THE SAND MAN.

The Sand Man drops in every night, The Sand Man with his sand: To sprinkle grains in little eyes

With unseen, unfelt hand. He comes about the hour when all The baby work is done;

When toys lie scattered round the room Abandoned one by one.

A hobby horse once rocked with vim Stands quiet in his stall-A consecrated space between

The trundle bed and wall. A jumping-jack, an iron bank, A painted rubber ball,

A rattle with a whistle on A bruised and battered doll A dozen little glittering things So dear to babyland;

But now the Sand Man comes around, The Sand Man with his sand. Two chubby little fists are forced In two small sleepy eyes,

To rub away the sand which sifts

Across some tired sighs. And now the Sand Man yields his place To a fairy with a rod, Who beckons toward that mystic shrine

The babyland of Nod. The Sand Man dreps in every night. The Sand Man with his sand: To sprinkle grains in little eyes,

With unseen, unfelt hand. -Chicago Times-Herale

A Novel Cure. A Would Be Suicide By the Laudanum Route

Cured by Bleeding.

"With his respiration but five in five minutes we saved him."

The speaker was Dr. Albert D. Blackburn chief of the medical staff at the Presbyterian hospital. The man referred to had been brought there by the patrol wagon several weeks ago, nearly dead from the effects of a quantity of laudanum which he had swallowed with suicidal intent, but who now, thanks to the sudden thought, or, more likely, the inspiration which seized Dr. Blackburn, when all the usual methods were failing to restore consciousness and death seemed but a moment to linger, is mighty glad that the breath of life still lingers in his breast.

'For hours we worked with him," continued the doctor. We applied the stomach pump, but the blood had absorbed the poison. We tried other methods. We We worked assiduously, almost frantically. Reluctantly we were forced to acknowledge that we could get no results, for the patient sank lower and lower. We were at our wits ends.

'Suddenly this line of thought struck me: That man's respiration is but five in five minutes; he is practically dead. The stomach pump will do him no good, for the blood has absorbed the poison and is pregnant with it. The only way to get it out of the system is to bleed him, to deprive him of the very essence of life in order to give him life! Then I thought blood is largely a saline solution; we can prepare a like solution; with the proportions the same and inject this into the body to take the place of the poison-filled blood.

"The chance was a desperate one, but the circumstance called for it. So we revelation, an experience to be had at no let out were as black as ink, so pregnant jected an equal quantity of the saline solution; then with our anxiety at a high tension we stood around to watch and wait re-

"Once we thou ht we detected a slight increase of respiration, but we dared not trust too much. A few minutes later we were sure of it. Slowly the respiration began to rise and slowly the organs began to once more resume their functions. Still we watched, fearing a relapse. None

"Then, at last, the man was out of danger. He stayed under our care for a few days, and when we sent him away he had totally recovered from the effects of the poison which he had put into his system. To-day he is a hale and hearty man.

It is highly probable that this method of overcoming poison is a novel one. No one seems to know of any like instance. At least, several reputable physicians of this city when seen yesterday, said that no case of a similar nature had ever come under their notice, nor were they aware that such a method had ever been applied with success before. However that may be, the method is undoubtedly an efficacious one and will probable be the cause of saving the lives of many people who have swallowed deadly potions accidentally or with a desire "to take arms against a sea of trouble and by opposing them."—Phicadelphia Times.

Slept Four Weeks

Dazed Condition of George Seymour Said to Have Been Caused By Torture.

George Seymour, of Birmingham, the trance sleeper, has been aroused from his lethargy, but is speechless. When spoken folks. to he look dazed. One of the nurses brought him a cupful of water and one of milk. He reached out with painful slowness for the water and drank it. He was some time getting the cup to his lips, and the nurse had to assist him and steady the cup. When asked if he felt any pain, his hand went slowly to the back of his neck and then to his throat.

"Can't you talk?" the reporter asked. He looked at the reporter with a vacant expression, and the head with apparent effort, moved from side to side.

When told that he had been asleep four weeks he seemed to slowly comprehend, but he displayed a little intelligence. A report had been circulated that Sey mour was tortured by the physicians who applied hot irons to Seymour's back at the spine, but they say that this was done to bring him out of his sleep, as his condition was at first supposed to be due to hysteria. Mrs. Seymour was seen at the "Yes," she said excitedly, "they branded my husband with hot irons and put their fingers in his eyes up to the knuckle bones. I forbade the doctors to hypnotize him any more or to treat him so. They said it wouldn't hurt him, and that it would do him good.

----Why is a naughty schoolboy like a typewriter. Because you have to thump him to make ——Captain John T. Welshton, Fla., formerly of Erie, Pa., who did not get the Belfast Consulate, which he was virtually promised, takes great pride in his adopted State.

"Possibly," said he, "you do not know, as I fancy very few people know outside of our State, that three years ago, when we were ruined by the great freeze, everybody suffered, not a dollar of assistance was asked or received, and nobody went to the poor house. The year previous to the frost we shipped upward of 5,000,000 boxes of oranges. The year of the frost only a few boxes were shipped from the extreme South. The year following only 60,000 because which were shipped from the extreme South. 000 boxes were shipped from the entire State. Last year about 150,000 boxes were sent out. and this year we will ship nearly 500,000 boxes. The groves are coming on rapidly. The great roots of the orange trees which were not destroyed are sending up strong shoots, which grow into trees much faster than when raised from seed or by grafting, and in two or three years more our orange groves will be their old selves

"One great good that resulted from what at first seemed to be an unmixed evil is that we are not now giving almost sole attention to the cultivation of oranges, as be-fore. We are diversifying our industries. Previous to the frost we imported from other States and countries $9,000,000 a year in articles which we did not produce. Last year we imported but $2,000,000 worth. We shall gain in the end, therefore, by the great frost.

-New York city is jammed and gorged with merchandise imported to evade the higher duties of the Dingley law. Naturally customers are in demand, and the me-tropolis adopted a scheme of advertising and solicitation that Chicago tried and dropped years ago. Through a commercial organization hundreds and thousands of western and southern merchants were provided with free railroad transportation to and from New York, in the expectation they would deal largely with the jobbers. There are some hundreds of them now in New York, and this is the secret of the glowing telegrams announcing the arrival of prosperity—that good times had come and everything was booming. It is something of a deadhead prosperity. It is a free show, and the turnout is immense. Philadelphia is endeavoring to do something in the same line, in paying the railroad fares of expected customers. Whatbeing a sign of prosperity, as relates to miners and investors. New York, it is an indication of desperate efforts to get rid of overloaded merchandise supplies—speculative importations made as a result of tariff agitation. tors Failed to Cure me, Dr. Salm Succeeded in Curing.

For more than four years I have had a bad case of catarrh, stomach and general trouble. Took cold continually. For one and a half years I could eat only bread and milk. Tried nine different doctors, to get rid of my misery, but got worse and worse. So I went to Dr. Salm for treatment, and to-day I am as strong as ever, can eat anything, and don't take any more cold, and consider myself cured of this terrible disease.

For 2 years or more, I have had a fearful trouble, begun to get very weak, my limbs would not early me any more, couldn't walk a stretch of 15 yards, and my heart would beat a fearful rate, at the least exertion. It seemed my blood was turned to water, I gradually became pale as one dead. I was no earthly use to any one, and all my neighbors and relatives thought I was going to die. Home doctors couldn't help me, so I went to Dr. Salm, and to-day, I am happy to state, that I am stronger than ever, can eat anything, do a full day's work, and enjoy life as much as any one, and my color, any one may be proud of.
