Chicago's Murder Mystery.

The trial of Adolph Leutgert for the murder of his wife, which began in Chicago last Monday, will doubtless prove to be one of the most absorbing murder trials that have occurred in this or any other country. There are few cases in the crimi-nal annals to compare with it. Circum-stantial evidence will have to be trusted to 1. AGRICULTURE (Two Courses), and AGRI-CULTURAL CHEMISTRY; with constant illustra-tion on the Farm and in the Laboratory.

2. BOTANY AND HORTICULTURE; theoret-ical and practical. Students taught original study with the microscope.

Inal annais to compare with it. Circum-stantial evidence will have to be trusted to from beginning to end. There is no proof, in fact, that a murder was committed.
Only that a woman has been missing, and the authorities have a theory as to her disappearance which may prove to be true or not. If with the proof now known to the public a conviction can be obtained the trial will become a land mark in criminal history.

On the night of the 1st of May last Mrs. Leutgert disappeared from her home in Chicago and there is no authentic proof that she has been seen alive since. Her husband was a large sausage manufacturer but had become embarrassed in business It was a notorious fact that the couple did not live happily together and that he had made vague threats against her life. On the night of the supposed murder the authorities believe that the wife was enticed to the sausage factory by the husband, murdered and her body dissolved by some strong chemical in one of the vats used in the factory. There is no proof, however. that Mrs. Leutgert went to the sausage factory, the last acknowledged sight of her having been had by her 12-year-old son Louis who bade her good night at 10.30 N. H. o'clock and went to bed.

The facts upon which the authorities will proceed are these: A few days before the supposed murder Leutgert had had delivered at the factory a large package of some material which burned the hands of those who touched it and which had never been used in the establishment before. The police belive it to have been some corrosive chemical. On the night of the alleged murder it is known that Leutgert had a fire built under one of the vats, and he remained alone in the vat room until early in the following morning when he ordered the place thoroughly cleaned out immediately afterwards. In searching the vat which had been used on that night the authorities found two gold rings, both of which it is said have been identified as having belonged to Mrs. Leutgart and an bany, N. Y.—Medical and Surgical Reartificial tooth, such as it is claimed Mrs. Leutgert wore, and in the catch basin under the vat some small pieces of bone and a small tangle of blond hair were also But that Caused the Death of one Man and the

If the Chicago trial should have a similar result from nearly similar circumstances it will mark it as one of the most sensational in the history of murder cases.

The Harrisburg Convention.

A Republican Paper's View of the Harrisburg Con-

The curtain rings up at Harrisburg today on the first act of the political comedy planned for the entertainment of Pennsylvania voters this fall. The effort is unpretentions. There will be no prologue. The troupe of performers who appear in the cast will, in fact, prefer to give no account of themselves and on their recent perform-ances before going on with the simple business of nominating an Auditor General and a Treasurer. They will not remind the people of the State that they are the same band of merry men who got up the bunco reform planks for the Republican platform two years ago, and again one year ago, and who played the confidence game at Harrisburg last winter. They will scarcely point with pride to their merchantile tax raid, to with pride to their merchantile tax raid, to have labeled bill, to the fake expenses, or indefinitely. This is a direct result of the indefinitely. The road's freight business to the quiet negotiations with the Beet miners strike. The road's freight business Trust. They count, of course, upon the paralysis of apathy among the people. They know also that the Democrats will shut off any chance of an alternative by supporting free silver, which will effectually antagonize the people of the

Yet it is not much to say that there was never a time when political leadership in this State—and it has often sunk low enough—came so near to inviting complete popular contempt, both from within and without the party, as it does to-day. The people have come to understand pretty well that party organizations are being used almost entirely for profit. A Bit About Andree. Herr Andree has made no report of himself as yet, but there is nothing to be gained by giving him up. He told his relatives before he started that if he was not heard from within two months after he got off it would probably be a year before he would be able to bring in his report, The two months are nearly up, but the fact that he faced the possibility of spending a year out of reach of civilization is a hopeful consideration. The longer he stays away, the bigger his book will be when he writes it. The newspapers, however, print an interesting rumor that a real Andree pigeon has been caught, bearing the message:

"Eighty-two degrees passed. Good journey northward. Andree." The date was illegible. Another message, said to have been brought by the same bird, has not not been disclosed. The whole story at this writing needs configuration. this writing needs confirmation. -Harper's dry.

Natural Bug Remedy.

There are two plants or trees in the veg-etable kingdom that recent investigations seem to warrant the application of the term "hoodoo." One is the eucalyptus, and no worm or insect, it is said, is ever found up-on this tree or in the earth where the roots penetrate. A row of trees planted through an orchard or vine-yard will cause insects, worms, caterpillars, etc., to vacate that region. Two branches of the eucalyptus used in the rooms or windows, or as decorof the throat; buried in Riverside Park, ations in dwelling rooms, will cause mosquitoes, moths, fleas flies to leave the premises; and when the leaves are placed beroom where the carpet is laid it is an insurance against the moth, and branches placed beneath the bed pillows a protection against Army worms and the locust will pass it by, though they may eat every other green thing in sight; and there is no surer way to drive moles away from here and there. Even the tobacco worm will refuse to be fed upon its leaves.
