THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Quite a number of Lewistown wheelmen rode to this place on Sunday.

A rather severe wind storm shook this part of the county up a little on Sunday evening.

Barber Billy Flack has a handsome new sign pointing the way into his rooms on the Diamond.

The story that two children perished in a burning house, in Stone Valley, last week, is untrue.

The Howard Hornet out-fit has been shipped to Eagles Mere, where it will be used in publishing a paper at that summer resort.

Miss Kate Hookman and Gardner Grove, both of Farmer's Mills, this county, were married at Mt. Carrol, Ill., on April 1st.

Only one marriage license has been issued during the past week. It was to H. M. Krebs and Ada Sausserman, both of Pine Grove Mills.

The ladies aid society of the United Brethren church will hold a festival in the McClain building, on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

Wheelman Geo. T. Bush, of this place, has been asked to referee the bicycle races that the Arrow cycle club, of DuBois, will have on July 5th and 6th.

Charles Foster doubtless thinks he's about the only fellow in the new borough of State College, since the arrival of that ten pound boy, on Tuesday morning.

W. H. Denlinger, of that place, owns the first bicycle that was turned out by the Welivar manufacturing company, of Philadelphia. It is called the "Welivar Special."

Architects Robert Cole & Co., of this place, are working on a design for a new building which Progress garage expects to erect, at Centre Hall, some time in the future.

The Coleville band boys are changing off a handsome lamp. The chances are only a penny a piece, and for that small sum you stand to win a lamp that will ornament your room.

The grocery firm of Schreyer and Sheffer, of Allegheny street, was dissolved, on Wednesday, Harry Schreyer retiring. Hereafter the business will be conducted by Samuel B. Sheffer and son Herbert.

Former associate judge Chester Munson, of Phillipsburg, has gone to Bloomsburg to have a growth, that was thought to be of a cancerous nature, cut from his hip. A specialist there gives hope of a perfect cure.

Lyon and Co. have a new advertisement in this issue that offers you an opportunity to see something. Don't complain about there being no market for everything until you have read their advertisement and seen what they want to buy.

Frank Crosthwaite, of South Thomas street, was out walking around, on Monday morning. He looked as if the inflammatory rheumatism, with which he has suffered a long time, had given him a pretty hard tussle, but Frank is happy because there is even enough of him left to get about.

"Brack" Powell, the notorious colored character who has made Bellefonte uneasy for years, has been released from jail upon condition that he leave town for a period of five years. He signed a paper to such effect that if he returns before that time the commissioners can incarcerate him for almost any term they see fit.

By a vote of eight to three Lock Haven council has decided to pave Main street, in that place, with vitrified brick. The street will be paved from Jay to Mill and $6,000 have been appropriated for the purpose. Lock Haven lays nineteen mills for general purposes and one mill for her sinking fund.

Former state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Chas. E. Hurlburt, of Philadelphia, has gone to Africa in the interest of some missionary work he is carrying on on the dark continent. Mr. Hurlburt will be remembered as a resident of Bellefonte, two years ago, and his many warm friends here will wish him God's protection and guidance in his noble work.

Dr. Chas. Wood, of Philadelphia, a son-in-law of Mrs. Wister Morris, and a minister who has filled the Presbyterian pulpit in this place on several occasions, is going to build himself a tabernacle similar to the one Bellefonte people presented to evangelists Weaver, Weeden and Wharton last year. He will spend his entire summer vacation in evangelistic work and thinks he can do more for the Master in that than in any other way.

Josh Fouk says: "Whenever you see a dog running along the street with its head down, tail sticking straight out and apparently not conscious of what it is doing, then you had better take to a tree, or some other place of safety, for it is a sure sign it has hydrophobia." Josh's symptoms of hydrophobia would be rather hard on straight tailed dogs that might be tired enough to leave their heads drop or that might be running their master's track through the streets. In such events they would be running along with their head down and as they couldn't have their tails out before they would have to have them out behind.

A GREAT NEW INDUSTRY FOR BELLEFONTE.—The WATCHMAN has an announcement to make, this morning, that will doubtless flash across the industrial horizon of this community like a flash of lightning from a clear sky.

