

All Through Brush Valley.

John Wait, of Loganton, was in our valley last Saturday.

The M. E. church, of Kreamerville, will have a festival on July 17th.

Ed. Smull and his family, of Nittany, spent Sunday with Charles Smull of Kreamerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillburg, of Lock Haven Sundayed with Henry Smull's at Kreamerville.

A few of the Madisonburg teachers were visitors at the teachers' examination at Rebersburg last Saturday.

Some sixteen men have been working on the camp meeting grove, just above Emanuel Harter's to give it a general cleaning.

Clem Walker and his dear wife, of Salona, were pleasant visitors with their relatives and friends in Rebersburg over Sunday.

There need be no great hurry about applying for the position as school director of the East end of our valley, as there is no vacancy yet.

Mrs. Minnie Greninger and her little son Charley, of Lock Haven, came to Rebersburg last Saturday to spend a week or so with her relatives and old friends.

Another new house is going up at the West end of Rebersburg, for Thomas Royer of Rockville. Thomas will soon show the people what a gold dollar can do.

C. O. Malory, Dr. T. C. Hosterman and J. N. Moyer were elected as delegates to the county convention, and we are glad to state that they all have the true silver ring in this yellow colored precinct.

The delegate election this year resembled a Republican caucus in one respect, in that the voters had to be sent for, but the Republicans have the advantage as they phoned them together while the Democrats must hunt them together.

We are glad to state that Miles township was well represented as delegates and substitutes by E. Miller, of West precinct, T. C. Hosterman, H. A. Detwiler and H. E. Bierly, of middle precinct, and Jerome Meyer, of the East precinct. C. O. Malory and J. N. Moyer could not go on account of previous business arrangements.

Following are the teachers of Miles township: Madisonburg, Messrs. Yearick and Hazel; Rebersburg, Prof. Hosterman, Henry Detwiler and Forest Emerick. Thos. Auman at Harter's; Chas. Smull, at Gramley's; Ammon Weaver, at Wolf's; Wm. Limbert, at Brumgart's; and Calvin Ziegler at Stover's school house.

The teacher's examination, last Saturday, at Rebersburg, was characterized by the superintendent's usual fairness and perfect justice. The five following were elected: Charles Smull, Ammon Weaver, Calvin Ziegler, Mr. Brumgart, of Wolf's Store, and Mr. Tate, of Lemont. All passed and received fine papers as the examination was above the average. The teacher showed considerable acquaintance with current news and literature and civil government. At certain intervals the examination became quite interesting to the many visitors present. Mr. Gramley's examinations have become quite instructive and even popular to the teachers, directors and visitors of all grades and shades of intelligence. Quite a number of complimentary short addresses were given by the visitors at the close.

REBERSBURG'S WOMAN ARCHITECT.—As a general rule in this town what one knows the others will find out in a mighty short time. But we wish to mention something that is but little known and we do it with great pleasure, as we consider it a very good illustration of heredity. At the West end of Rebersburg there are being built quite a number of comfortable houses, among which is that of our noted silver politician, C. O. Malory, the most beautiful house as yet, which was planned in every particular by Mrs. Malory, a lady who does not regard herself as one of the "new women" but one that knows just how to conceive a most convenient house internally, and a beautiful, up-to-date habitation externally. The location and elevation of the house, especially by the bay-window, affords extensive views in almost every direction. The building is well proportioned and with a number of windows on all sides it is harmonious and well balanced. The porch will be something entirely new in construction in our town, as it is a combination of Corinthian and rustic design.

Pine Grove Mention.

Jack frost laid his hand heavily on vegetation on the 3rd inst.

J. B. Erb, now a lumber king of Elkins W. Va., paid a brief visit to Centre county friends recently.

The stone crusher is running on full time so you may expect good roads in this township.

Emanuel Weaver is very proud of the little stranger who now graces his home in the Glades.

Mrs. D. L. Miller is visiting her son, J. A. Beaver Miller, at Pine Glen. He has been seriously ill for some months but is now on the mend.

J. B. Spangler, one of Potter township's wide awake Democrats and prosperous farmers, and his wife Sundayed with J. G. Fortney.

