THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

—Engineer Charles Gilmour led the mens' meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday afternoon.

—The Granger picnic, at Centre Hall, will be held during the week of September 13th to 18th, inclusive.

—David M. Fisher, aged 68 years, died at his home in Sinking valley, last Friday night, with pneumonia.

—Dr. R. Leighton Gerhart will preach his last sermon to the Bellefonte Reformed congregation on Sunday evening, June 27th.

—The corner stone for the new Disciple church, at Howard, was laid yesterday afternoon. Rev. C. W. Harvey, of Plymouth, preached the sermon.

—John Wagner says that he knows where there is a hole in Fishing creek in which he saw "fifty trout averaging in length from ten to fifteen inches" and John has a corner on this hole.

—Are you going to the joint picnic of the Christian Endeavorers and Epworth Leaguers, at Hunter's park, to-morrow? They are going to have a great time and everyone is invited to join them.

—Miss Bertha Holmes, one of Jacksonville's charming young women, will be married to Mr. Chas. K. Hoffman, of Hildley Park, on June 16th. Mr. Hoffman is a car accountant for the Peeney.

—The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller died at their home, at Valentine's iron works, yesterday morning, and will be buried in the Quaker grave yard this afternoon.

—Among the young men who were graduated from Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, yesterday, was John Meyer, a son of D. J. Myer Esq., of Centre Hall. He expects to enter the law office of Orvis, Bower and Orvis, in this place, and read law.

—Constable Alfred Lucas has received a check for $600 from the post-office department for causing the arrest and conviction of the men who robbed the post-office at Snow Shoe about a year ago. The amount covers the costs in the case and a small reward for the constable.

—While driving near the chain works, north of town, on Monday afternoon, Daniel Garman and his son-in-law, Isaac Maitland, were thrown from their buggy and the horse ran away, smashing things up in good style. Neither gentleman was hurt, however.

—Harry Nevill, a son of Jacob Nevill, of Potter township, this county, was possibly fatally shot, at Yeagerstown, Millin county, a few days ago. Several stories are afloat as to how he received his injury. One is to the effect that during the trading of revolvers he was accidentally shot in the left breast.

—The contract for the erection of the new Tyrone shoe factory has been awarded to F. D. Beyer and Co., of that place. The building is to be three stories, 30x100 ft, of brick, and will be fitted out with the most improved machinery. This is the plant that Bellefonte turned down. It remains to be seen whether Tyrone or Bellefonte had the best business judgment in the matter.

—The Forest City band of Scotia has been presented with a new $800 set of gold and silver plated instruments through the kindness of Mr. Andrew Carnegie, whose extensive ore operations are located at that place. The band has always been in a flourishing condition and under the direction of John Weaver has grown to be one of the brag musical organizations of the county. They expect to array themselves in new uniforms in a short time.

—Robert H. Hunter and Charles R. Kurtz, of this place, went down into Huntington county, to fish on Spruce creek the latter part of last week. They went to Pine Grove on the train, thence to the fishing ground on their wheels. On the return Mr. Hunter was riding fast to catch the train and being loaded down with paraphernalia—we say paraphernalia, not fish—he fell off his wheel and seriously injured his left hand. The fourth and fifth fingers were painfully mashed.

—They are having lots of driving accidents along the river, just north of Tyrone. Last winter a whole sled-load of young folks fell over the bank and some of them were nearly killed; several weeks ago a school teacher's horse ran off and jumped into the river, dragging him, and his sister-in-law, with it, and on Friday a boy and his sister might have been mistaken for an immersion party from the way they looked while standing in the river, after their horse had shied at a hay wagon and landed them there.

—Several days ago a young man by the name of W. J. Stine shot and killed a large English mastiff dog that was owned by Miles Matern, of Half Moon. The dog had repeatedly run out at Stine as he was riding to and from his work at Scotia, on a bicycle, and several times threw him clear off. He warned Mr. Matern of what he intended doing if the dog was not kept inside the fence, but the warning went unheeded and he made good his word. On Wednesday suit for damages was brought and will likely go to court. Matern had the dog for breeding purposes and valued it at $50.

