Tailor Jacob Gross has moved into his new room, next door to Wilkinson's china hall, and is fixed up very nicely.

Country papers are full of directions as to how to kill Canadian thistles. Buy White's exterminator and make a sure job of it.

The Methodists are reported to be having a wonderful revival at Fillmore. There were eight conversions on Monday night.

Sixty-five of her friends gave Mrs. W. H. Irvin, of Pennsylvania Furnace, a delightful birthday surprise party on last Saturday.

A social for the members of St. John's Catholic church, of this place, was held at the home of Harry Rine, on Bishop street, last evening.

Hon. J. H. Holt, of Moshannon, is contemplating a trip to England this summer. He will go to look after his interest in an estate over there.

Miss Anna Waite, of Aaronsburg, and Mr. Henry Moyer, of near Penn Hall, were married in the Lutheran parsonage, at the former place, last Thursday evening.

Miss Mary Harris is the name of the little daughter who arrived, last Thursday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warfield, of west Linn street, for a life long stay.

A few days' illness terminated in the death of Mrs. William Homan, at her home near Penns Cave, last Saturday. Interment was made in the Union cemetery, on Tuesday afternoon.

While Joseph Holter, hostler for the Bellefonte Central railroad company, was raking down a large stove in the company's round house, on Sunday afternoon, there was a gas explosion that burned his right eye and the side of his face in a painful manner.

Last Friday afternoon James Cornely was trying to thaw out a gas pipe in the cellar under the post office, when a terrific explosion occurred. He narrowly escaped being burned and it was some time before the post office was clean of the dust and smoke that was raised.

It is not very complimentary to Mr. F. E. Nagney and E. R. Chambers Esq., when the Magnet states that "many of the citizens of the town believe that neither of the candidates for burgess is the proper person to fill the office." Now we think Mr. Nagney would be just the proper fellow.

The Undine firemen have announced that in case of fire it would be impossible to take their engine out of the engine house, owing the icy condition of Logan street. The last time they attempted to leave the house the horses could not control it and several men narrowly escaped being crushed when it slid into the gutter.

W. T. Achenbach, the jeweler, expects to leave Bellefonte about March 1st and will locate at Glenn Falls, N. Y., one of the most promising business cities in the Empire State. He has secured a magnificent room, once used as a bank, located in the central portion of the city and will embark in the jewelry and fine china business.

According to ground hog logic winter must be pretty near at an end. Tuesday was the day that fables tell us comes out of his hole and, if seeing his shadow, is frightened back to hibernate six weeks longer while winter envelopes the earth. There was no sun, on Tuesday, consequently he could not have seen his shadow.

Bill Neidigh, who had farmed the W. S. Gray farm, in Halfmoon township, has moved down to the John Patton farm, near Warriorsmark. On the evening of the day he arrived at his new home a large party assembled at his house and they had a glorious house warming. Billy will be remembered as the big bass blower in the State College band several years ago.

Mr. D. M. Butts, of Linn street, who had been so seriously ill for some time is so far recovered as to be out of danger. As soon as he is able to be about again he intends giving up house-keeping here and going to Holyoke, Mass., to make his home with his son, Edward, who is a civil engineer in that city. Fred Butts, the youngest son and only one at home, expects to locate in Philadelphia.

A SERIOUS NIGHT FOR COASTERS.—Saturday night was an eventful one in the history of Bellefonte's most popular winter sport. The coasting was fine and the many streets used by the coasters were thronged with young and old, all in high spirits over the exhilarating enjoyment they were having. It has been a long time since the streets were in as fine condition and the cutters ran with a rapidity that would put to shame the speed of the most cunningly devised toboggan chute. The long run on Allegheny street had the preference and the other hills soon gave up their little parties to that quarter so that by nine o'clock there were fully five hundred girls, boys and men either dragging their sleds up or coasting rapidly down the hill from Curtin street. The momentum was so great that a number of the large cutters ran almost to the Eagle building, a full third of a mile from the starting point. All went well until shortly after 10 o'clock, by which time that portion of the hill extending from Curtin to Linn streets had been worn as smooth as a sheet of glass. The sleds skimmed over it as if on wings. Their speed was so great that even with the aid of the big arc light at the Linn street crossing it was impossible to recognize the coasters as they flew by. The course is a dangerous one, not only because of the number of much used cross streets but also owing to several large "bumps" on that portion of the hill where the sleds run fastest. It was one of these that caused a most serious accident.

