating and Miss May Myton, of Huntingdon, will be there to entertain with her sweet voice.

Two grand concerts will be given. One on Friday night and the other on Saturday night. The proceeds of the convention are to be used in repairing the church building.

GRAY—HASTINGS.—Edward P. Gray, of Half Moon, and Miss Mary A. Hastings, a daughter of Mr. Geo. Hastings, of Benner township, were married at Montgomery, on Tuesday, by Rev. A. P. Wharton.