Within two weeks there will be the beginning of what might eventually develop into a gigantic enterprise in this place and so quietly has the whole thing been worked up that a very few people know of it at all. It is quite in keeping with the policy of the gentlemen who are pushing it not to make parade of their business ventures, but when it is announced that the Morrises are back of it this story of the new enterprise for Bellefonte will be read with far more interest and conviction that it will be carried out.

So far as present calculations can go two weeks will hardly have elapsed before work will be begun on buildings for the manufacture of acetylene gas in this place. The plant will be located at the Armour's gap operations of Mr. A. G. Morris and all the buildings will be made of brick or stone. Though it has not been definitely settled just how large the plant will be made, if we give you an idea of it you will be able to draw your own conclusions.

Acetylene gas is of comparatively recent discovery and is made from the chemical action of water upon bicarbonate of lime. The bicarbon is produced through the fusion of bituminous coal, lime, and several other ingredients by means of an electrical current. It is the principal agent in generating the gas and is suspended in a basket in a small galvanized iron tank. To generate gas by this process three tanks are used. One filled with water; one holding the basket containing the bicarbon and the other being the receiver for the gas. The water from No. 1 runs into No. 2, where it comes in contact with the bicarbon and gas is at once generated. It is returned through No. 1 to No. 3, which is merely a receiver and when 1 1/2 lbs. pressure has been produced an automatic shut-off stops further generation until the pressure is reduced.

The acetylene gas is a perfect, white light, without a flicker or smoke. The most crucial tests have proven it to be far more powerful in penetration and illuminating than either electricity or coal gas. The trouble has been, heretofore, to fuse the carbide at a cost low enough to make the gas of commercial value. Mr. Bucher, a well known chemist, of Atlanta, Ga., has overcome that difficulty and it is estimated that the new light can be made at a cost of one-tenth that of ordinary coal gas.

So much for the process of making it; now for its use. It can be used for all kinds of illuminating, heating and motive purposes and as an illuminant it has no superior, as recent tests made in Philadelphia disclosed. It ought to be of great commercial value, since with it gas can be had in any country home, park, or other place, no matter how far removed from a town. And it can be consumed through the ordinary gas fixtures now in buildings, by merely adding the three tanks mentioned above. It is thirty times less dangerous from an asphyxial stand-point than gas and is a far more intense illuminant, besides costing only one-tenth as much. The carbide will be placed on the market in solid form and people owning buildings equipped with the ordinary fixtures would need to add the tanks, only, then buy the carbide in lumps and generate gas for themselves.

From this it will be seen that the acetylene ought to be of great commercial value. Owing to the supposed expensiveness of fusing the carbide capitalists have been slow to take it up and there is only one plant in the country to-day. It is located at Niagara Falls and is the company that Secretary of the Navy William A. Whitney, of New York, is at the head of.

Mr. Charles Morris, of Tyrone, is at the head of the new company. His father, Mr. A. G. Morris, and brother, Mr. Thomas Morris, of this place, will be associated with him. Their company is capitalized at $100,000.00 and work will be begun at once. The equipment of the plant will include a 250 H. P. electrical dynamo, a 250 H. P. engine, other apparatus and a complete machine shop for the manufacture of the tanks. Everything will be made here, so you will have an idea of what immense proportions it might some day assume.

The fact that such keen, substantial businessmen are back of it makes us sanguine of the success of the business.

The WATCHMAN gives this as exclusive information and if present business conditions are to be relied upon there seems to be every assurance that work will be begun within two weeks.

A NEW INSURANCE MAN IN TOWN.—With the assurance that he isn't afraid to be called a real down-east Yankee Mr. J. E. Lawrence is introducing himself and his business to the people of Centre county. He has come, with his family, to reside in Bellefonte and the fact that he liked the place the first time he visited it is the best of evidence that he is a man of good judgment. Mr. Lawrence has no wooden nutmeg, or pebble-coffee schemes for you, but he does have a line of insurance that seems to be catching on right and left.

He is the resident manager of the Union mutual life company, of Portland, Maine, which is proclaimed throughout the United States to be "old, sturdy, strong." An idea of the business it does can be had by reference to the advertising columns of this issue. In introducing Mr. Lawrence and his business to the WATCHMAN readers we feel confident that you will all find him a thorough gentleman and a man in whose hands your insurance business could be entrusted with profit to yourself.

