

DICKINSON VERSUS STATE.—The Dickinson college base ball team will play at State College to-morrow afternoon, Saturday, May 1st. The game will be called at 2 p. m. and State will try to retrieve the defeats she has suffered on the diamond already this season.

Immediately after the ball game the first out-door athletic handicap meet will be held, on Beaver field, for this season. Quite a number of entries have been made and good contests are anticipated. The admission to both events will be 50 cts.

At Princeton, last Saturday, she was defeated by the score of 11 to 1. Not so bad, however, when the acknowledged weakness of the team is taken into consideration. Just when the admirers of the blue and white were feeling worst over her shortcomings news came of the success of her relay team at the great inter-collegiate races in Philadelphia, on that day. This is the second time that State's runners have won out in the mile race with representatives of other schools of her class in athletics.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECAST.—"My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 28th to May 2nd, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about May 2nd, cross the west of Rockies country by the close of the 4th, great central valleys 5th to 7th and eastern States 8th. Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country May 3rd, great central valleys 5th, eastern States 7th. Cool waves will cross the west of Rockies country about May 6th, great central valleys 8th, eastern States 10th. Temperature of the week ending May 1st will average about normal in the northern and below normal in the southern States. For the same period rainfall will be above normal in the southern and below in the northern States. My next bulletin will contain a general forecast of May weather, very important in relation to the crops. In my general forecast of April weather the southern States were to receive more rainfall than the northern. How wonderfully well this forecast has been fulfilled and how important to the crops this distribution of rain has been.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.—The United States civil service commission has ordered that an examination be held by its local board, in Bellefonte, on Saturday, June 5th, 1897, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m., for the grade of clerks and carriers in the postal service. Only citizens of the United States can be examined. The age limitations for this examination are as follows: Clerks, 18 years or over; carriers, over 21 and under 40 years. No application will be accepted for this examination unless filed with the undersigned, on the proper blank, before the hour of closing business on Monday, May 22nd, 1897. Applications should be filed promptly in order that time may remain for correction if necessary.

The commission takes this opportunity of stating that the examinations are open to all reputable citizens of the United States who may desire to enter the service, without regard to race or to their political or religious affiliations. All such citizens are invited to apply. They shall be examined, graded, and certified with entire impartiality, and wholly without regard to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination.

For application blanks, full instructions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply to THOMAS HOWLEY, Secretary board of examiners, postal service, Bellefonte.

Pine Grove Mention.

Mrs. Olie Bowersox, of Altoona, with her first born is visiting relatives here, with headquarters at Mr. McWilliam's at Fairbrook.

S. A. Dunlap is rejoicing over number 7, who has already been named Wm. Jennings Bryan for our next president.

That prince of good fellows J. T. Aikens is this week looking up trade taking orders for suits and taking time to see after other attractions on Main street.

Carriage maker W. J. Meyers and family moved back to Alexandria last Tuesday after an absence of thirteen years. It is with regret that we see them go but our loss will be Alexandria's gain.

Miss Anna Musser has returned from New York with a full line of millinery goods and is ready to supply you with the very latest fashions in head wear. Why go elsewhere when you can purchase just as good at home.

Charley Mensch vacated the print shop in Bellefonte this week and was seen westward bound in search of boodle for the Gazette. He reports cash coming in but slowly and requires more whining than he relishes.

J. B. Ard is in possession of a high stepper over which he handles the lines. It is a sorrel with white feet and stripe on the face. Although it is not generally known that Joe is a lover of horse flesh but he is preparing for the races and fair.

QUETLY MARRIED.—Last Monday afternoon Calvin Barts, of Marengo, and Miss Barbara Ellen Strayer, of Gatesburg, presented themselves at the Lutheran parsonage where Rev. Aikens made them man and wife. The groom is a son of Henry Barts of Marengo and is an industrious young man. Miss Strayer is the second daughter of J. G. Strayer, of Gatesburg, and is an excellent young lady, which augurs well for their future happiness.

Frank Smith says vom mer argates hea ga vil un don gaford mer besser uf der dradin. While his horse was tied to a post at State College, last Monday afternoon, it broke loose and ran away almost causing a panic in Mrs. Foster's funeral cortege which the animal passed at a break neck speed. Efforts were made to check it but it, kept the right of way for twelve miles when farmer Irvin at Penna

Furnace caught it and stabled it for the night. Mr. Smith returned home by rail surprised to find the horse was not there.