THE JUNIOR ORATORICAL CONTEST.—Garman's opera house was a veritable bower of loveliness, Wednesday night, when the curtain went up on the ten young ladies and gentlemen who were to compete for the Reynolds' prizes in oratory offered, annually, to the junior class of the Bellefonte High school. The house was resplendent in blooming plants and class colors but even nature's beauty was eclipsed by the gorgeous colors of gown and hat. The auditorium looked like a monster flower garden disturbed by a June breeze. The place was truly lovely and formed a fitting surrounding for the admirable contest of the evening.

After a brief invocation by Dr. Stephens, of the Methodist church, Mr. A. R. Rutt introduced the first speaker, Miss S. Elizabeth Faxon. Clear and strong, with graceful, easy mien, she recited the touching story of "The Painter of Seville." Miss Faxon seemed to comprehend the depth of her subject and made it apparent that the judges were to have no easy task, if such an excellent beginning be continued. She was followed by William J. Dorworth, who recited "The Black Horse and His Rider" with considerable force and proper gesticulation. Then came Miss Ida Fauble, whose naturalness and apparent ease made much for the effect that the pathetic little German tale of "The Prize Violin" had on the audience. J. Earl Aikens followed her with a very dramatic recital of "The Unknown Speaker." He made every climax tell and had his voice not failed would probably have been nearer the prize than second place, which was accorded him.

The sad story of "Absalom" was told by Miss Henrietta Wright in a manner which showed the carefulness with which she must have been trained. Following her Robert V. Lyon told the thrilling story of "The Chariot Race" from Ben Hur and Gen'l Wallace, himself, would have been pleased to hear a boy handle his masterpiece in such a creditable style. "Nydia, the Blind Girl of Pompeii" was Miss Daise Keichline's theme and she brought all the subtle beauty of the tale out in an effective rendition of it. The next speaker was Samuel McClure, whose performance was one that must certainly have been a gratification to his many friends in the house. He handled "The Gladiator" in heroic style and won rounds of applause. After this came the prettiest, daintiest, most graceful bit of stage realism we have seen in a long time in Mary E. Runkle's recitation "Searching for the Slain." The young Miss fairly charmed the audience and though she was not a prize winner she left an impression that proclaims her one of the cleverest elocutionists in the town. "The Death Bed of Benedict Arnold" was the winner of the first prize and H. Albert Blair declaimed it. A cooler, more self possessed speaker could scarce be imagined and a well modulated voice, with effective gesticulation, sent his performance highest on the grading sheets.

The entire affair was so good that it could not but have left a pleasing impression on the audience. The music was a feature well worth mentioning, as it was a surprise to many to learn that a Bellefonte orchestra was actually making it. The organization is good and should be continued for there is the making of an excellent band there. The judges were Messrs J. C. Meyer, John Blanchard and A. Boyd Musser. The two prizes are $10 and $5 in gold.

THE HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.—The fourteenth annual commencement exercises of the Bellefonte High school attracted a large crowd of friends of the graduates to Garman's, yesterday afternoon, to hear them orate and last evening to see them formally receive their certificates and hear the masterful address by Dr. Lawrence M. Colfelt.

Both afternoon and evening there was a faithful adherence to the program below and everyone of the graduates acquitted themselves creditably. AFTERNOON. Music. Invocation. Salutatory and essay—Individual Growth a Factor in Civilization, Alice Maud Harsberger. Oration—The Feast Seems Ready: Shall the Carving Begin? Charles H. Kaese, Jr. Essay—American Wonders, Emma C. Wagner. Oration—Common Carrier, Clarence G. Harper. Music. Orchestra. Essay—The Gem of the Pacific, Gertrude Taylor. Oration—Competitive Elements in Modern Life, Alfred T. Irvin. Essay—The Queen City of the Plains, Mildred E. Wagner. Alice M. Ishler. Music. Orchestra. Oration—Unsatisfied, Oliver Morton Smith. Essay—The New Woman, Myra S. Carson. Oration—The Price of Success, J. Wallace Reeder. Music. Orchestra. Essay—Evils that Kill, Grace M. Blackford. Enology on Jefferson, Joseph V. Runkle. Essay—The Man and the Occasion and Valodictory, M. Maud Miller. Music.