Fred Thompson, a colored lad, was steering one of the largest and fastest cutters on the hill. There were eighteen boys and girls on when the start was made for the disastrous ride. The sled was so much crowded that Thompson scarcely had room to brace himself against the cross stick on the front of the top board. By placing his feet against it he was enabled to put more force into his arms and could more easily steer with the guiding ropes. The sled had run all right, gaining speed the while, until the last "bump" was reached. In going over it Thompson's feet bounced off the guiding stick and the crowd slid forward making it impossible for him to regain his position and, also, to control the sled. It veered off to the right and struck, with terrific force, the second tree in front of the North ward public school grounds. The impact must have been tremendous for the coasters were tumbled about in every direction, some of them being thrown twenty-five feet from the sled. A great cry went up as the tree was struck as it looked as though every one would be killed. But after most of the party had scrambled to their feet two young ladies and two boys were found to be unconscious on the ground. Fred Thompson, the steersman, was apparently dead. An eight inch gash in his forehead gaped wide open and the blood spurted out, staining the snow and those who were about him. He was carried to Dr. Seibert's office where it was found that a number of his teeth had been knocked out, and that he had been cut and bruised about the body, as well as the head. It was several hours before he regained consciousness and even now he remains in a precarious condition. Besides his great loss of blood the physicians fear that some internal injury has kept him in the low condition he is in. Yesterday Thompson was reported a little better.

Bruce Barnhart, a son of Thomas Barnhart of east Howard street, sat next to Thompson. Though he has only a few scratches he is feared to have suffered internal injury, as he was delirious until Wednesday and seems to be in danger of mental trouble. Blanche Jacobs, of Lamb street, was unconscious when picked up. She received a painful contusion of the eye and mouth. She is much improved now and her injury is not considered serious. Miss Gertrude Irvin, a daughter of Washington Irvin, of Reynolds avenue, was also unconscious because of the pain she suffered from a wrenched knee. She was taken home in a buggy, but was able to be about the next day.

A FIRE AT STATE COLLEGE.—The cozy ladies' cottage at the Pennsylvania State College was threatened with destruction early Saturday morning. The fire occurred in the room of Miss Bradley, the college librarian. She had been ill during the night and was heating some water over an alcohol lamp, when the table cover seemed suddenly to become enveloped in flames that spread about her room with lightning rapidity. How the cover became ignited is a mystery as the lamp was not overturned nor was there an explosion. The young lady gave an alarm that brought prompt response, but the fire was not put out until the room had been badly damaged. It was the only portion of the building that suffered. The loss is placed at $100, insured in the Geo. L. Potter agency in this place.

SHIPPING ICE BY THE CAR LOAD.—For the past week the Central R. R. of Pa. company's two dams at Hecla park have been the scene of unusual activity. They have been filling orders for ice down there with a dispatch that seems almost impossible. By Wednesday one hundred cars had been loaded and shipped to various points. The cutting is done with an ice plow, drawn by a horse. This scores the ice to a depth of five inches after which it is easily broken with the tongs. It is then pulled to the chutes and does not stop moving until it is packed away in a car.

The Cambria county railroad, the Beech creek extension from Patton to Spangler, is nearing completion. It will be ready for traffic by March 1st.

Preparation is being made to double track the P. and E. from Jersey Shore to Lock Haven.

Evangelists Weaver and Weeden hope to re-open their tabernacle meetings, in Lock Haven, on Sunday, May 2nd.

Willis Rishel, at one time proprietor of the hotel at Coburn, is going to locate at Tamaqua, Pa., where he has taken the National hotel.

Ex-county commissioner T. Frank Adams has returned from his visit to New York city and is now contemplating selling bridges. He ought to make a good bridge salesman as he was commissioner long enough to find out something about it.

We have just received a letter from our old friend Abel Campbell who has been living up at Austin, Potter county, for some years. He was formerly a resident of Snow Shoe. Abel is of the opinion that the McKinley good times are all "in your eye" and thinks he'd be able to use a little silver, these times, the freer the better.

Mrs. Peck, of Williamsport, lectured before the Bellefonte reading club, in the W. C. T. U. rooms in the Exchange, last evening. Her subject was "European Cities." This evening she will give an illustrated lecture on Venice and Rome, in the same place. An admission of 25 cts will be charged. The proceeds to be for the benefit of the W. C. T. U.