Mr. Lawrence has his offices on the second floor of the Centre county bank building, where you will always find some one to attend to whatever business you may have to transact.

—Mill Hall's new public school house is to be made of brick instead of frame.

—Rev. Julius A. Herold has resigned as pastor of the first Presbyterian church of Williamsport.

—Andrew Jameson, of Loganton, has lost two valuable horses with distemper, within the past two weeks.

—The upper portion of a dwelling owned and occupied by Daniel Marks, at Loganton, was burned off last Friday evening.

—Owing to differences of opinion between the manager and players of the Lock Haven Normal school team, that organization will probably disband.

—The passenger committee of the trunk line association has decided to accept bicycles as personal baggage between States, except between Canada and the United States.

—As Jersey Shore's council has served notice on the gas company down there to the effect that all contracts for gas will be severed, August 7th, the Spirit thinks that town is to have an electric light plant.

—Last Thursday evening Mr. C. E. Kauffman, superintendent of the Tyrone schools, and Mrs. Lizzie Gibbons, of Belleville, were thrown into the river at the Tyrone iron works. They were out driving when their horse frightened at some bicyclers. It plunged and fell into the water, throwing both occupants of the buggy out. The wheelmen caught the horses and when Mr. Kauffman had waded out with his cousin they got in and drove home, very much soaked, but fortunately not hurt at all.

—Two bits of boys worked the gullible people and police of Tyrone, on Monday, by claiming that four tramps had held them up and, after robbing them, shot one of them in the hand. The "hold up" was said to have occurred while they were all riding a freight train between Tyrone and Spruce Creek. After getting all they could eat from Tyrone people they laughed at them, but that is one thing Tyrone can't stand and an immediate investigation was made. It was then discovered that the lads had been working other towns along the line and because she wasn't the only one Tyrone "sent them up" only for ten days.

LAWN FETE TONIGHT.—The lawn fete that was to have been held at the home of L. A. Schaeffer, on east Curtin street, last evening, has been postponed until this evening. Everybody is invited to attend.

WILL OUR WHEELMEN COMPETE.—Bellefonte has some fast wheelmen who ought to be in training for the meet that will be held in Altoona, on May 29th. Our riders have had considerable success on the path and especially at Altoona. The races there are going to be interesting and Bellefonte should certainly be prepared to carry off a few of the prizes.

A BELLEFONTE GIRL MARRIED IN OHIO.—The announcement that Miss Rose McKibbin, a step-daughter of Ira C. Mitchell, Esq., of this place, had been married at Lima, Ohio, on the 5th, was very much of a surprise to that young woman's friends. From one of the Lima papers we take the following account of the ceremony.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. C. W. McKibbin, in this city, on Wednesday evening, May 5th, in which the contracting parties were Miss A. Rosamond McKibbin, of Bellefonte, Pa., and Mr. P. Ainsworth Kale, one of Lima's most promising and well to do young lawyers.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's brother. Promptly at eight p. m. the bridal party took their places for the ceremony, to the beautiful music of the wedding march, as played by Miss Marie Peale. The bride looked very beautiful in a costume of a delicate blue organza, and carried a handsome bouquet of bride roses. The groom was dressed in conventional black and looked manly and handsome.

Immediately following the ceremony a splendid supper was served in five courses, after which the happy couple were driven to their future home, No. 206, S. Cole street, where they will remain until June, when they will make the bride's parents happy by a tour East. Mr. Kale not being able to leave his business at present.

DR. WATERS TO BE MARRIED.—The following clipping, taken from the Columbia, Mo., Herald, of May 7th, will be of interest to the friends of D. H. J. Waters in this county and all of them will unite in heartiest accord with the felicitations of that paper.

The engagement of marriage of Dr. H. J. Waters and Miss Margaret Ward Watson is announced, the marriage to take place at Calvary Episcopal church, in Columbia, on Thursday evening, June 3rd, at 8 o'clock.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Watson, a charming girl, with sweet disposition and gracious ways, a social favorite and beautiful as the fairest picture. The groom is the dean of the Missouri Agricultural College, intelligent, handsome, popular, courteous, hardworking.

We wish our young friends long and useful years.