EVENING. Commencement Address, Rev. L. M. Colfelt, D. D. Presentation of Certificates, David F. Fortney Esq., President of School Board. Music. Benediction. —The Bellefonte High school and Milesburg ball teams played part of what would have been a red hot game of ball, last Friday afternoon, but stopped at the end of the fourth inning, when they had broken up all the bats in sight and the score stood 1 to 1. Denstine and Otto were in the points for Bellefonte and Boggs and Campbell for Milesburg.

—The closing exercises at the South ward public school, on Wednesday morning, were carried out to the nicety that always characterizes the undertakings of teachers and scholars in our schools. Quite a number of visitors were there to enjoy them.

—Hon. A. C. Hopkins, of Lock Haven, was married to Miss M. G. MacDonald, in Pittsburg, on Wednesday evening.

—The Clinton county agricultural society will meet at the office of Dr. Dumm, in Mackeyville, tomorrow evening, to elect a manager for farmer's institute to be held in that county next winter.

—The promoters of the Lock Haven oil well are very happy because at a depth of 3,100 feet they have struck oil sands that they think are going to produce oil. They are talking about shooting the well and seeing if there is anything in it.

—Lock Haven citizens are making headway toward securing a hospital for that place. They have raised $2000 and have pledges for the furnishing of six rooms. A charter will be applied for and the following board of managers has been chosen: Drs. R. Armstrong, F. P. Ball, R. B. Watson, J. H. Hayes, R. G. Furst, W. J. Shoemaker, Messrs. Wilson Kistler, Moore Fredericks, J. A. Bickford, E. A. Monaghan, Rev. Dr. R. W. Perkins, Barton Pardee, David Salmon, F. L. Whitaker, all of that city, and J. B. Furst, of Flemington.

—The woman's foreign missionary society of the Altoona district of the Methodist church will meet here on the 15th and 16th of this month. Several good speakers will be present and the meeting promises to be one of interest.

MARRIED.—Mr. Wm. Harrison Brouse, of Pine Grove Mills, and Miss Emma V. Williams, of Boalsburg, were married by Rev. R. Leighton Gerhart, D. D., at the Reformed parsonage, in this place, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—George Justice, of Benner township, and Miss Maggie Miller, of Coleville, were married at the U. B. parsonage, on Willowbank street, Tuesday evening, Rev. C. C. Miller officiating. The bride is a daughter of Samuel Miller and is a young woman of engaging manner and admirable domestic attainments. Samuel Miller, a brother of the bride, and Miss Ida Justice, the groom's sister, stood with them during the ceremony.

QUETLY MARRIED.—A simple, though pretty wedding service took place at the home of Mr. Jerre Sharer, on Sunday, May 30th, when Wm. Knepp, of Wallace, Clearfield county, and Mary L. Cowher, of Hanna Furnace, were married. Rev. Maxwell performed the ceremony, after which about forty guests sat down to the sumptuous dinner which Mrs. Sharer, the bride's sister, had prepared.

DR. EFFIE STRAUB IS MARRIED.—The many Bellefonte friends of Miss Effie Straub, who left here some years ago and attained prominence in the medical profession, in Chicago, will be interested to learn that she has been married.

On Saturday, May 29th, Edward N. Criley, of New York, and Effie Therese Straub, of Chicago, were married, in Phillipsburg, N. J., by Rev. T. C. Pritchard. Mr. and Mrs. Criley will be at home, in Brooklyn, after June 15th.

MARRIED IN ALTOONA.—On Thursday evening, May 27th, a very pretty marriage was solemnized at the first Methodist parsonage in Altoona, the contracting parties having been Mr. Harry W. Nicodemus and Miss Bessie M. Harnden, both of Altoona. Rev. M. L. Ganoe performed the ceremony. The attendants were Miss Mame McBurney and Mr. H. B. Reilly.