The Lutheran church of Philipsburg wiped out the last vestige of its debt, on Sunday night, by having a public mortgage burning. The church was crowded when the lights were put out and the deacons held a large tray in which were laid the canceled obligations. Then the pastor applied the torch, the choir sang an anthem and in a minute or two nothing was left but the ashes.

Mr. J. L. Keating is stopping at the Bush house for a few days and his many friends here are glad to have him with them again, after an absence of four years. He is selling the works of the late Robert Louis Stevenson and they are beautiful. Bound in half Russia, with excellent paper and large, clear type his edition is extremely cheap and is a work that should be in every library.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT AT MILESBURG.—The Presbyterians at Milesburg are getting ready to have what will undoubtedly prove a very delightful musical entertainment, on Tuesday evening, February 9th. It will be for the benefit of their organ fund.

Besides the local talent that will be drawn upon several singers from this place will assist and a fine program of vocal and instrumental music will be rendered.

MARRIED IN WEST VIRGINIA.—Miss Catharine Clarke, eldest daughter of Mr. James Clarke, of near Bellefonte, was married to Mr. J. C. Lampore, a wealthy merchant of Shepherdstown, W. Va., on the 20th ult.

The ceremony was performed in St. Joseph's Catholic church, at Harper's Ferry, after which a breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother, T. J. Clarke, in that place. The bride and groom were in this place for a few days during an extended tour and will return to Shepherdstown, where their home is all ready furnished for them.

QUIETLY MARRIED.—If getting up in the morning is going to bring health, wealth and wisdom then Miss Theresa Lyon and Clair B. Williams will have no use for the good wishes we would gladly extend. Wednesday morning, before the town was astir or even awake, they were married and started on their bridal trip. At 6 o'clock Rev. R. E. Wright performed the ceremony at the residence of the bride's parents, on Allegheny street. It was a quiet, home affair with no one but the two families present. The bride wore her traveling dress and after the wedding breakfast the young couple left, on the 7-20 train, for New York. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in rooms in the Exchange.

Miss Tessie is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Lyon. She is not only attractive but is well versed in house-keeping, so that there is not happiness alone, but comfort ahead for Clair, who was popular in Beech Creek, his native place, and who stands well here, both with the people and the Central railroad of Pennsylvania, with which he is employed.

JOHNNY HASEL NEARLY ASPHYXIATED BY GAS.—Johnny Hasel, the well known cornerer and a resident of Snow Shoe a few years ago, was nearly asphyxiated by illuminating gas, while asleep in his apartments, in New York city, on Monday. The particulars of the accident that so nearly culminated in the death of the virtuous one are about as follows:

Mrs. Hasel was absent at the time, being on an errand to make purchases for the morning meal. Prior to leaving she lighted the gas under the heater, hoping by the time of her return to have the apartments comfortably warm.

Meanwhile something had gone wrong with the gas pipes in the basement and a plumber was called in. To make the repairs he turned off the gas. When he had completed the job he turned on the fluid again. Of course the volume escaping from the heater soon filled the Hasel apartments, and would undoubtedly have caused the death of the celebrated cornerer had not his wife returned when she did.

Mr. Hasel was aroused with difficulty, and removed to an adjoining room, where two physicians worked with him for several hours before the crisis was past. He will recover, although it is said he is not able yet to be out of bed.

DEATH OF A GOOD CITIZEN OF UNION TOWNSHIP.—After an illness of only ten days John G. Hall died at his home, a short distance west of Unionville, in Union township, on Sunday morning. He had had a cold several weeks ago, but thought himself recovered from it until a relapse set in and pneumonia developed. The struggle was a short one then and death did not delay long in claiming him.

Mr. Hall was of that sturdy, noble type of manhood, generally admired and universally respected, that makes for good in the citizenship of any locality. He was a Democrat of the old school, had been a member of the Methodist church for twenty years and died on the spot on which he was born and had spent all of his long and honorable life. He was a man whom that community cannot lose without missing.

Deceased was 67 years old and was survived by his widow with two sons, Robert and Joseph, aged 14 and 9 years. Funeral services were held, on Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and interment was made at Unionville.