Ex-judge and Mrs. Krebs, of Clearfield, attended the funeral of Mrs. Ella Krebs. The judge is confident that our reunion, on the 18th, is going to be a success.

Clyde Detro is breaking ground for a new house on a lot purchased from D. I. Johnson near Pine Hall. Clyde is a hustler with a record. He intends putting up a chop mill in connection with a cider press.

One day last week, Harry Frantz was hauling wood from the Orwig tract below town and his lock rope broke on the steep hill at the Branch school house, causing the tongue to break and the horses to run. They upset the wagon and threw Mr. Frantz against a stone fence but fortunately he was not hurt beyond a few bruises. The horses, though, were much the worse for their run against a barbed wire fence.

On the evening of the 4th, a pleasant surprise was sprung on Mrs. Sarah A. Bowersox, wife of Harvey Bowersox, near State College. It was her thirty-seventh birthday and her mother, Mrs. Daniel Dribble, invited her to come with her to our town to see old Mrs. Houseman, who has been ill. The party was so well planned that she never suspected the pleasure or presents in store for her, and upon her arrival at home, at dark, she found the house full of guests intent upon a good time. There was an excellent supper and a very enjoyable evening.

Daniel Henry and wife, of Reedsville, have been enjoying a visit here at Mrs. H.'s old home. Their headquarters were at Squire Miller's hospitable home in the Glades.

Children's day exercises at the Pine Hall Lutheran church, last Sunday morning were beautiful as well as interesting. The music, by the choir with Miss Lizzie Fye as organist, was worth hearing. Bessie Fye and Harry Daugherty elicited much praise. Rev. C. T. Aikens conducted the services, which was really a sacred concert at which standing room was at a premium.

John T. Duff, one of Pittsburg's legal lights with his accomplished wife and interesting little son, of ten summers, spent last week visiting Centre county acquaintances at away back, with headquarters at John A. Rupp's hospitable home at Oak Hall. Mrs. Duff was Alice Lytle, formerly of our town and a nice, jolly girl she was and is.

Last Thursday at the instigation of a large number of petitioners, of this township, asking for a cessation of hostilities of Wm. and Jerry Garner against Henry Garner, their father, constables Decker and Dunlap arrested them both and brought them before justice Keller, where they gave bond for their appearance at court. It is hoped that the matter can be amicably settled without adding more costs but the whole affair is shameful.

On the 3rd our young friend, W. H. Brown and his intended secured the necessary license from Register Rumberger and bled themselves out to Rev. Dr. Gearhart, who performed the ceremony which made them man and wife. A royal supper awaited them at his father's home on the Branch and the next day their journey was continued to Altoona, where part of the honeymoon will be spent. The bride is Miss M. A. Williams, one of Bouldsburg's pretty young ladies and perfectly capable of making William the good wife he deserves. They have the WATCHMAN'S best wishes.

It is to be hoped that McKinley's weather bureau man will give us fair weather for the 18th, for on it depends much of the success of our great reunion. On that date the students of the Academy will assemble to have their first reunion. Several hands will be present to make music. Miss Kate L. Moser, one of the first students of the institution, will deliver the Alumni address and a general good time is expected.

J. Mack Goheen and family, of Tyrone are enjoying their summer outing at the old homestead. Last Sunday morning as the family were preparing for church their little son, Paul, fell and broke his arm while playing in the yard.

A SAD DEATH.—The death of Mrs. Sarah Ella, the wife of D. C. Krebs, which occurred at her home on Main street, on the morning of the 5th, cast a gloom over the entire community. The cause of her death was multiple neuritis and she had been seriously ill for a week but ready as she was for the summons her death was particularly sad. In her own family of little children, in the church, in the societies and in her own neighborhood she was of so much help and so greatly needed. She was born near Howard 38 years ago but came to this place when only a girl. On December 13th 1884 she married D. Clyde Krebs and to them 4 children have been born, three of whom are living, the youngest, a babe a week old. She was an excellent woman and the sorrow of her death falls heavily not only on her husband and young children but on her mother, Mrs. Confer, her sisters, Bella, and Mary, and her brothers, George, William and Jacob. She requested that she be buried in the new cemetery and on the 7th she was laid to rest amid beautiful flowers the tributes of affectionate friends. Her friend and pastor, Rev. Aikens, conducted the services and to her pure and happy christian life he consolingly referred. The pall bearers were J. B. and N. T. Krebs, J. W. Fry, M. E. Heberling, S. E. Goss and D. L. Musser.