The groom is employed in the Pennsylvania rail-road planing mill, No. 2, and is a most estimable young man. His bride is a loving, cheerful girl who has many warm friends in Altoona and is the daughter of Mrs. H. A. Harnden.

After the wedding the couple left on a trip to Philadelphia and Washington and when they return will board for a short time before going to housekeeping.

A JUNE WEDDING.—Mr. Joseph R. Muffy, of Philadelphia, has announced the marriage of his daughter, Elizabeth Gordon, and Joseph Lingle Montgomery.

The wedding took place in the church of our Savior, in West Philadelphia, on Wednesday afternoon, at four o'clock. Although it was a quiet, small affair, every detail was in good taste and pleasing harmony with the perfect June day. The bride was given away by her father, who is as well known here as in Philadelphia. Thomas K. Morris, of this place, was best man and T. A. Shoemaker and Wilbur F. Harris ushered. Among the guests were the groom's father and sister, W. W., and Miss Emma Montgomery, of this place, Judge and Mrs. C. S. Gordon, of Clearfield, and I. N. Goron, of Pittsburg.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held at 3721 Powelton Ave., and the young people journeyed to New York, where they will visit for several weeks before returning to the Bush house where they will be at home to their friends after the twentieth.

The bride and groom are two of our prominent young society people and their marriage was of more than usual interest. The bride is a grand daughter and niece of the Gordon family, but it is on account of her own bright personality that she is so well known here, where she has lived most of her life. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Montgomery and as a representative of the standard oil company and one of the proprietors of the Bellefonte fuel and supply company has, possibly, a larger business kinship than any young man in the county and both commercially and socially he has the esteem and best wishes of the entire community.

MEMORIAL DAY IN BELLEFONTE.—Last Saturday was anything but an ideal Memorial day, but the raw, threatening weather did not chill the patriotic ceremonies in Bellefonte one jot and everything was carried out according to the program published in a recent issue.

The parade moved promptly at 2:30 o'clock in the following order: Bellefonte band, orators and officers of the day in charge, Co. B, 5th Reg., N. G. P., Gregg post No. 95, G. A. R., and Washington camp P. O. S. of A. At the Union cemetery the usual services were gone through with after which former judge A. O. Furst delivered an eloquent oration. He was followed by J. C. Meyer Esq., who spoke feelingly on the solemnity of the day and the zeal with which we ought to commemorate it.

The children of Bellefonte responded lavishly to the veterans' call for flowers, as the following long list of donors will prove: THOSE WHO KINDLY HELPED THE OLD SOLDIERS.

To the following named ladies of Bellefonte, who prepared the bouquets and other designs for the decoration of deceased soldiers' graves, and to the children, who gave the flowers, and others, who contributed to the occasion, Gregg post, under whose auspices the ceremonies were conducted, desires to express thanks. The National Guard, under Lieutenant Geo. L. Jackson and the Patriotic Sons of America deserve the highest commendation, manifesting patriotism and affiliation with the veterans who were once the national guard and the patriotic sons, combined, when dismemberment threatened the union of our common country.

The ladies committee was composed of Mrs. Thomas Donachy, Mrs. D. M. Glenn, Mrs. S. H. Williams, Miss Green, Mrs. Amos Mullen, Mrs. Barry, Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. George F. Harris, Misses Bayard, Mrs. J. S. McCargar, Mrs. Henry Yeager and Mrs. David Bartley.