RICHARD MORGAN IS DEAD.—On the 21st ultimo Richard Morgan, a Bellefonte property owner and at one time a policeman in this place, died, in Ireland, after a long illness with inflammation of the liver. Five children survive him. They are Maggie, Mary, Sallie, Charley and John, all residents of Bellefonte, and two brothers, Frank, of Lock Haven, and William, of Drum, county Monaghan, Ireland.

He died in the very house in which he was born and was laid to rest beside his father and mother and sister. Deceased was 65 years old. He left Bellefonte several years ago for a trip to his old home, but never got back.

A YOUNG WOMAN'S DEATH.—Miss Minnie K. Tanyer, daughter of Jesse and Susan Tanyer, died at the family home, at Julian, on Thursday, Jan. 28th, 1897, at 6 p. m. of consumption. She was born at Pine Grove Mills, Oct. 24, 1874, and was 22 years old. Deceased was for several years a consistent member of the M. E. church, a dutiful daughter and affectionate sister. She is survived by two brothers and five sisters. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. N. Minnich, at 10 o'clock, on Sunday morning. Interment at Julian.

HON. S. T. BROWN'S DEATH.—Hon. S. T. Brown, one of the oldest attorneys at the Huntingdon bar, died at his home, in that place, last Thursday evening. He was 69 years old and during life had been a man of much usefulness to that community. He was the father of L. L. Brown, formerly in the coal and grain business in Bellefonte. Funeral services were held, on Saturday, judge Love and Hon. A. O. Furst, of this place, having been in attendance.

CHRISTIAN HOUSER DIED IN ALTOONA.—Christian Houser, born at Houserville, this county, in 1827, died at his home, in Altoona, on Sunday, January 31st. He had many relatives residing in this county and his only brother, Abram, is a resident of Bellefonte.

Deceased had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company for over thirty years, having been a checkman at the time of his death. He is survived by two sons and two daughters. Funeral services were held on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Sarah T. Brady, of Mackeyville, died at the home of her son, Rev. L. M. Brady, in West Clearfield, on Saturday night. She had gone out there to visit several weeks ago and contracted a cold from which pneumonia developed. Deceased was 74 years old. Her remains were interred, at Mackeyville, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Harvey Hagen, of Penns Cave, died, after a prolonged illness, last Friday night. She was 33 years old and her remains were buried in the Union cemetery, on Monday.

Mrs. Christina Mann, wife of Robert Mann, of Mill Hall, died at the family home, in that place, on Friday night, with the grip.

Chloe Helen, infant daughter of Harvey and Jennie Meyers, died at Big Run, Jefferson county, the 26th ult., aged 9 months and 20 days.

Franklin Lamey, of Green Burr, died with consumption last Friday evening. He was 34 years old.

ATTEMPT TO BLACKMAIL AN OLD CENTRE COUNTY BOY.—There are doubtless some residents in Brush valley, this county, who will remember J. D. Johnson, a native of that rich farming region, who, August 2nd, 1862, enlisted in Maj. R. H. Foster's Co. A., 148th Reg., P. V. Those who do will be interested in a story we will publish next week concerning him, which will explain a clever scheme by which some New York sharps tried to black-mail him.

Mr. Johnson has been a conductor on the Lehigh valley railroad for over a quarter of a century and he is well known to travelers along that line as "Uncle Dan." We are glad that his excellent standing and reputation for integrity are such that no breath of crookedness dare be directed at him without arousing the resentment of a host of friends.

The scheme was such an unique one that we will publish it just to show what cunning plans are made to draw money from unsuspecting persons.

Williamsport merchants are moving to close their stores at 6 o'clock every evening except Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wetzel are receiving the congratulations of their friends just now, because a big baby boy came to their house last Friday night.

The Millheim Journal is getting anxious to know when a change in his state will terminate Temp Cruse's visits to that place.

It is rumored that John H. Kenstetter is going to move his planing mill plant from Millheim to Reedsville. If he does it will be about April 1st.

Clymer Stover, of Aaronsburg, recently purchased the merchandise stock of the late Thomas Yearick, of that place. He will add it to his own store.

The Magnet says "a good time is anticipated" at the quarterly meeting which the Friends will hold at Unionville, on February 14th and 15th. Of course it means a spiritually good time.

The Milesburg band has ordered a new outfit of uniforms that is to cost $240. They will be made of dark blue cloth, daintily trimmed with black braid. The suits will be very genteel in appearance.

