

formerly of this place, who will occupy the house herself. Mr. Flory will build a new house on the west side of the Poulson block.

Prominent among hotel arrivals the past week were Dr. Brubaker, Millinburg; F. M. Dunkle, Lewisburg; E. K. Hess, Williamsport; C. Mists, New York; E. M. Walker, Milton; W. S. Dillet, Milroy; H. J. Leads, Williamsport; M. C. Gephart, Millheim; C. W. Burd, Aaronsburg; F. E. Lynch, Chicago; A. J. Stickley, Strasburg, Va.; Jerry Weber, Glenn Rock; W. T. Linn, Carlisle; A. F. Krause, Albany, N. Y.; A. V. Heasler, E. M. Lewis, Philadelphia; W. B. Chamberlin, Milton; J. B. Knorr, Reading; D. G. Snyder, Shamokin; Jacob Schock, Philadelphia.

A little mound in the cemetery marks the last resting place of Wallace Murray, who died Tuesday morning. About ten days ago he became unconscious from the effects of the sun's heat, while picking cherries. For about that length of time he lay without moving scarcely a muscle. Monday he showed some sign of life and spoke a few words and then relapsed into a comatose state, and so remained until the end came. Wallace was a son of Mrs. Beckie Murray, widow of Levi Murray, deceased, and was aged about fourteen years.

All Through Brush Valley.

Rev. G. Weber is visiting in our valley. Miss Krider is the guest of Mr. James Frank.

Thomas Roger's brother, of Reading, is here on a visit. Miss Ford, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Mrs. George Smull.

Mrs. Nicklas and Miss May Dooley, of Williamsport, were guests of Sup't. Gramley last Wednesday.

Mrs. Samuel Meyer and daughter Iva, of Milesburg, are visiting friends and relatives in our valley.

Mrs. Custard, of Williamsport, is visiting her sister Mrs. Daniel Harter near Wolf's Store.

Rev. and Mrs. Aarand, of New Berlin, and Rev. and Mrs. Landis, of Adamsburg, are visiting their many friends in our valley.

Harry Royer, of Rockville, beat all former Brush valley records last week, by hauling 70 shocks of wheat on two wagons with but two horses, from the top of the big hill to Rebersburg. A newly married man can do much these days.

All circumstances considered, ie rain, the Methodist festival, last Saturday evening, was a success. The Methodists hereby return their sincere thanks to all of every denomination, for contributing so kindly and liberally towards the same.

John Houseman and his associates, of Creamerville, are Brush valley's fine builders. They are building C. O. Malloy's house and remodeling Rev. W. T. Auman's home in Millheim, which will out-strip everything in that town from the standpoint of beauty.

NOTICE.—The WATCHMAN correspondent is requested to state who ever displayed his spirit of philanthropy so lavishly, at Centre Mills, near that McKinley farmer from Union county, by unloading several bushels of young kittens, is hereby informed that the advance agent of prosperity is preferred in another form.

DEATH.—On the 11th, Mrs. Maggie Rebecca Winters, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. Weber. She was born in Dempsytown, Venango county, Pa., June 5th, 1872, and was united in marriage to John W. Winters, September 17th, 1889, by Rev. J. W. Schlockenhaf, and joined the M. E. church, of Creamerville, Feb. 4th, 1894. Mrs. Winters died very suddenly. She was one of those very good natured young women that never fail to be greatly loved by all. By her death, the beloved husband has lost a faithful wife and the Methodist church at Creamerville a faithful worker in all its various church duties. She lived a commendable christian life and was always hopeful. The funeral was large and was conducted by Revs. Faus, Mumma and Stover. As a tribute to her memory and friendship, Mrs. W. J. Carlin and Mrs. Scott Kerstetter made a most beautiful floral wreath which was placed on her coffin and grave.

Pine Grove Mention.

Miss Hattie Meyers, of Alexandria, is visiting her old associates here.

Ticket agent Tate is trying to endure, with patience, six of Job's comforters. On the 15th of July Ed. Reed, a noted angler, caught 15 minnows. Next day he didn't fish.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Livingston received notice from the pension commissioners that her pension has been granted and the necessary vouchers forwarded.

A meeting of Ferguson township's school board will be held at Centre school house, Saturday the 24th, to elect teachers for the coming school term.

The venerable George Kustaborder passed his eighty-third year stone last Saturday. We will tell of the party, that was gotten up to celebrate it, in our next letter.

The handsome form of sheriff Cronister was seen on our streets this week. We are always glad to see him, but would prefer that he would do his official visiting elsewhere.

Miss Sue Dannley is nursing a sore finger from which Dr. Woods recently removed a cancerous wart. Aside from sleepless nights caused by pain she is getting along very well.

John Smith, one of Gregg townships Democratic standbys and enterprising business men, was in town this week visiting his mother. He had a good time as well as some of his old cronies.

Isaac Pressler, who years ago tolled the grists at Erb's mill, and his wife, are visiting in this section with headquarters at D. S. Erb's. The old couple are much gratified with their visit as they are meeting with many courtesies and kindnesses. They expect to continue their journey to Somerset county, where they have relatives living. Mr. Pressler is a Jacksonian Democrat never known to kick or scratch the ticket. We would commend the aged couple to the good people of Millford station, where they think of making their home.