Dr. Waters will be remembered as professor of agriculture at the Pennsylvania State College prior to the fall of 1895, when he was offered and accepted the position he now holds. While connected with the College he was a very popular instructor and just as efficient. His circle of acquaintances in this county extends to all parts of it, since he was so much interested in the work he was engaged in that he never declined to lecture at institutes or other gatherings, which were designed for the promotion of agriculture and kindred pursuits.

DEATH OF MRS. ELIZA CURTIN.—On Sunday morning, after a long illness Mrs. Eliza Curtin, widow of the late Roland Curtin, one of the old time iron men, died at her home, on the corner of Allegheny and Howard streets, and was buried Tuesday afternoon in the Union cemetery. For years Mrs. Curtin had been in failing health and her death was not unexpected, as she had been confined to bed for two years and was gradually weakening.

She was a daughter of John Irvin, of Linden Hall, who at the time of his death, in 1843, was the second largest land owner in Penn's valley and one of the most prominent men in the county. Her oldest brother, Gen. James Irvin, represented this district in Congress from 1840 to 1845, was the Whig nominee for Governor in 1847, and was one of the most generous benefactors the State College has had.

D. William Irvin, another brother was consul at Amoy, China, at the time of his death, in 1865. Of a large family of sisters and brothers she is the last with the exception of Mrs. Sarah Potter, wife of the late Capt. W. Wilson Potter, of this place. She was born at the Irvin home, Linden Hall, on the 6th of Oct. 1814, and is said to have been a beautiful woman in her younger days. On the 17th of June, 1834, she was married to Roland Curtin, eldest son of the head of the Pennsylvania family of Curtins. At that time he was associated with his father in the iron works at Curtin and for more than fifty years he was actively engaged as manager of the Eagle iron works, now called Curtin's.

Her husband died, in 1875, and since then two sons, Will and Roland. Surviving her are Col. Austin, superintendent of the orphans' school, at Chester Springs; Andrew T., of Philadelphia; Gen. J. I. and James C., of this place.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church and Dr. Laurie conducted the services at the funeral which was held on Tuesday at three o'clock.

ONE OF THE OLDEST SCHOOL TEACHERS IN THE COUNTY IS DEAD.—Death has again visited the vicinity of Spring Mills and taken away an honored citizen, Mr. Fredrick F. Jamison.

Mr. Jamison was born November 28th, 1832, and at the day of his death he was 64 years, 5 months and 10 days old. The early part of his life was spent in George's valley, where he received his early school training. In 1855 he completed his education in the Aaronsburg academy, under the instruction of professor Ilgen Burrell who afterward became the 2nd superintendent of the schools of this county.

In the fall of 1856 Mr. Jamison began his career as a teacher. It was in the little old school house which stood near the present residence of Samuel Brass, about one mile above Centre Hall. He taught there that winter and the following summer and it was the beginning of his thirty-seven years of professional life. During all this time and up to a few years ago he taught every winter but at last was compelled to stop on account of ill health. Every school, save one, in Gregg township and some in Penn and Potter townships have been taught by him at some time or other. Many of our teachers were pupils of his.

He was one of a family of ten children, eight sons and two daughters. Four of his brothers and one sister survive him.

In politics he was a staunch supporter of the Democratic party and never failed to cast his vote when election day came. He was always honest and upright, never stooping to anything low or degrading. He adhered to the Lutheran faith. His widow, four sons and a daughter survive him.

The remains were buried in the Cross church cemetery on Tuesday. Many friends attended.

A SAD DEATH.—On Wednesday word was received that Mrs. Clara R. Swartzel had died, on Monday morning, May 10th, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Fisher, in Richmond, Ind. Mrs. Swartzel will be remembered as Miss Clara Fisher, Mrs. Aaron Williams' only sister, and while visiting her sister here, about five years ago, she made many friends who will be sorry to hear of her death. She was an intelligent, gracious woman with a beautiful voice which she used generously for the church or charitable entertainments. She was born in Aaronsburg, this county, on Jan. 28th, 1851, and her death will be a great sorrow to Mrs. Williams, who went to Richmond, after Mr. Swartzel's death, to be with her mother and sister.

