PATRON'S PICNIC EXHIBITION. — The 24th annual encampment and exhibition at Grange park, Centre Hall, Sept. 13th to 18th, promises to be the largest gathering the Patrons have ever held in this county. Already twice the number of exhibitors have made application for space, that attended any previous gathering, covering every line of farm machinery and farm implements.

The stock exhibit also promises to exceed that of former years; the committee being obliged to put up additional buildings. The camp will be equally large. Arrangements are being made to put up two hundred tents for the accommodation of those desiring to tent. Camp will open Saturday, the 11th, and the exhibition Monday, the 13th.

All the railroads will give a one fare excursion rate during the picnic. Religious services will be conducted on Sunday and probably the most interesting and instructive entertainments will be given in the auditorium that were ever held on the ground.

Centre Hall.

The early farmers began sowing wheat the beginning of this week through the valley.

The grangers are making an effort to have a good live stock and poultry exhibit at the coming picnic.

John T. Lee's carriage shop is booming with orders and work of all kinds. Mr. Lee is a first class mechanic.

Among others who attended the encampment at Buffalo are W. A. Krise, W. W. Dillett, Robert Bloom, Capt. George W. Boal and George Sweeney.

John W. Lincoln, cashier of the Mifflinburg bank, accompanied by his family stopped over at this place for a short time. The family are taking a pleasure tour by carriages and will be absent for some time.

Victor and Arthur Crawford rode from Mifflinburg to this place Saturday, on bicycles, and paid their respects to F. M. Crawford their brother, the merchant. Victor holds a position in a drug store in Philadelphia, and is enjoying his vacation.

Whitney McCormick, of Charlestown, S. C., arrived here Tuesday evening. Mr. McCormick joined his wife at this place, where she is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Meyer. He is engaged in undertaking and will return to the south in a few weeks.

The real estate of Mary Smith, consisting of several pieces of timber land, and house and lot on Main street, was sold on Saturday at Orphans' Court sale. S. W. Smith, an heir, purchased all but one tract of timber which was knocked off to William Colyer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Emory Hoy, of 2642 North 16th street, Philadelphia, are spending some time with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mingle. A little daughter is the centre of attraction in the Mingle family just at present. The little one for the past week or more has been seriously ill.

Miss Bessie Wallington, a saleswoman in Marks Bros. Philadelphia's largest department stores, is spending her annual vacation at Centre Hall, with the family of S. W. Smith. Her first visits were through the kindness of the Fresh Air association but she now travels without a tag on her wrist.

The Reformed Sunday school will give an entertainment, on Wednesday evening, of Granger picnic week, to be held in the auditorium. It will be a Tom Thumb wedding, and a jolly occasion it will be, with feast and all. Miss Brown, of Lewistown has the children in hand, and is giving them a thorough training.

W. B. Mingle and D. J. Meyer were off to Philadelphia last week where they purchased several driving horses. The latter gentleman arrived with the steeds overland Tuesday, having made the trip in about five days. A few hours after the horses were stabled one of them took sick and died. There are remaining, however, three excellent roadsters.

Now Mr. WATCHMAN, don't make remarks about the greenness of our borough, for, in fact, the only hay that could be made on the territory within its boundaries must be cut from the growth on the spinal column region of the moss-back who suggested the idea that Centre Hall's street commissioners are making hay on the streets. The leeches as well as the moss are being removed from the locality mentioned by the borough authorities and the operation is causing the temperature of the grower to rise to a point which at times threatens to destroy the hero.

A visitor to the courts for half an hour was impressed with a few facts which he noted.

1st. That the exterior and interior of the court house looked ragged, and especially so, when the money expended for repainting etc., is taken into account.

2nd. That the several hundred "don't spit on the floor" notices that adorn the walls and every seat in the temple of justice reflect seriously upon the gentlemanly manners of jurors and witnesses who are called together from every quarter of the county to decide questions which only gentlemen should be permitted to do.

3rd. That Judge Falkner is a very serious looking associate, and if he were addressed by the attorneys and had an occasion to speak in court, a stranger might mistake him for the presiding judge.

4th. That Judge Gordon of Clearfield county, with his smoothly shaven face and intellectual look circulated through the court room.

5th. That it is remarkable with what tenacity the ex-county officials hang on to the county's soup bone. Any one who frequents the court these days might easily think that he had just awakened from a Rip Van Winkle sleep, that had lasted for a few years, the only difference being that the ex-county office-holders are doing odd jobs, they would have regarded a trifle sour in times gone by.