- Those who contributed flowers were: Paul Ethers, Emily Levin, David Charles Knapp, Harry Shook, Jessie Mary Morris, Catharine Ethers, Myrtle Barnhart, Edmund Hayes, Lizzie Edward Lyon, Chaire Sibert, Rola Tute, Pearl Nisley, Ruth Garman, James McKee, Anna Lawson, Russel Campbell, Margaret Bartley, Ellen Fisher, Lawrence McClure, Tossie Paul Fortney, Frank Steele, Reynolds Taylor, John Jones, Charles Anderson, Grace Steele, Charles Nighthart, Frank Smith, Abner Harter, Nettie Bair, Harold Stover, Ida Miller, Harold Bair, Boyd Harter, Hattie Miller, Louis McClelland, Norman Grauer, Leroy Longacre, Mrs. Mary Robb, Annie Powers, Louisa Crissman, Helen Stover, Violet Rachel Shuey, Harold Atwood, Charles Cox, Anna Bernice, Sarah Sarah Selbert, Norman Kirk, Herbert ARMOR, Richard Brouse, Walter McClellan, Bessie John Lawrence, Sadie Mechtley, Mattie Eric Schrock, Richard Brouse, Henriette Jones, Helen McClelland, John Barnes, Margie McGinley, Will Perry, Sarah Mabel, Rex Barlet, Lester Ginter, R. S. Burns, James Weaver, Hazel Ford, Harry Smith, Charles Kellerman, Harold Kirk, Benj. Harrison, Florence Lowry, Helen White, Grace Lovry, Frank Stover, Mrs. Sol Gherrett, Julia Johnson, Hannah Mary Koehler, Anna Strunk, Joseph Gilswilite, Anna Pressler, Gertrude Shows, May McMullen, Wm. Hoffman, Scott Graham, Harry Dawson, Linn Blanche Smith, Harry Landis, Maurice Cramer.

BICYCLE RACES ON MEMORIAL DAY.—Three hot road races were pulled off in Bellefonte on Saturday. One was open to white riders of any age, another was a boy's race for riders under sixteen years old and the other was open to all colored riders. The course was from the Diamond to the post-office at Axe Mann and return to the junction of Lamb and Allegheny streets.

The race for white riders was won by John Teats, with Bruce Barnhart 2nd and Jesse Underwood 3rd.

The boy's race was won by Charles Larimer, with Harry Larimer 2nd and Clarence Otto 3rd.

The race for colored riders was won by Louis Mills; time, 18 minutes. Will Mills 2nd, and Clarence Williams 3rd.

INTERESTING CEREMONIES AT HOWARD.—The people of Howard are never remiss in the fulfillment of a duty and the carrying out of appropriate Memorial day ceremonies in that place, last Saturday, was no exception. The town was decorated with bunting and flowers. In the morning the local post of G. A. R. went to Jacksonville and decorated graves of departed soldiers in the cemetery there. In the afternoon the post, the Odd Fellows, and school children paraded to the Howard cemetery for the same purpose, after which all went to the Methodist church, where A. A. Dale Esq., of this place, and Rev. Messenger delivered stirring addresses. Rev. Jones, of the Presbyterian church, spoke at Jacksonville.

—The local Odd Fellows and post of G. A. R. conducted the memorial day exercises at Stonemurston and they lost none of their accustomed elaborateness because of the unpleasant day. Rev. Runyon of the Methodist church, and Clement Dale Esq., of this place, were the orators and spoke in the Methodist church.

—An illness of only a few days culminated in the death of Mrs. John Barges at her home, at Penn Hall, at noon on Wednesday. Interment will be made to-morrow in Heckman's cemetery. Deceased was quite an old lady.

—Two evangelists have a gospel tent at East Tyrone and are reported to be doing good work.

—Those who are in a position to know say that there have been about thirty murders committed in Clearfield county since any one has been convicted of the crime over there.

—The Theta Nu Epsilon Sophomore society of The Pennsylvania State College banqueted, at Williamsport, last Friday night.

—The Bucknell university base-ball team will play at State College to-morrow afternoon. The game will be called at 3 o'clock and will doubtless be very interesting. Last week Bucknell defeated State by the score of 6 to 0.

Y. M. C. A. DAY.—Next Sunday, June 6th, will be observed as Y. M. C. A. day in the interest of the Bellefonte association. Several prominent association workers of the State will be present, and will speak in the churches in the morning. In the evening union services will be held in the Presbyterian church and will be addressed by the visiting workers. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a union mass meeting in the court house to be addressed by Mr. W. D. Lawmaster, of Danville. Everybody is invited to all of these services.