A reception was given in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Tuesday evening, for Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cota. Nearly three hundred people shook hands with the popular secretary and his wife and the affair was really very enjoyable.

Rev. C. C. Miller, pastor of the U. B. church in this place, is trying to secure the Baptist church in Milesburg, in which to hold a series of meetings. He hopes to build up a congregation in Milesburg, one sufficiently large to support a church and has been meeting with some success.

E. S. Adleman, of Warriorsmark, was out sleighing one night last week in the Bald Eagle ridges when he was fired on by an unknown assailant. Three shots were fired at him, one of them piercing the back of his sleigh, only an inch or so from where he was sitting.

East and West Keating townships, Clinton county, having failed to nominate candidates for the February election, the county commissioners will send the election boards in those districts blank ballots, on which the voters can write the names of the persons for whom they desire to vote.

News Purely Personal.

Abel Markle, of State College, was a familiar figure on our streets on Wednesday.

Miss Bettie R. Stitzer, of Howard, has returned home after a visit of several months with friends in Easton.

Mrs. Herkimer, of Williamsport, looking well and happy is visiting friends here after an absence of several years.

Capt. J. A. Hunter, of Stormtown, was in town during the fore-part of the week. He returned home on a Wednesday evening train.

C. S. McCormick, of Ferguson township, brought his wife down to Bellefonte in the sleigh, on Wednesday, to do some shopping. They came by way of Buffalo Run and found the sleighing very good.

Miss Mary Struble, of Philadelphia, who was here the fore part of the week, left Thursday night for Raymore, Mo., to see her father and mother. If possible she will persuade them to come back to Centre county.

John H. Yeaman, second son of the late Hon. S. H. Yeoman, who represented this district in Congress during his residence here, was in town, on Saturday. He is now head chemist for the United States leather company, with headquarters in New York.

Auditor Frank Hess left for his home, in Philipsburg, yesterday afternoon, after having spent most of the month of January attending to the duties of his office here. The present board had their work through with unusual dispatch. While here Frank added many to his circle of friends in Bellefonte.

Edmund Wine, of Buxton, and John F. Eisenhower, of Philadelphia, two very pleasant young men, spent yesterday at the home of Col. J. L. Spangler, in this place. They came all the way up here to see their young friend, Master Alfred Brislin, star in "the Drummer Boy of Shiloh" and were not one whit disappointed at his work.

H. M. Krebs and W. J. Meyers, two gentlemen who have given Pine Grove Mills an enterprise that most any larger town would be proud to claim, were in town, on Monday, exhibiting a noble Portland double sleigh. It caught the eye of a prominent Bellefonter and a sale was the result. Both Mr. Krebs and Mr. Meyers are pushers and their business ability is best evidenced in the fact that their carriage building establishment seldom knows a slack period.

William Strunk, of Centre Hill, was in Bellefonte, on Saturday, having come over in his sled. He reported the roads to be in excellent condition until he reached Pleasant Gap, where the Bellefonte kind of sleighing began. Those of you who don't know what that is ought to drive in here and drag around over the bare streets for an hour or so then you will be able to appreciate it. Mr. Strunk is a very entertaining gentleman and is a great stickler for keeping ahead of his hills, that is to say that we are in his debt.

Mr. H. A. Brumgard, one of the very nicest and most agreeable gentlemen in Nittany valley, seemed not afraid that the ground hog's sway, on Tuesday, would take all the sleighing away before he could get home, for he drove up from his home, at Zion, and said the roads were good. He has been a resident of Centre county since 1844 and though he was hardly old enough to know much about it when his parents moved from Clinton county he is satisfied that he can claim old Centre as his home now. The county has reason to be proud of such residents too.

J. P. Sebring Esq., of Loveville, was seen on our streets on Monday. This recalls a little item that will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. Sebring's elderly son, John, who was connected with Green's pharmacy, in this place, for a long time. He was graduated from the Jefferson college of medicine, in Philadelphia, last spring and shortly after leaving that institution was offered a position as a ship surgeon during a cruise to South Africa. It took him just about five minutes to receive the proposition, accept it and get ready to ship. The trip was a most delightful one for him and he returned to Philadelphia in January. As yet he has not decided on a location for the regular practice of his profession.

