FARM NOTES.

-Australian fruit growers dig ditches about their trees and pour in a solution of sulphate of iron in considerable quantities, covering it with earth.

-It don't pay to grow crops in the orchard, especially after it begins to bear Peas are an exception, however, as they add fertility to the soil. And if the pigs are turned into harvest the peas, it is all the better for the orchard.

-While at pasture the young sheep should have access to salt. A flock will visit the salting place twice a day regularly. Salt is a good tonic and prevents indigestion, which produces destructive diarrhœa, all the worse when the weather is

-The excessive rainfall of last month will leave the land wet in some fields, and the cultivator should be used as soon as possible in order to allow the warm air to dry the soil and to loosen the crust if the top is baked. This is important if the field is in cabbage or turnips.

—Smut does not pass from stalk to stalk in the cornfield, and there is no danger of contamination in this way. The infection takes place when the corn is young, the cent. germinating spores entering the tenderest part—the root, node and lowest joint; and after the disease is once in the plant no ap-

to break down the tassels or remove them, a practice which has been advocated, as enabling the farmer to secure larger yieldsexperiments show that there is nothing gained by so doing, while the labor required is an item of expense that is bestowed when the farmer can be growing green fodder or some other crop for cattle plants to appropriate more carbon and by ago demonstrated the fact that in the use of potash for fruits the proportion of sugar will relieve inflammatory rheumatism in a

-The maggots which annoy sheep so severely are hatched from eggs deposited in the nostrils by a fly, and the sheep use every effort possible to prevent the fly from so doing. One remedy is to put tar on the nostrils. This may be done by placing wood tar where the sheep can get at it and throwing a handful of salt on the tar, the sheep getting the tar on the nostril about six or eight inches below the level of the ground and look for borers. To prevent the moths from depositing eggs on the tree (which she does at the level of the ing all kinds of soups. ground) paint the trunk below and above the ground with equal parts of lard oil and pine tar, adding a teaspoonful of carbolic acid to a pint of the mixture. Annoint every portion of the tree, allowing no exposure of even the least part.

-One of the mistakes frequently made is that of reducing the amount of fertilizer used on the land after the farm begins to improve. The rule should be to use as much fertilizer as possible necessary for the production of a crop in order to keep up the fertility of the soil. Every year fertilizers become leven in order to keep up animal. Mr. Bailey bought him at West Butland when he was a spiritude watch dog, but is a kind and affectionate animal. Mr. Bailey bought him at West lizers become lower in price phosphates, and also due to the growing of green crops for manurial purposes. If they are applied and do not give results the first year they will leave the land ready for a larger succeeding crop.

-Professor H. E. Van Deman says that feet 5½ inches. every two or three years in the orchard will stimulate growth sufficiently, and as it would take twenty loads of stable mannecessary every year until an orchard is bearing heavy crops and shows signs of im-

-Salt is an important aid to digestion, and especially so to all ruminant animals. If cows are not salted frequently they will eat more than is good for them when they do get access to salt. In large quantities salt is laxative, it being an irritant to the bowels, which are therefore purged to get rid of it. Failure to salt regularly will make the cream more difficult to turn into butter, thus repaying the farmer for his carelessness by giving him a longer and harder job at churning.

-Some of the reasons for tainted milk are as follows: Cows drinking from stagnant and muddy pools of water and dragning udders through it, when the germs will adhere to the latter, and will be dropped in the milk pail; dirty, stinking barns, stinking water tanks where milk is cooled; cows in heat, sick cows; poor ventilation, bad air where the cows are milked; milk kept too long in foul air be-fore being ærated and cooled; the use of wooden buckets for milking; lack of suffi-cient care in aerating the milk near con-

-A cow that yields largely of milk must necessarily eat more than an ordinary ra-tion of food. When an objection is made against a cow that she is a heavy feeder it is a point in her favor if she is a good animal. Cows are intended by farmers to convert food into milk and butter and should be furnished with all they can utilize. One of the matters to guard against in the fall, however, is not the quantity eaten, but the change of food from green to dry, which may cause the cows to fall off suddenly in yield. It is difficult to get a cow back to full flow in the fall if she receives a check. Changes of food should begin now, so as to gradually bring the cow to —Success in dairying must depend not only on having cows able to give a liberal mess and keep at it, but also on the kind of milkers employed. A careless, lazy milker will easily lose more than his wages during the time he is employed. Not only this, but he will quickly convert a really good cow into a poor one. The milk which the careless milker leaves in the udder is always that which has the largest amount of butter fats. If it is not drawn the fat is absorbed into the cow and helps to dry her off. The difficulty in getting help that can be depended on is the great drawback in running a large dairy farm. It is also no light job to milk 10, 12 or more cows twice every day. It will make any man's hands tired until he becomes Higher Cost of Living Under the Ding-

Eat Celery.

An exchange says that every family its chemical effect in the soil. There are many processes which occur in the soil that one of the greatest benefits to the human are unknown, but experiments have long family in the medicinal qualities possessed few hours, and several permanent cures are recorded. This discovery comes from Germany, where celery is used more in soups than as a raw relish. The roots and stalks are cut into small pieces and boiled thoroughly, when the celery is served hot with bread and butter. Persons afflicted with darting pains around the heart, or in spinal column, or with general nervous debility, find instant relief in using celery soup. Every farmer and gardener should grow some celery, and see that it is used -Remove the earth around the trees freely by all the family. The raw stalks

Largest Dog in the World.

Nero, a dog owned by Wayne Bailey, of Rutland, is said to be the largest canine in the world. He tipped the scales Friday at 267 pounds. Nero is a handsome half German and half English mastiff, fawn brindle in color, his huge head being of a trifle darker shade. He is as agile and lively as a cat. He makes a splendid Rutland when he was six months old. is now 4 years old. At the time of purchase Nero weighed 162 pounds. The animal stands up from the ground 35 inches and girts 50 inches. The dog's neck is unusually large, measuring 30 inches; and from tip to tip he measures 6

Died at the Grave of His Friend.

Mr. Calvin Neff, of Tyrone, attended the funeral of his friend William Spyker, the cheaper. He thinks also that 600 who was buried at Alexandria last week pounds each of muriate of potash and dis- and just as the body of the latter was being lowered into the grave Mr. Neff fell backward to the ground and expired instantly. Death could not have been more sudden, nor the occasion sadder. The two were bosom friends during the years that Mr. Spyker resided in Tyrone, and Mr. Neff was at the funeral as a mourner and not out of curiosity. The deceased was aged about 45 years, and is survived by a wife and four children. He was employed at Tyrone by the Pennsylvania railroad company as day caller. His body was sent to that place for burial. Many are of the opinion that he was a victim of a flash of lightning.

New Board of Managers.

The Philipsburg Furniture Manufacturing company held a meeting again Satur-day night and reorganized their newly elected board of managers. The following gentlemen were elected at the meeting of Aug. 7: W. H. Denlinger, president; Joseph Knapper, vice president; G. C. Showalter, treasurer; W. R. Williams, general manager and superintendent ; J. H. Crissman, secretary and sales agent.

-When me and Jane was marrit, said the old man, the fust thing I says when we got to the house wuz: I guess the fust thing fer us to do is to settle who is goin' to be boss.

DOLLAR WHEAT.

The news of greatly shortened crops, or absolutely ruined crops, are the reports coming to us from India, Europe and South America. Heavy orders for wheat are coming from the other side of the Atlantic, and with the receipt of each order the price goes up, which indicates dollar wheat before the crop of 1897 is sold, if it means anything.