RISKED DROWNING TO SAVE HER CHILD.—A thrilling accident occurred at Spring Mills, last Sunday, when the darling of Mrs. G. H. Long, the wife of a leading merchant of that place, saved her five year old son from drowning.

The child fell into Penns creek and was struggling to keep his head out of water when his mother missed him and, fearing the worst, rushed to the stream. First she saw his hat floating on the surface, then the boy weakly struggling in the last throes. Fearing nothing and thinking only of her child she plunged into the water, which was as deep as her chin, and reached him. Then the excitement reacted and she was unable to get out again, but Harry Allison, an employee of the mill, was attracted to the spot and dragged mother and child from the water.

News Purely Personal.

—Ex-register John Rupp, of Oak Hall, was in town between trains yesterday.

—Ed. Campbell came home from Scranton last evening and will visit his parents here for a few days.

—Mrs. James K. Barnhart is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Geo. S. Campbell, of Punxsutawney, at her pleasant home on Thomas street.

—Clarence Rodgers is home for a ten day's visit to his mother. He is night electrician in the P. R. electric plant at Pitsaen, near Pittsburg, and is getting along nicely.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, of Altoona, are visiting at their old home here. Mrs. Johnson has been unwell and will remain with her parents until her health is improved.

—Contractor John Noll, of this place, recently spent a few days in Harrisburg looking over the ruins of the state capitol building. He contemplated bidding for the contract to prepare the site for the new building.

—Among the Bellefonters who attended the Montgomery-Muffley wedding, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, were Thos. A. Shoemaker, Mr. Montgomery's business partner; Thos. Morris, who was his best man; and Wilbur F. Harris.

—John H. Bryan and Charles Eckenroth, delegates from Gregg post to the state encampment of the G. A. R., left for Johnstown, on Wednesday morning, and two comrades who would have taken in more than they could not have been found.

—Mrs. George L. Halter and her child, of Still-water, Okla., are visiting Mrs. Jennie Curtin, at Curtin's works. "Jersey," as he used to be called here, is coming east to join his family just as soon as the College of Oklahoma, in which he is professor of chemistry closes.

—Mrs. Frank Lukensbach and daughter are here visiting for a few weeks. Frank brought them over from their home in Phillipsburg, last Friday, and remained here until Monday, when it became necessary for him to return to his duties in the First national bank of that place.

—Mr. Robert H. Reed, one of Patton township's leading men and an all-round representative citizen, spent yesterday in town attending to some business for himself and other people, as well. Part of it was to make us richer than we were before he arrived.

—Miss Eleanor Damon, of Darby, and Miss Virginia Sudler, of Philadelphia, arrived in town last evening and are the guests of Miss Myra Holliday, who is home on a three weeks vacation from the Presbyterian hospital in Philadelphia.

—George Downing, formerly a resident of this place, was in town over Sunday on one of his periodical visits. He likes his new home in Altoona, but likes to get to Bellefonte occasionally to see his many old friends here. He returned to Altoona, on Monday morning.

—A note from our old friend John Reed, formerly of Buffalo run, this county, informs us that he is well and happy over in his Huntington county home, near Grayville. John was one of the men we were sorry to see move away from Centre, not only because he was a good citizen, but because he was so good a Democrat.

—Dr. W. U. Irvin, of Julian, spent Friday afternoon in Bellefonte making a few preliminary preparations preparatory to starting to Philadelphia to attend the meeting of the American medical association in session in that city this week. Dr. Irvin is one of the county's most progressive young physicians and loses no opportunity to improve himself in the profession, whenever it is possible.

—Mrs. R. J. Shadd and her two children returned, Wednesday evening, from Niagara, where they went last October with the expectation of making it their home. As a place of business Niagara just suited Rudolph, but its climate was not so congenial and they wisely decided to return to the mountains. They will board with Miss Magill until they get into their own house on Thomas street.