LOCAL TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT MACKEYVILLE.—The public school teachers of Potter and Lamar townships, Clinton county, will hold a local institute, at Mackeyville, on Friday evening and Saturday, February 13th and 14th. A program consisting of recitations and music will be given on Friday evening. The following program has been prepared for Saturday morning: Music by institute; prayer; address of welcome, T. J. Smull Sr.; response, county superintendent W. A. Snyder; neatness, Miss Mahelle Sweely; language, Miss Lottie McCloskey; grammar, A. A. Pletcher; physiology, T. J. Smull, Jr.; spelling, T. C. Kessinger; penmanship, Miss Nina Walker.

During the afternoon the following will be the program: Number work, Miss Cora Snyder; arithmetic, C. E. Walker; discipline, Miss Williams; geography, W. A. Ferree; reading, Miss Lillian Reed; history, Miss Josephine Wilson. All are invited to attend.

THE DISTRICT TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT HOWARD.—The institute sessions for the public school teachers of the 4th Centre county district held at Howard, last Friday and Saturday, were interesting to those who attended.

Quite a number of teachers and friends of the school were present. Supt. Gramley was there and addressed the body. Devotional services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Manley and the addresses of welcome were made by Rev. J. W. Forrest and J. Frank Holter to which the six local chairmen responded.

SCHOOL AVERAGES IN CLINTON COUNTY.—During 1896 Clinton county public schools averaged 71-11 months in session. The male teachers received an average salary of $37.16 per month and the average pay of lady teachers was $32.18 per month.

In our next issue we will publish a full program of the teacher's local institute to be held, at Unionville, on Friday evening and Saturday, February 19th and 20th.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by orphans' court clerk, G. W. Runberger, during the past week.

Wm. Moyer, of Marion twp., and Cora B. Barrett, of Boggs township.

Roy Morrison and Olive M. Steele, both of Martha Furnace.

Chas. A. Smith and Sadie A. Johnson, both of Ferguson twp.

Oscar W. Stover and Florence Riley, both of Boalsburg.

Andrew Guiser, of Madisonburg, and Julia A. Dorman, of Bellefonte.

C. B. Williams and Teressa M. Lyon, both of Bellefonte.

STRUCK GAS IN CLINTON COUNTY.—The oil and gas test well that is being sunk in in Gallagher township, Clinton county, reached a depth of 1000 feet last Thursday. At that time the drillers started cleaning out the hole to examine the material for indications and were greatly surprised when a strong flow of gas began. It was lighted and burned for several hours; the flames shooting up to quite a height until shut off by the boss driller. It is a certainty that there is gas there, but as to whether it is present in paying quantities is another question.

NO MORE SCALP BOUNTIES IN HUNTINGDON COUNTY.—The commissioners of Huntingdon county have made up their minds that under the act of April, 1889, they are not warranted in paying scalp bounties for any other animals than wolves and wild cats. They claim that the law is unconstitutional because of certain defects in it.

This ruling will put old John Swoope, of Alexandria, out of business. He is a noted trapper of that region and received over $1200 in bounties last year.

A sled load of young folks from Milesburg went up to Mr. John Seibert's country home, in Buffalo Run, on Friday evening, and had a very delightful time.

A. V. Hoyt, of Philipsburg, has been appointed a member of the board of examiners for mine inspectors in this State. The Governor announced his selection last week.

Chas. Spigelmyer, of Williamsport, a brother of the Lockett store men in this place, expects to locate here soon. He will carry on the insurance business.

Salvage Register.

MARCH 24th.—At the residence of D. L. Dennis, 2 miles north of Pine Grove Mills, horses, cattle, implements etc. Sale at 1 o'clock p. m. Wm. Gohsen, auctioneer.

MARCH 25th.—On the J. I. Ross farm, 1 1/2 miles west of Pine Grove Mills, Chas. Wright will sell horses, cattle, implements and household goods. Sale at 1 o'clock p. m. William Gohsen, auctioneer.

FEBRUARY 26th.—On the late H. M. Meek farm, 2 miles west of Pine Grove Mills, S. C. Kelley will sell horses, cattle, implements and household goods. Sale at 1 o'clock p. m. William Gohsen, auctioneer.

MARCH 18th.—At George Nell's, one mile northeast of Milesburg, horses, cattle, farm implements and household goods. Sale at 10 a. m. Jos. L. Neff, auctioneer.