George Behrer's beautifully situated home has been improved with a new front porch and a coat of white paint with green trimmings. George is an up-to-date farmer and keeps everything about him in first class order.

If the weather continues favorable this week the largest grain crop in twenty years, in this section of the State, will be safely barned and stacked. Indeed many farmers will be obliged to thresh the grain in order to make room for the oats which promises to be well filled but short in straw. The heavy rains of the last few days are causing the corn and later crops to spring up like magic.

Although Harris Bloom is one of our big men and solid farmers yet he was not strong enough to hold his team that took a notion to run off this week. He was cultivating corn when by some means one of them became unbridled and in a jiffy both were tearing full speed across the corn field with Harris far in the rear. The horses could get no farther than the deep cut of the railroad and there they stuck. His little daughter, with much presence of mind, flagged the coming train or there might have been a serious wreck.

Howard.

Charley Woodward has the chicken-pox. John Wagner has purchased a new barber chair.

John Loder returned home from the woods last week.

John Wagner and wife visited Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Miss Belle Allison spent Wednesday in Eagleville.

Miss Sallie Wistar spent one day of last week in Mt. Eagle.

Misses Josie and Sue Holter visited in Centre Hall on Sunday.

Albert Tibbs returned home from Reading a few days ago.

Miss Doll Allison visited Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gardner over Sunday.

Miss Rilla Williams, of Bellefonte, spent last Friday in our town.

Wm. Jenkins, of Milton, transacted business in this place on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lizzie Gruver and Miss Emma Weber visited in Williamsport over Sunday.

Robert Bennisson and Richard Thompson, of Walker, were in town on Sunday.

John S. Holter was appointed manager of our base ball team on last Wednesday.

E. C. Dietz, proprietor of our bakery, attended to business in Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Wm. Cooke, of Philadelphia, shook hands with his friends in this place on Tuesday.

Miss Ella Butler, a daughter of Thomas Butler, is at present confined to the house by illness.

Miss Gertie Lynn, one of Beech Creek's belles, spent Monday with friends in this place.

Mrs. Clarence Candy, of Tyrone, spent Tuesday with Solomon Candy and family of this place.

Rev. A. P. Wharton, pastor of the M. E. church of this place, and daughter, spent last Friday in Lock Haven.

Miss Anna Miller, of Williamsport, spent a few days with Mr. J. H. Tibbs and family, formerly of Williamsport, last week.

Al. Beery and Miss Rosa Levy, two of Milesburg's prosperous young people, visited H. A. Moore and family over Sunday.

Miss Alice Long, daughter of J. J. Long, one of the oldest citizens of our town, is at present visiting her sister at McKee's Mills.

BASE BALL.—Eagleville was an easy mark for our boys on last Saturday. They flew down upon the former place and took a "scalp" before the spectators knew that there was a ball game going on. The features of the game were the batting of Holter and Bullock and the pitching of Fletcher. Only five innings could be played on account of threatening rain. The following is the score by innings:

Howard 4 4 1 3 4—16.
Eagleville 0 0 0 1 2—3.

Batteries—Fletcher and Long; Potts and Bullock. Umpires—Weber and Hess.

In Memoriam.

The sudden death of Susan, wife of Wm. J. Bair, at 9:30 o'clock on Sunday evening, the 18th inst., came very unexpectedly to her many friends. The announcement of her death, throughout our town the following morning, cast a deep gloom over us all, and everybody was eagerly inquiring what was the cause of it, knowing that she and her husband had been visiting at several places during the day, and had partaken of a hearty supper at the home of Mrs. Hiram Wert, a sister of Mr. Bair. Her sudden death was due to paralysis of the heart, induced by asthmatic troubles, all the result of several severe attacks of la grippe within a year.

She was born in Penns valley fifty-two years ago, and lived there until the time of her marriage, thirty years ago, since which time she lived in or near Rebersburg. To her were born two sons and two daughters, all of whom survive the mother and with a heart-broken father share the loss the family sustains.

Mrs. Bair was humble, unselfish, and exceedingly kind to such as needed help; she was a true wife, a fond mother, a loyal friend and neighbor, these traits of character caused her to be loved and honored by all who knew her, of her it could be truly said, "None knew thee but to love thee."

We speak no words of fulsome praise when we say that her death leaves a void in our community that is sorely felt.

Her funeral, on Wednesday morning, was attended by a large circle of sorrowing friends and neighbors. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mumma, of the Lutheran church, assisted by several neighboring ministers. Among those from a distance who attended the obsequies, we noticed her daughter Mrs. Jennie Wolf, of St. Louis; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jettie Stover, of Pittsburg; and her son George of Williamsport, who brought with him, as a token of filial love to a dear mother, a beautiful floral tribute in the form of an anchor. Several other beautiful tributes were noticeable.

The remains of Mrs. Bair are laid away in the Union cemetery, there to await the resurrection at the last day.

To the bereaved husband and children we tender loving words of sympathy and consolation, hoping that He who watches over all will grant them that greater consolation which He alone can give.