—J. C. Samers couldn't stand it to stay at home on such a nice day as last Friday so he and his little nephew, Elliot, drove down from State College just to call on the WATCHMAN. Though Elliot isn't a mere lad he had to do the driving as Cal's eyes are not as good as they once were, though he can see good enough to read the WATCHMAN every week and says he don't know what he'll do if such a calamity befalls him, sometime, that he won't be able to read it any more.

THE FALL KILLED HIM.—A Tyrone exchange published the following account of the death of John T. Reamy, of that place, who is well known in this county, especially about Houseville, where he was born, and Unionville, the place of his home for three years.

John T. Reamy, who was seriously injured by a fall occasioned by the breaking of a scaffold in the round house where he was working, on May 5th, last, after lingering for nearly four weeks succumbed to the results of his accident and passed away at five minutes before 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, at his home in Tyrone.

John Thomas Reamy was born in Centre county July 6th, 1856, his age at death being 40 years, 10 months and 26 days. He was reared by his grandmother at Houseville, and spent all his life in Centre county until he removed to Tyrone eleven years ago. On February 7th, 1878, he was united in marriage to Miss Sallie E. Koch. One daughter, Miss Nellie, of Bellefonte, survives this union. On October 12, 1882, at Pennsylvania Furnace, Mr. Reamy was married to Miss Ella M. Musser, who survives him, together with five children, Mary A., Edward M., Austin S., Nancy M., and Edith M., all at home. The mother of the deceased, Mrs. Matilda Rider, is also still living at Seneca, Michigan.

Mr. Reamy was a carpenter and had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad for sixteen years. He resided at Unionville from 1883 to 1886 and in the latter year removed with his family to Tyrone where he has remained ever since. He was an exemplary man and a good citizen. Devoted to his family and country, he was also loyal to his Master, having been a consistent and faithful member of the First Presbyterian church where he was regular in his attendance and devotion at all services, taking a special interest in the pastor's bible school of which he was a member from the beginning. Mr. Reamy was a member of W. C. No. 327 P. O. S. of A., and of the Pennsylvania R. R. relief association.

The funeral took place Thursday afternoon. Interment in Tyrone cemetery.

THE SUDDEN DEATH OF CHARLES CHAMBERS.—A sad piece of news came to this place, yesterday morning, in the telegram announcing that Charles Chambers had died, at Columbia, very unexpectedly.

He was the youngest son of Mrs. Mary A. Chambers, of this place, and a brother of E. R. Chambers Esq. Being a painter by trade he had just moved to Columbia, where he had secured employment on the painting of the new rail-road bridge over the river there. He had been ill for a few days and the physicians told him he would have to give up painting as it would seriously impair his health, but no such speedy ending was anticipated. Painter's colic caused it.

The remains were brought here, last night, and taken to his brother's home, on East Linn street, where a brief service will be held Saturday morning, at 8 o'clock, preparatory to taking the body to Half moon for burial in Gray's ground, where his father, the late Elijah Chambers, lies.

Charles was 29 years old and is survived by his wife, who will be remembered as Elsie Hastings, of this place.

BURIED AT MIDNIGHT.—Alice, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rider who live out in Collin's row, died of diphtheria or membranous croup between seven and eight o'clock last Saturday evening and was buried between one and two o'clock Sunday morning.

Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery, but no services were held over the body because of the strict health regulations affecting the burial of such cases.

—John Winters, aged 16 years, driver in the quarries of the Cambria iron company at Birmingham, was almost instantly killed by being struck by a falling rock Wednesday morning. The boy was in the act of hitching his mules to a cart when a rock weighing nearly half a ton toppled from a ledge about forty feet above him, striking another ledge on the way down and glancing therefrom. Workmen, seeing the imminent danger, called to the boy, but too late, for just as he looked up, the heavy rock struck him on the head, crushing his skull in a horrible manner. Notwithstanding the terrible injury, young Winters lived almost three hours, breathing his last shortly after 1 o'clock.

—Cyrus Condo, a brother of ex-sheriff John P. Condo, of Millheim, died at Angel's Camp, Cal., on the 18th ult. Deceased was 51 years old and went West, from Millheim, in 1871. Dropsy caused his death.