The Centre Hall water company served notice on C. F. Deininger, president of council, forbidding further procedure with the contracts, etc., for the proposed water plant to be built by the borough. This is a formal proceeding prior to serving an injunction provided the old company doesn't shake in confidence in its proposed policy. The members of the company are divided, or about on the verge of division. The more intelligent element favors a policy that would speedily settle the water question in a business like manner, and advocate selling the plant to the borough at a figure within reason, while the other element still maintains that $18,000 to $23,000 is what the borough must pay the company before it can proceed to furnish its citizens with a fine and abundant supply of water for all purposes and at all times. It appears, too, that some of the members of the water company are convinced that the borough may supply water to those who choose to use it, without first buying the existing company. This, of course, is the case, and the old company has passed its days of grace when it might have obtained from the borough tax-payers full value for its plant. The hand will play very lively airs for a while, and it looks to the casual observer as though the old water company will be compelled to shuffle its feet to the music.

Pine Grove Mention.

J. B. Piper and family are making their usual summer visit at his old home in Alexandria.

The Tommy Myers mansion near Fairbrook is undergoing repairs. L. H. Walker is the workman.

Master Frank Lytle is swinging around the circle on a pair of crutches, on account of his badly cut knee.

Mrs. Reproyel, of Altoona, a friend of Mrs. Maggie Meek, is a visitor at the Keichline home on Main St.

Mrs. George Smith, of Harrisburg, has joined her husband here, who is greatly improved by our health giving climate.

Farmer John Stem would have been much better pleased if the baby had been a boy, but then girls are very handy about the house.

D. L. and W. E. Meek were two of the witnesses subpoenaed on the Henry Garner case and attended court the fore part of the week.

Michael Smith, one of Potter township's hustling business men and true blue Democrats, attended to some matters of interest in our town last week.

W. B. Ward and his gang of workmen are repairing and painting W. S. Ward's store and dwelling. When completed it will be as convenient and beautiful a building as there is in Baileyville.

Lowell A. Smith has laid aside his arduous duties here and gone in for training for the State fair at Johnstown, where he expects the duce to roll in rapidly. We hope his expectations may be realized.

Ex-commissioner H. C. Campbell regrets that he was not able to attend the big blow out at Buffalo. He is bracing up however for a week's board at the seat of justice, where he is interested in a little squabble of his neighbors.

William and Fletcher Sausserman, of Altoona, were in town last week seeing their mother, who has been dangerously sick. She was so much better that they were able to return home satisfied with her improvement.

Mr. John Campbell, of Wooster, O., is visiting Centre county relations with headquarters at W. H. McCracken's hospitable home. He thinks Senator Hanna will have to tap his barrel at both ends if he intends to carry Ohio this year.

Our town was represented at Buffalo this week by N. T. Krebs, Gordon Harper, A. G. Archey, Fred Meyers, J. W. Fry, W. E. Reed, Ed. Myers and A. Stewart Bailey, M. E. Heberling, H. W. Krebs, J. C. Ward and W. H. Fry.

William D. Port of our town is the only one from this section entitled to part of the appropriation for transportation south, in October. His sister, Mrs. Lizzie Gibson, of Philadelphia whom he has not seen since a small girl is a visitor at his home on Main street.

The Baileyville picnic, last Saturday, was a great success in every detail. A festival had been billed for the night but as all the catables had all been sold it was dispensed with and the treasury of the P. S. of A. did not suffer. The attendance was estimated at twelve hundred and for hours they stood and eagerly watched the base ball game that was played by the Tyrone Crescents and the Pine Grove Excelsiors. Some of our players were as green as grass but after the score was made known, 14 to 10, in favor of the Excelsiors, the crowd determined that as green as they were they could play ball, at least, something the visiting team did not know.

Excelsiors:—Wm. Keller, 1. f.; N. T. Krebs, c.; A. Hartwick, p.; Wm. Kepler, 1st b.; M. Heberling, 2nd b.; J. B. Krebs, s. s.; F. Bailey 3rd b.; G. A. Goss, c. f.; W. Weaver, r. f. Crescents:—Smith, c.; B. Closson, 2nd b.; Bateman, s. s.; R. Closson, 3rd b.; Meyers, 1. f.; Plummer, p.; Crofford, 1st b.; Brooks, c. f.; Ray, r. f.