DEATH OF GEORGE BOTTORF.—Another old soldier has answered his last roll call and crossed the bourne from whence no traveler ever returns. On Saturday the message came that George Bottorf, after a long and lingering illness of asthmatic and heart trouble, had died at his home in Julian. Mr. Bottorf was a son of Jacob and Catharine Bottorf, who at the time of his birth, 22nd of Feb. 1829, lived near Tusseyville, in Potter township later in the old house where the Presbyterian parsonage now stands. After the war he entered the service of the railroad and soon became an efficient engineer. For years he ran from Altoona to Pittsburg until failing health compelled him to resign his position.

His first wife, who has been dead for many years, was Emily Blake to whom he had three daughters, and two sons who with his second wife, Lydia Neidigh, mourn his death. He was a brother of Mrs. Emanuel Musser, of State College, Mrs. Harriet Ripley and Mrs. Ann Lingelfelt, of Altoona, Jacob Bottorf, of Lemont, and our townsman P. F. Bottorf. His remains were brought by rail to Struble's on the 26th. Rev. A. H. Black conducted the services in the Reformed church after which he was buried in the Pine Hall cemetery.

Centre Hall.

The grammar school of this place will close on May 10th.

Everybody favors Bible water except Captain Jinks and the Fridays.

J. O. Deininger has graded the front of his lots and will rebuild good, substantial walks.

Miss Grace Smith, of this place, has been visiting friends in Williamsport since Friday last.

Bible water is not holy water, but it will lessen profanity on hot summer days after it reaches town.

James Smith, who is engaged in the music business in Williamsport, spent Sunday with his parents in this place.

Temp Cruse, of Bellefonte, was seen on our streets Sunday last. Strange how the boys flock into this place of late.

Another name has been added to the great army of bicycle riders in the person of Miss Lodie Musser.

Wm. Wolf, Esq., goes to Pittsburg Monday to attend the United States District court of Western Pennsylvania as a juror.

The wheat fields through Penna valley are very promising. The prospects are also excellent for grass owing to the good stand of clover.

Rev. Leisher, of Boalsburg, filled Rev. Rearick's pulpit in the Lutheran church Sunday evening. He baptized an infant son of pastor Rearick.

House cleaning is in progress throughout the town. This is the season when the man of the house, generally, has important business in the office.

W. D. Shoop, who has been clerking in Shoop's cigar store, Scranton, Pa., since November, returned to this place on Saturday. Will has many friends in this community who are pleased to see him.

At last week's meeting of the town council a resolution was adopted authorizing the proper authorities to sell at once ten five hundred dollar bonds, bearing interest at five per cent. from May 1st. The proceeds will be used to pipe the Bible water to the borough, which will give the town an abundant supply of the purest, freshest water to be had anywhere in the State.

The town orchestra held its first practice meeting Monday night at the Kreamer residence on Church street. Centre Hall has some excellent musicians and by combining will form a musical body par excellent. Those interested are Mrs. Sam'l Kreamer, pianist, W. D. Boozer, banjo, Henry and Jared Kreamer, bass violins, Mame Kreamer, B. Poulson, Dr. Jacobs, Rev. Rhodes and daughter violins, H. G. Strohmeyer, W. H. Fletcher, Sam'l Rowe, and Wes. Henney, cornetists.

A pretty little wedding took place at the residence of J. O. Deininger Tuesday at noon. The contracting parties were Miss Sarah C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Deininger, and James E. Stewart, of New Bloomfield. After the ceremony by Rev. C. H. Goodling of the United Evangelical church a feast followed, which was participated in by relatives of the bride and Miss Emma Stewart, of Millville, sister of the groom, and W. B. Sheibley, of New Bloomfield. The bridal party took the 3 p. m. train for their future home. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of India linen and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. The happy couple have the best wishes of the entire community. They are excellent young people and are held in the highest esteem by all who know them.