—Mrs. Rosetta Grove, relict of the late Wm. Grove, died at her home, at Lemont, last Saturday morning, after a brief illness with heart disease. Deceased was 64 years old and a consistent member of the Evangelical church. Her remains were buried, at Shiloh, on Monday afternoon. Of a family of twelve children six sons and one daughter survive.

—Alfred Strunk, one of the most popular passenger conductors, on the Philadelphia and Erie road, who died in Harrisburg last week, was born at Jacksonville, this county, April 16th, 1847. At the age of 18 he was married to Miss Mary Askey, who was well known in Jacksonville and Howard.

—G. M. L. McMillen, a brother of C. G. McMillen, formerly proprietor of the Brockerhoff house in this place, died very suddenly at his home in Dayton, Ohio, Friday afternoon. Deceased was 75 years old.

—A four-year-old daughter of James Gregg, of this place, died at the home of his parents, on east Beaver street, on Monday morning. Burial was made from the Episcopal church on Wednesday afternoon.

—Mrs. Mary T. Baird, widow of the late Preston Baird, died in Renovo, on Tuesday. Deceased was 60 years old and was born in Howard, this county.

PROMINENT AT THE A. P. A. CONVENTION.—A dispatch from Washington, D. C. announces that Clement Dale, Esq., of this place, and John W. Stuart, of State College, are among the prominent delegates from Pennsylvania to the annual meeting of the supreme council of the A. P. A. now in session in that city.

LOW RATES TO PHILADELPHIA.—On account of ceremonies attending the unveiling of the Washington monument, on Saturday, May 15th, the Central R. R. of Penna., is selling very low rate excursion tickets from all points on its line, good going May 13th and 14th and for return passage or on before Tuesday, May 18th.

AN EGG WITHIN AN EGG.—A few days ago, while Miss Annie Whitehall, of Lemont, was breaking some eggs, preparatory to baking a cake, she made a discovery that has aroused no little curiosity up in College township.

In one of the eggs she had broken a tiny white speck in the yolk or yellow arrested her attention. Upon examination it proved to be a perfect egg about the size of a sparrow's egg and with a glossy white shell. It will be preserved.

DESCRIBING THE CITY OF THE DEAD.—For some time past a number of children have been making a play ground of the Union cemetery. It is a common occurrence to find a dozen or more there in the evening after school hours running over the graves and lots and pulling flowers, and it is impossible for those owning lots to plant flowers or shrubbery without their being destroyed. These children have been entering through openings in the fence next High street and it is said they have torn the palings off for that purpose. We regret to say that not only children but older people are guilty of stealing flowers and plants from graves. Considerable complaint has been made and the cemetery association have taken the matter in hand. The fence has been repaired and persons trespassing, hereafter, will be dealt with to the full extent of the law.

Those who are guilty of these offenses are doubtless ignorant of the law on the subject and for their benefit we quote from the act of assembly, relating thereto, as follows: "Any person who shall wilfully and maliciously injure, destroy or remove any fence, railing or other work for the protection or ornament of a cemetery or maliciously destroy any trees or shrubbery growing in such cemetery or graveyard shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of either of the said offenses be sentenced to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year or to pay a fine not exceeding $100, or both, or either, at the discretion of the court."

The names of some of the offenders have been procured and a watch is being kept for others. The association is in earnest and means to put a stop to this outrage. We hope those who have been engaging in the practice will heed this warning for if they do not trouble for them will follow.

News Purely Personal.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Marshall and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Cook, leave, Tuesday, for a month's stay in Michigan. They have relatives in Kansas, and it is possible they will visit in that State before returning home.

—General supervisor Wm. Gainsfort, of the C. R. R. of Pa. spent Sunday in Lock Haven with his evangelist friends, Messrs. Weaver, Weeden and Van Deventer. Mr. Gainsfort was very much gratified with the success they are meeting with down there.

—Superintendent W. C. Patterson of the experimental farms at The Pennsylvania State College went down to Jersey Shore, on Tuesday, to join the veterans of the 5th Penna. Vol. with whom he spent three years of life during the war. They held their reunion on Tuesday.

—Mr. J. S. Rose, of Centre Hall, was in town yesterday afternoon attending to some business. He has lots of it too for besides the trade that ten years' experience in the music line has brought him he is doing outside business in the sale of road making machinery.

