

Bellefonte, Pa., May 14, 1897.

HOING AND PRAYING.

Said Farmer Jones in a whining tone, To his good old neighbor Gray, 'I've worn my knees high through to the bone, But it ain't no use to pray.

CONCEPCION.

She was counting the pieces of soiled table linen, and the washer-woman's boy who waited outside thought she was long about it. 'Ciao, dos, tres, cuatro—' grasp for balance. At the last end! Concepcion held to the wall and lowered herself as far as possible, then let go and dropped. The force of the fall threw her to the ground, but she was up in a moment.

The Pennsylvania State College Before the Present Legislature. The fact that the Pennsylvania State College, is before the present Legislature asking for appropriations for carrying on various branches of work that have heretofore been curtailed for want of funds makes anything that relates to that institution and its prospects for success of interest to Centre county people.

In 1892 the short winter course in agriculture was inaugurated and in 1892 the creamery and private dairy courses. These courses have been attended by 193 students representing fifty of the sixty-seven counties of the State, together with seven other States.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN. Starch and sugar are the stout woman's enemies. Nourishment which tends to encourage flesh is found in all farinaceous foods, such as rye, rice, potatoes, oatmeal, sago, etc.

Two and a half inches is the proper depth for the flounces on summer frocks. The flounces are six in number and they are placed upon the skirt in curves, instead of straight, as formerly.

Table titled 'APPROPRIATIONS 1895-97' showing various categories like Public Schools, Charitable Institutions, and State Government with their respective amounts.

STATUS AND WORK OF THE COLLEGE. By the Act of April 1st, 1863, accepting the provisions of the act of Congress approved July 2nd, 1862, the Pennsylvania State College became the official and recognized agency of the State for systematic technical education in agriculture, and has remained the only such agency in the Commonwealth to the present time.

Two and a half inches is the proper depth for the flounces on summer frocks. The flounces are six in number and they are placed upon the skirt in curves, instead of straight, as formerly.