The mountain's on fire! was the cry on Sunday. Some ill disposed person fired the mountain Sunday morning about three miles west of town. The wind blew a perfect gale and fanned the flames into madness and by noon the fire had reached the top and came down its sides at a galloping speed. From four o'clock until night the entire side of the mountain facing Centre Hall was ablaze, the smoke curled heavenward, while the wind tossed the destructive flames in a thousand directions and laughingly threatened to hurl the burning embers into the very heart of the town. Toward evening things looked rather serious, when to the great pleasure of all a brisk shower came in the nick of time and the flames were subdued. By night the sight was one of magnificent grandeur. For miles the mountain took on the appearance of a great city on a hill with its thousands of electric lights. Morning turned the scene again, when the whole mountain resembled smoke stacks, furnaces, and chimneys sending up a steady stream of smoke, others a puff now and then and still others a tiny little curl reminding one of the great ado and little accomplishment of the advance agent of prosperity. There is also a serious side to this. Some one has committed a deed that should not escape punishment by which many dollars worth of young timber, has been destroyed the mountain side devastating. The fire was of short duration, but carried an immense territory. The high winds made human efforts useless to baffle the raging flames and only by Providence sending a shower of rain were the destructive elements stayed. But for this interference, the loss would have been excessive as farm buildings, fences and the town itself were in great danger.

All Through Brush Valley.

Supt. Gramley is in Bellefonte this week.

Hon. Henry Meyer is in Bellefonte this week.

Henry A. Detwiler is a juror this week.

Claire Gephart, of Millheim, was through our valley last week.

There is now a demand for apples and many are selling them.

Harter, Morris & Co., our new merchants, are doing a flourishing business.

Mr. Shade's house, on the Brush valley mountain, was burned last week.

Mrs. Binkley, who was visiting her sister Mrs. Wm. Frank, has returned to Reading.

Miss Marion E. Emerick, of Wolf's Store, spent Sunday with Mrs. Rose Mackey, in Williamsport.

George Brumgart, of Nitany valley, and Krider Stover and his mother, of Coburn, were in town this week.

Miss Rebecca Moyer, of Center Mills, went to Mercer county to her sister's Mrs. Limbert's, where she will visit several months.

The fishing season has begun and through our valley, every one knows, the fishers are a great deal more numerous than the fish.

Dr. Thomas Meyer, of Lock Haven, is the guest of Daniel Harter, Dr. Meyer is one of Lock Haven's most versatile silver advocates and a true blue Bryan man.

No one thought that Brush valley had such a mean, low, dirty scoundrel as to steal music out of the Evangelical church in day time, yet the one who stole it had better return it at once as he is known.

George Krumrife, of Williamsport, who had been in Philadelphia to have his eyes treated, is with us again, and we are glad to learn that his sight has improved, though it can never be fully restored.

All our Brush valley people sympathize with Greece and if squire Harvey Corman could seize a Turk "dann wares ledah fun demna fadihenketda rascals. Die sedda totoly ausgebudst varr." And who would say no to him?

We might note that our people have not seen that "air ship" passing over the U. S. and we are quite certain it did not come this way as we surely would not have failed to see it, since the whole valley was lit up by the mountain fires.

Madisonburg is still there, as quite a number of residents attended Weaver's funeral. If you have the least doubt about its existence you can soon find it out by talking up McKinleyism. Mr. Deitrich says that these preliminary tariff discussions make their Jacksonian hens lay three eggs per day. The financial distress evidently affects the domestic animals of that place.

The concert, last Friday evening, was well rendered and we are sorry that so many missed it. The music was most classical, it seemed the masters had become alive. The choruses were exquisitely rendered as Messrs. Newcomer and Ziegler are doing excellent work. The violin, mandolin and banjo club made a vast improvement since its last public appearance. It did as it always does, took everything by surprise and was tremendously applauded. Watch to see the next meeting advertised. Don't fail to come.

Everybody wants to get the most that their dollars will buy, and no clear minded person ever paid more for an article when they knew they could buy it for less elsewhere.

We draw the crowds by underselling. We are tireless in our efforts to give the people bargains.

Every statement we make you'll find to be a fact. Every offering you'll find to be a reality.

The special prices we placed on some of our goods last week demonstrated to us in a very forcible and pleasing way, that our advertisements are read with interest by the buying public. Nearly all the goods we advertised were asked for, and in almost every instance the sale was made. Our advertisements can be relied on an we never advertise anything unless we have a sufficient quantity on hand, as we do not wish