—Master Alfred Brisbin, who had been having a fine time sight-seeing in Philadelphia since the previous Thursday, returned to his home here, on Wednesday evening. His uncle Jack Spangler looked after him while down there and that means that "Johnny" enjoyed his trip.

—Al. Neubauer, the genial young clerk at the Brockerhoff house, is back from a month's visit to his parents in Erie and is once more politely looking after the comfort of guests of that hotel. Al. has had quite a serious time getting well, but the trip to his old parental home seems to have fixed him up for he looks all right now.

—Mr. H. T. McDowell, of Abdera, was in town on Wednesday and expressed it as his opinion that we ought to put up a rooster to crow over the defeat of the Hamilton road bill. Of course Mr. McDowell, being a farmer, is in a position to know far more about the conditions and needs of country road making than we do, but it does seem to us that some legislation is needed along this line.

—Hon. Wm. K. Alexander, of Millheim, with his hands just full of business for the building and loan association they have down there, was in town, on Wednesday, looking after share holders in this place and giving them credit books. Millheim companies are always considered good things because people are so honest down there that investors never have a care for the safety of their shares.

—Sam Taylor, manager for Wilkinson's china hall, and Morris Trone, who expects to be a lawyer some day, went over to New York, last evening, to take a look around the place and see how much it has swelled since becoming the second largest city in the world. Both young men are members of Co. B. and will return to Philadelphia, on Saturday, in time to march in the grand parade that will celebrate the unveiling of the Washington monument in that city.

—As we announced in our last issue, the Imperial mandolin and guitar club, of Bellefonte, will give a concert in the Bush Arcade, Thursday evening, May 20th, at eight o'clock. Preparations for this event are now being perfected and the concert will undoubtedly be one of the finest things of the kind we have had an opportunity of hearing for some time. The program will be an entirely new one. In addition to the marches, waltzes, mazourkas, Etc., which will be rendered on mandolin, flute, cornet, guitar, banjo and banjo, there will also be several vocal selections. Mr. Wm. B. Reeve, barytone, has been specially engaged for this concert, and Mr. Gerhart will sing one or two of his recent successes in the comic line. Mr. Young's violin solo may be looked forward to as something artistic and novel. The boys should have a good house. Admission 35, 25 and 15cts. Seats on sale at Parrish's drug store.

A CHRISTIAN RALLY AT HECLA PARK.—The picnic season for 1897 will be opened at Hecla park, on Tuesday, May 25th, when there will be a great christian rally there under the spiritual guidance of evangelists Weaver, Weeden and Van Deventer. The gathering will be similar to the one held there last year. Many people from Lock Haven and Bellefonte will attend.

—Prof. Henry P. Van Liew, of New York city, will give his stereopticon entertainment, "Slums of New York by flashlight" in the court house, next Monday evening, May 17th, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Admission free. A silver collection will be taken. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

—Geo. W. Cable, whose stories of the South have made his name one that will ever be associated with New Orleans in a literary connection, lectured at State College, last Friday night, and a lot of Bellefonte people who were under the impression that the lecture would not be until this evening were greatly disappointed at missing it.

—The members of the Imperial mandolin and guitar club are hard at work practicing for the concert they will give, in the Arcade, next Thursday evening, May 20th. The club will be assisted by Mr. Reeve, barytone, and W. P. Young, violinist.

—Henry Van Liew, of New York, will give a stereopticon exhibition in the court house, next Monday evening, May 17th. His pictures are mostly illustrations of life in the "Slums" of the great city. Body is invited to attend, as the exhibition will be free.

—The executive committee of the Clinton county veteran's association will meet to-morrow afternoon, in Lock Haven, to decide when they will hold their annual reunion and picnic. The place has already been settled for Hecla park.

—The Pennsylvania College ball team from Gettysburg will play at State College to-morrow afternoon and State's team has given its word to win. If such is the case it will be the first game State has won this season.

—The Weaver, VanDeventer, Weeden tabernacle meetings are having great success in Lock Haven. They have introduced several new features under the canvass, among them being stereopticon views of "the Slums" in New York.

—Thus far it looks very much as if Bellefonte is not to have a circus this season. Nothing has yet been heard from one that wants to come here.

—Wallace's show will exhibit in Phillipsburg on June 11th.

—Wallace's circus is billed for Tyrone for June 20th.