Centre Hall.

Mrs. Rearick is on a visit to her mother in Snyder county.

Rev. C. B. Gruver, of Lock Haven, will fill the Lutheran pulpit in this place on the 29th.

Postmaster C. H. Meyer attended commencement at Franklin & Marshall college, Lancaster.

Widow Stine is having her house, on Church street, painted and handsome porches—rear and front—erected.

George H. Emerick and Robert Bloom were the delegates to the Democratic convention from the North district of Potter.

The firm of Potts & McCoy, general merchants at the station, dissolved, last week, and the firm is now Dr. A. D. Potts.

John Lusa will build a new dwelling house alongside of the Poulson house. This will make the fifth house erected by the Luses.

C. U. Hoffer, of Philipsburg; Dr. Will Keller, Clearfield; and H. A. Taylor, Mifflinburg, were among those from a distance who attended the funeral of Henry Booser.

A student of economy suggested, recently, that the street lamps and posts be ordered painted and the unsightly strips, nailed on the posts for foot holds, be removed.

The Presbyterians broke ground for their new parsonage Thursday. The dwelling will be erected on the lot adjoining the church and will be handsome in design.

P. Gross Yearick, of the firm of H. H. Yearick, extensive coal dealers of Philadelphia, is visiting his brother-in-law, W. B. Mingle Esq. He is accompanied by master Edgar Yearick, son of H. H. Yearick.

Leonard Dale, of Osceola, was in town the beginning of the week. Mr. Dale is employed at the Osceola car shops, being one of the bosses. He left this place fifteen years ago, and on his return was surprised at the many improvements made on every side. The surroundings of the Reformed church are being handsomely repaired. The front is being terraced, and the whole plot seeded to lawn grass. This will be the finishing touch to the master efforts of Reformed brethren. They have a church home in every way superb.

Stormtown.

Having failed to see any news from this end of the county for some time, I find that there are some things that I might tell your readers, some items are:

That Ed. Way is very happy because it is a girl.

That Dr. J. A. Thompson is a very busy man.

That Half-moon township, has the best roads in the county.

That every one is much pleased with Rev. Runyan.

That the township made no mistake when they elected John supervisor.

That the stone crusher is going late and early under the supervision of John I. Gray.

That the United Brethren have an able minister in the person of Rev. H. Mattern.

That J. H. Griffin, the Democratic war horse of this township, is painting his new stone building a beautiful yellow.

That the Rev. Robert Runyan delivered a splendid sermon in the M. E. church in this place, on Sunday evening.

That Ed. Way and John W. Gray have put large wind mills on their barns and now do their own grinding of grain for their stock.

That the Misses Hartwick, who spent the winter in Williamsport, have returned to this town and except to remain during the summer.

That John Ward, who left a leg in the wheat field at the battle of Gettysburg, has been seriously ill, for a few days, but at this writing is slowly improving.

That Miss Lizzie Furst, whose house was destroyed by fire last fall, has replaced the same by a beautiful building, on the site of the old one, and now all the marriageable young men in the country are wanting to see Miss Lizzie in her new home.

That a man passed through this town yesterday, who had walked clear from the State of Iowa, and expected to end his long walk 40 miles on this side of Philadelphia. He wanted to know how long the advance agent of McKinley's prosperity had passed before. The writer told him that he certainly had passed him as everyone here thought he was in the West and he made answer, that out West that they told him that he was in the East.

That poor little Patton township, wanting to put on airs and be big like Half-moon, has gone and bought a stone crusher, but she can't come up to Half-moon, as we own both an engine and new road plow. Patton township has always had the poorest roads in the State. I would just say here that the buying of their stone crusher was the only wise act that Patton township has done in the last forty years, and that the advance agent of Worth township fled as mad as March hares, and shook their fists at the supervisors of Patton township when they heard that they had purchased a crusher, and they went and done likewise.
